MAYOR REPLIES TO RESEARCH BUREAU.

The feeble peep by the more feeble Boston Municipal Research Bureau in protest of the adoption of the five-day week was answered four days ago in a manner which anyone of ordinary intelligence could interpret.

Under date of April 21, 1933, a communication was issued from the office of the Mayor, addressed to all department heads, with reference to salary reductions. I beg to direct the attention of the Municipal Research Bureau to the two concluding paragraphs as contained in that circular and invite a profound study by them of the same and later an apology for the captious, carping criticism made this day.

"In connection with the schedule of reductions contained in the above executive order, department heads, with the exception of the Fire, Police, Hospital and Institutions Departments, are instructed to adopt, where such adoption will not conflict with legal requirements or seriously interfere with the conduct of departmental business, a five-day service week.

"So far as practicable, the day on which officers and employees shall not be required to work is fixed as Saturday, but where public service demands work shall be performed on Saturday, those officers and employees who are required to work shall be given an equal amount of time off thereafter as may be determined by their department heads."

A list of the uncollected taxes of the eleven largest cities in Massachusetts, as of April 1, 1933, is both informative and illuminating. Boston makes the most enviable showing of any large Massachusetts city and under the circumstances it might be advisable for the Municipal Research Bureau, if it desires to render a real service to the public, to transfer its futile activities and its feeble energies, even though it be a decadent and defunct organization, to some other municipality in Massachusetts. The schedule follows:

	Uncollected, April 1, 1933. Per Cent.
Boston.....	21.39
Cambridge.....	22.84
Fall River.....	27.90
Lawrence.....	24.64
Lowell.....	28.32

PITTSBURGH'S "THROUGH STREET" SYSTEM.

An extension of the "through street" system of Pittsburgh to further interconnect the various population and residential centers with protected arteries of communication has been planned.

Fourteen additional through streets, supplementing the original six established in the fall of 1928 have been designated by City Council, and flashing neon "Stop-Through-Traffic" signs have been purchased to adequately mark the streets according to report from that city.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 192.

A trial board consisting of Captains McKinnon, Lewis and Fallon, having heard by reference a complaint made by Perley S. Skillings, captain, commanding Division 16, against Richard M. Mackey, patrolman, Division 16, for alleged violations of the Rules and Regulations of the Police Department, to wit:

Charge 1: Gross incompetency and neglect of duty.

Specification: In that on the 31st day of March, 1933, the said Patrolman Richard M. Mackey, while in uniform and on duty, and when trying the rear door of the Miner Street Garage, at or about 1 a. m., located in the rear of 833 Beacon street, the door of said garage was suddenly opened by a man who placed a revolver against the said Patrolman Richard M. Mackey and ordered the said Patrolman Richard M. Mackey to walk into the rear of said garage and, further, at this time another man appeared who searched the said Patrolman Richard M. Mackey and both placed the said Patrolman Richard M. Mackey against the wall of the garage and took Patrolman Mackey's revolver from him and, further, the said two men informed Patrolman Mackey that, "You will find your gun at Beacon and Miner streets."

In that the said Patrolman Richard M. Mackey after this occurrence stated in the preceding paragraph, failed to immediately telephone or notify his division the full particulars in reference to this occurrence.

Charge 2: Conduct unbecoming an officer.

Specification: In that on the 31st day of March, 1933, the said Patrolman Richard M. Mackey after failing to notify his division of an important happening that occurred during his tour of duty at or about 1 a. m., informed Sergeant Eldridge of his division at 2.30 a. m., whom he happened to meet on the street, the occurrence related in paragraph one of Specification 1 and, further, the said Patrolman Mackey when asked by his superior officer why he did not telephone to his station immediately after the occurrence with two criminals that he, Patrolman Mackey, replied by saying, "I did not think about it"— has submitted the following finding and recommendation:

The Board having heard and carefully considered all the evidence presented, finds the said Patrolman Richard M. Mackey guilty on Charges 1 and 2 and specifications thereunder.

In finding Patrolman Mackey guilty on that part of Charge 1 which charges incompetency, the Board is not condemning him for his action in following the course he did in putting up his hands and surrendering to a situation in which he was helpless and apparently in imminent danger of losing his life, but the Board finds that even under such conditions a competent officer would have retained sufficient composure and alertness and the presence of mind which are the qualifications of any police officer, to obtain some description of feature, clothing, voice, or mannerism of his assailants which might assist in their identification later on.

This incompetency on the part of Patrolman Mackey is further manifested and merges with the charge of neglect of duty in the failure of the said Patrolman Mackey to immediately notify his division of this occurrence, and the indifferent and unconcerned manner in which he disregarded instructions which have been repeatedly given on the matter of promptly reporting information relative to crimes or other important matters coming to his knowledge.

The indifferent attitude and apparent lack of proper interest in this whole affair is clearly indicated in his careless reply to an important question asked him by his superior officer, and amply sustains the charge of conduct unbecoming an officer as outlined in specification under Charge 2.

Therefore the Board recommends that the said Patrolman Richard M. Mackey be suspended from duty with loss of pay for a period of thirty days from April 1, 1933, and that at the expiration of the said period of suspension the said Patrolman Richard M. Mackey be ordered to perform 210 hours of punishment duty.

The commissioner accepts the finding and the recommendation of the Trial Board and hereby orders that the said Patrolman Richard M. Mackey be suspended from duty with loss of pay for a period of thirty days from April 1, 1933, and that at the expiration of the said period of suspension the said Patrolman Richard M. Mackey perform 210 hours of punishment duty.

Civil Service Rule 23, section 3, requires approval of the Civil Service Commission before reinstatement.

Rule 23, Section 3.

With the consent of the Commissioner upon good cause shown, an appointing officer may reinstate in the same position or in a position in the same class and grade any person who has been separated from the service; provided, however, that the Commissioner shall not allow reinstatement of a person discharged for cause.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 193.

Sergt. William J. McCarthy of Division 10 is commended in General Orders and given two days' additional vacation for prompt and effective police duty on April 8, 1933, in accomplishing the arrest of a man who had passed counterfeit money on a storekeeper.

The sergeant obtained a description of the man, searched the vicinity and finally located him on Division 4. When taken into custody a quantity of counterfeit coins was found in his possession. A search of his lodging revealed a large amount of counterfeit quarters. Questioning revealed that he passed these coins in Providence, Fall River and Worcester. After his discharge as a suspicious person, he was turned over to the federal authorities and was indicted by the Federal Grand Jury.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize and commend the initiative and effective action shown by Sergeant McCarthy on this occasion.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 194.

The commissioner desires to specially commend Patrolmen Andrew K. Adair and George W. Burke, both of Division 2, for their prompt and efficient work in capturing two desperadoes with criminal records whom the officers interrupted in the commission of a felony at two o'clock a. m., April 21, 1933.

The effective and energetic action of these officers, who imperiled their lives in the pursuit and capture of these two criminals, reflects great credit upon the department.

In addition, each officer is hereby granted one week's additional vacation with pay.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 195.

Patrolman Edward L. Fenerty of Division 17 is commended in General Orders for efficient police duty performed on April 7 in the capture of a poor-box thief in the West Roxbury district.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize the initiative and good judgment shown by Patrolman Fenerty in accomplishing the arrest of this person who has a long criminal record.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 196.

Patrolmen Hugh E. Dolan and Earl L. Laird, both of Division 2, are hereby commended in General Orders for alertness and efficient police duty performed on February 20 in capturing a thief who had broken a show window and taken several valuable rings.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize the prompt response and creditable police duty performed by these officers in effecting the arrest and conviction of this criminal.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 197.

The following letters are published in General Orders for the information of the department:

CITY OF BOSTON,
OFFICE OF THE MAYOR, April 21, 1933.

HON. EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Police Commissioner.

DEAR SIR,—In accordance with the provisions of chapter one hundred and twenty-one of the Acts of the year nineteen hundred and thirty-three, I hereby notify you that, effective as of Friday, April twenty-first, nineteen hundred and thirty-three, and continuing for the period ending December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and thirty-three, I have by executive order reduced the salary of every office and position, the salary of which is paid from the treasury of the City of Boston in whole or in part, and whether such salary is fixed by statute, city ordinance or otherwise, and whether or not such office or position is subject to civil service or classified under the civil service rules or under the county classification plan, except the members of the City Council and its employees, the officers and employees of the Police Department, the School Department, the Department of School Buildings, the Licensing Board, the Finance Commission, the Boston Port Authority, and scrubwomen, in accordance with the following schedule,—

1. For every office and position the salary of which on an annual basis is less than $1,000, a reduction of 5 per cent shall be made.

2. For every office and position the salary of which on an annual basis falls within the range of $1,000 to $1,600, both inclusive, a reduction of 10 per cent shall be made, but no salary in this group shall be reduced below $950.

3. For every office and position the salary of which on an annual basis is in excess of $1,600, a reduction of 15 per cent shall be made, but no salary in this group shall be reduced below $1,440.

In accordance with said chapter one hundred and twenty-one, if you do not within ten days of the delivery of this notice reduce the salary of each office and position under your control or jurisdiction, except scrubwomen, effective as of Friday, April twenty-first, nineteen hundred and thirty-three, upon the same uniform basis and for the same period of time as the reduction put into effect by me, I shall by executive order and in the same manner and upon the same basis effect reductions in the salary of each office and position under your control and jurisdiction, except scrubwomen, and said reductions will be in force as of the effective date specified in my executive order.

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

April 25, 1933.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—In compliance with your executive order, dated April 21, 1933, made in accordance with the provisions of chapter 121 of the Acts of the year 1933, I beg to say that as there is no discretion in this matter in the Police Commissioner, I am instructing my pay roll division to make up the pay rolls for this department in conformance with your order.

However, I would be remiss in my duty if I did not call to your attention the fact that the reduction of the salaries of those receiving more than $1,600 per annum is a particular and a peculiar hardship to the patrolmen of this department. May I call to your attention just what this reduction means to patrolmen in dollars and cents?

PATROLMEN.

Old Rate.	Weekly Salary.	New Rate.	Weekly Salary.	Retirement Deduction.	Amount Available for Family Support.
$2,100	$40 27	$1,785	$34 23	$1 37	$32 86
2,000	38 36	1,700	32 60	1 30	31 30
1,900	36 44	1,615	30 97	1 24	29 73
1,800	34 52	1,530	29 34	1 17	28 17
1,700	32 60	1,445	27 71	1 11	26 60
1,600	30 68	1,440	27 62	1 10	26 52

You will no doubt recall that on January 11, 1932, you informed me that it was necessary to abrogate the anniversary step-rate method of pay now in existence in this department, and as a result of this all patrolmen who were governed by the step-rate method of pay did not receive their pay in accordance with this plan. At that time you stated that the step-rate method of pay was abrogated because you believed that the present wage scale was essential to the well-being of the workers and was in no sense excessive. Further, you stated that the reason you abrogated the anniversary step-rate plan was to prevent the reduction of salaries. In view of your communication of April 21, 1933, reducing by 15 per cent the salaries of all those receiving in excess of $1,600 per annum, am I to understand that it is your policy to continue to refuse the moneys due men in this department under the step-rate plan? If this is your intention, it would appear to me that those men who come under the step-rate plan are being forced to take a larger reduction than those who had reached the maximum pay prior to 1932.

During the period from 1913, in which the cost of living was increasing, the pay of this department was not increased in proportion to the increase in the cost of living. Not until January 1, 1933, had the cost of living, as shown by the index computed by the State Commission on the Necessaries of Life, fallen enough to give the patrolmen the same purchasing power they had in 1914. Therefore, a reduction of 15 per cent in this class of salary in this department appears to me to be a hardship which should be remedied as soon as possible.

The Police Department is the first line of defence against the activities of criminals of all classes, and it must suppress crime, preserve peace, and enforce law and order. Having in mind the obligation imposed upon me by law to organize and maintain an efficient Police Department, I must reiterate that the reduction by 15 per cent of the salaries of all patrolmen in this department is unfair. Its unfairness is brought out more vividly by the fact that you have placed other city workers on the five-day week in consideration of the fact that their wages have been reduced.

This department cannot work on a five-day week basis without a great increase in personnel. Although officers on the police force have only one day off in eight, with no holidays, they are, in fact, called upon, time after time, to perform many hours of extra duty, day and night, for which they do not receive, nor do they expect to receive extra compensation. Working conditions in a police department are entirely different from working conditions in any other branch of the municipal service. I am calling these facts to your attention hoping that it may be the basis for your reconsideration of the 15 per cent cut in salary for the patrolmen of this department.

As I said before, however, as nothing can be gained under the provisions of chapter 121 of the Acts of the year 1933, namely:

"If within ten days of the delivery of such notice the officer, committee, board or other body so notified does not reduce the salary of each office and position under the control or the jurisdiction of said officer, committee, board or other body upon the same uniform basis and for the same period of time as the reduction put into effect by the mayor, the mayor forthwith by executive order, in the same manner and with the same authority as hereinbefore provided, and upon the same basis, shall effect reductions in the salary of each office and position of the departments, boards and other bodies so notified, wherever such reductions have not theretofore been made pursuant to this section and after the delivery of such notice,"— by my refusal to comply with your order, I am therefore proceeding to put the pay cut contained in your order into effect in this department.

Very truly yours,

E. C. HULTMAN,
Police Commissioner.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Commissioner.

LAND-TAKING IN DORCHESTER.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for the taking of land for a public improvement consisting of the laying out and construction of an extension of Normandy street, Dorchester district, as a highway, from Devon street southwesterly, bounded and described as follows:

An extension of the highway named Normandy street is hereby laid out, from Devon street to Geneva avenue, and ordered constructed.

Said highway and the land, exclusive of trees or structures standing upon or affixed thereto, in which an easement for street purposes is hereby taken, is bounded and described as follows:

Part between Devon street and Stanwood street: Northeasterly by Devon street, sixty and 4-100 feet; southerly by the southerly line of said extension of said Normandy street as hereby laid out, sixteen and 10-100 feet; again southeasterly by the southeasterly line of said extension of said Normandy street as hereby laid out, two hundred thirty-eight and 64-100 feet; southwesterly by Stanwood street, forty and 1-100 feet; northwesterly by the northwesterly line of said extension of said Normandy street as hereby laid out, two hundred and forty-two feet, and westerly by the westerly line of said extension of said Normandy street as hereby laid out, fifteen and 31-100 feet.

Part between Stanwood street and Geneva avenue: Northeasterly by Stanwood street, forty and 1-100 feet; southeasterly by the southeasterly line of said extension of said Normandy street as hereby laid out, four hundred sixteen and 48-100 feet; southwesterly by Geneva avenue, forty and 2-100 feet on a curve of four hundred feet radius, and northwesterly by the northwesterly line of said extension of said Normandy street as hereby laid out, four hundred sixteen and 70-100 feet.

Trees or structures standing upon or affixed to the aforesaid land shall be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said land for the purpose of constructing said improvement.

Betterments are to be assessed for the making of the aforesaid improvement.

Ordered, That this Board estimates that the abutting lots of land on both sides of said extension of said Normandy street as laid out under this order, from Devon street to Geneva avenue, and the lot of land on the northeasterly side of Stanwood street, adjacent to lot at the easterly corner of Normandy street and Stanwood street, will receive benefit or advantage, beyond the general advantage to all real estate in said city, from the improvement herein ordered; each of said lots to the amount hereinafter respectively set against it; said lots and the supposed owners thereof being shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Normandy Street, Dorchester, Assessment Plan, January 9, 1933, William J. Sullivan, Chief Engineer, Street Laying-Out Department," and on file in the office of said department.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 17.

I. FIRE DEPARTMENT BAND.

There will be no meeting or rehearsal of the Fire Department Band this week.

II. JOHN F. RILEY.

It is with deep regret that the Fire Commissioner announces the death, on April 12, 1933, of Hoseman John F. Riley of Engine Company 44. Hoseman Riley was appointed to the Fire Department on July 22, 1919.

The funeral was held from his late home, 1385 Dorchester avenue, on Saturday, April 15, 1933. The Chief of Department made the customary detail and the off-platoon of Engine Company 44 volunteered to represent the company at the funeral.

III. DISTRICT CHIEF JOHN F. GOOD.

It is with deep regret that the Fire Commissioner announces the death, on April 18, 1933, of District Chief John F. Good of District 3. District Chief Good was appointed to the Fire Department on December 18, 1908, and his promotions were as follows: To lieutenant, February 1, 1924; to aid to Chief of Department, December 26, 1924; to captain, May 28, 1927; to district chief, November 2, 1928.

The funeral will be held from his late residence, 45 Linden Park street, at 8.15 a. m., on Saturday, April 22, 1933, followed by services at St. Francis de Sales Church, Vernon street, Roxbury, at 9 a. m. The Chief of Department will make the customary detail of thirty men to act as funeral escort. The detail will report at the quarters of Engine Company 13, Cabot street, at 8 a. m., and will be under the direction of District Chief Charles A. Donohoe.

The officers and members of the department who are on the off-tour of duty during the time of the funeral services are invited to join the detail. Company commanders will allow time off for members who are going off duty so that they may report at Engine Company 13 before 8 a. m. The uniform for the funeral escort will be sack coats and white gloves.

IV. A. D. T. ASSIGNMENT.

The following addition is to be made to the assignments cards of the A. D. T. Company:

Signal 367, The S. M. Howes Company, Incorporated, 511 Medford street, Charlestown. Apparatus to respond: Engines 31 and 32, Ladder 22 and Chief of District 2. Nearest city box, 4168.

V. A. D. T. ASSIGNMENT CARD CORRECTION.

On the assignment cards of the A. D. T. Company, Engine 31 is to be added to respond to alarms from Signal Nos. 312 and 492. This change will take effect immediately.

VI. RETIREMENT.

The following retirement, which took effect at 8 a. m., Friday, April 14, 1933, is hereby announced:

Hoseman James P. Donohue, Engine Company 41.

Hoseman Donohue was appointed to this department on November 1, 1912. He retires with the best wishes of his associates.

VII. NEW FIRE ALARM BOXES.

The following new fire alarm boxes will shortly be established:

Box 2718: South and Brookfield streets, Circuit No. 81. Assignments will be same as those of Box 2712.

Box 2754: Willow street, near Alhambra road, Circuit No. 42. Assignments will be same as those of Box 2753.

VIII. COMMENDATION.

Hoseman Thomas F. Ford of Engine Company 4 is hereby commended for responding to and assisting the department at Box 7415, April 13, 1933, when the boiler of a hot-water heating system burst at 33 Gates street, South Boston. Hoseman Ford discovered the condition while off duty, and sent a still alarm to the Fire Department.

By order of Fire Commissioner EDWARD F. McLAUGHLIN.

HENRY A. FOX,
Chief of Department.

General Order No. 19.

I. FIRE DEPARTMENT BAND.

The next meeting and rehearsal of the Fire Department Band will be held at the quarters of Engine Company 26, Broadway, at 2.45 p. m., on Friday, April 28, 1933. Members will bring with them their music, music stands and instruments and report promptly at the time mentioned.

II. INVENTORY.

Form No. 1 (Inventory Form) is being issued to the department today. These forms are to be filled out as of May 1 and returned to the office of the Fire Commissioner on or before Friday, May 5, 1933. In houses where more than one company is located, the senior officer in command of the houses should include in his inventory all articles which are used in common by the various companies in the station, and will note on the last page of the inventory the fact that his inventory includes the house equipment.

III. CHANGE OF TIME.

Sunday, April 30, 1933, is the date required by law to make a change in clock time. In order to conform with the law clocks in the department stations will be set ahead one hour at 2 a. m., and all tower clocks maintained by this department will be set ahead one hour at 6 a. m., or as soon thereafter as is practical by the men regularly assigned to wind the clocks.

IV. COMMENDATIONS.

The commissioner has received from Miss Grace M. Edwards, 266 Beacon street, Boston, Mass., a check for $50 in appreciation of the services rendered by the members of this department at a fire in her home on April 21, 1933. The check has been turned over to the treasurer of the Boston Firemen's Relief Fund.

Coleman C. Curran of the Maintenance Division is hereby commended for responding with this department and assisting in an attempt to rescue a boy who was drowned in South Bay creek, April 18, 1933, while off duty.

The Fire Commissioner is in receipt of the following letter from Mr. Thomas D. Craven, principal of the Evening Schools in Hyde Park, which he is pleased to publish for the information of the department:

HYDE PARK, April 22, 1933.

MR. EDWARD F. McLAUGHLIN, Fire Commissioner.

DEAR SIR,—It is a pleasure to inform you that during the past school year we had enrolled in this evening high school some members of your department who completed very satisfactorily and creditably the work of the classes they attended. These men were not alone seeking self-improvement but were setting an example in ambition and perseverance by which the younger members of their classes must have been impressed.

It certainly was wholesome for the boys and girls of this community to see older men with family responsibilities venturing out after a long day's work to evening school to equip themselves for advancement. The presence of these men had a sobering influence upon the younger members who had held out to them the fact that the climb upward is helped by self-directed effort and application to study.

It was gratifying to see these men come here this year. I hope they will be able to come next year. It would be a pleasure to see more of your department here also. In September I will send you a notice of the opening of the school with the hope that it will meet with your sanction and will be brought to the attention of those in your department residing near this school.

Very truly yours,

THOMAS D. CRAVEN, Principal.

By order of Fire Commissioner EDWARD F. McLAUGHLIN.

HENRY A. FOX,
Chief of Department.

GREAT LACK OF RURAL HEALTH SERVICE FACILITIES OFFICIALLY INDICATED.

Only 25 per cent of the rural population of the United States is at present provided with adequate and properly organized local health service, reports Surgeon General H. S. Cumming in his annual resume of the work of the United States Public Health Service during the past fiscal year, which has just been submitted to Congress.

PROCEEDINGS OF SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

April 10, 1933.

A special meeting of the School Committee of the City of Boston was held in the Administration Building, 15 Beacon Street, at 7 o'clock p. m., the Chairman presiding.

Present: Mr. Hurley, Mrs. Pigeon, Messrs. Tobin and Reilly.

The Chair announced that the meeting was called primarily for the purpose of passing an appropriation order on account.

APPROVAL OF APPOINTMENTS

The Chairman stated the question was on approving the appointments of teachers as reported by the Superintendent and laid over at the previous meeting.

The appointments were approved.

DEATH

The Superintendent reported the death of the following-named teacher:

Franklin District—Catherine E. Cotter, assistant, elementary, Apr. 4, 1933.

Placed on file.

RETIREMENT ON PENSION

The Superintendent offered the following:

ORDERED, That the following-named teacher is hereby retired on pension in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 589 of the Acts of 1908, as amended by Chapter 617 of the Acts of 1910, Chapter 569 of the Acts of 1912, and Chapter 304 of the Special Acts of 1915, the date of retirement and rate of pension to be as hereinafter specified.

Mary Hemenway District—Mary A. Watson, assistant, elementary, Mar. 31, 1933, $560.

Passed, the four members present voting in the affirmative.

HOME INSTRUCTION OF PHYSICALLY HANDICAPPED CHILDREN

A communication was received from the Superintendent, under date of Apr. 10, 1933, reporting that subject to the approval of the School Committee, he has assigned the following-named temporary teacher for home instruction of physically handicapped children, to take effect on the date stated:

Agnes D. Creamer, Apr. 12, 1933. Approved.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

On the report of the Superintendent, leave of absence was granted each of the following-named teachers for the terms specified:

Brighton High School—Thomas A. Scanlon, junior master, March 28, 1933, one day, court summons.

Longfellow District—Mary L. Brennan, assistant, elementary, March 21, 1933, one-half day, court summons.

On the report of the Superintendent, leave of absence under a suspension of the regulations was granted each of the following named teachers for the term specified:

Dorchester High School for Girls—Mary E. Lynch, assistant, Mar. 1, 1933, to June 30, 1933, without pay.

Hyde Park High School—Thomas E. Winston, master, head of department, Mar. 23, 1933, without loss of pay.

LEASING OF HARRIS SCHOOL

The following preamble and order were offered:

WHEREAS, The Harris School, Adams Street and Victory Road, Dorchester, is now vacant and not in actual use for school purposes, it is hereby ORDERED, That the City Council is hereby requested to authorize the School Committee, in the name of the City, to lease to the Neponset Post 2235, Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Harris School, Dorchester, such occupancy to be discontinued at the will of the School Committee.

The preamble was adopted and the order passed, the four members present voting in the affirmative.

ANNUAL APPROPRIATION ORDER ON ACCOUNT

A communication was received from the Business Manager, under date of Apr. 10, 1933, calling attention to the fact that under the provisions of Chapter 320 of the Acts of 1889, the School Committee, pending the adoption of the budget for the year and the passing of the appropriation orders connected therewith, may make expenditures which shall not be in excess of one-third of the total expenditures for the financial year immediately preceding.

In view of the fact that the budget and itemized appropriation orders for the current financial year are now under consideration and will not be passed until some future date, it is advisable to put through an appropriation on account to provide for expenditures already made on the Jan. 31st, Feb. 28th and March 31st drafts and those that will be made on the April 30th and May 31st drafts.

The Business Manager therefore recommended the passage of the accompanying order making appropriations on account for all items of maintenance, with the exception of the item, "Alteration and repair of school buildings, and for furniture, fixtures, and means of escape in case of fire, and for fire protection for existing buildings, and for improving existing school yards."

Placed on file.

The following was offered:

ORDERED, That to meet the current expenses of the School Committee and to provide funds for other school purposes as herein-after specified, during the financial year January 1, 1933, to December 31, 1933, the following sums are hereby appropriated on account:

General school purposes:
Salaries of Administrative Officers, Clerks, Stenographers, Supervisors of Attendance and Other Employees	$175,000.00
Salaries of Principals, Teachers, Members of the Supervising Staff and Others	5,200,000.00
Salaries of Custodians and Salaries of Matrons	400,000.00
Fuel and light, including electric current for power Supplies and incidentals	275,000.00
Pensions to Supervisors of Attendance and Pensions to Custodians	1,000.00
Pensions to Veterans	2,500.00
Promoting the Americanization and better training for citizenship of foreign-born persons	21,000.00
Vocational Guidance	25,000.00
Physical Education—Salaries of Teachers, Members of the Supervising Staff and Others, and Supplies and Incidentals
—Day Schools and Playgrounds	100,000.00
Salaries of School Physicians, Salaries of School Nurses and Care of Teeth	100,000.00
Extended Use of the Public Schools—Salaries and Supplies and Incidentals	42,000.00
Total appropriated on account.	$6,591,500.00

Passed by the following vote:

YEAS—Mr. Hurley, Mrs. Pigeon, Messrs. Tobin and Reilly—4.

NAYS—0.

ABSENT—Dr. Mackey—1.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

The two orders laid over at the meeting of Apr. 3, 1933, making changes in the Authorized List of Text Books, were taken up and passed, the four members present voting in the affirmative.

The Committee adjourned.

Attest:

ELLEN M. CRONIN,
Secretary.

TRAFFIC COMMISSION RULINGS.

Voted, That the Traffic Regulations are amended, as follows, effective May 1, 1933:

That section 17, Part 3, is amended by adding the following:

South Street.

Both sides, from Kneeland street southerly to Boston and Albany Railroad property.

Voted, Under authority granted the chairman on December 4, 1930, and as urgently required by considerations of public safety and convenience, during the period of subway construction, estimated to be ten (10) days, parking of vehicles is prohibited in Commonwealth avenue, south roadway, south side, from Blandford street to Kenmore square, effective April 20, 1933.

MAYORS' CLUB SUPPORTS GOVERNOR IN AID OF CITIES' REVENUE BILL.

On April 25 the Mayor issued the following statement:

A meeting of the Mayors' Club of Massachusetts was held Tuesday afternoon, April 25, for the purpose of considering pending legislation for the relief of the taxpayers of the municipalities of the Commonwealth.

The organization, which was called to order by Mayor Andrew Cassassa of Revere, voted to request the Mayor of each city in Massachusetts to call a conference at once of the state senators and representatives from their respective cities, and urge their support of the revenue raising bill, as recommended by his Excellency the Governor, and the immediate enactment of a bond issue by the Commonwealth in the sum of $30,000,000, to be apportioned among the cities and towns of the Commonwealth in anticipation of revenues to be received as a consequence of the Governor's message to the Legislature.

The message as submitted by his Excellency the Governor to the Legislature provided as follows:

1. $2,000,000, to be raised by eliminating all exemptions relative to income tax requirements, except an exemption of $1,500 to a single person and $2,000 to the head of a family.

2. $9,000,000 to be raised by a change in the Income Tax Law, by taxing income dividends upon the shares of stock in Massachusetts corporations.

3. By raising $10,000,000 by the creation of a sales tax from a one per cent tax upon the gross retail sales of commodities sold in the Commonwealth.

4. By transferring $8,000,000 from the Highway Fund to the current revenue of the Commonwealth, thereby reducing the state tax to that extent.

These four recommendations it is estimated will result in a revenue of approximately $30,000,000, to be distributed by the Commonwealth to the municipalities for the purpose of relieving the burden now borne by real estate.

A motion was adopted by the meeting that a committee of the Mayors wait upon his Excellency the Governor, and request that he make immediate application for an apportionment of the $500,000,000 to be distributed to the states of the Union under the bill of Senator Wagner, for relief of the municipalities of the Commonwealth.

It was further moved that the Mayor of each city notify the United States Senators from Massachusetts and the Congressman from his respective district as to the unanimous action taken by the Mayors' Club upon this particular measure of legislation.

It was further voted that the organization record itself favorable to federal legislation through which money might be borrowed upon tax anticipation warrants for the year 1933 at a rate not in excess of 3½ per cent interest.

It is imperative that you act at once in conformity with the vote as taken upon these separate financial matters by the Mayors' Club of Massachusetts.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY,
Chairman of Legislative Committee of Mayors' Club.

CITY GOLF COURSE OPENED.

From the standpoint of the golfers the announcement made by the chairman of the Park Commission on April 26 should prove most gratifying, namely, that the official opening of the Franklin Park Golf Course will take place on Friday, April 28, at 2.30 p. m., when the Mayor will tee off in a foursome, with his Excellency the Governor one of the foursome, an invitation having been extended to him by the Park Commission to participate.

The Park Commission has likewise voted to adopt the same type of regulations with reference to Sunday golf that is in force at state-owned golf courses, namely, instead of starting at 2 p. m., it will be started at 10 a. m. It was further voted that the old rate of dues continue in force, namely, $10 per year or $1 per day for persons who are not yearly members.

MAYOR REPLIES TO COMMISSIONER HULTMAN ON SALARY REDUCTIONS.

Mayor Curley, on April 25, directed the following statement to the Police Commissioner, Eugene C. Hultman:

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Police Commissioner.

MY DEAR COMMISSIONER,—I am this day in receipt of your communication stating that the salary reductions, as provided in the executive order promulgated by me under the provisions of chapter 121 of the Acts of 1933, is an injustice to the Police Department.

I have referred your communication to the Budget Commissioner who will answer the same in detail.

I believe it but proper, however, to direct your attention to the fact that the reduction in salaries of employees of the city was not a matter of choice with me; it was a matter of necessity. The tax delinquencies for the year 1932 were in excess of $17,000,000, making necessary the borrowing of $8,000,000 to meet the financial obligations incurred during the closing months of the year. You are, or should be, in possession of these facts, and willing to assume your portion of the distasteful work in the matter of salaries, which it is clearly the duty of municipal officials to assume. Under the circumstances, your petulant protest is both unworthy of a public official and ill-considered. It clearly indicates to me that you are more concerned with the business of politics than with the business of the administration of the Police Department, greatly as I regret to say it.

Evidently you have overlooked the all-important fact that reductions in an amount greater than that put in operation by the City of Boston have been adopted by the Federal Government, and that reductions with a maximum as great as that put in operation by the City of Boston have been adopted by the state, and that the average reduction in salaries in a majority of the major cities of the United States is in excess of the average reduction adopted in the case of the City of Boston. You, likewise, overlook the all-important fact that legislation making provision for salary reductions was enacted by the Legislature. You are an appointee of the Governor of the Commonwealth, so that any objection or complaint you may have to offer with reference to salary reductions should be directed to his Excellency the Governor and to the General Court.

Reducing salaries is a most distasteful work and one which I do not relish, but one which I recognize as my duty to perform at the present time, and in the performance of that duty I am entitled to cooperation rather than negation from department heads.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

AMENDED DAMAGES.

The Mayor has approved the following votes of the Board of Street Commissioners:

Voted, That the order of the Street Commissioners and Mayor of April 7, 1931, as amended, determining damages caused by the making of the public improvement consisting of the laying out and construction of Corey road, be, and the same hereby is, amended, by adding to said order the amount $10 as an award to Samuel F. Barr and Agnes J. Barr; that the amount $10 be, and the same hereby is, awarded to Samuel F. Barr and Agnes J. Barr for the damages so sustained.

Voted, That the order of the Street Commissioners and Mayor of August 3, 1931, as amended March 4, 1932, determining damages caused by the making of the public improvement consisting of the laying out and construction of Delmont street, be, and the same hereby is, amended, by adding to said order the amount $40 as an award to John Trovato and Josephine Trovato; that the amount $40 be, and the same hereby is, awarded to John Trovato and Josephine Trovato for the damages so sustained.

THE SIGNIFICANCE OF ARSON OFTEN OVERLOOKED.

"Incendiary fires play a considerable part in the amount that each citizen must pay for the insurance protection which is so essential for him to have on his home or other property," A. Bruce Bielaski, assistant to the General Manager of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, told members of the National Fire Waste Council at their recent conference in Washington. "The rates paid for insurance must of necessity be sufficient to cover losses of all characters and, if possible, to leave for the insurance company a reasonable return for the service it renders. It will pay the individual citizen in dollars and cents to take a real interest in the detection and prosecution of those responsible for incendiary fires."

ARMY CURTAILS PARTICIPATION IN AIRPORT OPENINGS.

The many calls upon the Army Air Corps for cooperation and participation in airport opening celebrations has made it necessary for Assistant Secretary F. Trubee Davison to curtail this activity. Consequently, the announcement was recently made that Air Corps airplanes would no longer participate in municipal airport dedications in cities of less than 50,000 population. Mr. Davison stated that he regretted taking this step but that airport dedications had become so numerous that the Army found itself unable to meet the demands for airplanes and pilots for exhibition flights. "If we did not put a brake on this activity," he said, "the military usefulness of our pilots, would be impaired and the Air Corps would be transformed into a flying circus."

THE SUPPLY HOUSE OF NEW HAVEN CITY DEPARTMENTS.

The Supply House of the city of New Haven, Conn., is located on Water street on a plot of about four acres of land, running down to the city dock. It consists of one main three-story brick building, which is used as an office building; one large two-story garage where all autos attached to the various city departments are housed; three large sheds and the dog pound.

All city employees report here for work. The working organization of the various city departments at present comprises about nine hundred men. Practically all the tools and tractors, road rollers, snow-plows and a snow loader and all other mechanical equipment and auto trucks, as well as construction materials of all kinds, are stored here. The Supply House also contains a blacksmith shop, an auto and tire repair shop, and a paint shop and traffic sign department.

The offices of the Superintendent of Streets, Sewers, Bridges, and Trees, the Chief Inspector of Garbage Collections, the Employment Bureau and the Pay Roll Department, are all located in the three-story office building.

ANNEXATIONS OF BOSTON.

East Boston in 1637; South Boston in 1804, being set off from Dorchester; Roxbury in 1868, a city of Norfolk County since March, 1846; Dorchester in 1870, a town since September, 1630; Charlestown in 1874, a city of Middlesex County since February, 1847; Brighton in 1874, set off from Cambridge and incorporated as a town of Middlesex County in February, 1807; West Roxbury in 1874, set off from Roxbury and incorporated as a town of Norfolk County in May, 1851. Hyde Park in 1912, a town of Norfolk County since April, 1868.

These annexations, which added 24,312 acres of land to the original land of Boston, were by area as follows: East Boston, 1,435 acres; South Boston, 795; Roxbury, 2,450; Dorchester, 5,600; West Roxbury, 8,075; Brighton, 2,664; Charlestown, 424; Hyde Park, 2,869. Filled land increased the area later by 1,396 acres. In 1875 the annexed territory had a population of 201,250, or 58.86 per cent of city's total; in 1910 its population had increased to 477,311, or 71.18 per cent. Hyde Park not included. By 1915 the total was 549,139, or 73.67 per cent of city. By 1925 the total was 607,519, or 77.92 per cent.

SAND, CINDERS AND SALT IN DULUTH.

About 385 miles of sidewalk are sanded every year and about 250 miles of streets are snow-plowed and sanded. Ordinarily, flat grades are not sanded, this work being confined to steep grades where dangerous ice conditions exist. During the past season the maintenance department used about 500 cubic yards of cinders, 500 cubic yards of sand, and 5 tons of calcium chloride on the streets.

The use of salt, or sodium chloride, has been discontinued entirely, because of its injurious effect on concrete walks and pavements. The action of salt is not clearly understood, but it is much more active during cold weather than in summer, and is apparently due to the formation of crystals after penetrating the surface, the force of which disintegrates the concrete. Calcium chloride does not seem to be entirely free from this difficulty, but is much less active than sodium chloride.

NO-PARKING ZONES FOR SCHOOLS REDUCE PEDESTRIAN HAZARD.

Minneapolis has passed an ordinance which establishes all streets on sides adjacent to schools as no-parking zones from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. This is particularly significant since records have shown that a large per cent of child accidents have been due to children stepping out from behind parked cars.

These zones are painted yellow and serve to attract the attention of the motorist as well as to give him a clear vision while passing the school.

CHICAGO TRAFFIC POLICE IN YEAR-LONG DRIVE.

Chicago traffic experts have promised a 50 per cent decrease in deaths from motor-car accidents, as a result of a week-by-week drive now in operation by Commissioner Russell of the Police Department to enforce the city traffic code. The drive, an outgrowth of the National Safety Congress and Chicago Safety Week recently held in Chicago, is expected to prove a valuable educational feature for drivers, pedestrians and policemen.

NEW INCINERATOR IN OPERATION IN MONTREAL.

In the past summer Montreal, Que., completed a new garbage incinerator in the west end of the city, which marks another step forward in the removal and destruction of this kind of waste material. This is the second incinerator built within a year and carries into effect the original plan of having two incinerators, one at the east end of the city and the other at the west end. The total cost of the Sterling type incinerator, which was installed by Bartlett and Snow of Canada, Limited, was $400,000, including all equipment. The contractors were the St. George Construction Company of Montreal.

The incinerator has a capacity of three hundred tons of garbage a day of twenty-four hours. It will do away with the large garbage dump on the river front, the noxious odors from which have been the cause of many complaints.

CITY OF BOSTON.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

PROPOSALS FOR FURNISHING SURGICAL NEEDLES.

The Supply Department of the City of Boston invites proposals for furnishing surgical needles, as required, to the various city departments. The bidder must use the form of proposal to be obtained at the office of the Superintendent of Supplies, Room 801, City Hall Annex, and the successful bidder must furnish a bond for one quarter the total amount of the bid with a surety company authorized to do business in Massachusetts as surety for the faithful performance of the contract, in case the amount of the contract awarded aggregates $2,000 or more. There will be a charge of twenty cents ($0.20) for each set of proposals taken out. The bid, with a certified check for $100, payable to and to become the property of the City of Boston if the proposal is not carried out, must be left at the office of the Superintendent of Supplies, before 12 m., on Monday, May 8, 1933, at which time and place they will be publicly opened and read. A duplicate bid, without check, must be left at the office of the City Auditor prior to the time named for opening bids. The Superintendent reserves the right to accept or reject any or all bids, or any part of a bid, and to award the contract as he deems for the best interests of the city. All contracts made subject to appropriations to meet payments thereunder.

(April 29.) PHILIP A. CHAPMAN,
Superintendent of Supplies.

CITY OF BOSTON.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

PROPOSALS FOR SEWERAGE WORKS IN AUCLAND STREET AND SAVIN HILL AVENUE, DORCHESTER.

The Commissioner of Public Works of the City of Boston, office 508 City Hall Annex, invites proposals from citizens of the United States and corporations or other legal associations wherein the controlling interest to the extent of at least over one half thereof is owned by a citizen or citizens of the United States, for sewerage works in Auckland street and Savin Hill avenue, Dorchester. A bond will be required for doing the work of a surety company approved by the Commissioner in the sum of 100 per cent of the amount of the contract, to secure the due performance of the contract and the full protection of the city. Plans and proposals may be obtained at Room 508, City Hall Annex. Each proposal should be inclosed in an envelope, sealed, marked "Proposal for Sewerage Works in Auckland Street, etc.," and left at Room 508, fifth floor, City Hall Annex, before 12 m. of Wednesday, May 17, 1933, with a certified check for two thousand five hundred ($2,500) dollars, payable to and to become the property of the city if the proposal after acceptance is not carried out. The proposals will then and there be publicly opened and read. Proposals must be made in duplicate, the sealed duplicate, without check, to be deposited by the bidder with the City Auditor previous to the time named for opening the proposals. If the price of any item appears to the Commissioner to be abnormally high or low, or the bidder neglects to bid on each and every item, it may lead to the rejection of the proposal containing such price. The undersigned reserves the right to reject any or all proposals or to award the contract as he deems best.

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
(April 29.) Commissioner of Public Works.

CITY OF BOSTON.

PARK DEPARTMENT.

CITY OF BOSTON.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

PROPOSALS FOR LAYING AND RELAYING WATER PIPES IN PORTER STREET, BETWEEN BENNINGTON STREET AND CHELSEA STREET, EAST BOSTON.

The Commissioner of Public Works of the City of Boston, office 508 City Hall Annex, invites proposals from citizens of the United States and corporations or other legal associations wherein the controlling interest to the extent of at least over one half thereof is owned by a citizen or citizens of the United States, for laying and relaying about two hundred feet of 12-inch water pipe in Porter street, between Bennington street and Chelsea street, East Boston. A bond will be required for doing the work of a surety company approved by the Commissioner in the sum of 100 per cent of the amount of the contract, to secure the due performance of the contract and the full protection of the city. Plans and proposals may be obtained at Room 508, City Hall Annex. Each proposal should be inclosed in an envelope, sealed, marked "Proposals for Laying and Relaying Water Pipes, Porter Street," and left at Room 508, fifth floor, City Hall Annex, before 12 m. on Monday, May 8, 1933, with a certified check for one hundred (100) dollars, payable to and to become the property of the city if the proposal after acceptance is not carried out. The proposals will then and there be publicly opened and read. Proposals must be made in duplicate, the sealed duplicate, without check, to be deposited by the bidder with the City Auditor previous to the time named for opening the proposals. If the price of any item appears to the Commissioner to be abnormally high or low, or the bidder neglects to bid on each and every item it may lead to the rejection of the proposal containing such price. The undersigned reserves the right to reject any or all proposals or to award the contract as he deems best.

TRANSIT DEPARTMENT.

PROPOSALS FOR FRAMES AND DOORS FOR NICHES, TRAFFIC TUNNEL.

The Transit Department of the City of Boston, 1 Beacon street, seventh floor, invites proposals from citizens of the United States and corporations or other legal associations wherein the controlling interest to the extent of at least one half thereof is owned by a citizen or citizens of the United States, for furnishing, delivering and erecting, frames and doors for niches in the Traffic Tunnel. A bond of an approved surety company will be required for the faithful performance of the contract in a sum of 45 per cent of the total bid price. Proposals must be filled out and signed by the bidder on forms to be obtained at this office, inclosed in a sealed envelope, indorsed "Frames and Doors, Traffic Tunnel," and delivered to the Department, or to its secretary, before 12 o'clock noon on Monday, May 8, 1933, at which time and place they will be publicly opened and read. A properly certified check in the sum of two hundred (200) dollars, payable to the city, must accompany the proposal. This check shall become the property of the city if the contract is not executed by the bidder within the time prescribed after the date of the notification by the Department of the acceptance of the proposal and the readiness of the contract for signature. Proposals must be made in duplicate. The sealed duplicate, without check, is to be deposited by the bidder with the City Auditor, Room 20, City Hall, previous to the time named for opening the proposals. Plans, proposals, specifications and forms of contract may be obtained at this office on or after Tuesday, April 25, 1933. A deposit of $5 in cash or by certified check, will be required for a set of plans and two sets of the specifications. Mutilation of them will be deemed sufficient cause for the forfeiture of said deposit. The Department reserves the right to reject any or all proposals.

KANSAS CITY WINS POLICE HOME RULE.

The Supreme Court of Missouri has given Kansas City control of its police department.

For years those who wanted the city to operate and control its own police department had been going to the Legislature regularly with bills which would end state control. But conditions were never just right. The city raised the question of the constitutionality of the law under which the department has operated, and the Court held the law unconstitutional in a five-to-two opinion.

The police department of Kansas City had been under the control of the state since 1874. Under the law as it has existed in recent years, the department was administered by a commission of three members, two appointed by the governor and the mayor, ex officio.

The city attacked the law on the ground that it delegated legislative powers to an administrative board. In this contention the city was upheld, the court holding that the limitations in the law were not sufficiently definite to prevent the commissioners from making almost unlimited demands on the city treasury.

CHICAGO POLICE REORGANIZED.

Many improvements have recently taken place in the organization and administration of the Police Department of Chicago, Ill.

Although the numerical strength of the force has been reduced in the last two years approximately from 6,700 to 6,000, the number of men on foot patrol has been increased 150 per cent, being now about 1,900. The efficiency of the department has been further increased by adding to the number of patrol cars and by placing in operation an extensive police radio system. There are now some 100 small patrol cars and fifty large high-powered ones equipped with radio. Furthermore, 20 per cent of the present force constitutes new blood in the department. The average age has been lowered, and a greater proportion of young men will be encouraged by the reduction of the admission age to a range of twenty-one to twenty-nine years, from the former limits of twenty-three to thirty-five, approximately. Civil service methods in disciplining new policemen are better, and a more thorough check-up on the character of those examined is made.

UNITED STATES TO HAVE TENTH MUNICIPAL UNIVERSITY.

The tenth municipal university in the United States is being planned by Omaha, Neb., whose citizens have approved plans for the establishment of a four-year university, to be supported by a mill tax. The following are the nine municipal universities or colleges known to exist at the present time in the United States, in order of their establishment on the municipal basis: College of Charleston (South Carolina), 1837; University of Louisville (Kentucky), 1837; College of the City of New York, 1847; Hunter College of the City of New York, 1870; University of the City of Cincinnati (Ohio), 1871; University of Toledo (Ohio), 1884; University of Akron (Ohio), 1913; University of the City of Detroit (Michigan), 1923; Municipal University of Wichita (Kansas), 1926.

MASSACHUSETTS BAY COLONY.

The first chartered colony in New England, charter granted by Charles I on March 4, 1629. About a year before, a patent had been granted to six prominent men of Dorchester, west of England, among whom was Capt. John Endicott. He sailed in June, 1628, with a party of fifty or sixty persons, arriving in September and settling at Naumkeag, afterward named Salem. In the spring of 1629, the Bay Company fitted out three ships conveying about four hundred persons and arriving at Salem in June. Endicott sent a small party to effect a settlement on the Bay in Mishawum, afterward named by the settlers Charlestown, the first town in New England to assume the town polity, Plymouth and Salem being governed by a governor and council. Endicott was appointed in London as the first resident governor on April 30, 1629. The Massachusetts Bay Company was reorganized in London on October 20, 1629, when John Winthrop was chosen as governor. He arrived at Salem on June 12, 1630, soon proceeded to Charlestown with a large following and finding that place unsuitable, finally settled in Boston. Winthrop served thirteen years as governor in four different periods ending in 1649 and Endicott fifteen years at various times ending in 1665. Other governors were Thomas Dudley, Richard Bellingham, John Haynes, Henry Vane, John Leverett and Simon Bradstreet, the latter serving twelve years until 1692 when the Bay Colony and the Plymouth Colony were merged, becoming the Royal Province of Massachusetts Bay, which existed eighty-two years to 1774, the governors being appointed by the King.

The name, Massachusetts, is Indian and signifies "near the big hills."

FAILURE TO MAINTAIN CITY STREETS IS FALSE ECONOMY.

Money now saved by failure to maintain city streets, in response to the clamor of citizens for tax reduction, represents a trivial economy in comparison with the enormous outlay that will be required to rebuild such thoroughfares later. Taxpayers in some municipalities, determined to reduce public expenditures, have gone so far as to insist upon elimination of funds sorely needed for the maintenance of existing streets. In other places, even though money for street maintenance is available, powerful minority groups are demanding that it be not spent under present conditions.—The American City.

METHODS OF ELIMINATING GRADE-CROSSING ACCIDENTS.

Five suggestions aimed at the elimination of grade-crossing accidents are offered in the monthly report of the Street Traffic Committee of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce.

It is estimated that curing the grade-crossing evil would reduce traffic accidents by 10 per cent in a very short time, and the Committee presents the following five points for discussion:

1. Do away with those grade crossings which have the heaviest traffic.
2. Place warning signs not less than 500 feet back from the railroad tracks.
3. Take down all signs from obsolete trackage.
4. Use traffic-light signals (operated by trains) instead of signs, if there are fewer than five trains per day.
5. Consider scrapping all railroad signs in favor of signals for use only when train is approaching.

"The last two points merit consideration first, because, though they are new doctrines, they seem the least expensive and most practical of application."

THE POLICE OFFICER AND THE CITIZEN.

The importance of the police as conspicuous representatives of the municipal government, and the qualities desirable in such a relationship, were pointed out by City Manager Willard F. Day of Staunton, Va., in addressing the recent convention of the Virginia Police Executives' Association. He said in part:

"It is unquestionably true that the man on the street, the public, the visitor and the home citizen alike, form first and in many cases lasting impressions of the local government by contacts with the police."

FALSE ECONOMIC PROPOSALS.

Danger to both the immediate and the long-run efficiency of fire departments and to the security of the community itself lies in many if not most of the proposals of taxpayers' representatives attacking the budgetary provisions for municipal fire protection. The gravity of this menace was emphasized by Jay W. Stevens, California State Fire Marshal and Executive Secretary of the International Association of Fire Chiefs, in an address on "Maintaining Fire Department Efficiency," given before the recent convention of that organization.

LOWER TAX RATE FOR 1933 POSSIBLE IN BOSTON IF COOPERATIVE SPIRIT IS MANIFESTED—MAYOR CURLEY, IN REGULAR WEEKLY BROADCAST FROM CITY HALL STATION, POINTS TO ECONOMIES EFFECTED AND PREDICTS RELIEF PROVIDING LEGISLATURE PASSES PENDING APPORTIONMENT LAWS AND STATE TAX AND ASSESSMENTS ARE NOT INCREASED—THIS, DESPITE WHATEVER AID TAX APPEAL BOARD MAY GIVE DODGERS.

Mayor Curley, speaking over Station WNAC, at 2 p. m. on May 1, from City Hall, said in part as follows:

During the past week recommendations have been made by various civic organizations for the adoption of a contract system for the operation of municipal departments and also for a further reduction in the number of employees. It is a most unfortunate position for so-called molders of public thought in a community to assume but can be conducive to only one result, namely, an increase in the ranks of the already swollen army of the unemployed, now estimated at 13,000,000 men in the United States, and a lowering in our city of the income of several thousand men who, during this trying period, in addition to maintaining their own families, have in many cases found it necessary to provide for the families of relatives.

In making such a recommendation the fundamental conception of municipal obligation is utterly ignored, and likewise the fact that demands for service and relief are augmented, rather than reduced, during a period of depression. These agencies assume that because private business has cut its cost by cutting production and decreasing its operation, that it is a simple matter for the units of government to do likewise. The fact is that the people are more dependent upon the instrument which we call government today than at any previous time in the history of our country.

Government is the one agency or organization which has kept moving forward during the present crisis. Today it stands between the people and utter chaos. To demand that government cut production and retrench in its necessary and essential services is indicative of a complete misunderstanding of current conditions. The closing of the avenues and opportunities for employment by private business has resulted solely in increasing the amounts disbursed by governmental agencies for public welfare and relief. By depriving the individual worker of "work and wages," we have set up in this country a dole system which will, I fear, remain with us for many years after the return of normal conditions. To force the city at this time to discharge and lay off employees will not afford the relief to the community which is pictured in the reports of the civic organizations. The initial savings which might result from the adoption of the policy recommended would soon be dissipated through the increase which would take place in the rolls of the relief department of the city through the influx of applicants who, deprived of their only means of support, must turn to the one remaining agency which may afford them the bare necessities of life.

The attempts to support this radical and illogical recommendation by painting a dismal picture of the financial structure of the city, consciously or unconsciously augments the vicious propaganda which has been circulated in recent months by certain individuals and organizations in the community. Until this propaganda was started the credit of the city stood among the highest of the large municipalities of the country. By misleading statements and by innuendo, the impression that our city was in a serious financial condition has been widely broadcast. Despite the fact that our city has always been, and is today, in a sound financial condition, this false and vicious propaganda has resulted in undermining the confidence of investors in all sections of the country, and has made it increasingly difficult for the city to secure the temporary finances necessary for the conduct of its essential activities, and is but another chapter in what appears to be a deliberate attempt to besmirch the financial record of the city.

Evidence of Curtailment.

The endeavors to create the impression that no evidence of curtailment or retrenchment of municipal expenditures is to be found in the 1933 budget is absolutely false. That such a charge is absolutely unfounded is readily apparent when the policies and practices followed in the preparation of this year's budget are reviewed.

Some of these are enumerated in the following table:

Reductions ranging from 5 per cent to 15 per cent in the salaries and wages of departmental employees.
Voluntary contributions for unemployment relief during first three and a half months of the year by city, school and county employees.

Permitting vacancies through death or retirement to remain unfilled, or, if this is impossible, requiring new appointees to take over the duties of the positions at a lower rate than that paid to the former incumbents.

Use of Public Welfare workers in place of seasonal temporary employees in the Park and Public Works Departments.

Granting compensatory time off rather than making cash payments to employees required to work overtime.

Covering of seasonal needs for additional clerical help in Assessing, Collecting, and Election Departments by temporary assignment of clerical workers from other departments.

CALLS ON REAL ESTATE EXCHANGE MEMBERS AND ALLIES TO PROVE SINCERE INTEREST IN CITY'S WELFARE BY COOPERATION AND REFUSAL TO EVADE RESPONSIBILITY BY APPEALING TO TAX APPEALS BOARD AND HALTING ABATEMENTS THAT WILL LOSE TO CITY, IF APPEALS ARE SUCCESSFUL, MORE THAN $10,000,000—MAYOR CURLEY REPLIES TO EXCHANGE'S SECRETARY, CHARLES E. LEE.

His Honor the Mayor, on April 27, received the following communication from Charles E. Lee, Executive Secretary of the Boston Real Estate Exchange:

DEAR SIR,—At a meeting of the directors of the Boston Real Estate Exchange held this afternoon the following vote was passed:

"We are of the opinion that further reductions in the expenditures of the city are imperative. We are convinced from our knowledge of the situation of real estate owners, both the small home owner and the business property owner, that additional reductions must be made in the expenses of the city if they are to be met by the collection of taxes for the year. We believe that consolidation of departments accompanied by substantial reductions in personnel are not only possible but necessary."

It was further voted that the secretary be instructed to send a copy of the foregoing vote to his Honor the Mayor.

Yours respectfully,

CHARLES E. LEE,
Executive Secretary.

The following communication was forwarded to Mr. Lee in reply to the above:

DEAR SIR,—The vote taken yesterday by the Boston Real Estate Exchange, a copy of which I have received this day from your hands, is clearly indicative of one of two facts, or possibly both. First, the members of the Exchange utterly fail to understand what would happen if their opinions and convictions were followed; or second, the members of the Exchange are deliberately attempting to convey the idea that the amount expended by the city for the maintenance of its activities is the only factor which is contributing to the heavy burden now resting upon the owners of real estate.

MORE EMPLOYMENT NEEDED.

It is not my purpose to dwell at length on the first of the two possibilities stated above. My position with reference to the subject of discharging employees is well known. What this country needs today is an increase in the opportunities for employment rather than a decrease. The abnormal expansion in the expenditures of the Public Welfare Department during the past two years has been caused principally by retrenchment in private business and industry with a resulting flood of unemployment. It is not my intention to aggravate the problem of the Public Welfare Department "by substantial reductions" in the personnel of the city. Such a step would only increase the amount of misery and suffering in the community and would, in the long run, achieve no substantial reductions in the total expenditures of the city.

The two important elements in the tax rate of the city are the appropriations for departmental and other requirements and the assessed valuation of property subject to taxation. Every one knows that an increase in the first element may result in an increased tax rate, but very few appreciate the fact that a decrease in the second element may produce the same result. The members of the Boston Real Estate Exchange should be aware of this fact, but judging from the efforts of many of the individual members of the Exchange, to secure reductions in valuations for themselves and their clients, they are either indifferent, or absolutely refuse to consider the ultimate result of their actions. The heavy burden which rests today on the owners of real estate will not be wholly removed until those individuals and organizations in the community who are seeking to evade their just share of taxation, through the tax-dodging abatement racket, suspend their activities and indicate a willingness to cooperate with city officials in a moderate and equitable adjustment of present-day problems.

STAGGERING PROPORTIONS.

The records of the Assessing Department clearly indicate the staggering proportions which the racket I have previously referred to has assumed. During the fiscal year 1932 abatements totaling $38,156,500 in valuation, or the equivalent of $1,231,339.49 in taxes, were recorded in the Assessing Department. Approximately 40 per cent of this loss in value and taxes resulted from decisions of the Board of Tax Appeals—the organization which has functioned in its limited existence apparently for the sole benefit of those who desire to evade their just responsibility in the matter of taxation. In the first four months of the current year abatements of approximately $22,000,000 of valuation, or the equivalent of approximately $800,000 in taxes, have been recorded in the Assessing Department. I am informed that at the present time a conservative estimate of the total of pending abatement applications, both in the Assessing Department and before the Board of Tax Appeals, represents $300,000,000 in valuation, or over $10,000,000 in taxes.

It must be clearly evident that the great loss of revenue represented in these totals could not be absorbed by the city in one or possibly two years, without a sharp curtailment in the functions and services rendered by the municipality to the community and its citizens. The members of the Boston Real Estate Exchange should not overlook the force of that old saying, "You can't have your cake and eat it too." The officials of the city have been exerting every effort during the past three years to keep departmental expenditures at the lowest possible level. The best indication of the sincerity of such efforts is the fact that it is estimated that the operating expenses of city departments during the year 1933 will be reduced by approximately $8,000,000 over similar expenses in 1932. If the Boston Real Estate Exchange and its allies will match the efforts of the administration at City Hall by adopting a cooperative attitude and policy in the matter of seeking tax abatements, there is no question but what the common end or goal, namely, relief of the owners of homes and property, may be achieved without disrupting or destroying the foundation of our municipal structure which has remained inviolate over a period of 111 years.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

BOSTON FINANCES IN SUCH FINE STATE THAT CITY REPAYS $3,000,000 LOAN FIFTEEN DAYS AHEAD OF TIME.

The City of Boston, on May 1, notified the banking houses that it is prepared to meet payment upon $3,000,000 of notes that are not due until May 15.

In December of 1932, loans were made by the City Treasurer to the amount of $8,000,000, with which to complete the payment of all obligations outstanding, incurred during the year 1932. At that time the City Treasurer agreed to set aside the collection of 1932 taxes into a special fund to meet these notes when due, and, while the first payment is not due until May 15, the city is happily in the position where the obligation can be discharged today.

The amount of 1932 taxes outstanding on December 31, 1932, was $17,831,000, and this amount has been reduced to about $13,500,000 at the present time.

Use of Parkman Fund for maintenance expenses.

Marked reduction in city planning activities.

Taking advantage of prevailing low market prices through anticipation of department requirements for a long period, and by advertising at one and the same time general departmental needs for commodities that may be purchased in bulk.

Readjustment in method of payment of clinic costs in the various health units.

Elimination of the North Ferry.

Reduced street lighting rates resulting from conferences with public utilities officials.

Revising downward allotment schedule, for public celebrations.

Marked reduction in appropriations for new library books.

Confining purchases of new equipment to absolute necessities.

Readjustment in travel schedules of employees so as to effect savings in expenditures for carfares.

Extension of U-Drivit system of motor transportation wherever feasible.

Discontinuance of activities at Rainsford Island.

Repairs to public buildings and departmental property confined to minimum maintenance requirements.

Reduction in compensation of election officials in polling places, owing to the fact the city election to be held this year will not impose upon these officials such a heavy burden as did the functions of 1932.

The twenty policies enumerated in the foregoing schedule represent some of the positive steps taken by the present administration to reduce the cost of government in Boston. A much longer list might readily be compiled but any unbiased thinking citizen will agree that the items enumerated are sufficient to confound the charges of any civic organization.

LOWER TAX RATE POSSIBLE.

The economies that have been effected without the discharge of a single permanent employee of the City of Boston have in some cases been in operation since 1930 and others adopted more recently. Provided legislation now pending before the General Court of Massachusetts, with reference to a more equitable apportionment of the burden of the costs of government, is enacted into law and provided that there is no increase in the state tax and assessment upon Boston this year, should make possible, notwithstanding the aid given by the Massachusetts Tax Appeals Board to the tax dodgers, a reduction in the tax rate for the year 1933.

Upon no May Day during the past four years has the outlook been more promising for a restoration of industrial prosperity in the United States of America. Upon yesterday, Sunday, the people of the United States were asked to pray for the health and strength of President Roosevelt. May I add that I sincerely trust that their spiritual aspirations will not be confined to one Sunday, but their prayers may be uttered to the Throne on High until such time as breadlines shall be banished in America and unemployed workers shall find employment and the home into which sorrow and despair have penetrated during the last four years shall once more reflect happiness, laughter and faith in the American nation and overcome all obstacles regardless of how seemingly difficult they should appear.

I ask you in the name of the thirteen million men in America who are without employment, and in the name of their dependents, to pray sincerely and pray devoutly to Almighty God for the continued health, strength and splendid courageous and humane leadership of Franklin Delano Roosevelt.

LAND-TAKING IN WEST ROXBURY.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for the taking of land for sewerage works to be constructed as follows:

The right and easement is taken to lay and maintain sewerage works in the following-described lands, exclusive of any interest in trees, buildings or other structures standing thereon, reserving to the owners thereof the right to use the lands for any purpose except such as may injure or obstruct said works, and except for placing or maintaining any structure on said lands not authorized in writing by the Mayor of said city; trees, buildings or other structures standing upon or affixed to the land in which an easement is hereby taken are to be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said taking for the purpose of constructing said sewerage works. Said lands are in that part of Boston formerly West Roxbury and are bounded as follows:

A parcel of land, owners unknown, being part of the private way known as Vershire street, bounded:

Northeasterly by Cowing street, eight and 15-100 feet; southeasterly by another part of Vershire street, by five measurements, one hundred seventy-nine and 61-100 feet, one hundred thirteen and 96-100 feet on a curve of two hundred forty-nine and 21-100 feet radius, one hundred forty-eight and 70-100 feet, fifty-nine and 20-100 feet on a curve of two hundred fifty-eight and 93-100 feet radius, and one hundred sixty and 85-100 feet; southwesterly by the southwesterly line of Vershire street, eight and 9-100 feet; northwesterly by another part of Vershire street, eighty-one and 60-100 feet; again southwesterly by the same, sixteen and 50-100 feet; again northwesterly by Alleyn street, eight feet; again northeasterly by another part of Vershire street, sixteen and 50-100 feet; and again northwesterly by the same, by five measurements, seventy and 3-100 feet, sixty-one and 3-100 feet on a curve of two hundred sixty-six and 93-100 feet radius, one hundred forty-eight and 70-100 feet, one hundred ten and 30-100 feet on a curve of two hundred forty-one and 21-100 feet radius, and one hundred eighty-one and 14-100 feet.

The sewerage works to be constructed are as follows: 700 linear feet of 10-inch pipe sanitary sewer and 698 linear feet of 10-inch and 12-inch pipe surface drain.

This Board determines that no person sustains damages in his estate by the taking of the aforesaid easement and construction of said sewerage works and awards no damages therefor.

Betterments are to be assessed for the making of the aforesaid improvement.

Ordered, That this Board estimates that the abutting lots of land on the southeasterly, southwesterly and northwesterly sides of Vershire street, will receive benefit or advantage, beyond the general advantage to all real estate in said city, from the improvement herein ordered; each of said lots to the amount hereinafter respectively set against it; said lots and the supposed owners thereof being shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Plan No. 1087, Sewerage Works, Vershire Street, West Roxbury, March 30, 1933, William J. Sullivan, Chief Engineer, Street Laying-Out Department," and on file in the office of said department.

SPIRIT OF LOYALTY MUST BE STIMULATED AND NOURISHED IF AMERICA WITH ITS TRADITIONS AND HERITAGES IS TO BE PRESERVED AND LIBERTY ENHANCED—MAYOR CURLEY DELIV- ERS PATRIOTIC ADDRESS BEFORE VETERANS OF FOREIGN WARS ON COMMON ON MAY DAY, POINTING TO "PATRIOTIC DUTY OF THE HOUR."

The May Day exercises on the Common were held on May 1 under the auspices of the Massachusetts State Department, Ladies' Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. His Honor Mayor James M. Curley addressed the gathering upon the subject, "The Patriotic Duty of the Hour":

This is Boston Day, the anniversary of the chartering of the city in 1822, when it took on the dignities and responsibilities of a great American city, the city of our homes.

Boston in assuming the political dignity of a city did not put away the honor, celebrity and tradition that were hers as a town. The record of the town, its accomplishments for human right and ordered liberty, for its glorious share in the establishment of the American Republic, for its labors and sacrifices made for the principle of political independence and free, representative government,—these achievements had made Boston a name to acclaim wherever men struggled for freedom and right, and they constituted the heritage passed on by the town to the city.

Industrial activity, maritime eminence, commercial prominence and financial stability are material elements in the life and progress of every community, desirable elements which enter constantly into the contentment and happiness of its inhabitants; but it is its record in the field of human good, the story of its labors for the betterment of mankind, the preservation of their liberties, the assurance given of conservation of the home and its sanctities, the maintenance of peace and good will among men, and the fosterage of the spiritual things of life, the intangible things that cannot be measured in terms of dollars and cents,—it is this record that constitutes the real greatness of a city and is a proof that a community so inspired and moved possesses a soul.

It is written in the Scripture, and is as true of the community as of the individual, "What shall it profit a man to gain the whole world if he lose his soul"; and the preservation of the soul of Boston written into its history by great principles, noble aspirations, high endeavors and honorable achievements, is and should be the tireless and unceasing effort of all her sons and daughters.

Because it is our serious duty to remember our honorable past and to emulate the deeds of the men and women who made that past honorable, the keynote of "Boston Day" is loyalty,—loyalty to accomplish, loyalty to high principle, loyalty to human good and freedom, loyalty to Commonwealth and Republic, the creations of a splendid past, loyalty to the flag which is the emblem of our country, and loyalty to this City of Boston, our home, the center of our affections and activities, the cradle of American liberty and the nursery of the doctrines and deeds that have maintained and safeguarded it.

True loyalty to American principles, true allegiance to country and flag, to Commonwealth and city, cannot exist if we do not keep green the glorious memories of the men who made the nation, established the American Republic and set up here a government of law and reason, of liberties preserved and homes safeguarded; for only as men remember their debt to a noble past will they be willing to give true service to their own day and duty.

When we forget the faith of the Fathers this Republic will fall and go down in disaster; and to avert such a calamity we must constantly exhort to remembrance of our spiritual and political indebtedness to the glorious dead, that we may hold them in honor and reverence, and pass down to our successors the splendid heritage they gave us.

The duty to remember, the duty to view forgetfulness of obligation with moral abhorrence, and ingratitude for suffering, sacrifice and service with active indignation, is the fundamental spirit of true loyalty; and the insidious propaganda that seeks to undermine that loyalty, that aims to discredit the men, minimize the achievements and distort the motives that made us free and independent Americans, is as odious as dishonorable, and is a form of treason that must be combatted constantly and courageously.

The spirit of loyalty must be stimulated and nourished if the republic is to endure and our city is to sit in peace and prosperity among her hills, guarding the Gateway of Liberty. It must be taught in our schools, fostered in our homes and blazoned in our streets, in that the splendid traditions of the past may be preserved sweet and intact and passed down in honor to the coming generations.

The propagandists, the perverter of history, the traducer of the Fathers, the slanderer of the heroic dead, the pacifist preacher of a false peace, the pernicious pedler of treason that poisons American thought with the discredited doctrines of bankruptcy, monarchy and militarism, the visionary who sees only evil in America and only good in the spiritual weeds of war-wasted Europe and the fanatic who would substitute his will-o'-the-wisps for the light that has guided the feet of America—these are the enemies of loyalty to truth and freedom, home and happiness, the foes of America.

Here in this historic city, where American liberty was born, whose streets have been dyed with the blood of liberty's martyrs, whose halls have echoed to the voices of patriots who dared to do, we have set up tablets marking the scene of heroic effort, recalling men and deeds, commemorating events and achievements, tablets and memorials set up in public places, that they who run may read, that memory may be nourished, heroism honored, patriotism preserved, Americanism revived and loyalty sustained.

WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

Upon varying dates as indicated the Mayor approved contracts with several concerns and firms for supplies and work. Communications from the several departments concerned were as follows:

MAYOR'S OFFICE, PUBLIC CELEBRATIONS,

April 5, 1933.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston.

SIR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract without advertising, to Rotary Club of Boston, the sum of $4,000 for space specified in Mechanics Building, Boston, to defray part of the expense of the International Rotary Club, Incorporated of America, for convention in Boston, Mass., June 26 to 30, inclusive, 1933.

This will cancel previous authority to award a contract, without advertising, to the Massachusetts Charitable Mechanics Association.

In my opinion nothing could be gained by advertising for the purpose of securing competitive bids.

Sincerely yours,

EDMUND L. DOLAN,
Director.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Paving Service).

Boston, April 11, 1933.

To the Mayor of Boston.

Your permission is respectfully requested to the award of a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to Hugh Nawn, Incorporated, 77 Floydell street, Boston, on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; secondly, the expense of construction is to be divided by the city and abutters; and also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand ($1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 200.

It is hereby ordered that vacations for members of the force for 1933 shall begin May 29 and end September 27, and that not more than one eighth of the whole number attached to any division shall be absent on vacation at the same time.

No day of relief will be allowed members of the force on June 13, Constitutional Primary Day, and July 3 and 4.

Officers detailed from other divisions to the Superintendent's Office, the Bureau of Criminal Investigation, the Bureau of Records and the Bureau of Traffic will draw vacations with such units and not with the divisions to which they are assigned. They shall notify the commanding officers of the divisions to which they are assigned the number of the vacation drawn.

Members of the department, before going on vacation, shall give a definite address, so that commanding officers can communicate with them without delay.

Five days before each vacation begins commanding officers shall forward to the superintendent a list, in duplicate, showing the names of all officers who shall be on that vacation. One day before the vacation begins commanding officers shall forward to the superintendent a list, one original copy, showing the names and emergency addresses of the officers who are going on vacation.

The time for each vacation shall be determined by lot in the usual way on Monday, May 8, 1933.

If officers desire a late vacation during period, September 27 to December 31, 1933, they may be accommodated when such request is approved by their division commanders and the superintendent.

Vacations to begin and end as follows:

No. 1. To begin at 7.45 a. m., May 29, and end at same hour June 12.

No. 2. To begin at 7.45 a. m., June 19, and end at same hour July 3.

No. 3. To begin at 7.45 a. m., July 5, and end at same hour July 19.

No. 4. To begin at 7.45 a. m., July 19, and end at same hour August 2.

No. 5. To begin at 7.45 a. m., August 2, and end at same hour August 16.

No. 6. To begin at 7.45 a. m., August 16, and end at same hour August 30.

No. 7. To begin at 7.45 a. m., August 30, and end at same hour September 13.

No. 8. To begin at 7.45 a. m., September 13, and end at same hour September 27.

Commanding officers of divisions and units will not allow vacations to interfere with the proper operation of their organization, making shifts in day and night duty and taking such other steps as may be necessary to provide adequate protection and proper functioning of the force under their control.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 201.

Patrolmen John F. Petitti and Edward F. Shea, both of Division 12, are commended in General Orders for efficient and prompt police duty performed on April 22, 1933, in the pursuit and capture of a man who was operating a stolen automobile, and who had broken into dwellings, committed larceny, and assaulted two women.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize the initiative and perseverance shown by these officers in performing this effective police duty.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Commissioner.

ASSESSMENT ABATED.

IN BOARD OF STREET COMMISSIONERS OF THE CITY OF BOSTON, April 27, 1933.

In the matter of the application for revision of assessment levied on account of the construction of sewerage works, the Board of Street Commissioners, acting under the provisions of chapter 359 of the acts of the year 1896, and deeming it just and proper that said action should be taken on said application.

Ordered, That the amount specified, being the annual apportionment of said assessment for the year specified below, be, and it hereby is, abated.

Lot 12, Luigi and Leonilda Colaizzi, 1932 apportionment, Washington Heights avenue, assessed February 21, 1930, $12.58.

PITTSBURGH'S "THROUGH STREET" SYSTEM.

An extension of the "through street" system of Pittsburgh to further interconnect the various population and residential centers with protected arteries of communication has been planned.

Fourteen additional through streets, supplementing the original six established in the fall of 1928 have been designated by City Council, and flashing neon "Stop-Through-Traffic" signs have been purchased to adequately mark the streets according to report from that city.

STATE-WIDE CAMPAIGN AGAINST DIPHTEHRIA BRINGS NOTABLE RESULTS.

A decrease in cases and deaths has been very marked during the five-year campaign in New York State for the extirpation of diphtheria. The campaign was the joint effort of the State Departments of Health and Education, the State Medical Society, the Welfare Division of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, and the State Committee on Tuberculosis and Public Health of the State Charities Aid Association, all banded together. They were aided by the parent-teacher associations, women's clubs, civic clubs and other social and welfare organizations.

Although the goal was not completely reached, the results are very encouraging and prove beyond a doubt that diphtheria can be controlled.

It has been estimated that at least 35 per cent of the children under five years old must be protected against diphtheria before a community is safe from an epidemic of the disease. No city over 100,000 has yet reached that percentage, although Utica with 30 per cent approaches that figure. While it is more difficult for a big city to attain a large percentage of immunizations, with a proper organization and sufficient determination this can be done.

Cities that have attained the 35 per cent standard are:

50,000 to 100,000 population: Binghamton and Niagara Falls, 38; New Rochelle, 35.

25,000 to 50,000: White Plains, 49; Kingston, 36; Poughkeepsie and Auburn, 35.

10,000 to 25,000: Middletown, 73; Ogdensburg, 65; Hornell and Port Jervis, 56; Endicott, 54; Johnson City, 53; Geneva, 49; Rockville Center, 45; Massena, 44; Ossining, 41; Mamaroneck, 40; Gloversville, 39; Glen Cove, 38; Peekskill, 37.

WATER SUPPLY FROM WELLS.

The entire water supply of Memphis is taken from wells. The wells penetrate two strata of sand, the upper stratum being 300 to 500 feet below the surface, and the lower stratum roughly 1,000 feet deeper. The upper stratum, known as the LaGrange formation, is the more important and furnishes most of the supply. It is the one commonly used in this vicinity.

The lower stratum has been developed by the city to a limited extent, because wells in it do not interfere with those in the upper stratum, and therefore wells in the respective strata can be placed in close proximity to each other, and a greater capacity obtained from a given area. The LaGrange formation underlies western Tennessee, eastern Arkansas and northern Mississippi. It outcrops in a belt roughly parallel with the Mississippi river and some 40 miles eastward therefrom. Throughout this entire region it furnishes an ample supply to many municipalities and industries. The outcrop area is such that an abundant supply is in sight, for everyone caring to use it, for many years to come. The sands and clays, which are interspersed, are supposed to be deposits formed in prehistoric times, when the entire Mississippi Valley as far north as Cairo was practically an arm of the Gulf of Mexico.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 21.

I. FIRE DEPARTMENT BAND.

The next meeting and rehearsal of the Fire Department Band will be held at the quarters of Engine Company 26, Broadway, at 3 p. m., Friday, May 5, 1933. Members will report promptly at the hour mentioned and bring with them their music, music stands and instruments.

The Fire Department Band has been invited to assist in the program being arranged by the Boston Emergency Relief Campaign Committee at the Boston Garden on Saturday evening, May 6, 1933. The proceeds from this entertainment are to be devoted to the Boston Emergency Relief Campaign. All members of the band are to report to Lieut. John J. Crehan, drum major, not later than 7 p. m. at the Garden. Entrance for members of the band will be through the Press gate and the band will assemble in Section 11. Members of the band will be admitted on their uniform and instruments. Members will bring their instruments, small band books and music lyres.

Members of the band who are on the day tour of duty will be excused at 5 p. m. Members who are on the twenty-four hour tour of duty will be excused from 5 p. m. until 1 a. m. Those who are on the night tour of duty will be excused from 6 p. m. to 1 a. m. and will not be obliged to report at roll call at 6 p. m.

II. SYMPHONY CONCERT.

On Wednesday evening May 10, at Jordan Hall, the Boston High School Symphony Orchestra will give a concert under the direction of Mr. Fortunato Sordillo. These concerts have been held annually and they have attracted many people who are interested in the wonderful work in the Music Department of the schools.

Mr. Sordillo has rendered invaluable service in the Boston Fire Department in assisting and organizing and directing the Fire Department Band. On many occasions he has shown his interest in the development of the band and welfare of the department.

Members of the Fire Department who are off duty are invited to attend this concert. They will be admitted if in uniform and may bring with them members of their families. A large attendance of firemen should be present to show the appreciation of the department of the services rendered by Mr. Sordillo.

III. TRAFFIC REGULATIONS.

A revised edition of the Traffic Regulations, dated 1933, is being issued to the department today. One copy is being furnished for each fire station.

IV. NEW FIRE ALARM BOXES.

The following new fire alarm boxes will shortly be established:

Box 1315: Causeway and Portland streets. This box will be connected into Circuit No. 15 and the assignments will be the same as those for Box 1342.

Box 1324: Court street, opposite Hanover. This box will be connected into Circuit No. 2 and the assignments will be the same as those for Box 1332.

V. COMMENDATIONS.

The commissioner has received the following letter from the Bay State Fishing Company, which he is pleased to publish for the information of the department:

May 1, 1933.

DEAR SIR,—I wish to take this opportunity of complimenting you on the fine work of your department in handling the fire we had at our East Boston plant last Friday. The efficient manner in which the men worked, and the consideration which they showed for manufactured and partially manufactured products as well as the property itself is deserving of the highest praise. I would appreciate it if you would pass on our thanks to the men who were actively engaged at the fire.

Very truly yours,

BAY STATE FISHING COMPANY,
J. J. LAMERE,
Vice President and General Manager.

On April 30, 1933, this department responded to a fire in the building 254 and 256 Columbus avenue. The building was heavily charged with smoke, the fire having crossed from the rear stairway to the front stairway on the second floor, making it necessary to use the fire escape for egress. The deputy chief in charge of the fire was informed that an elderly woman who was crippled was unable to get out. Hoseman James L. Harrington, Engine Company 26, was sent to the top floor to rescue her. The woman was in need of assistance and Hoseman Harrington rendered prompt and efficient service, for which he is commended in General Orders and the case referred to the Board of Merit.

By order of Fire Commissioner EDWARD F. McLAUGHLIN.

HENRY A. FOX,
Chief of Department.

AMENDED DAMAGES.

The Mayor has approved the following vote of the Board of Street Commissioners:

Voted, That the order of the Street Commissioners and Mayor of July 22, 1931, as amended, determining damages caused by the making of the public improvement consisting of the laying out and construction of Elmer road, be, and the same hereby is, amended, by adding to said order the amount $50 as an award to Martin J. McGuire and Annie I. McGuire; that the amount $50 be, and the same hereby is, awarded to Martin J. McGuire and Annie I. McGuire for the damages so sustained.

CONSTRUCTION WORK.

The Mayor has approved the request of the Public Works Department for the following construction work:

A sanitary sewer of 12-inch pipe, a surface drain of 12-inch pipe and one catch-basin in Chestnut street, between Adams street and Mt. Vernon avenue, in the Charlestown district, at an estimated cost of $4,943.

A bulkhead of concrete in Back Bay Fens, near Gate House No. 2, near Forsyth way, in the Roxbury district, at an estimated cost of $850.

An overflow of 3-foot 9-inch by 4-foot 3-inch and 8-foot by 10-foot 4-inch concrete, in Brookline avenue, near Audubon road, in the Roxbury district, at an estimated cost of $3,132.

GREETINGS FROM LOS ANGELES.

Miss Betty Allen, now playing in "Of Thee I Sing," at the Shubert Theatre, visited Mayor Curley with a message of good cheer from Mayor Porter of Los Angeles, where she played a few months ago. She was ordered east by Sam Harris to play in the Boston Company and was directed to take a plane from Los Angeles to Pittsburgh on a twenty-four hour ride to fill the part she is now playing.

Miss Allen is almost a Bostonian, summering at Onset, Mass., each year. Her father, Robert J. Allen, who is also her manager, was with her when she called on the Mayor.

The Mayor presented Miss Allen with a history of the City of Boston and a picture of the Father of Our Country, George Washington.

The dictation is given at the following rates of speed: 80, 100 and 120, the dictation at each rate of speed consisting of a letter of about 300 words in length. Each applicant may select any two of the three speed tests for transcription. The transcription is marked for both speed and accuracy. Applicants are required to obtain at least 70 per cent in accuracy of transcription of one speed test.

Applicants will also be required to obtain at least 65 per cent in spelling, at least 50 per cent in each of the other subjects, and at least 70 per cent in general average in order to become eligible.

PROCEEDINGS OF CITY COUNCIL.

Monday, April 24, 1933.

Regular meeting of the City Council in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at 2 p. m., President McGRATH in the chair. Absent, Coun. Barker.

BASEBALL DIAMOND, FRANKLIN PARK.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, April 17, 1933.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen,—I herewith transmit to you report from William P. Long, chairman of the Park Commission, regarding your request to lay out a baseball diamond at Franklin Park. This is in reply to your order of April 10, 1933.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.
City of Boston,
Park Department, April 12, 1933.
Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—I am in receipt of an order from the City Council that the Park Commission be requested to lay out a baseball diamond for the use of all competitive baseball teams at Franklin Park, and regret exceedingly to inform you that the Playstead at Franklin Park is a children's playground and it was never intended that competitive games of baseball should be played there. The damage to life and limb to women and children would be so great that the Park Commission deems it inadvisable to comply with this request.

Very respectfully yours,
WILLIAM P. LONG,
Chairman.

To the City Council.
Gentlemen,—I herewith transmit to you report from William P. Long, chairman of the Park Commission, relative to your request to plant shade trees on Gallivan Boulevard, from Dorchester avenue to New Morton street. This is in reply to your order of April 3, 1933.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.
City of Boston,
Park Department, April 7, 1933.
Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—I am in receipt of an order from the City Council that the Park Commission be requested to plant shade trees on Gallivan Boulevard, from Dorchester avenue to New Morton street, Ward 17.

I regret exceedingly to inform you there are no funds available in the budget for the planting of shade trees on city streets.

Very respectfully yours,
WILLIAM P. LONG,
Chairman.

REDUCTION OF SALARIES OF CITY EMPLOYEES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, April 21, 1933.
To the Honorable the City Council.

Gentlemen,—In accordance with the provisions of chapter one hundred and twenty-one of the Acts of the year nineteen hundred and thirty-three, I hereby notify you that, effective as of Friday, April twenty-first, nineteen hundred and thirty-three, and continuing for the period ending December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and thirty-three, I have by executive order reduced the salary of every office and position, the salary of which is paid from the treasury of the City of Boston in whole or in part, and whether such salary is fixed by statute, city ordinance or otherwise, and whether or not such office or position is subject to civil service or classified under the civil service rules or under the county classification plan, except the members of the City Council, and its employees, the officers and employees of the Police Department, the School Department, the Department of School Buildings, the Licensing Board, the Finance Commission, the Boston Port Authority, and scrubwomen, in accordance with the following schedule:

1. For every office and position the salary of which on an annual basis is less than $1,000, a reduction of 5 per cent shall be made.
2. For every office and position the salary of which on an annual basis falls within the range of $1,000 to $1,600, both inclusive, a reduction of 10 per cent shall be made, but no salary in this group shall be reduced below $950.

3. For every office and position the salary of which on an annual basis is in excess of $1,600, a reduction of 15 per cent shall be made, but no salary in this group shall be reduced below $1,440.

In accordance with said chapter one hundred and twenty-one, if you do not within ten days of the delivery of this notice reduce the salary of each office and position under your control or jurisdiction, except scrubwomen, effective as of Friday, April twenty-first, nineteen hundred and thirty-three, upon the same uniform basis and for the same period of time as the reduction put into effect by me, I shall by executive order and in the same manner and upon the same basis effect reductions in the salary of each office and position under your control and jurisdiction, except scrubwomen, and said reductions will be in force as of the effective date specified in my executive order.

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

April 21, 1933.
Executive Order.

By virtue of the authority granted to me by the provisions of chapter one hundred and twenty-one of the Acts of the year nineteen hundred and thirty-three, I, as Mayor of the City of Boston, do hereby order and direct that the salary of every office and position, the salary of which is paid from the treasury of the City of Boston in whole or in part, and whether such salary is fixed by statute, city ordinance or otherwise, and whether or not such office or position is subject to civil service or classified under the civil service rules or under the county classification plan, except the members of the City Council, and its employees, the officers and employees of the Police Department, the School Department, the Department of School Buildings, the Licensing Board, the Finance Commission, the Boston Port Authority, and scrubwomen, be, and hereby is, reduced for the period beginning on Friday, April twenty-first, nineteen hundred and thirty-three, and ending December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and thirty-three, in accordance with the following schedule:

1. For every office and position the salary of which on an annual basis is less than $1,000, a reduction of 5 per cent shall be made.

2. For every office and position the salary of which on an annual basis falls within the range of $1,000 to $1,600, both inclusive, a reduction of 10 per cent shall be made, but no salary in this group shall be reduced below $950.

3. For every office and position the salary of which on an annual basis is in excess of $1,600, a reduction of 15 per cent shall be made, but no salary in this group shall be reduced below $1,440.

REDUCTION OF COUNCIL SALARIES.

President McGRATH offered the following:
Ordered, That in conformity with an executive order of the Mayor of Boston issued April 21, 1933, the salaries of the members of the City Council be, and hereby are, reduced for the period beginning with April 21, 1933, and ending December 31, 1933, from the rate of $2,000 a year to the rate of $1,700 a year.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, I move you, sir, that that order go to the Executive Committee.

President McGRATH—The order will be referred to the Executive Committee.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, I move that it be passed now.

President McGRATH—The order has been referred to the Executive Committee.

REVOCATION OF LICENSE TO STORE FUEL.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, April 24, 1933.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—With reference to the order of your honorable body adopted under date of April 10 which reads as follows:

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to reconsider their action in granting a permit for the storage of fuel oil to the White Fuel Company in South Boston,—

I beg to advise that the Board of Street Commissioners revoked, without prejudice, on April 21, the license which had been granted to the White Fuel Company for the storage of fuel oil in South Boston.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

The communication was ordered placed on file.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, may I comment on that communication, if in order? Here is a case where this permit was granted to the corporation, the White Fuel Company, to store over 3,000,000 gallons of fuel oil in the residential part of South Boston. The only reason why the Mayor of Boston revoked the permit after he granted it was that he knew the South Boston citizens were up in arms, that they had a monster protest meeting over there, if I am informed correctly, and if the Mayor had not decided to revoke the permit they were going to enter City Hall the next day and forcibly remove the Mayor and throw him into School street.

Coun. DONOVAN—Mr. President, so far as his Honor the Mayor is concerned, I want to say that I had a conference with him last week and laid before him some facts that he had not learned in regard to the White Fuel Corporation. He then stated specifically to me that if he had known beforehand those facts he never would have granted the permit for the corporation. Therefore, in behalf of the people of South Boston, I am going to thank the Mayor publicly now for his action in the matter; and I want to say also publicly that it was done without the help of the Councilor from the Dorchester ward.

The communication from the Mayor was placed on file.

NOTICE OF HEARING.

Notice was received from the Department of Public Works, Commonwealth of Massachusetts, of hearing to be held April 26, 1933, at 2 p. m., on application of City of Boston for license to extend upstream landing pier at Warren Bridge, and to build and maintain a dolphin in Charles river.

SURVEY OF PAVING WORK IN 1932.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Finance Commission, April 21, 1933.
To the Honorable the City Council.

Gentlemen.—The Finance Commission submits herewith a report by its consulting engineer which is intended to be a survey of the paving work done in the City of Boston in 1932.

This report was made to Mayor Curley on February 10, 1933, and is now sent to your honorable body in reply to a request contained in an order adopted by your honorable body on March 27, 1933.

Respectfully submitted,

THE FINANCE COMMISSION,
FRANK A. GOODWIN, Chairman.
JOSEPH A. SHEEHAN,
JOSEPH JOYCE DONAHUE,
CHARLES M. STOREY,
by ROBERT E. CUNIFF, Secretary.

Placed on file.

Boston, February 10, 1933.

To the Finance Commission.

Gentlemen.—As has been the custom for several years past, I submit herewith a report relating to the street paving done by contract during the season of 1932, including areas of different types of pavement built during the season, contract costs of the same, method used in awarding contracts, and recommendations for further improvement of the quality of the work done. Of the total area of pavements laid, as shown by the following table, 86.8 per cent was built by the Public Works Department, 4.23 per cent by the Park Department, and 9.02 by the Transit Department.

AREA OF PAVEMENTS LAID BY CONTRACTORS AND AMOUNTS PAID FROM DIFFERENT APPROPRIATIONS

APPROPRIATIONS.	Number Square Yards.	Contract Costs.
Reconstruction and Repair of Streets	204,459	$521,507 06
Highways, Making of	95,937	299,657 46
Special Appropriations, including Morton Street, Dorchester, and Centre Street, West Roxbury.....	81,213	292,713 88
Park Department.....	18,589	30,368 07
Transit Department.....	39,707	84,669 53
	439,905	$1,237,916 00

The total number of completed contracts is fifty-three, including 100 streets.

By comparing the above figures with the figures given on page 2 of the report for 1931, you will note that the number of contracts was about one fourth only of the number of contracts for the previous year, that is, 208, and that the total expenditures were less than one half of the expenditures for 1931.

The practice of preparing the subgrade of streets by the day labor force of the department and awarding the contracts for the wearing surface to certain contractors having plants for preparing hot mixed asphalt pavements has apparently been discontinued, as no such contracts appear to have been awarded.

The street work done by the day labor force of the department has included the wearing surface of the streets which have, with the exception of Chestnut Hill avenue in Brighton, been surfaced with bituminous macadam. The exception above noted was a part of Chestnut Hill avenue adjoining the paving yard of the Public Works Department. There is installed in this yard a small asphalt mixing plant and the area, aggregating 6,910 square yards of bituminous concrete, was manufactured by this plant and laid by the day labor force of the department, the greater number of the working force being "Welfare workers," so called.

As has been the increasing custom during the past few years, the ratio of the hot-mixed asphalt pavements, that is, sheet asphalt and Warrenite-Bituthic, as compared with other types of pavement has increased. The areas and percentages of the different types of pavement are shown in the following table:

PAVEMENT.	Square Yards.	Per Cent.
Sheet asphalt.....	220,039	50.03
Bituthic.....	197,054	44.79
Granite block.....	15,946	3.62
Bituminous macadam....	6,866	1.56
	439,905	100.00

The figures of this report, as with previous reports, do not represent the entire costs of the various contracts, as it is impossible at the present time to secure such costs, especially the cost of engineering expenses, materials furnished by the city and land damages. The figures do show, however, approximately the amounts paid to contractors for completed street pavements, exclusive of repair and sidewalk construction, figures showing these costs being included in special chapters, pages fourteen to sixteen, inclusive.

Contracts Awarded Without Advertising, Not Awarded to Lowest Bidder, Etc.

Of a total of forty-eight contracts let by the Paving Service of the Public Works Department, forty-five appear to have been publicly advertised. Three contracts, aggregating in total, according to the figures of the awards, $43,468.52, were made without competition.

Of the forty-five contracts that were advertised, ten, aggregating in total cost, as shown by the bids, $334,601.12, were awarded to other than the lowest bidders at a total bid of $329,573.97, or $5,027.15 above the total of the lowest bids.

In connection with several advertised contracts, the rather unusual procedure was adopted of awarding extra work on account of work on streets not connected with the streets included in the original contract, for example, $2,400, was paid for paving on Shawmut avenue as extra work in connection with a contract for repaving a part of Newbury street in the Back Bay district.

In connection with a contract for repaving with granite blocks Austin and Chapman streets in the Charlestown district and Stanford street in the West End district, there was paid extras of $1,800 for repaving Elm street and $3,400 for Washington Street North.

In other cases substantial extras were paid for paving streets not included in the original contract, but having physical connections with them.

Of three paving contracts awarded by the Transit Department, two, aggregating in cost approximately $24,501, were awarded without advertised competition.

Bituminous Pavements.

The hot-mixed bituminous pavements, that is, sheet asphalt and Warren-Bituthic, constitute 94.8 per cent of the total area as compared with 85.25 per cent in 1931. The same methods of securing contractors for hot-mixed bituminous pavements for surfacing streets have been followed as described in previous reports. Contracts with few exceptions have been awarded to the lowest bidders, whether or not they possessed the necessary machinery for manufacturing the street-surfacing materials. Successful bidders not possessing such machinery of necessity made sub-contracts for mixing and laying the street surface with one of the same four subcontractors that did such work in previous years. No publicly advertised competitive bids were required from this coterie of specialists. Prices paid to these specialists appear to have been slightly lower than for 1931. The prices given to principal contractors by the subcontractors at the beginning of the season appear to have been substantially the same as for the previous season, that is, about $1.70 per square yard. During the latter part of the season the subcontractors did work as low as $1.59 per square yard and in one case, for sheet asphalt to be laid during the season of 1933, a contract was let for laying sheet asphalt for $1.51 per square yard. This price, I believe, contained no profit for the principal contractor. It may be that this bid presages substantially lower prices for the season of 1933. Figures based on the actual cost show that the reduction in average cost per unit of the pavement was not as much as would have been warranted by reduction in the cost of materials used, and therefore the profit per unit of area to the four specialists was probably substantially more than for the previous season.

Following is a table showing areas in square yards of hot-mixed bituminous pavements laid during the season of 1932, by each of the specialists for such work, together with the percentages of the total area laid by each specialist.

SUBCONTRACTORS.	Area, Square Yards Awarded.	Percentages of Total Area Built.
Warren Brothers Roads Company.....	197,054	47.24
John McCourt Company.....	96,295	23.09
Central Construction Company.....	70,814	16.98
M. F. Gaddis.....	52,930	12.69
Total.....	417,093	100.00

This table shows that the total amount of bituminous pavement laid was distributed among the four specialists in approximately the same percentage as for the years 1930 and 1931.

Of the four subcontractors, Warren Brothers Roads Company, Central Construction Company and John McCourt Company were awarded all of the pavement laid by them as subcontractors under the principal contractors who obtained the contracts for the entire work. In the case of Gaddis, however, of the total 52,930 square yards, 44,627 square yards, or 74.3 per cent were laid as principal contractor on jobs for which he secured the entire contract under open competition, leaving only two small jobs aggregating 8,303 square yards, or 25.7 per cent for which he apparently had no competition.

Prices from Other Municipalities and State Departments.

As already stated, the unit prices paid to the subcontractors during the season of 1932 were somewhat lower than those of the previous season.

I have experienced some difficulty in obtaining prices for the cost of such pavements in other cities to compare with the prices in Boston, on account of the fact that a number of the cities communicated with and information was obtained from in previous years have laid practically no similar pavements during the past season. In other cases pavements were laid at a price that included both the surface and the foundation, and the excavation pertaining to the foundation. There is no way to separate these figures. Other cities have laid only the cheaper types of bituminous pavements. Some of the cities and towns, however, have submitted to me prices that are susceptible of direct comparison with the Boston prices.

For example, the city of Utica, N. Y., reports bids for sheet asphalt of $1.37 per square yard; for Warrenite-Bitultithic, $1.37 per square yard; for asphalt concrete, $0.98 per square yard. These compare with prices received in the same city for 1930 as follows:

Sheet asphalt..... $1.66 per square yard.
Warrenite-Bitultithic..... 1.56 per square yard.
Asphaltic concrete..... 1.26 per square yard.

Hartford, Conn., for 3-inch sheet asphalt, 14-inch binder, 14-inch top, the same as laid in Boston, $1.21 per square yard, the same as for 1930 and 1931.

Providence, R. I., 3-inch Standard sheet asphalt, $1.06 per square yard, as compared with $1.20 to $1.30 per square yard in 1931.

Auburn, N. Y., 3-inch Standard sheet asphalt, $1.35 for a small area.

In the Borough of Brooklyn, N. Y., during the early part of the season of 1932, large areas of sheet asphalt pavements were laid at a price of 85 cents per square yard. Inquiry of the Borough President regarding the reason for this seemingly low price was answered by the secretary to the Borough President on July 21, 1932. He stated that there appears to have existed a price war among contractors, but that recently, however, bids were received showing a decided increase and that it would appear that the contractors had at last adjusted their differences. He also stated, "Our opinion is that a fair price for asphalt pavement, not repaving, should be in the vicinity of $1.10 a square yard."

Recent figures taken from the New York City record show that the engineer's estimates for paving various streets with sheet asphalt vary from $1.05 to $1.35 per square yard for surfaces substantially of the same type as those laid in the City of Boston.

Careful cost accounts have been kept of the work done in Boston during the past season. The results obtained indicate that the prices quoted for Providence, Hartford, and the other cities with approximately the same prices, contain a fair margin of profit.

During the past season there was constructed by the Public Works Department of the Commonwealth, under authority given by chapter 420 of the Acts of 1930, two important highways, entirely within the corporate limits of the City of Boston, known as the Canterbury street widening, in the Dorchester district, and Brook Farm road, in the West Roxbury district. Both will be important traffic arteries and carry a heavy automobile traffic.

In both cases the roadways were built of 7-inch bituminous macadam, consisting of a 4 1/2-inch foundation course, covered with a wearing course of 2 1/2 inches of the conventional type of bituminous macadam. The cost of the 7-inch roadway for Canterbury street, as given by an engineer of the Public Works Department, was 85.8 cents per square yard, not including earth excavation, and the cost of the Brook Farm road was 86.2 cents per square yard.

The Park Department of the city is now building an extension of the Brook Farm road from the end of the work constructed by the Public Works Department of the Commonwealth at the West Roxbury Parkway, to Centre street. This highway is an entirely new one, passing through territory of the same character as the Brook Farm road. Notwithstanding the fact that the state highway experts selected bituminous macadam for the street built under their charge, the roadway in the extension being built by the City of Boston is to have a 6-inch cement concrete base, with a surface of 3-inch sheet asphalt. The comparative cost of the two roads will be, as previously stated, 87 cents per square yard for the part built by the Commonwealth and approximately $2.11 per square yard for the part being built by the city. The amount and character of the traffic will be the same in both streets, as the part being built by the city is simply an extension of the part built by the Commonwealth. The completed highway will furnish at least an opportunity to make a fair comparison between the wearing qualities of the pavement built by the Commonwealth and the pavement being built by the city.

Another interesting instance, both as regards price and wearing qualities, is furnished by the work done by contract during the past season under the direction of the Metropolitan District Commission in paving Memorial Drive along the Charles River, between Brookline street and Fowler street. This street is of a rather unusual type of construction, although a similar type has been built to some extent. It consists of a foundation 4 inches thick of bituminous macadam, covered with a layer of bituminous concrete. The bituminous concrete is built in two layers of different sizes of stone and with a rough, open surface, to furnish non-skid properties. A careful examination of the specifications indicates that the cost to the contractor of the bituminous concrete surface must have been at least as much as the 2-inch machine-mixed pavements laid by the City of Boston. Nevertheless, the price paid the contractor for the 2-inch surface layer was 48 cents per square yard, with a five-year guaranty, whereas the cost of the 2-inch pavements laid by the City of Boston has been in the neighborhood of $1.65 paid to the subcontractor, plus whatever additional profit was added to that price by the principal contractor. The total cost of the Memorial Drive pavement, including both the bituminous macadam foundation and the bituminous concrete surface, appears to have been approximately $1.02 per square yard.

The recommendations of the report of 1931, favoring the greater use of cheaper forms of bituminous pavements on suburban residential streets, appears to have been adopted to some extent. During the last year two suburban streets in the West Roxbury districts were paved with the penetration type of bituminous macadam. The area of these two streets was not sufficient to warrant a definite conclusion regarding the average cost of such pavements if they were built in larger areas.

Of the two streets mentioned, one street with an area of about 2,700 square yards, under rather expensive conditions, the depth of excavation required being 18 inches below the surface level of the street and a 12-inch gravel refill, was built—including all expenses—at a cost of approximately $1.12 per square yard.

Assuming the cost of the hot mixed, smooth type of pavement at $1.70 per square yard and a 4-inch concrete base, the minimum thickness used, and adding the cost of the other items at the unit prices actually paid, would indicate a cost for the smooth types of pavement of approximately $3 per square yard. The actual cost of the pavement as built was approximately $1.12, a saving of $1.88 per square yard.

As regards the other street, with an area of approximately 4,100 square yards, the conditions were such as to require less excavation and no gravel fill. Therefore, the price for the finished pavement amounted to approximately 67 cents per square yard, or $2.33 per square yard less than the cost of hot mixed type of pavement, or, expressed in percentages, the cost of the pavement was but 22.33 per cent of what the street would have cost had the conventional pavement, that is, either sheet asphalt or Warrenite-Bitultithic on a concrete base, been used.

Specifications.

The same specifications for bituminous pavements have been used as for several years past and no attempt has been made to revise them according to the latest up-to-date provisions that have been prepared and recommended for use by the expert committees appointed by various technical societies interested in such matters.

As in previous years, a detailed examination has been made of the reports of the city chemist, showing defects in the work of the various contractors. The total of 402 reports made by the city chemist have been examined as regards the work of the various contractors. As regards the work of the John McCourt Company for the season of 1932, 10.7 per cent of the total number of tests made show mixtures not allowed by the provisions of the specifications. This compares with 38.9 per cent for the season of 1931. The Central Construction Company's work had 16.1 per cent in 1932, as compared with 28.9 per cent in 1931; M. F. Gaddis, 21.7 per cent as compared with 29.3 per cent in 1931.

The figures on the whole show either an increasing tendency on the part of the contractors to comply with the provisions of the specifications, or more rigid inspection.

The tests made of the Warren Brothers Roads Company product were not analyzed, as their specifications are so wide in their limits that probably very few departures from these limits would have been found.

Selection of Pavements.

In my report for the year 1931, page 8, attention was called to the apparent neglect of the authorities at City Hall of the well-established principles ordinarily considered in determining the type of pavement to be used in streets, particularly as regards the custom in the City of Boston of selecting in recent years for practically all streets, smooth surface, bituminous pavements, either sheet asphalt or Warrenite-Bitultithic. The work of the past season, 1932, indicates at least a tacit recognition of the validity of the criticisms made.

The custom of building smooth bituminous pavements has been continued and in fact the ratio of the total area of such pavements to the total area laid was increased, so that the percentage of such pavements was in 1932, 99.3 per cent of all pavements built as compared with 97.6 per cent for the year 1931. The practice of laying such pavements on streets with steep grades seems to have been, to some extent at least, curtailed.

The danger of using smooth pavements on streets designed for comparatively high speed traffic has been strikingly demonstrated by experience since the opening to traffic of the Centre Street Boulevard in the West Roxbury district. An unusually large number of accidents have happened and are still happening at short intervals on account of high speed over the smooth pavement on this street.

Attempts have been made, since the dangerous condition of this street was demonstrated, to resurface the steeper grades of the street with a "non-skid" surface, consisting of fine gravel or crushed stone, coated with asphalt, but without sufficient of the finer aggregate to completely fill the voids in the mixture and leave a smooth surface. Consequently a somewhat open and rough surface is secured.

This type of surface has been used to a limited extent in Boston in previous years and to a greater extent in some other cities. If the surfacing material is applied when the under layer is still warm and in a somewhat plastic condition, a better job appears to be secured than in cases where the original top surface has become completely cooled and hardened.

This form of construction has not been in use for sufficient time satisfactorily to demonstrate its wearing qualities. So far, the present season has been particularly favorable for this construction, as there has been very little snow or ice to require chains on motor vehicles, particularly heavy commercial trucks and motor buses. Nevertheless, examination at the present time indicates that the type of construction has not been entirely successful, the difficulty being that in the "non-skid" layer the material used is so open that little support is given by interlocking of the adjoining stones and the durability of the surface layer depends almost entirely on the adhesion furnished by the asphaltic binder.

On several of the heavily traveled streets on which this form of pavement has been built, the so-called "non-skid" layer has been loosened already and worn away to a considerable extent. Unquestionably this action will have a rapid increase when conditions develop that require the use of chains on motor vehicles.

At the present time there is unquestionably a movement among city officials to build "non-skid" pavements of coarse mineral aggregate without the smooth seal coat formerly considered to be necessary, on account of the additional safety furnished to rapidly moving vehicles with rubber tires, and ordinarily lower cost. This tendency is shown by the policy of state departments and suburban cities in using almost exclusively the penetration type of macadam, or the Portland cement type of pavement where conditions and available funds allow a more expensive type of pavement. During the past twenty years the development of the automobile and the almost universal change from iron tires to rubber tires have rendered the coarse aggregate type of pavement of greater suitability for traffic purposes. The reason for formerly valid objections to using the coarse aggregate pavement was on account of the tendency of the large stones in the wearing surface to be crushed under the impact of iron tires. This difficulty has practically disappeared, so that at the present time this action is not of great importance as a consideration in connection with the selection of pavements for suburban residential streets and high speed thoroughfares.

Rapid advances have been made in the technical features of building such pavements, so that their durability at the present time has been greatly increased as compared with the earlier types.

It is my firm belief that the City of Boston, in its continued use of smooth surface types of bituminous pavements, has not kept up to date with the natural development of pavements and that for the future a larger percentage of coarse aggregate pavements, either of the penetration type of bituminous macadam or machine-mixed, coarse aggregate concrete, should be used. By the adoption of such pavements not only will danger of accidents to rapidly moving vehicles be largely eliminated, but a very great decrease in cost will be obtained.

The smooth type of pavement will, however, continue to be suitable for traffic conditions in urban streets where speed is not the principal essential and where high speed is impossible.

Sidewalks.

During the past season there were built under various appropriations artificial stone sidewalks as follows:

	Square Yards.
Highways, Making of.....	49,132
Reconstruction of streets.....	83,752
Artificial stone sidewalks.....	22,809
Special appropriation.....	15,092

170,786

About 73 per cent of the area laid in 1931.

Unfortunately, as I believe, the recommendation made in the 1931 report, that one-layer sidewalks be built instead of two-layer sidewalks, as has been the universal custom in the past, was not accepted, even to the extent of building an experimental sidewalk. The price for sidewalks during the past year has been remarkably low, in some cases lower than the actual cost of materials, according to figures furnished by dealers in such materials. It therefore appears that in order to secure profit for such construction, wages paid to laborers must have been greatly below the price generally considered as the prevailing rate and the definite figures in some cases agreed upon by the contractors.

As regards this matter there appears in bids for all street work an increasing tendency to approve the contractor's bid for "prevailing rates," rather than requiring a definite price to be inserted. In Item 9 of the proposal attached to the contract there appears the following:

Item 9. Wages for Laborers.—For wages for laborers experienced in the class of work to be done under this contract the Contractor agrees to pay not less than..... dollars.

The tacit permission given to substitute for a definite figure the words "prevailing rate" eliminates any importance that may have been attached to this item.

The information gained by the inspectors of the Finance Commission indicates that in many cases there has been a tendency to use less thickness in two-layer sidewalk pavements than the specifications require and also in some cases the wages paid by the contractor seem to be no more than 50 per cent of the price usually considered to be the prevailing rate.

It seems to me that the custom above outlined should be prevented, even were it necessary to reject the bids of contractors who do not insert in their bids a definite figure of dollars and cents, but instead bid "prevailing rate."

Annual Contract for Repairing Bituminous Paved Streets Upon which the Guaranty has Expired.

In my report covering the work done in the season of 1931, I expressed the opinion that, on account of the unusually large amount of repairs made during 1930 and 1931, the bituminous paved streets were in such a condition that the amount of repairs found to be actually necessary for the season of 1932 would be so small as to make it feasible to eliminate the annual contract for repairs and have whatever work found to be necessary done by the day labor force of the department, as was done for the seasons of 1927 and 1928.

The practice followed in the previous years was, however, followed and two contracts were let after a form of competition. The estimated yardage of repairs to be done, as estimated for bidders, was less than one half the amount actually done during the season of 1931. Bids were received on March 23, 1932, as follows, the bids being the same for each of the two sections into which the city was divided:

Simpson Brothers Corporation.....	$60,050
M. F. Gaddis.....	61,730
Central Construction Company.....	61,845
McCourt Company.....	64,750

The Simpson Company bids were rejected and the contracts given to the Central Construction Company and M. F. Gaddis, as for the two previous years. The reason given for the rejection of the lowest bid, as explained by a letter attached to the official copy of the contract, is as follows:

This award is made to M. F. Gaddis for the reason that this concern has done very satisfactory work for several years and we feel that the low bidder would not render such satisfactory service.

J. A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

It is impossible at the present time, on account of the different items of the contract, to make comparisons of the square yards done in the different years. The expenditures for the last two years, however, are as follows:

	1931.	1932.
Central Construction Company.....	$123,671 10	$64,937 98
M. F. Gaddis.....	137,963 44	63,553 62
	$261,634 54	$128,691 60

These figures indicate approximately that the area repaired under both contracts in 1932 was 49 per cent of the amount done in 1931, a reduction of 51 per cent. It will also be seen that the total area repaired in 1932 by the above-named contractors is approximately one half of the amount repaved by each contractor in 1931. Therefore, in the immediate future there is no logical reason why more than one contract should be made, if any.

The Finance Commission has maintained during the past season an inspector, who has given a large part of his time to this work. On account of the reports of this inspector and my personal observations, it is my opinion large areas have been removed and replaced with new material that might have economically remained for one or two years, perhaps more, without noticeable impairment of street conditions.

On account of the present financial stringency, and on account of the increased necessity for funds for other activities, I renew the recommendation made for the season of 1932, that for the season of 1933 the annual contracts for repairs of bituminous paved streets be omitted and the work found to be absolutely necessary be done by the day labor force of the department, using either hot-mixed material from some one of the city's mixing plants, or one of the various cold-mixed materials that are available and being used by the highway departments of states, cities and towns in increasing areas each year for both repair work and for new streets. By adopting this recommendation a very large percentage of the annual expenditures could be saved.

The practice of placing on unimportant suburban streets, streets that were not thoroughfares, and streets through undeveloped private property, expensive types of pavement on concrete foundations has apparently been abandoned, for during 1932 at least few such streets appear as having been paved.

I have attempted to make a rough estimate of the amount of money that might have been saved had a judicious selection been made of the street surface and a cheaper form of pavement than was used, used on the streets built during the past season. Such an estimate, however, must be in large degree a matter of personal opinion. It is my opinion, however, that at least 80,000 yards of the total area built in 1932 might have been properly paved with a cheaper form of pavement than was used without detriment to the interests of the abutting property owners and with a saving of at least $120,000.

The unit prices, exclusive of the prices for bituminous street surfaces, bid by principal contractors and paid to them by the city, have been during the past season very low, in some cases, especially as regards cement concrete, covering less than the actual cost consisting of labor, hauling and plant charges. The reasons for these remarkably low prices are credited by contractors to various conditions, among them unusually sharp competition, the necessity of keeping their organizations together in anticipation of better prices in the future, the possibilities of extra work at the usual margin of profit, and in some cases the hope of being able to reduce the amounts of quantities used without reduction in payment, and so to secure a margin of profit.

As regards the work done by the four specialists for bituminous pavements, acting as sub-contractors, while there has been a nominal reduction in the unit price per square yard of pavement charged to the principal contractor, no such adequate reduction in prices has been made as would be warranted by the reduction in the cost of labor and materials. The indications are that the profit of these specialists has not been reduced and may have been substantially increased, depending on the amount of reduction in wages that has been made by them.

At the present time of great financial stringency, when prices are being reduced by principal contractors and wages of employees are being reduced, both as regards contractors' employees and the employees of the city, it would seem that these specialists should also reduce the cost of their pavements to an amount containing not more than a fair margin of profit.

The Finance Commission has frequently pointed out the methods by which it believed a reduction in the prices for bituminous pavements might be obtained, in fact, its theory was at one time successfully demonstrated. Briefly stated, the method was to allow open competition for areas of sufficient size as would warrant contractors having the necessary mixing plants moving such plants to Boston. See Finance Commission's Reports, Volume XX, page 120. If such a method should not prove effective, then the character of the pavement should be changed to types that could be built by any competent local contractor without the necessity of owning an expensive mixing plant.

The unusually large areas of new street pavements that have been built each year for several years past has put the main and secondary traffic highways of the city in excellent condition. There are still many residential streets in which the surface conditions compare unfavorably with the surfaces of the recently paved streets. The streets, however, are not in dangerous condition. If considered desirable to effect financial economies by reductions in the appropriations for 1933 as compared with previous years, substantial reductions in the appropriations might be made without subjecting abutting residents and property owners to undue hardships in the near future. This is particularly true as regards the loan appropriations for reconstruction and repair of streets of the Public Works Department and the appropriation from taxes of the Park Department.

Under present conditions, however, when the importance of effecting the greatest financial economies possible is modified by the elements of the demands of charity and the necessity of furnishing the greatest possible amount of employment for laborers and artisans, it is difficult, if not impossible, to recommend a policy that would not be open to criticisms of some degree of merit.

Whatever policy is adopted, substantial savings can be made by changes in the past policies of the city and without detriment to the interests of citizens, except perhaps a few city contractors, as follows: First, by securing adequate reductions in the prices of the types of pavements that have been almost exclusively built, during recent years; and second, by substituting for such pavements, where suitable, cheaper types of pavements.

Assuming the area of pavements built in 1932 as the amount to be built in 1933, it is my opinion that a total reduction in the cost of the types of pavements now favored should be at least $200,000 for the season 1933. This should be secured by allowing free competition and by advertising bids for larger areas, as already explained. If a policy were adopted of using the cheaper types of pavements on streets for which they are suitable, then the saving might be increased to at least $300,000.

LEASE OF HARRIS SCHOOL, DORCHESTER.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
In School Committee, April 10, 1933.
Whereas, The Harris School, Adams street and Victory road, Dorchester, is now vacant and not in actual use for school purposes; it is hereby Ordered, That the City Council is hereby requested to authorize the School Committee, in the name of the city, to lease to the Neponset Post 2235, Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Harris School, Dorchester, such occupancy to be discontinued at the will of the School Committee.

The preamble was adopted and the order passed, the four members present voting in the affirmative.

A true copy.

LEASE OF HARRIS SCHOOL TO NEPONSET POST.

Coun. FISH offered the following:
Ordered, That the School Committee be, and hereby is, authorized to lease to the Neponset Post 2235, Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Harris School, Adams street and Victory road, Dorchester, for such period and upon such terms and conditions as the said committee shall deem advisable.
Passed under suspension of the rule.

PAYMENT OF AID TO SOLDIERS AND SAILORS.

Coun. NORTON, for the Committee on Soldiers' Relief, submitted report recommending passage of order for payment of aid to soldiers and sailors and their families for months of March and April, 1933.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, I put in an order asking that we be advised when they were going to make payments in cash and take care of the back money on rent, and so on. I think we ought to call the commissioner before us and see what he is going to do. The Welfare Department has already taken such action and made payments in cash, and I believe we should find out when that is going to be done in the Soldiers' Relief Department. I am informed that this calls for back money, and I think the commissioner should be called down before us so that we may see what he is going to do in the matter.

The report was referred to the Executive Committee.

USE OF FOREIGN-MADE MATERIALS BY BOSTON BREWERS.

Coun. MURRAY offered the following:
Resolved, That the Boston City Council deplores the use of foreign-made materials by the Boston breweries in the distribution of beer.

Coun. MURRAY—Mr. President, I have been informed on pretty good authority, by people who work in the breweries, that they are using foreign material in their production of beer. I think this is a matter that we of the City Council should interest ourselves in.

The resolution was referred to the Committee on Rules.

REQUESTED DISCONTINUANCE OF FEES FOR TEACHERS' EXAMINATIONS.

Coun. MURRAY offered the following:
Ordered, That the Boston School Committee be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to discontinue the practice of charging a fee for the examination of teachers for either temporary or permanent service in the Boston public schools.

Coun. MURRAY—Mr. President, in this year of depression it seems that the School Committee wishes to charge these men and women who are unfortunately out of a position, $2 for taking an examination for a temporary job and $5 for taking an examination for a permanent job. They have never made these charges before, and it does not seem to me that they should be made at a time like this. I believe that practice should be stopped. It appears that applicants are told that they cannot take an examination until they have paid the money, and they must pay the money before making the application.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

ARCHDALE ROAD, WARD 19.

Coun. MURRAY offered the following:
Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to accept and lay out Archdale road, from Washington street easterly, Ward 19.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

DRAINAGE SEWERS, WARD 19.

Coun. MURRAY offered the following:
Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to lay surface drainage sewers on Washington street, from Mosgrove avenue to Lee Hill road, Ward 19.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

STAGGER SYSTEM, CITY DEPARTMENTS.

Coun. KELLY offered the following:
Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to provide so-called "stagger schedule" in those departments not placed on a five-day basis by the recent executive order which will allow the employees of such departments a five-day week without detriment to the public business.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, I feel that the Legislature in its wisdom, when it passed the act giving the Mayor of Boston authority to slash salaries at will, wished to have all city employees considered as one class. It did not wish to make an example of one department and allow another department to get extra time. In other words, it did not wish that one department should have a five-day week, another a five and one-half day week, another a six-day week and another a seven-day week. The Legislature specifically made the reduction agreed upon according to the salary paid. Therefore, in view of the fact that city employees have been forced to take a reduction in wages due to graft and corruption in the past three years, bearing out the prediction made by me two years ago that graft and corruption in this city would cost millions of dollars to the taxpayers, I sincerely believe that one department should not be discriminated against as compared with another department. We have, for example, the Police, Fire, Institutions and Hospital Departments, and a few other departments that, in my estimation, have been discriminated against. A city employee working for the Fire Department, the Institutions Department, the Police Department, or the Hospital Department, should be treated just as fairly as an employee in another department of the city. I know from conversation with men and women in different departments that have been slighted, that they are willing to go on a stagger system in order that they may be treated equally with city employees in other departments. So I trust that this order, which I believe is a very important one, of which the Mayor should take immediate official cognizance, should be passed under suspension of the rule.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

PROVISIONS OF CONTRACT FOR ALBANY STREET TUNNEL.

Coun. KELLY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to enforce the provisions of the contract for a tunnel under Albany street which requires that one half the width of the street be left open for traffic.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, now that Boston's menace No. 1 has considered it his duty to bore the taxpayers of Boston with his presence in this city for another eight months, may we call upon him to see that Boston's menace No. 2, Matthew Cummings, his pet contractor, lives up to the terms of his contracts? I want you to see, Mr. President and members of the Council, what Mr. Cummings has been getting away with. First of all, I have conclusive proof that he has not lived up to the specifications of this contract; second, I have proof beyond all reasonable doubt that he is not paying to his employees the union wages that he is supposed to pay under the terms of the contract, and that he agreed to pay when he bid for the job. I am going to show that up on Albany street—and let anybody deny this if he can—for the past fifteen days Albany street, one of the principal highways of Boston, has been completely closed between Massachusetts avenue and East Newton street, back of the hospital. In other words, when Mr. Cummings bid on the contract, one of the provisions, as I understand it, was that the contractor who received the contract should keep one half of Albany street open at all times, so that those going to and fro could do so without unnecessary inconvenience, expenditure and annoyance, without also losing the time that would necessarily be lost by going around by way of East Newton street and Harrison avenue, across the traffic lights, because of the roundabout way they were required to take. I say that it was unfair, just to save Mr. Cummings a few dollars on his contract, to close up such a street as Albany street, particularly when he specifically agreed to keep it open under his contract. It has been closed for exactly fifteen days, and nobody can deny it, just to enrich Matthew Cummings, who has received over $5,000,000 of the Boston taxpayers' money in three years. The City Hospital ambulance service, for example, has been interfered with and has had to be re-routed because of conditions on Albany street. As you may recall, the ambulance station is on the East Newton street side. The tie-up is just at the Massachusetts avenue side of the ambulance station. In other words, when a resident of Dorchester, Roxbury, or, in fact, Hyde Park, has called for ambulance service, instead of an ambulance going straight through Albany street headed for Hyatt Park, Dorchester or South Boston, it has been necessary for it to go around by way of East Newton street and Harrison avenue, then Massachusetts avenue, and wait for other lights on Massachusetts avenue and Albany street, necessitating a delay of ten minutes at least. That has been particularly annoying and troublesome at such times as 5 to 5:30 in the afternoon, when it was impossible to avoid traffic tie-ups and delays, and all simply to enrich the grafting and thieving contractor, Matthew Cummings. In other words, this sort of thing has been going on, this street has been kept closed, simply to enable Mr. Cummings to make more money, at the expense of autos and vehicles from all parts of Boston, the result being that the ambulance and hospital service in general has been delayed and tied up. But Matthew Cummings does not care and the Mayor of Boston does not care. I say that it is high time that the Mayor of Boston got on to himself and stopped this kidding and camouflaging, and ordered Mr. Matthew Cummings to live up to the terms of his contract. I certainly hope that this most important order to the people of Boston will pass under suspension of the rule.

Coun. MURRAY—Mr. President, I am not standing up here in defence of Matthew Cummings or the Mayor, but I certainly do feel in this matter that instead of placing all the blame on either the Mayor or Matthew Cummings, blame should be placed on the Traffic Commission for the closing up of those streets. Let us place the blame where it belongs. If the five people who are supposed to have control of street traffic under these circumstances have closed up Albany street, I think we should find out why and how they did it.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, that sounds very well, but let me say for the enlightenment of the speaker and other gentlemen here who may be in doubt, that these minor officials are simply carrying out orders. The Traffic Commission, for example, has placed three detour signs at Albany and Massachusetts avenue, three at East Newton and Albany, two farther down on Albany street, and also signs at the corner of East Newton and Harrison avenue. But we are all practical fellows. We all understand that when a department head orders a street closed, he is carrying out the orders of the Mayor of Boston, the man who appointed him. If he does not carry out orders he is immediately dismissed. So I say it is unfair to blame the head of a department in a matter of this kind, because he is under duress. He does not even have the right to have a hearing and to be represented by counsel, if the Mayor wants to oust him. So I don't think it is fair to lay the blame on the Traffic Commission for closing streets in this way. Such heads of departments are only carrying out instructions from the Mayor, instructions emanating from Matthew Cummings' partner in crime, James M. Curley.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

EDISON CONTRACT FOR EAST BOSTON TUNNEL.

Coun. KELLY offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to cancel the three-year contract with the Edison Electric Illuminating Company of Boston, which was signed recently, for furnishing light and power for the new East Boston Tunnel, and to consider the advisability of installing Diesel engines for this purpose.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, it is very interesting to read how the Mayor of Boston is planning to do so much for the taxpayers of Boston, now that the possibility of the Mayor leaving Boston and making way for the President of the City Council to be Mayor of this city has passed. I would like to know why the Mayor of Boston, if he is not a power trust man,—which, of course, he is,—specifically entered into a three-year contract with the Edison Electric Illuminating Company of Boston at an approximate cost for current of $24,000 per year, as stated, and with a good chance of its running to a much higher figure. He entered into this three-year contract for the furnishing of power and light to the new East Boston Tunnel, which will be open some time about the first of the coming year, without properly examining into what could be done. Why did not the Mayor of Boston, with the City Council Committee on Municipal Lighting, look into the practicability of using the Diesel engine, knowing how easily it could furnish light and power at very reasonable rates—far cheaper than the rate charged by the Edison Electric Illuminating Company? Why didn't the Mayor of Boston consider that possibility before signing up with the power trust for three years for an amount of at least $24,000 a year, and probably amounting to close to $100,000 in three years, on the Transit Commission's figures, when he must have known that he could have installed the Diesel engine and have carried the current for about 20 per cent of the actual expense that will now have to be borne by the people of Boston? In other words, for a few thousand dollars the Mayor of Boston could have installed the Diesel engines in the power plant of the East Boston Tunnel and furnished, according to experts, all the power which will be required for the East Boston Tunnel—and for which we are now to pay at least $24,000 a year—for $5,000. And this at a time when the city employees have to take a 5, 10 and 15 per cent cut. This is the gentleman who says that Boston needs Curley! The real fact is that Boston needs to get rid of Curley!

Coun. BRACKMAN—Mr. President, may I ask that this matter be referred to the Executive Committee?

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, I have no objection to its being referred to a committee, but we have a committee on Municipal Lighting. If the councilor will withdraw his motion, I would like to have the matter referred to the Committee on Municipal Lighting.

Coun. BRACKMAN—Mr. President, my purpose in suggesting reference to the Executive Committee is that there have been a lot of facts and figures presented and that we have no means of knowing whether they are true or not. I feel that we should be informed, and I am merely asking that that information be given us in executive committee.

Coun. KELLY—Then, Mr. President, may I ask that Colonel Sullivan and any others who may be involved with the East Boston Tunnel, be sent for, so that we can interview them in executive session?

President McGRATH—The matter can be referred to the Committee on Municipal Lighting very properly, and then, if the committee wishes to have Colonel Sullivan or others come before it, such men can be invited.

The matter was referred to the Committee on Municipal Lighting.

REPAVING OF MT. EVERETT STREET, WARD 15.

Coun. KELLY offered the following:
Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repave Mt. Everett street, Ward 15, with smooth paving.
Passed under suspension of the rule.

UNDERPASS AT CAMBRIDGE AND CHARLES STREETS.

Coun. FITZGERALD offered the following:
Ordered, That his Honor Mayor James M. Curley request the Commissioner of Public Works to keep the underpass at Charles and Cambridge streets open evenings until midnight and on Sundays and holidays from 7 a. m. until midnight.
Passed under suspension of the rule.

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT DAY.

Coun. GREEN offered the following:
Resolved, That the Boston City Council respectfully recommends to his Excellency the Governor of the Commonwealth and to his Honor the Mayor of Boston the issuance by them of proclamations setting aside Sunday, April 30, as a day of prayer and thankfulness, to be known as Franklin D. Roosevelt Day.
Passed under suspension of the rule.

REQUESTED REMOVAL OF CHAIRMAN OF STREET COMMISSIONERS.

Coun. FISH offered the following:
Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to remove from office the present chairman of the Board of Street Commissioners.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, the oil matter in South Boston has been referred to, and I might say in this connection that in Dorchester last week the chairman of the Board of Street Commissioners saw fit to grant a permit in my ward for the storage of 40,000 gallons of oil, against the protests of seven hundred taxpayers and residents of the section. I don't think it was fair for the Street Commissioners to do that, Mr. President, and for that reason I call upon the Mayor of Boston to discharge Chairman Teddy Glynn, the butcher boy, from office immediately.

President McGRATH—The Chair will rule the order out of order.

CITY MONEY IN CLOSED BANKS.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:
Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to transmit to the City Council a list of all banks which are now closed in which money belonging to the City of Boston was deposited and also the amount of money in each of such closed banks.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, I believe a considerable amount of money of the city has been tied up in the closed banks of Boston and that a special effort should be made at this time to liquidate those banks so that that money may be available to the citizens during this time of need. I understand that more than a million is tied up in closed banks. The City of Boston can use that money now to advantage, and if the Mayor will take the proper steps I am very certain that liquidation of the banks can be expedited.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

LAND FOR THOMAS ROBERTS PLAYGROUND.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:
Ordered, That the Finance Commission be requested to submit information to the City Council regarding the taking of a parcel of land for playground purposes at Dunbar avenue, now known as the Thomas Roberts Playground.
Passed under suspension of the rule.

THE COUNCIL'S COUNTY COMMISSION POWERS

Coun. BURKE offered the following:
Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel be requested to submit an opinion to the City Council in answer to the following questions:

1. Is it necessary under the General Law, Title VI., chapters 34 and 35, for the City Council, acting as County Commissioners, to assume the powers and perform the duties of County Commissioners?

2. If the answer is in the affirmative, what are the powers and duties conferred upon the City Council under Title VI., chapters 34 and 35 of the General Laws?

3. If the answer is in the negative, what is your opinion as to the liability of councilors for failure to so exercise its powers and duties as County Commissioners under section 22, chapter 34 of the General Laws?

Passed under suspension of the rule.

WARD 17 IMPROVEMENTS.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:
Ordered, That the following streets in Ward 17 be resurfaced with smooth pavement:

Medway street.
Adams street (from Dorchester avenue to Dorchester Park).
Richmond street (from Washington street to Adams street).
Sanford street (from Washington street to Cedar street).
Moultrie street.
Lyndhurst street.
Aspinwall road.
Ocean street.
Welles avenue.
School street.
Milton avenue.
Allston street.
Bailey street.
Fuller street.
Burt street.
Torrey street.
Park street.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

TIME OFF FOR POLICEMEN.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:
Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston request the commissioner of the Boston Police Department to secure proper legislation so that policemen will be allowed one day off in six.
Passed under suspension of the rule.

STEP-RATE INCREASE FOR POLICE AND FIREMEN.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:
Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to grant the step-rate increase to all police and firemen who are entitled to it.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, this is a matter of great importance at the present time, particularly as it affects the members of the Police Department who have not arrived at their maximum amount under the law. If they have to sustain this proposed reduction in their pay it will bring their per diem rate to less than $3.80. We know that the police of Boston cannot afford to work at the low rate of $3.80 a day. That is less money than they pay night watchmen, who, I understand, receive $5 a day and work five days a week. In other words, by depriving these members of the Police Department of the proper step increases that they had every right to expect, they will not make enough to support themselves and their families. I understand that they were started in at the rate of $1,700 a year and that each year they were to receive $100 increase, until they attained the maximum of $2,100. But this step-rate was terminated for reasons of economy. Now, I believe in economy, but I believe, when it comes to reductions in salaries, it should not take place to the extent of reducing salaries and wages to the point where men cannot support their families. And I am not in favor of pay cuts, so far as the great body of employees of the City of Boston are concerned, until such time as other proper economies are made in departments where they can be made. If the Mayor sees fit to make reductions in salaries of employees of the City of Boston, I think the reductions, also, should be equitable and uniform, and that the various classes of individuals in the larger groups should be treated the same. We know that the men in the Police Department and Fire Department, particularly those members who are the newer men, are not receiving a square deal, are being treated unfairly; and the Mayor, in view of such conditions, should take immediate action to grant to the new arrivals in the Police and Fire Departments step-rate increases until they get the maximum that they are allowed. It is unfair for policemen to be placed out at work on the streets for $3.80 a day. You know that those men cannot do their work properly under such conditions; that it must upset the morale of the department. Also, it will subject them to temptation, which they probably have not had in the past, to accept gratuities and enter into collusion with offenders against the law, and otherwise bring disgrace on the Police Department of the City of Boston in its relation with crime and criminals. I ask a suspension of the rule so that the Mayor may be given an opportunity to exercise his prerogative and allow step-rate increases in both the Police and Fire Departments.

Coun. BRACKMAN—Mr. President, I had intended to introduce an order similar to the one introduced by the colleague who has just spoken, and, if he does not object, I would move to amend his order so that the Mayor will reconsider his proposal to cut the men in the Boston Police Department 15 per cent. My purpose in so doing is not that I wish to favor any particular class of city employees over another, but I believe these men are not now on a par with other city employees. They are obliged, in the first place, to work seven days a week, as against the present five-day a week schedule applied to other municipal employees. Besides having to work seven days a week, they are obliged to do extra detail duty. We know that during the bank moratorium they were subject to twenty-four hours' duty call. I have known of many instances where the police of Boston after their last shift of duty at night have been obliged to lose sleep the following morning by reason of going to court to testify against offenders arrested the night before. I certainly trust that action may be taken so that the Boston police officers may at least have an opportunity to be brought up to their maximum scale before any reduction is put in effect against them; because, besides the proposed 15 per cent cut they are obliged to contribute 4 per cent toward their pension system, making a total of 19 per cent coming out of their yearly pay. I certainly feel it to be my duty as a member of the City Council to stand up and object to this proposition, because I feel that our mothers and sisters are entitled to all the protection they can possibly get at the hands of the Police Department, and I feel, taking into consideration the present standing of our Police Department, one of the finest in the country, that it would be a shame to do anything which would tend to destroy the morale of the force. So I rise here today to ask the honorable Mayor to reconsider the pay cut in the Police Department, because I believe he has not given the matter full and formal consideration. Otherwise, I don't believe he would have asked that they be treated on the same basis as other city employees. I think it unfortunate that any employee's pay should be cut, particularly so in the case of the Police Department, with their scale of wages inferior to that in most cities of the United States today. The Boston papers have commented on the hardship that this will work if it goes into effect. The Boston Post only this morning had a lengthy argument in regard to it, quoting figures and facts showing that the police force of the City of Boston is not being paid an amount commensurate with that paid by other cities in the United States. I hope the body will go on record as favoring this order and my amendment.

President McGRATH—The Chair will have to rule that the amendment is out of order, because the legislation as passed by the Legislature says: "Provided that such reduction in compensation applies uniformly to all persons of the same grade or classification and receiving the same salary."

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, I think the order I have put in, looking to the securing of proper legislation in this matter, will undoubtedly cover what the councilor has in mind. I am glad that he got up and spoke on the order, because I know in doing so he expressed a very strong, popular opinion. A great many men on the streets of Boston, everybody with whom I have spoken, are against the proposed reduction in the pay of the Boston police until they receive the maximum, so that they will at least secure an amount upon which their families can be supported.

Coun. MURRAY—Mr. President, I think the cut itself is not right. I believe if there were such a scale as this in effect—up to $1,000 a year no reduction, from $1,000 to $1,560 inclusive, 5 per cent reduction, from $1,560 to $2,700 inclusive, 10 per cent reduction, from $2,700 to $4,000, 15 per cent reduction, and over that 20 per cent,—it would be fairer to the police officers and to everybody else.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

DISCHARGE OF CERTAIN EVENING SCHOOL TEACHERS.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:
Ordered, That the School Committee be requested to discharge the following class of persons now employed in the evening school centers:

1. Married women whose husbands are working and capable of supporting them.
2. School teachers who are permanently employed as school teachers in day schools.
3. Persons who are not residents or citizens of Boston.

President McGRATH—The order will be referred to the Executive Committee.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, I wonder if I might say a word on that now?

President McGRATH—You will have an opportunity when it comes back from the Executive Committee.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, I would ask unanimous consent to make a statement.

President McGRATH—If there is no objection, the councilor may proceed.

Coun. BURKE—I have introduced that order as a result of an investigation that I made into the workings of the Dorchester evening school centers, in the Dorchester High School. It was brought to my attention that married women were being employed by the School Department as matrons in the Dorchester High School, women with husbands well able to support them, in spite of the fact that there are hundreds of widows unable to get work to support their families and entirely competent to do the work that is now being done by these others. One woman that works out there is the wife of a former office holder in Ward 17, a former city official of the City of Boston. She is working there and her husband enjoys a splendid job that brings him in considerable money. I believe he is entirely capable of supporting her without any necessity for her working, and still she is taking a job and thereby keeping food out of the mouths of widows and children. I might mention the name,—Mrs. Harrison Atwood,—the wife of Harrison Atwood, now holding this job, at a good compensation, a job that might well be taken by some able and deserving widow who needs it to support herself and her children. I also call to mind people working in the Dorchester schools who live outside of the City of Boston. For example, there is Hope Rogerson, living in Milton. I say that girl should be discharged and that there should be put in her place somebody now out of employment in the City of Boston, a citizen of this city. In addition, I found teachers permanently employed as day teachers in the schools of Boston who also work in the Dorchester school center evenings, holding two jobs, while there are hundreds of young ladies equally qualified, and out of work, who should be given an opportunity to take one of the jobs. Therefore, Mr. President, I ask the School Committee to investigate these things, to fire married women whose husbands are perfectly able to support them, to fire teachers who live outside the City of Boston, and, where there are teachers now taking two jobs, to make them give up one of those jobs. Such action is only fair to the other people of Boston.

Coun. MURRAY—Mr. President, I would also like to have this include the Jamaica Plain schools and school centers. We have there also people working days and nights. We fought for a long time for residents of Boston as teachers in the schools of Boston, and it is now specified by the School Committee that from now on nobody but citizens of Boston shall be employed in the Boston schools. And I don't think what is criticized here applies only to the School Committee.

Coun. BURKE—No, I believe in every department of the City of Boston there are married women whose husbands are working and who should support them.

The order stood referred to the Executive Committee.

Coun. LYNCH in the chair.

RETAIL SALE OF BEER.

Coun. KELLY offered the following:

Resolved, That the Boston City Council favor legislation which will enable every reputable store in Boston which desires to sell beer by bottles at retail prices to do so and the limitation of 178 be removed.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, we now have, it seems, a peculiar law in regard to this matter on our statute books. At least in my estimation it is a peculiar law, limiting the number of stores that can sell beer at retail in this city to 178. I believe that is class legislation, and that if tested before the Supreme Court of the Commonwealth it would be found to be so. I certainly believe it is unfair to limit the number to 178 stores, picked out of the many thousands of stores whose owners pay taxes to the city, men of high reputation and who should be allowed to sell beer at retail. Why, Mr. President, people in my district, if they want to buy beer in the case, or to buy a few bottles, in many cases have to go down ten or twelve streets to get it. I ask, is that fair? They should be entitled to purchase beer from their grocer or retail man, a man in whom they have confidence. I accordingly ask that this resolve, which puts the Boston City Council on record as favoring equal rights for every store owner in the City of Boston, be passed under suspension of the rule.

Chairman LYNCH—The order is referred to the Committee on Rules.

REPAVING OF WARD 10 STREETS.

Coun. POWER offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repave Creighton street, Ward 10, with smooth paving.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repave South Huntington avenue, from Floydell street to Perkins street, Ward 10, with smooth paving.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repave Sunnyside street, Ward 10.

Severally passed under suspension of the rule.

SCHEDULE OF AID.

Coun. BRACKMAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor be requested to instruct the Overseers of the Public Welfare to revise the present schedule of aid increasing said schedule over the one recently promulgated.

Coun. BRACKMAN—Mr. President, recently there was a schedule put into effect with regard to the recipients of welfare aid, running something like this,—for a family of three people, $7 a week; for a family of four people, $9 a week; for a family of five people, $10 a week; for a family of six people, $12 a week, and so on. I have been unable to understand up to the present time how a great many families in Boston have succeeded in carrying on with the small stipend they have been receiving from the Welfare Department. Under this new schedule to which I have referred, a schedule which I understand has recently been put into effect, I am at an utter loss to know how people are going to live. Just think, a family of three people receiving from the City of Boston only $7 a week. The average rental would be $4 a week for a family of that size, and that is over $16 a month. That would give them but $3 a week for food and clothing for three people, or $1 per person per week for clothing and food. I submit that that is less than three cents a meal for a person to live on. There is, too, absolutely no provision in the event that one of these individuals becomes sick or has to make some unusual expenditure during the course of that week. I feel that this schedule is entirely out of proportion to what it should be. There are certainly some cases that should be considered on their actual merits, but I understand that under this scale all cases are treated 100 per cent alike, whether there is sickness in the family, total disability on the part of the wage-earner, or other circumstances. I certainly trust that the Mayor will reconsider and will give these unfortunates enough to keep body and soul together.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

INFORMATION FROM FINANCE COMMISSION.

Coun. ROBERTS offered the following:

Ordered, That the Finance Commission, through his Honor the Mayor, be instructed to furnish the Council immediately all information and data with reference to their present investigation of the personnel and expenditures of the city as affecting the budget appropriation for 1933 of the city and to furnish from time to time, as soon as such information becomes available, further information gathered by the commission and its investigators in order that such information may be made immediately available for the Committee on Appropriations and the Council.

Coun. ROBERTS—Mr. President, I have always thought it very unusual that all the information we ever receive from the Finance Commission is simply received by us upon request. It has sometimes occurred to me that we never would have any information from that commission if we did not request it. I understand by the newspapers that at the present time the Finance Commission investigators are making an extensive investigation of all the departments of the city with a view to determining whether they have too great personnel, as well as other facts concerning them. We continually see reference to that sort of thing in the newspapers. Now, my order simply asks the Finance Commission to send the information that it is thus obtaining to the Council, so that the Committee on Appropriations in particular may be able to go into the questions thus raised, as information is brought out from time to time. It seems to me this is particularly important at the present time, because when we do get the budget we will have to act upon it very hurriedly.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

WHITE WAY ON COLUMBUS AVENUE.

Coun. ROBERTS offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to include in the current budget a sum sufficient to provide for the installation of a "white way" lighting system along Columbus avenue, from Park square to Massachusetts avenue.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

NOTICE OF HEARINGS FOR STORAGE OF GASOLINE AND FUEL OILS.

Coun. DONOVAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to give members of the City Council due notice of hearings to be held on petitions for the storage and sale of gasoline in their respective districts.

Coun. FISH moved to amend the order by adding after the word "gasoline" the words "and fuel oil," and the order as amended was passed under suspension of the rule.

SYMPATHY TO COUNCILOR BARKER.

Coun. DONOVAN offered the following:

Resolved, That the heartfelt sympathy and condolence of the members of the City Council be extended to our colleague, Councilor William H. Barker, in the untimely death of his beloved brother, Harvey Barker.

Passed, under suspension of the rule, by unanimous rising vote.

SYMPATHY TO FAMILY OF LATE TIMOTHY F. DONOVAN.

Chairman LYNCH, for Coun. Barker, offered the following:

Resolved, That the Boston City Council extends its sincere sympathy and condolence to the family of the late Timothy F. Donovan, former president of this body. His loss is deeply mourned by all his colleagues in the Boston City Council.

Passed, under suspension of the rule, by unanimous rising vote.

REMOVAL OF ALIENS FROM WELFARE ROLLS.

Chairman LYNCH, for Coun. Barker, offered the following:

Ordered, That the Overseers of Public Welfare be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to remove all aliens from the welfare rolls of the City of Boston.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

INFORMATION FROM CITY TREASURER.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That City Treasurer Edmund L. Dolan be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to furnish the City Council with the following information: A schedule of investments purchased by the City Treasurer in the year 1932, specifying for each purchase (1) date of purchase, (2) person or firm from which purchase was made, (3) name of security purchased, maturity, interest rate and par value, (4) price at which purchase was made, (5) total amount paid.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

STREET LABOR BY MEN ON WELFARE ROLLS.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to consider the advisability of fixing the streets of Boston by the labor of able-bodied men on the rolls of the Welfare Department.

Passed under suspension of the rules.

TARIFF ON FISH.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to consider the advisability of organizing a committee and sending the Corporation Counsel or assistants to Washington, opening up a Washington headquarters, from which to vigorously present the Boston side of the tariff on fish.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I respectfully ask permission to have this statement included in the records, as I do not wish to take up the time of the body unnecessarily. There is a conference on in Washington that may lead to eliminating the tariff on fish. If that results, it will practically mean the wiping out of our fish industry. The Boston fish market is the largest fish market on this continent. In 1930 over two hundred eighty-nine million pounds of fresh fish were landed at Boston, about two hundred fifty million pounds will be handled in 1933. Over 440 fishing boats, of over five tons, land at the Boston Fish Pier, about 3,000 fishermen are employed on the boats, and about 2,500 in help are employed about the Boston Fish Pier. At the present time there is a tariff on fish coming into the United States from foreign lands. For instance, cod or haddock, skinned and boned and wrapped in cellophane paper is today paying a tariff of 2½ cents a pound, frozen or fresh, if shipped from Canada into the United States. A strong movement is on foot to eliminate the tariff on Canadian fish. If this tariff is eliminated it practically means the wiping out of one of Boston's oldest industries, the fishing industry. Even with the present tariff, conditions at the Boston Fish Pier have been very bad during the past year. Not a fisherman has made money. Fish has brought 1 cent and 1½ cents a pound, and the fishermen who go out in all kinds of weather, who perform one of the most perilous and hazardous forms of work, find, at the end of the voyage, they owe themselves money and their families must go without the amenities of life. The holy season of Lent has just passed, the one period of the year when fish should be sold here in Boston, and yet the fishermen were practically destitute through this period. What will conditions be for the fishermen, now that the season of Lent is over, and what little demand there has been will have dropped off? What will become of the fish industry if the tariff that we now have on fish from Canada and other foreign lands is taken off? Even with the tariff the fishermen have suffered. What will become of Boston's great fish market and fish pier if the tariff is eliminated? In the normal year, Massachusetts sells about one hundred million dollars' worth of fish, retail. This year, because of abnormal conditions, the industry will do well to sell fifty million dollars' worth of fish. There are 25,000 fishermen in Massachusetts, when we include those attached to the Boston Fish Pier, and shell, clam and lobster fishermen from other parts of the state. One third of the fish landed at Boston are "filleted," that is, the bone and skin are eliminated and are shipped to the West. Even with the present tariff, large chain-store outfits have been importing "fillets" from Canada, paying a duty of 2½ cents a pound, frozen or fresh, and selling the fish in the Chicago, Detroit and western market for 1 cent a pound cheaper than the Boston fish dealers can sell the same for in that market. Canadians in the Maritime Provinces are able to produce fish cheaper than does the average American fisherman from Boston. Our men have to go a long distance up north to catch the fish and must transport it back to Boston. The Canadian fisherman, invariably takes up fishing as an avocation, not a vocation. He generally is a farmer, works the land and fishes on the side. He is near at home; he does not have to depend upon what he gets from fish to keep him and his family. He lives on a cheaper scale of living than does the American fisherman. This makes it possible for the large American "chain" store representatives to buy the Canadian fish, pay a small price for it, pay a tariff on the "fillets" of 2½ cents a pound, and put the Canadian fish into cities, such as Detroit, Chicago, Cleveland, etc., for 1 cent a pound cheaper than our Boston fisherman can do it for. Most of the Boston fish is sent outside Massachusetts. We depend a great deal on the western market. Even with the tariff on fish, forty-one million pounds of salt fish were imported into the United States last year, 1932. To make this salt fish required 125 million pounds of fresh fish. Our fishermen claim that the loss of this salt-fish market to take their surplus fish was quite a factor in the industry losing money last year. They formerly received $2 to $2.25 per 100 pounds for fish to salt. Last year, they received hardly $1 for the same amount, and most of the time, they had no offers whatever. This condition existed even with a tariff of 2 cents a pound on boneless salt fish and 1 cent a pound tariff on raw salt fish. Today is the mackerel season. Schools of mackerel show up about April first, each year, off Cape Hatteras. They move north to Cape Breton, and many of our fishermen follow the schools. Today, out of sixty mackerel fishing boats at the Boston Fish Pier, scarcely thirty are working, the others being tied up. Premier Richard Bennett of Canada has asked the United States to drop the tariff on Canadian fish. He desired the Canadian Maritime Provinces to ship their fish into the United States duty free. Under the "modus vivendi" clause, between Canada and the United States, this tariff can be dropped. Canada offers the United States a free market in Canada for our automobiles from Detroit, provided we will give her a free market for her fish. Even with a tariff, last year, 1932, Norway sent fourteen million cases of sardines to the United States. The Japanese land scallops in California for $1.25 a gallon and the best price that we can land scallops in California for, from the east coast of the United States to the west coast, is $3 to $3.25 a gallon. Scallops in Boston, today, cost $1.75 to $2 a gallon. Japan can send salmon to the United States and sell it for 44 cents a case. The cheapest that we can produce salmon for in the United States is $1 a case. 1932 was the first year that Japan sent scallops to the Californian market. My friend, Robert Lincoln O'Brien, chairman of the United States Tariff Commission, asserts that depreciated currency is not to blame for the flooding of the American market, but I am inclined to believe that the depreciation of the Japanese yen from around 50 cents to 22 cents, is a factor in this situation. Prime Minister Bennett of Canada will reach Washington in the near future, bent upon this mission. Fishermen from Gloucester, Boston and other points have sailed a regular fishing vessel, the "Thebaut," up the Potomac river to Washington, and are now there to protest against the United States eliminating the tariff on fish. Boston has more to lose than any other American city if a tariff is taken off fish. It means that we will lose our great fish industry. What are we doing about it? Little if anything. The Mayor of Boston, the Corporation Counsel of Boston, and others should make arrangements to go to Washington and assist in this matter. Boston should open up an office in Washington, headed by the ablest people we have, to stay right on the job down there until a definite decision is given one way or the other. A month, a week from now may be too late! Wake up Boston!

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

REMOVAL OF BOSTON & ALBANY ACCOUNTING DEPARTMENT.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:
Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to consider the advisability of protesting to the New York Central Railroad against the removal of the Accounting Department of the Boston & Albany Railroad to Cleveland.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

FREEDOM FROM TAXATION TO NEW INDUSTRIES.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:
Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to consider the advisability of requesting the Legislature to grant the power to the city of allowing a certain period of free taxation to new industries, under certain prescribed conditions.

Passed under suspension of the rules.

ALLOWANCE BY OVERSEERS OF PUBLIC WELFARE.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:
Ordered, That the Overseers of the Public Welfare be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to provide at least a sum sufficient, to families on the welfare list, that will insure the minimum subsistence as determined by the United States Department of Agriculture and the Children's Bureau.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I understand that a family of four at the present time are allowed $1 a day to live on. The Department of Agriculture and Children's Bureau state that from $7.50 to $10.50 is the minimum weekly budget for food alone for a family of five, specifying that that cannot continue long without danger. I certainly think that the proper amount for subsistence of families, as set forth by the Department of Agriculture and the Children's Bureau, should be allowed by our Department of Public Welfare, and with the amount necessary to procure food alone, I don't see what there is left to be spent for other necessities within the amounts now allowed.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

STATEMENT REGARDING CONSTABLES.

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make a statement.

Chairman LYNCH—If there is no objection, the councilor may proceed.

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, I am quite interested in the appointment of some constables in the City of Boston whose terms expire on April 30, the end of this week. I believe, if I am correctly informed, that there has been a change in the position of the chairman of the committee, who does not intend to present any additional names for confirmation today. That is the prerogative, I presume, of the chairman of a committee and, of course, I would be the last one to criticize. But I wonder if the fact is being borne in mind that among these constables who are applying for reappointment there are many against whom there are no complaints, and that by not taking action we are putting them right into the army of the unemployed—as if we did not have enough unemployed citizens today; that unless the present procedure is changed, we will be adding 175 more, with their families, to the vast army of the unemployed after April 30 of this week. If that is done, it means that the earliest time at which confirmation can be given is the second or third day of May, and it will then take a week for bonds to be received through surety companies, and another week before we can confirm the bonds. So, for more than two or three weeks, innocent men and their families, men depending for their livelihood on this profession, will, through no fault on their part, be barred from earning a livelihood. I regret that I must admit that I am a part of the committee this year charged with the duty of investigating the appointments. I sought such appointment and am pleased with the consideration given me by the President of the body in having me made a member of this committee. So I don't want to be misunderstood. I have had nothing whatever to do with the matter, however, other than the fact that I was invited to come in and listen to imaginary complaints, with one constable on one side of the chairman and another on the other side, if my information is correct, sitting in at executive sessions with the members of the committee and passing upon the question of what constables should be confirmed. I have no objection if there is a complaint in regard to any individual. In that case such a man should be held up. That is the way I acted when I was chairman, and it was done previous to my becoming chairman. I am simply talking now about fairness. The councilor from Ward 19 has just informed me that there was no reference to who should be confirmed or otherwise. But that question, also, is a prerogative of the chairman. What I am saying now I am not saying in direct criticism; but I do say where there are men on the list against whom there has been no complaint, that fact might well be considered prima facie evidence that their appointments should be confirmed. Under the circumstances, why should such men not be confirmed today, in order that they may work at their business, and so that there may be no lapse between the bond that expires April 30 and the one that they can get for qualification next Monday. I have a lot of friends in the Sheriff's office, men who might get some of this work if a number of these appointments are not confirmed, but I think the sheriffs of Suffolk County are faring pretty well today, anyway. A constable can only serve a writ with an ad damnum up to $300. I don't think we ought, even for two weeks, to subrogate that privilege to the sheriffs of Suffolk County, and that is what we are doing by holding these men up. I can see no reason for holding the men up. I attended an investigation meeting, so called, last Thursday, when men came in. I made no suggestions, because I was not asked to make any, but there were cases there where it would have taken an attorney to know the right or wrong in connection with the acts of a constable who had been appointed. The constable carries out his instructions, the instructions of the attorney, there is the required bond, and later the constable is sued, and the plaintiff recovers from the constable on the bond which comes from the attorney. The constable has done no wrong, and still that may result in holding him up. I think that is not the right way to do business. I believe that these constables who have served us long and faithfully, who have served the city faithfully, who have served attorneys faithfully, ought not to be held up. I believe the committee should get together between now and the executive session and decide to report in favor of those constables against whom there are no complaints, so that their names may be presented to us for our confirmation. Of course, that was done in previous years. I was chairman of the Committee on Constables last year, with our honorable President as a co-member, and we consulted with each other in regard to all these matters. I believe we should hold no one up at this late stage of the game unless there is a complaint. I trust that the chairman of the committee will not take these suggestions of mine as a criticism, because they are not so intended, but I would like an opportunity to vote for the confirmation of some constables in whom I am interested. I am, however, making these remarks, not in behalf of the constables in my district, but on behalf of constables throughout the entire city, men who are merely waiting for the notice of their appointment, and whose families are waiting until they may be confirmed, so that they may be able to support their households. I have had coming to my office men against whom there are no complaints, and I would ask the chairman to sit down with other members of the committee and pass on some of these applications. I trust that that may be done this afternoon.

Chairman LYNCH—Don't you think this matter can be ironed out during the recess, there being nothing before the body at the present time?

Coun. HEIN—Mr. President, I would ask unanimous consent to make a statement.

Chairman LYNCH—If there is no objection, the councilor may make a statement.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. Chairman, I asked for the same unanimous consent the other day, and the councilor was ungentlemanly enough not to allow me to make the statement. But I am going to let him make his statement.

Coun. HEIN—Mr. President, the Committee on Constables held a meeting last Tuesday and went into this matter, and passed on thirty-four or thirty-five constables, with Councilor Ruby sitting in. Thursday we had another hearing and some sixty applications were considered. There were two constables in the room with us, it is true. They belonged to a grievance committee of a constables' association. Councilor Ruby at the time apparently thought the idea was a good one. Only ten minutes ago he said to me that he would like to look at the list of constables that we were going to confirm here today, and I gladly showed it to him. Up to that time I thought he was satisfied. Only last Friday in the Messenger's office he wanted one particular constable to get by, with a record against him, and now apparently he does not want to have any of them get by unless those he is in favor of are acted upon. We intended to have a meeting of the committee before the meeting of the body today, but were unable to do so. Of course, if members want to get up here and make a grand stand play on behalf of certain constables, they can do it, but I am not going to let the thing get by without having the facts understood.

Coun. MURRAY—Mr. President, as a member of the committee I sat in, and some of the men whose names were considered had complaints against them. We have tried to act fairly, but we did not have a chance to act upon as many as we would like, because these things take time. There were two constables on the grievance committee of the constables' association, who sat in with us and everybody felt that it was all right that that should be so. Of course, these are times of depression, and people do need a job, but I have had many, many complaints brought to my attention about constables who were unruly, who were very impudent and overbearing with poor people from whom they were trying to collect. So I think it is nothing but right that we should take the time for proper consideration of names of constables coming before us, under the circumstances. If some of these men are going to insult our citizenry the committee should certainly examine into it.

WARD 2 IMPROVEMENTS.

Coun. GREEN offered the following:
Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repave with smooth paving Concord, Carney and Monument streets, Ward 2.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

STATEMENT ABOUT FIRST NATIONAL STORES, INC.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I would like to ask unanimous consent to make a statement.

Chairman LYNCH—If there is no objection, the gentleman may proceed.

Coun. NORTON—About a month ago I made a statement concerning the First National Stores about their fishing vessels and their quarters at the Fish Pier, about their warehouse and employees. I am sorry that in making the statement I apparently was not aware of the facts, which have been called to my attention by the First National Stores. In their communication to me they say, "We have no property at the Fish Pier, we do not catch fish, nor do we hire help at the rate of $1.50 for ten hours' night work. You surely have our company confused with somebody else."

We extended a helping hand in every direction where it was possible during the recent banking emergency, to manufacturers, to the public, and reasonable credit and cooperation in the supply of food stuffs all through New England. We tied up hundreds of thousands—yes, more than a million from Saturday morning until Thursday night in this form of assistance. We accepted food orders of cities and towns, charitable organizations, mercantile scrip to a point where the greater part of our working capital was tied up in this sort of credit. We shipped currency all over the United States to keep food stuffs moving from primary markets, furnished railroads with indemnity bonds to release food stuffs en route at the time the moratorium was declared. Some time we would like to tell you the story of that famous week as related to our business and our customers. A single day's partial restrictions of the arrival of fresh pork to this market permitted the wholesale price to be advanced from 7½ cents to 17 cents per pound. This could have happened on every other perishable food commodity had not uniform and regular shipments been maintained. Of course, Mr. President and gentlemen, I wish to be fair to everybody, and therefore I make this statement publicly, so that justice may be done. I do believe that some form of taxation will eventually have to come for chain stores and other such organizations. But in all our debates and controversies we must be fair in the presentation of facts; and, having been in error, I now wish as far as possible to set the thing right.

RECESS.

The Council voted, on motion of Coun. KELLY, at 3.21 p. m., to take a recess subject to the call of the Chair. The members reassembled in the Council Chamber and were called to order by President McGRATH at 4.32 p. m.

CONFIRMATION OF APPOINTMENTS.

President McGRATH called up, under unfinished business, No. 2 on the calendar, viz.:

2. Action on appointments submitted by the Mayor April 10, 1933, of minor officers paid by fees, as contained in City Document No. 48.

The question came on confirmation. Committee, Coun. Hein and Roberts. Whole number of ballots 16; yeas 14, nays 2, and the appointments were confirmed.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. GALLAGHER, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:

1. Report on petitions (referred today) for children under fifteen years of age to appear at places of public amusement, viz.:

Ruth M. McShane, Municipal Building, South Boston, June 9; Ruth M. Taylor, Eliot Hall, May 20; Ruth M. Taylor, Eliot Hall, May 13; Lilla Viles Wyman, Reportory Theatre, May 13; Katherine D. O'Gorman, Reportory Theatre, May 8; A. Marie Govone, Reportory Theatre, May 26; Delbert M. Staley, Reportory Theatre, May 9; Michael J. Ratto, Tileston School Hall, April 17; Benjamin H. Russell, Jordan Hall, April 23; Frank J. LaBell, Bradford Hotel Hall, April 30,—recommending that leave be granted, under usual conditions.

Report accepted; leave granted under usual conditions.

2. Report on order (referred today) requesting School Committee to discharge certain classes of teachers in evening schools—that same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said order passed.

3. Report on order (referred today) that in conformity with executive order of Mayor issued April 21 the salaries of members of City Council be reduced from period beginning April 21 and ending December 31, 1933, from rate of $2,000 a year to rate of $1,700 a year—that same ought to pass.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, I am gladly voting to give 15 per cent of my salary—something not established by the Mayor of Boston, but by the people of Boston. My only hope in giving it—and I think the hope I express is the hope of every man here—is that it will be spent honestly and will not be given to pet contractors and thieving land sharks.

The report was accepted and the order passed.

4. Report on order (referred today) for payment of aid to soldiers and sailors and their families in the City of Boston—that same ought to pass.

Report accepted and order passed.

REPORT ON COMMITTEE ON CONSTABLES.

Coun. HEIN, for the Committee on Constables, submitted the following names, recommending confirmation thereof:

Henry Atwood, David Belson, Joseph L. Bennett, Carl Birger Berg, George A. Borofski, John H. Brady, Thomas F. Brett, Charles B. Broad, George W. Brooker, Francis E. Brown, Warren A. Brown, Louis Budd, Edgar F. Callahan, Thomas Cannizzaro, James A. Canton, Daniel B. Carmody, Thomas C. Carr, William K. Coburn, William A. Collupy, Samuel Coulter, Joseph Coviello, Henry G. Dahlquist, William Davis, John J. Dillon, Walter A. Donlan, George H. Evans, Hyman Frivon, Paul R. Gast, Albert G. Gilbert, Maurice J. Glick, Louis Goldberg, Meyer Goldstein, Charles Gottlieb, John S. Grady, Leon J. Greene, William C. Gregory, John F. Halligan, Hyman H. Hartman, John D. Hayes, Robert V. Hennessy, Joseph Herman, John H. Howard, Charles H. Jackson, Max Jacobs, Benjamin A. Jacobson, Harry Kahn, James Kaplan, Thomas H. King, Bronis Kontrim, Joseph F. Long, Robert C. Mains, Isie Martin, William P. Miles, John J. Miller, Harold C. Mitchell, Andrew W. Murphy, Patrick H. Murphy, Nathan Neitlich, John B. Nowak, Elmer S. Nyman, Edward Ober, Phillip S. Phillips, Harry Reinherz, Abraham Rosenberg, Albert N. Sacks, Frank Shaw, Sidney J. Sheinfeld, Isaac Shulman, Harold L. Silva, Joseph Simansky, Michael F. Simmons, Henry J. D. Small, John Sualich, Ulysses T. Sullivan, Jerome Suvalle, Benjamin J. Tackeff, Joseph M. Torr, Aber Uckerman, Roman J. Vasil, John J. Walsh, Harry A. Webber, Joseph Weiner, Abraham I. Weiss, John A. Wragg, Frederick J. Wright, Louis Yacker.

The question came on confirmation of the names submitted. Committee, Coun. Gallagher and Roberts. Whole number of ballots 16; yeas 16, and the appointments were confirmed.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON RULES.

Coun. LYNCH, for the Committee on Rules, submitted the following:

1. Report on resolve (referred April 10) that Council favors dispensing in Boston of not less than ten-ounce glass of beer for five cents—that same ought to pass.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, I want to congratulate the chairman of the Committee on Rules for reporting "Ought to pass" on this resolution. Since I introduced this resolution for five-cent beer I have received several communications from outlying cities to the effect that in those cities not only a ten-ounce glass of beer but a twelve-ounce glass is being sold for five cents.

Coun. MURRAY—Mr. President, may I say that the Bartenders' Committee appeared before the committee in behalf of that resolution?

The report was accepted and the resolution passed.

CASTLE ISLAND IMPROVEMENTS.

Coun. DONOVAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to grade the land owned by the City of Boston which adjoins the new road leading to Castle Island.

Ordered, That the Park Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to extend the beach at City Point, South Boston, so that it will continue along with the new roadway leading to Castle Island.

Severally passed under suspension of the rule

FENCE ON FANEUIL STREET PLAYGROUND.

Coun. GALLAGHER offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to place a fence in such a position on the Faneuil Street Playground as will prevent damage by ball players to property on Faneuil street, Sanderson street and Goodenough street.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

PAVING OF ST. STEPHEN STREET.

Coun. ROBERTS offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface with smooth pavement St. Stephen street, Ward 4.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

Adjourned, on motion of Coun. KELLY, at 4.45 p. m., to meet on Monday, May 1, 1933, at 2 p. m.

THE SUPPLY HOUSE OF NEW HAVEN CITY DEPARTMENTS.

The Supply House of the city of New Haven, Conn., is located on Water street on a plot of about four acres of land, running down to the city dock. It consists of one main three-story brick building, which is used as an office building; one large two-story garage where all autos attached to the various city departments are housed; three large sheds and the dog pound.

All city employees report here for work. The working organization of the various city departments at present comprises about nine hundred men. Practically all the tools and tractors, road rollers, snow-plows and a snow loader and all other mechanical equipment and auto trucks, as well as construction materials of all kinds, are stored here. The Supply House also contains a blacksmith shop, an auto and tire repair shop, and a paint shop and traffic sign department.

The offices of the Superintendent of Streets, Sewers, Bridges, and Trees, the Chief Inspector of Garbage Collections, the Employment Bureau and the Pay Roll Department, are all located in the three-story office building.

ANNEXATIONS OF BOSTON.

East Boston in 1637; South Boston in 1804, being set off from Dorchester; Roxbury in 1868, a city of Norfolk County since March, 1846; Dorchester in 1870, a town since September, 1630; Charlestown in 1874, a city of Middlesex County since February, 1847; Brighton in 1874, set off from Cambridge and incorporated as a town of Middlesex County in February, 1807; West Roxbury in 1874, set off from Roxbury and incorporated as a town of Norfolk County in May, 1851; Hyde Park in 1912, a town of Norfolk County since April, 1868.

These annexations, which added 24,312 acres of land to the original land of Boston, were by area as follows: East Boston, 1,435 acres; South Boston, 795; Roxbury, 2,450; Dorchester, 5,600; West Roxbury, 8,075; Brighton, 2,664; Charlestown, 424; Hyde Park, 2,869. Filled land increased the area later by 1,396 acres. In 1875 the annexed territory had a population of 201,250, or 58.86 per cent of city's total; in 1910 its population had increased to 477,311, or 71.18 per cent, Hyde Park not included. By 1915 the total was 549,139, or 73.67 per cent of city. By 1925 the total was 607,519, or 77.92 per cent.

SAND, CINDERS AND SALT IN DULUTH.

About 385 miles of sidewalk are sanded every year and about 250 miles of streets are snow-plowed and sanded. Ordinarily, flat grades are not sanded, this work being confined to steep grades where dangerous ice conditions exist. During the past season the maintenance department used about 500 cubic yards of cinders, 500 cubic yards of sand, and 5 tons of calcium chloride on the streets.

The use of salt, or sodium chloride, has been discontinued entirely, because of its injurious effect on concrete walks and pavements. The action of salt is not clearly understood, but it is much more active during cold weather than in summer, and is apparently due to the formation of crystals after penetrating the surface, the force of which disintegrates the concrete. Calcium chloride does not seem to be entirely free from this difficulty, but is much less active than sodium chloride.

TWO OF EVERY 1,000 INHABITANTS ARE POLICE EMPLOYEES IN THE AVERAGE LARGE CITY.

About two of every 1,000 persons in the average city are employed in city police departments. Jersey City has the greatest percentage of police defense of any of the cities of over 250,000 population reporting to the Bureau of Investigation, Department of Justice, according to statements published in a recent issue of the monthly publication, "Uniform Crime Reports." In the total population of 316,715, there are 1,154 Police Department employees, or 3.6 per 1,000 inhabitants.

Birmingham, Ala., is at the other end of the scale among the cities of over 250,000, with one police department employee per 1,000 inhabitants, or a total of 260 in a population of 259,678.

Boston, with a population of 781,188, has 2,579 police department employees, or 3.3 per 1,000. Newark, N. J., with 442,337 inhabitants, has 1,383 police employees, or 3.1 per 1,000. Chicago has only two per 1,000, there being a total of 6,742 police employees for the city's 3,276,438 people.

Among other cities which have reported such statistics to the Bureau are:

Baltimore, with 2.3 police department employees per 1,000 inhabitants; Buffalo, with 2.3; Cincinnati, with 1.5; Cleveland, with 1.7; Columbus, with 1.2; Dallas, with 1.1; Denver, with 1.5; Detroit, with 2.6; Houston, with 1.2; Indianapolis, with 1.6; Kansas City, with 1.7; Louisville, with 1.6.

Milwaukee has two police department employees per 1,000 of the population; Minneapolis has 1.2; New Orleans has 1.9; Oakland, Cal., has 1.4; Philadelphia has 2.8; Portland, Ore., has 1.5; Providence, R. I., has 2.4; Rochester has 1.6.

In St. Louis, the percentage is 2.8 per 1,000; in St. Paul, 1.3; in San Francisco, 2.2; in Seattle, 1.9; in Toledo, 1.5; and in Washington, 2.9.

BOSTON AS A TOWN.

From its foundation until 1755, or a period of 125 years, Boston was not only the most outstanding but the most populous town in the American colonies. In 1760, Philadelphia's population was ahead, viz., 18,756, Boston's then being 15,631 and New York's about 14,000. In the last year of town government, viz., 1821, Boston's population was about 45,000 and its public debt $100,000, all incurred for new county buildings.

The history of Boston as a town during a period of nearly two centuries surpasses in civic interest that of Boston as a city because of the untiring zeal and successful efforts of its townsmen to realize more of true democracy than had ever been attained before. Their obligations were held as sacred as their liberties.

THE METROPOLITAN DISTRICT.

With Its 43 Municipalities.

Consists in the most inclusive sense of forty-three municipalities, including Boston, or fourteen cities and twenty-nine towns, all within fifteen miles of the State House but not yet consolidated in one complete governmental system. The seven cities in the first zone, i. e., adjacent to Boston, are these, viz., Cambridge, Chelsea, Everett, Newton, Quincy, Revere and Somerville; the six cities in the second zone, not adjacent, are Lynn, Malden, Medford, Melrose, Waltham and Woburn. The six adjacent towns are Brookline, Dedham, Milton, Needham, Watertown and Winthrop; the twenty other towns are Arlington, Belmont, Braintree, Canton, Cohasset, Dover, Hingham, Hull, Lexington, Nahant, Norwood, Reading, Saugus, Stoneham, Stoughton, Swampscott, Wakefield, Walpole, Wellesley, Weston, Westwood, Weymouth and Winchester. North and northwest of Boston are situated eleven of the cities and twelve of the towns; south and southwest, two cities and seventeen towns. Norwood, Stoughton and Walpole were admitted into the South System of the Metropolitan Sewerage District in 1928.

UNITED STATES FOREIGN TRADE IN SILVER.

Although the United States is the second largest producer of silver, its exports of the metal exceed total annual production according to the United States Department of Commerce reports. Much silver is received for refining or transshipment. Most of this imported silver comes from Mexico, as evident from the following import figures, in millions of dollars: Mexico, 40.5 in 1929, 24.9 in 1930, and 11 in the first eight months of 1931; Canada, 6.4, 6.1, and 2.5, respectively; Peru, 10.4, 5.9, and 1.6; Chile, 2.3, 1.8, and 0.6; and all countries, 63.9, 42.8, and 18.3.

United States exports of silver go chiefly to China (including Hong Kong), British India, and the United Kingdom (whence they are sold largely to other countries). Shipments to leading countries and the total are summarized in millions of dollars, for 1929, 1930, and the first eight months of 1931, as follows: China and Hong Kong, 64.6, 37.8, and 8.5, respectively, of which China accounted for 61.8, 31.8, and 7.7; British India, 8.9, 9.6, and 4.6; the United Kingdom, 0.1, 2.1, and 3.4; Canada, 2.4, 1.8, and 1.1; Mexico, 5.2, 1.4, and 0.7; Germany, 1.5, 1, and 0.7; and all countries, 83.4, 54.2, and 19.2.

SAFE DRIVING.

Most cities and towns have a long list of "dons" but do little to educate the drivers of cars. If one half the time that is used trying to make people do something or not to do something was spent in educating the drivers much better results would be obtained. We need drivers' schools and the city or town that first starts such a school will be doing a real service.

CENSUS OF MANUFACTURES.

The Bureau of the Census issued a statement at the close of 1932 giving some preliminary figures compiled from the 1931 biennial census of manufactures, covering more than 300 industries in the United States. Public utility industries (other than manufactured gas), the mining and quarry industries and various service industries were not included in the compilation. The printing, publishing and allied industries are included.

Number of establishments, 174,136, a decrease of 36,823 or 17.5 per cent in two years; average number of wage earners, 6,511,647, a decrease of 2,327,096 or 26.3 per cent in two years; wages (not including salaried officers and employees), $7,225,587,464, a decrease of $4,395,385,790 or 37.8 per cent from 1929; cost of materials, containers for products, fuel and purchased electric energy, $21,420,- 124,017, a decrease of $17,129,455,715 or 44.4 per cent in the two years; value of products, $41,333,108,998, a decrease of $29,101,754,445 or 41.3 per cent since 1929; value added by manufacture, $19,912,984,981, a decrease of $11,972,298,730 or 37.5 per cent in two years.

Food and kindred products led in the number of establishments reporting, also in cost of materials and value of products; textiles and their products led in the average number of wage earners, amount of wages and value added by manufacture.

HIGHWAY WORK TO RELIEVE UNEMPLOYMENT.

Highway officials throughout the United States are earnestly besought to put as many men to work as possible. The total disbursements for all road purposes in this country during the ten-year period 1922-1931 are computed by the United States Bureau of Public Roads to be about $14,000,000,000, more than half of this by and for the State Highway Departments. The Bureau last May came to the conclusion that the man-month expenditure was then about $300 with a downward trend and that for every man employed directly on the job, two others are employed indirectly in the preparation of materials, manufacture of machinery, transportation, etc. Thus the total of $4,637,000,000 expended for the construction of state and Federal roads during the ten-year period referred to means 13,248,571 man-months—the equivalent of the steady employment of approximately 110,000 men for the ten years, with 220,000 others employed indirectly. Similarly, the money spent on construction of local roads must have given direct employment to 51,000, with 102,000 others indirectly employed. This would make a grand total, continuously employed in road building, of 483,000 men.

MONTHLY PAYMENT OF TAXES ON REAL ESTATE RECOMMENDED.

The Committee on Public Relations of the United States Building and Loan League, of which Henry S. Rosenthal, of Cincinnati, is chairman, has recently recommended that taxes on real estate be paid on a monthly basis instead of semi-annually or annually as is now the custom. It is argued that the burden of taxes would not be noticed so much if met each month. Taxes would then be in the same class with gas, electric, and telephone charges, and could be easily anticipated. The monthly payment of taxes, it is stated, would keep money constantly flowing into the treasury of the city or other local government and thus obviate temporary borrowing.

COAL RESERVES OF THE WORLD.

Five-sevenths of the estimated coal reserves of the world are in North America, followed by those of Asia, which comprises the largest anthracite areas, chiefly in China. About 53 per cent of these reserves consist of bituminous coal, 41 per cent of sub-bituminous, and 6 per cent of anthracite. More than half of the world's reserves of bituminous coal are in the United States. Through the scientific research of fuel engineers and chemists the uses of coal have increased rapidly and grades which were formerly considered of little value are now having wide usage.—The Coal Industry of the World (Trade Promotion Series No. 106).

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.General Order No. 198.

A trial board consisting of Captains McKinnon, Lewis and Fallon, having heard by reference a complaint made by Mathew Killen, captain commanding Division 12, against James E. McPhee, patrolman, Division 12, for alleged violations of the Rules and Regulations of the Police Department, to wit:

Charge 1: Neglect of duty.

Specification 1: In that on the twenty-second day of April, 1933, the said Patrolman James E. McPhee failed to pull his on duty calls from 3 p. m. to 5.45 p. m., a period of two hours and forty-five minutes, instead of every forty minutes as required by the Rules and Regulations of the Police Department.

Charge 2: Conduct unbecoming an officer.

Specification 2: In that on the twenty-second day of April, 1933, the said Patrolman James E. McPhee was under the influence of intoxicating liquor to such an extent that he was unfit to do police duty if called upon so to do—has submitted the following finding and recommendation:

"The Board having heard and carefully considered all the evidence accepts the plea of guilty of the said Patrolman James E. McPhee.

"In making its recommendations the Board is taking into consideration the recommendation of Patrolman McPhee's commanding officer regarding the excellence of Patrolman McPhee as a police officer, the fact that he has been the recipient of a commendation in General Orders for a service which reflected great credit upon the department, and the fact that he has pledged assurance that he will in the future abstain from the use of intoxicating liquor.

"The Board therefore respectfully recommends that the said Patrolman James E. McPhee be ordered to perform 210 hours of punishment duty."

The commissioner accepts the finding and the recommendation of the Trial Board and hereby orders that the said Patrolman James E. McPhee perform 210 hours of punishment duty.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 199.

A trial board consisting of Captains McKinnon, Lewis and Fallon, having heard by reference a complaint made by Harry N. Dickinson, captain commanding Division 11, against Daniel J. Kerr, patrolman, Division 11, for violation of the Rules and Regulations of the Police Department, to wit:

Charge: Conduct unbecoming an officer.

Specification 1: In that on the 4th day of April, 1933, the said Patrolman Daniel J. Kerr, while in uniform and on duty, was under the influence of intoxicating liquor to such an extent that he was unable to properly perform police duty.

Specification 2: In that on the 4th day of April, 1933, the said Patrolman Daniel J. Kerr did operate a department automobile while he was under the influence of intoxicating liquor and by his reckless and negligent operation of said automobile, did cause serious damage to said automobile,— has submitted the following finding and recommendation:

"The Board having heard and carefully considered all the evidence presented finds the said Patrolman Daniel J. Kerr guilty as charged.

"Patrolman Kerr, until recently, held a record surpassed by few in the department, including one commendation for efficient service, and was held in high esteem by his commanding officer. For some unknown cause or reason he lapsed into careless habits, and is now in a situation which warrants his dismissal from the department. The Board has considered his case carefully and hesitates to recommend the extreme penalty, believing that he, as a young man, can live up to the assurance which he gave the Board and the pledge he has taken with his spiritual adviser, that he will in the future abstain from the use of intoxicating liquor, and again become the valuable and efficient officer which he was prior to his recent transgressions.

"The Board, therefore, respectfully recommends that Patrolman Daniel J. Kerr be suspended from duty with loss of pay for a period of ninety days, effective from April 5, 1933, and that at the expiration of his suspension he be required to perform 210 hours of punishment duty."

The commissioner accepts the finding and the recommendation of the Trial Board and hereby orders that the said Patrolman Daniel J. Kerr be suspended from duty for a period of ninety days from April 5, 1933, with loss of pay, and that at the expiration of the said period of suspension the said Patrolman Daniel J. Kerr perform 210 hours of punishment duty.

Civil Service Rule 23, section 3, requires approval of the Civil Service Commission before reinstatement.

Rule 23.

Section 3. "With the consent of the Commissioner upon good cause shown, an appointing officer may reinstate in the same position or in a position in the same class and grade any person who has been separated from the service; provided, however, that the Commissioner shall not allow reinstatement of a person discharged for cause."

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Commissioner.

READVERTISEMENT.CITY OF BOSTON.*PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.*PROPOSALS FOR SEWERAGE WORKS IN CHESTNUT STREET, BETWEEN ADAMS STREET AND MT. VERNON AVENUE, CHARLESTOWN.

The Commissioner of Public Works of the City of Boston, office 508 City Hall Annex, invites proposals from citizens of the United States and corporations or other legal associations wherein the controlling interest to the extent of at least over one half thereof is owned by a citizen or citizens of the United States, for sewerage works in Chestnut street, between Adams street and Mt. Vernon avenue, Charlestown. A bond will be required for doing the work of a surety company approved by the Commissioner in the sum of 100 per cent of the amount of the contract, to secure the due performance of the contract and the full protection of the city. Plans and proposals may be obtained at Room 508, City Hall Annex. Each proposal shall be inclosed in an envelope, sealed, marked "Proposal for Sewerage Works in Chestnut Street," and left at Room 508, fifth floor, City Hall Annex, before 12 m. of Thursday, May 11, 1933, with a certified check for three hundred (300) dollars, payable to and to become the property of the city if the proposal after acceptance is not carried out. The proposals will then and there be publicly opened and read. Proposals must be made in duplicate, the sealed duplicate, without check, to be deposited by the bidder with the City Auditor previous to the time named for opening the proposals. If the price of any item appears to the Commissioner to be abnormally high or low, or the bidder neglects to bid on each and every item, it may lead to the rejection of the proposal containing such price. The undersigned reserves the right to reject any or all proposals or to award the contract as he deems best.

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE OF BOSTON MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

VOL. 25.

SATURDAY, MAY 13, 1933.

No. 19

MAYOR CURLEY EXPLAINS, OVER RADIO, IN WEEKLY BROADCAST, HOW EFFORTS ARE BEING MADE TO SAVE CITIES AND STATES FROM GOING BANKRUPT—TELLS OF WORK OF MAYORS' COMMITTEE BEFORE COMMITTEES IN CONGRESS AND PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT—ASKS THAT PEOPLE OF BOSTON REJOICE IN FACT THERE IS REAL LEADER IN WHITE HOUSE AND ALSO PRAY FOR HIS CONTINUED HEALTH AND SPLENDID LEADERSHIP.

Mayor Curley, on Monday, over radio Station WNAC, on the subject, "Saving the Cities," spoke in part as follows:

Friends of the Radio Audience:

In common with every other official in charge of the affairs of an American municipality, I confess that I was surprised at the report received as a consequence of canvass made of conditions in the municipalities of the United States. The report which engaged the attention of the Executive Committee of the United States Mayors' Conference, of which I have been chosen as President, disclosed the fact that three states of the Union and more than one thousand municipalities were in a condition bordering on absolute bankruptcy, and all developed since the first day of November, 1932. Our investigation further disclosed the fact that an average of about one thousand municipalities each month were destined to be in the same condition.

You recall that in June of 1932 a conference was arranged with the Mayors of American cities for the purpose of securing sufficient funds to prevent actual starvation in the large centers of the United States during the winter of 1932-33. The committee met in Detroit and later in Washington and took the matter up with President Hoover at that time and with members of Congress.

Funds for Saving Cities.

As a consequence of our intercession, $300,000,000 was made available, to be loaned to the cities of the United States in order that their people might be fed, clothed and housed. We asked in addition that $500,000,000 be allocated among the cities of the United States for the purpose of refunding maturing obligations. That is to say, a bond issue would come due and the city, being without funds and without the means of raising funds with which to refund these maturing obligations. Unfortunately, Congress in its wisdom did not see fit to advance the money and in all probability this was a material contributing factor to the condition of bankruptcy that obtained in so many American cities.

We asked in addition, of course, for an appropriation for $5,000,000,000 for a construction program in order that we might start employment for the people without work in America. President Hoover was a bit fearful of undertaking an obligation of that character and as a consequence unemployment almost doubled in 1932 over 1931. This year we waited upon the newly elected President Roosevelt some two months ago and took up with him the question of providing additional funds in order to relieve conditions in the cities of the United States of America. We requested the sum of $500,000,000 be advanced to the cities under what is known as the Wagner Bill and the President not only recommended favorably but interceded with the Committee on Senate and House and there will shortly be available $500,000,000 for distribution to the cities and towns throughout the United States in order that they may function and work provided for their people.

Last Wednesday the Committee of Mayors waited upon the Senate Committee on Banking and discussed ways and means of financing the annually recurring obligations of the cities of the United States. You see, the business of the city differs very greatly from the conduct of the business of the individual or of the smaller corporation in that a city is required to live on borrowed money for some eight or nine months of the twelve months of the year. We assess properties the first of April and after property values have been determined we proceed with the work of determining what the tax rate shall be. When the tax rate is announced about the first of October we start collecting taxes and use the money as rapidly as it comes in to pay off the money we have borrowed in the past eight or nine months.

Difficult to Borrow Money.

Prior to the period of depression it was no difficult task to borrow money to meet municipal obligations and borrow at a low rate of interest. In fact, the average rate of interest for a ten-year period prior to 1930 was 2 per cent and sometimes 1 per cent. It was represented in short-term, gilt-edged investments, the best in America.

For the past two years, however, it has been extremely difficult to borrow money. Those short-term notes that were purchased by the banks were redistributed to insurance companies, private corporations and private investors, but they are experiencing their own difficulties and have been since 1931. Under the law the largest amount a bank can loan is 10 per cent of its capitalization and this amount, of all the banks in Boston, is insufficient to take care of more than 20 per cent of the requirements of the city. If they cannot resell the short-term notes of the city, they cannot purchase any more because of the law.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"

NATHAN HASKELL DOLE.

LEADING MEDICAL MEN OF CITY OPPOSE PROPOSAL OF FINANCE COMMISSION TO CURTAIL WORK OF GEORGE R. WHITE FUND HEALTH UNITS AS ECONOMY MEASURES TO AID IN CITY'S FINANCIAL STRESS—MONEY SO WISELY SPENT IS GREATER SAVING TO CITY THAN OTHERWISE, THEY SAY IN PROTESTS TO MAYOR CURLEY.

Health organizations in the city, comprising in their membership some of the most prominent physicians in the city, have taken issue with the Finance Commission and have very vigorously opposed the proposal to close some of or to curtail the work of the White Fund Health Units. Not only have they addressed protests to the Finance Commission, but they have appealed to the Mayor that the work of these units not be curtailed, as being steps in unwise economy. Some of the communications are as follows:

On May 6 Mayor Curley was in receipt of the following communication from the Boston Health League, Incorporated, which the Health League forwarded on the second of May to the Finance Commission:

Statement Unanimously Authorized by the Executive Committee of the Boston Health League at Its Meeting on April 27, 1933.

Subject: Economies in the Boston Health Department suggested by the Finance Commission of Boston.

Believing, as we do, in the great value to the citizens of Boston of the George Robert White Health Units, and feeling that the importance of these health units and of some of their essential services has been challenged by the recent report of the Finance Commission, the Boston Health League believes that it should offer to put at the disposal of the Finance Commission all of its information and data which bear upon the subject, and that it should also make its own position clear.

Since the Boston Health League was organized in 1920, it has striven to promote coordination and cooperation between the public and private agencies which are working for the improvement of health in Boston. Almost from the time when the original health unit was organized in the West End in 1916, the Health League has studied the programs of these units at every stage of their development and has championed their cause.

INSTITUTIONS OF GREAT VALUE.

We believe that two principles of the greatest value are embodied in these health units. These principles are: First, to make municipal health services increasingly available to the people through the establishment of district centers in carefully selected neighborhoods; and, second, to promote coordination of programs and cooperation between the Health Department and the whole series of private agencies which supplement its work. These advances have been realized through the health units and have called forth the admiration of health experts from many parts of our own country and even from abroad.

Moreover, the campaigns in preventive medicine which the Health Department carries forward through the medium of the health units embrace three important features which the Health League has sponsored from their inception. These features are as follows:

1. The child hygiene clinics which are conducted in the units are staffed by pediatricians from our leading medical schools. The infant mortality in Boston has been strikingly lowered in recent years, and it is evident that clinics have been of great service to this end.

The decentralization of preventive tuberculosis activities including early diagnosis and examination of contacts. The establishment of this work in the health units marked another great advance in the struggle against this disease. The reduction and control of tuberculosis is dependent on the early detection of the active case and the rounding up and examination of all possible contacts. This has been made possible in increasing measure because of the convenience of location and diagnostic facilities in the health units.

3. A third service of outstanding merit, from the point of view of organization, is the preventive dentistry provided for young children at the health units. The value of this kind of service as a means of improving the health of the community is so generally recognized by health experts that the League indorses it without question.

CONCLUSIONS.

1. Because of the existing financial situation in Boston, as elsewhere, the Health League does not question the wisdom of the Finance Commission in suggesting the possibility of a saving of 10 per cent, or $75,000, in the budget of the Health Department as a whole. The League has been informed that, already, important economies have been planned for the Health Department, and it is willing to believe that savings can be made by reorganization of some of the branches of the Health Department without sacrificing either efficiency or essential services.

2. It would not seem unreasonable to suggest that the expert advice and opinion of the American Public Health Association might be obtained as to the value and content of the program of the Boston Health Department and as to the direction and trend of possible economies that might be instituted.

3. We believe that the health units and their major services in child welfare, tuberculosis diagnosis and control, and dentistry are being conducted economically and represent essential service.

It is important to call attention to the fact that money wisely expended for a program for the prevention of disease results in a substantial saving in money which would otherwise be required for the treatment of disease.

HORACE MORISON.

FROM GUILD OF ST. APOLLONIA.

Mayor Curley was in receipt of the following communication from President Egan of the Guild of St. Apollonia, 279 Bowdoin street, Boston:

MY DEAR MR. MAYOR,—It has been called to my attention that the Finance Commission of Boston has recommended the elimination of dental work at the White Units. The importance of the care of children's teeth to the health of the child, and the future health of the citizens of Boston is well recognized everywhere. At this time it would be unfair, particularly with unemployment, lack of food and especially the lack of funds among many of the parents who previously were able to afford a private dentist, to carry out this recommendation.

I know that all dentists are caring for patients who cannot at present pay them, and this is adding its burden to those members of a heavily burdened profession. It seems to us of the Guild, an organization of 275 Catholic dentists caring for the parochial school children of Greater Boston, that to close the dental departments of the White Fund Units would be most inhumane to the children of Boston.

Respectfully yours,

JOHN O. EGAN, President.

To which Mayor Curley replied:

MY DEAR DOCTOR EGAN,—I beg you will convey to the membership of the Guild of St. Apollonia my sincere appreciation for the courageous and humane position which they have taken with reference to the continuance of dental work at the White Units. It is most gratifying to me to find that there is sufficient public sentiment to support the contention which I have made in this matter and no organization is better qualified to pass judgment than that which you represent.

I have taken the liberty to make public your communication.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

BROADCAST BY MAYOR CURLEY.

We waited upon the Senate Committee on Banking and upon the President in order to secure their intercession and with a view not only to securing the necessary money but with a view to securing it at a rate that would not be burdensome on the cities. We asked for a rate not in excess of $4\frac{1}{2}$ per cent and possibly 4 per cent. We asked that under the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and under the Federal Reserve Act we be permitted as municipalities to borrow such sums as might be necessary on our tax anticipation warrants. By that I mean the amount of money that we anticipate taking in during the current year. We asked to borrow within 75 per cent of the tax anticipation warrants and within 50 per cent of our unpaid taxes for the year 1932, or the preceding year, that which is known as delinquent taxes.

If this were done, at a reasonable rate of interest, it would represent a saving, in the interest item alone, as against what cities are required to pay at the present time, of $3,000,000. It would, in addition, provide the cities with the money with which to pay their employees and with which to discharge all of their obligations. The Senate Committee and the President were not only receptive but extremely friendly and so desirous of aiding the cities that the President in an interview given to the Associated Press on Saturday night said, "He was in accord with the recommendations as made by Mayor Curley of Boston and would do his utmost to induce Congress to make the money available."

We were interested not only in the cities that are solvent, but likewise in those cities that were insolvent and bordering on bankruptcy and requiring assistance, for, after all, a thousand municipalities or more are now in a condition of bankruptcy and three states of the Union are in a similar condition. If the insolvent cities are allowed to fail, there is every indication of a collapse of every municipal government in the United States and a collapse of municipal government would naturally mean a collapse of banks, credit houses and insurance companies, and so we appeared before the Judiciary Committee and it was my very great pleasure to express our committee's views on the insolvent cities' situation and announce ourselves in favor of advancing money not only on tax delinquencies for 1932 but in favor of legislation which would permit the cities which are hopelessly insolvent, such as Coral Gables and West Palm Beach, to save themselves.

FURTHER ECONOMIES DEMANDED.

We have another meeting in Washington on the 23d of this month when we hope to be able to report progress in large measure for the benefit of the cities. Now then, in anticipation of favorable action, I had a conference with the bankers of this city who informed me that unless we economize to the extent of three-quarters of a million dollars additional, it would be impossible for them to lend us money. So, among other economies, we decided to do away with every other arc light in the city, do away with the construction of granolithic sidewalks, discontinue the purchase of new fire apparatus, and to dispense with the purchase of twenty-five cars for the Police Department, and numerous other economies, and have instructed every department head to inform every employee of the city that rigid economy must be exercised in order that we may reduce 5 per cent additional. If this is done we will experience no great difficulty in saving $750,000, which will be necessary in order to secure the guarantee of funds from the banks. There is every indication, regardless of the position taken by the bankers, we will be able to secure the funds from Washington.

Last night the President of the United States gave a most reassuring, comforting message to the people of the United States, a message in such simple English composition as to be understood by every individual. He said, "We are working toward a definite goal to prevent the return of conditions which came very close to destroying what we call modern civilization. Our policies are wholly within the purposes for which our American constitutional government was established one hundred years ago," and the President proceeded to set forth his various programs, the adoption of which is the one thing that is necessary for the restoration of balance, the preservation of American government, and that is work and wages for the people of the United States. He directed attention, among other things, to the necessity for a restriction in armaments and the necessity for a better common understanding between all of the people of the world. In addition, he proposed those great programs which we have been discussing from time to time, the question of relief for the farmers, of course the most important of all, for, after all, until the farmer is enjoying a measure of prosperity there can be no general prosperity in the United States, and so we are moving forward under a great leader; we are moving forward as a united people; we are moving forward, let us pray Almighty God, to a better day and a happier day in the life of every man, woman and child in the United States of America, and in this critical hour in the life of a nation it would not be amiss for every one of us, regardless of party affiliation, to offer just a little aspiration from time to time to the Throne on High for the continued health and splendid leadership of President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

MAYOR CURLEY SECURES SUSPENSION OF PROPOSED WOOD PULP RATES INCREASE FROM BOSTON TO INLAND CITIES — BOSTON TO GREATLY BENEFIT.

Mayor Curley has been notified that the Interstate Commerce Commission had allowed his petition and had suspended the proposed increased rates on wood pulp from the Port of Boston to important wood pulp receiving points in the Middle West.

The railroads serving New England had filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission new freight tariffs increasing the rates on wood pulp from Boston 40 cents per ton, while at the same time increasing the rates from New York at 20 cents per ton and allowing the rates on this commodity from Portland, Maine, to remain unchanged.

Heretofore the rates on wood pulp from all three cities were on the same basis. This action by the railroads serving New England, if allowed, would deprive the Port of Boston of practically all of its wood pulp import shipments. The proposed rates, as filed by the railroads, would have become effective May 5 if they had not been suspended by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The Mayor, in his petition for suspension of these rates, alleged that the New England lines under the domination and direction of the Pennsylvania Railroad intended to discriminate against the Port of Boston in favor of the port of New York and the port of Portland and that it was only through this domination that the proposed rates were filed despite the serious opposition manifested by the Boston Port Authority, the Attorney-General of the Commonwealth, and all the local shipping and stevedoring agencies. As a result of the action of the Interstate Commerce Commission it will now be necessary for the railroads to carry the burden of showing that the proposed rates are legal and nondiscriminatory. The Interstate Commerce Commission will probably set this hearing down at some later date. In the meantime, however, Boston has preserved the present wood pulp rates for those shippers who are anxious and desirous of using the Port of Boston.

The Mayor stated that he intended to prosecute the case to the utmost in an endeavor to prevent the destruction of the port by those outside agencies which are more concerned with the ports of New York and Philadelphia.

LAND-TAKING IN WEST ROXBURY.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for the taking of land for sewerage works to be constructed as follows:

The right and easement is taken to lay and maintain sewerage works in the following described lands, exclusive of any interest in trees, buildings or other structures standing thereon, reserving to the owners thereof the right to use the lands for any purpose except such as may injure or obstruct said works, and except for placing or maintaining any structure on said lands not authorized in writing by the Mayor of said city; trees, buildings or other structures standing upon or affixed to the land in which an easement is hereby taken are to be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said taking for the purpose of constructing said sewerage works. Said lands are in that part of Boston formerly West Roxbury and are bounded as follows:

A parcel of land, owners unknown, being part of the private way known as Partridge street, bounded:

Southwesterly by Cowing street, eight feet; northwesterly by another part of Partridge street, five hundred and ninety-eight feet; northeasterly by the same, eight feet; southeasterly by the same, two hundred and ninety-eight feet; again northeasterly by the same, fifteen and 50-100 feet; again southeasterly by the southeasterly line of Partridge street, eight feet; again southwesterly by another part of Partridge street, fifteen and 50-100 feet; and again southeasterly by the same, two hundred and ninety-two feet, containing forty-nine hundred and eight square feet, more or less.

The sewerage works to be constructed are as follows: 700 linear feet of 10-inch pipe sanitary sewer and 700 linear feet of 10-inch and 15-inch pipe surface drain.

Betterments are to be assessed for the making of the aforesaid improvement.

This Board determines that no person sustains damages in his estate by the taking of the aforesaid easement and construction of said sewerage works and awards no damages therefor.

Ordered, That this Board estimates that the abutting lots of land on both sides of Partridge street, for a distance of approximately six hundred feet north-easterly from Cowing street, excluding the lot at the easterly corner of Cowing street, will receive benefit or advantage, beyond the general advantage to all real estate in said city, from the improvement herein ordered; each of said lots to the amount hereinafter respectively set against it; said lots and the supposed owners thereof being shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Plan No. 1088, Sewerage Works, Partridge Street, West Roxbury, March 31, 1933, William J. Sullivan, Chief Engineer, Street Laying-Out Department," and on file in the office of said department.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 23.

I. FIRE DEPARTMENT BAND.

There will be no meeting or rehearsal of the Fire Department Band this week.

II. PROMOTION.

George F. Brady of Engine Company 50 is promoted to apparatus operator, to take effect at 8 a. m., Wednesday, May 10, 1933.

III. RETIREMENT.

The following retirement is hereby announced to take effect at 8 a. m., Friday, May 12, 1933:

Thomas E. Morrison, Engine Company 31.

Hoseman Morrison was appointed to this department February 18, 1921. He leaves the department with the best wishes of his associates.

IV. NORTH FERRY.

Notice has been received from the Public Works Department that the North Ferry is now closed to all travel for an indefinite period. Until further orders all fire apparatus using ferries will use the South Ferry.

V. BOSTON AUTOMATIC FIRE ALARM.

Notice has been received from the Boston Automatic Fire Alarm Company that Signal 519 at 5 Jackson place has been discontinued.

VI. FIREWORKS PERMITS.

The attention of district chiefs is called to the fact that no permit for the selling of fireworks is to be approved unless the location complies in every way with the rules and regulations of the State Fire Marshal governing the sale of fireworks.

The right to possession of the premises to be licensed should be shown by the applicant to the district chief and must be in the nature of a rent receipt, lease or other written evidence in each case satisfactory to the district chief. No application is to be approved unless this right to occupancy is shown to the district chief, and, in addition, note of that act is to be made on the application.

Application blanks, when filled out by the applicant, will be forwarded to the district chief for inspection of location designated on the application, for approval or disapproval. In the event of disapproval, report should be made on Form 5 giving the reasons in detail. Before approving or disapproving the application district chiefs will fill in the following information in the spaces provided: (a) class of building; (b) general conditions; (c) if for wholesale permit, distance from church, theater, hall, place of public assembly, etc.

Applications must be returned to fire headquarters at least forty-eight (48) hours after being received at district headquarters.

VII. HOUSE JOURNALS.

Company commanders will forward to headquarters requests for the annual supply of house journals from June 1, 1933. These requests will be forwarded to headquarters not later than May 17.

The commissioner expects to see a reduction in the number of house journals requested in accordance with the policy established in General Orders No. 22, c. s.

VIII. FIRE ALARM REGISTERS.

Several reports have been received at the Fire Alarm Office that main springs have broken in the registers of the various fire stations. This trouble can be very easily eliminated if proper care is used in the winding of registers. In no case should the springs be wound up to the last notch. Many of the springs have broken because they are wound up too tight.

IX. CORRECTION IN LOCATION.

The correct location for fire alarm box No. 1324, announced in General Orders No. 21, c. s., should be Scollay square, opposite Hanover street, instead of Court street, opposite Hanover street.

By order of Fire Commissioner EDWARD F. McLAUGHLIN.

HENRY A. FOX,
Chief of Department.

LICENSE REVOKED.

The Mayor has approved the following vote of the Board of Street Commissioners:

Voted, That the license granted to Samuel A. Myers by the Board of Street Commissioners, approved by the Mayor, April 17, 1933, for the keeping, storage and sale of forty thousand (40,000) gallons of range and fuel oil at 170 Granite avenue, Ward 16, be, and the same hereby is, revoked, without prejudice.

SINKING FUNDS ELECTIONS.

His Honor the Mayor, on May 10, received a communication relative to the organization of the Sinking Funds Commission, as follows:

DEAR SIR,—The Board of Commissioners of Sinking Funds of the City of Boston organized this day as follows:

Frederic J. Crosby, chairman.

Rupert S. Carven, secretary.

Edmund L. Dolan, treasurer.

Respectfully,

RUPERT S. CARVEN, Secretary.

Carilli Construction Company has been allowed to amend the contract for erection and completion of an elementary school in the Emerson District, Bennington and Saratoga streets, East Boston, by striking out the words "eight months," on page 8, Article II, and substituting therefor the word and figures "May 27, 1933," so that the said Article II on page 8, shall read: "The Contractor shall carry on the work with due diligence and dispatch, shall bring the work to entire completion as defined in the specifications on or before May 27, 1933, and shall be liable in damages for any failure so to do, all as defined in the specifications."

G and N Engineering Company have been allowed to amend the contract for ventilating fans and / or motors, Traffic Tunnel, by adding in Article O, last paragraph, tenth line, after the word "assignee" the following words, constituting a new sentence: "The department may pay to the Contractor, from time to time during the progress of the work, such portion of the reserve or of the value of the work done, as it deems prudent," and that all provisions of said contract, excepting as modified herein, shall continue in full force and effect.

ADDITIONS TO CONTRACTS.

DEPARTMENT OF SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

Permission has been granted to issue an order of change making an addition in the sum of $7,041.20, to the contract of the Matthew Cummings Company, for the erection and completion of the high school in the Christopher Gibson District, Washington street and Geneva avenue, Dorchester.

This amount is necessary in order to pay for additional concrete, trench rock blasting and backfilling. This work was due to a change in the design of the foundations: 320.80 cubic yards of concrete at $20, $6,416; 207.90 cubic yards of backfill at $1, $207.90; 64.20 cubic yards of trench blasting at $9, $577.80—$7,201.70; deduct, 64.20 cubic yards earth excavation at $2.50, $160.50; total, $7,041.20.

Permission has been given to issue an order of change making an addition in the sum of $5,821.09, to the contract of the Matthew Cummings Company, for the erection and completion of the high school in the Christopher Gibson District, Washington street and Geneva avenue, Dorchester.

This amount is necessary to pay for additional labor, material and pumps for excavating below grade in order to reach suitable bearing soil for the foundations satisfactory to the Building Commissioner.

LAND-TAKING IN DORCHESTER.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for the taking of land for a public improvement, consisting of the laying out and construction of an extension of Ashton street, Dorchester district, as a highway, from Woodrow avenue to Frontenac street, bounded and described as follows:

An extension of the highway named Ashton street is hereby laid out, from Woodrow avenue to Frontenac street, and ordered constructed.

Said highway and the land, exclusive of trees or structures standing upon or affixed thereto, in which an easement for street purposes is hereby taken, is bounded and described as follows:

Part between Woodrow avenue and Livingstone street:

Northerly by Woodrow avenue, seventy five and 49-100 feet; easterly by the easterly line of said extension of said Ashton street as hereby laid out, by two measurements, twenty and 68-100 feet on a curve of twenty feet radius and two hundred twenty-three and 99-100 feet; southerly by Livingstone street, forty feet; and westerly by the westerly line of said extension of said Livingstone street, Ashton street as hereby laid out, by two measurements, one hundred ninety-four feet and twenty-one and 7-100 feet on a curve of ten feet radius.

Part between Livingstone street and Frontenac street:

Northerly by Livingstone street, forty feet; easterly by the easterly line of said extension of said Ashton street as hereby laid out, one hundred and sixty feet; southerly by Frontenac street, forty feet; and westerly by the westerly line of said extension of said Ashton street as hereby laid out, one hundred and sixty feet.

Trees or structures standing upon or affixed to the aforescribed land shall be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said land for the purpose of constructing said improvement.

Included in the abovescribed land (taken hereunder) is a part of a certain parcel of land registered in the Land Court, said parcel being shown on the plan hereinbefore referred to, and said part being the portion of said registered parcel which lies between the westerly line of said Ashton street and the middle line of said street; the owner of said portion, the number of the certificate of title and the book and page where the same are registered are as follows:

United States Trust Company, trustee for benefit of Minnie Norman and others, Certificate No. 23813, Book 115, page 13.

Betterments are to be assessed for the making of the aforesaid improvement.

Ordered, That this Board estimates that the abutting lots of land on both sides of said extension of Ashton street, from Woodrow avenue to Frontenac street, will receive benefit or advantage, beyond the general advantage to all real estate in said city, from the improvement herein ordered; each of said lots to the amount hereinafter respectively set against it; said lots and the supposed owners thereof being shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Ashton Street, Dorchester, Assessment Plan, January 24, 1933, William J. Sullivan, Chief Engineer, Street Laying-Out Department," and on file in the office of said department.

AUTHORITY TO DO WORK.

The Mayor has approved requests of the Public Works Department as follows:

For authority to lay sheet asphalt pavement on macadam base in Washington street, Brighton, from Oak square to Newton line, with department forces, without advertising, the estimated cost for labor and material being $15,000.

For authority to resurface with asphalt macadam (penetration) Cortes street, city proper, from Arlington street to Berkeley street, with department forces, without advertising, the estimated cost for labor and material being $1,500.

For authority to resurface with asphalt macadam (penetration) Moseley street, Dorchester, from Crescent avenue to Columbia road, with department forces, without advertising, the estimated cost for labor and material being $500.

For authority to resurface with asphalt macadam (penetration) St. Margaret street, Dorchester, from Boston street to Dorchester avenue, with department forces, without advertising, the estimated cost for labor and material being $3,000.

For authority to resurface with asphalt macadam (penetration) Common street, city proper, from Washington street to Tremont street, with department forces, without advertising, the estimated cost for labor and material being $1,000.

For authority to resurface with asphalt macadam (penetration) Beech street, West Roxbury, from Iona street to Colberg avenue, with department forces, without advertising, the estimated cost for labor and material being $2,000.

For authority to resurface with asphalt macadam (penetration) Cobden street, Roxbury, from Washington street to Walnut avenue, with department forces, without advertising, the estimated cost for labor and material being $3,000.

For authority to resurface with asphalt macadam (penetration) Evans street, Dorchester, from Nelson street to Morton street, and patch gutters, between Milton street and Capen street, with department forces, without advertising, the estimated cost for labor and material being $4,500.

For authority to repair ends of leaves of draw of Chelsea South Bridge, the work to be done by the Bridge Division force, without advertising, the estimated cost for labor and material being $2,500. This work is of an emergency nature, the ends of the leaves having broken down through impact of loads going across the draw and the repairs can be more expeditiously done by the Bridge Service force than by letting it out on contract.

For authority to resurface with asphalt macadam (penetration) La Grange street, West Roxbury, from Brook Farm Parkway to Vermont street, with department forces, without advertising, the estimated cost for labor and material being $4,800.

For authority to resurface with asphalt macadam (penetration) Copeland street, Roxbury, from Warren street to Moreland street, with department forces, without advertising, the estimated cost for labor and material being $3,800.

For authority to finish roadway with asphalt macadam (penetration) in Metropolitan avenue, West Roxbury, from Washington street northwesterly, with department forces, without advertising, the estimated cost for labor and material being $400.

For authority to resurface with asphalt macadam (penetration) Lithgow street, Dorchester, from Talbot avenue to Washington street, with department forces, without advertising, the estimated cost for labor and material being $1,500.

THE SUPPLY HOUSE OF NEW HAVEN CITY DEPARTMENTS.

The Supply House of the city of New Haven, Conn., is located on Water street on a plot of about four acres of land, running down to the city dock. It consists of one main three-story brick building, which is used as an office building; one large two-story garage where all autos attached to the various city departments are housed; three large sheds and the dog pound.

All city employees report here for work. The working organization of the various city departments at present comprises about nine hundred men. Practically all the tools and tractors, road rollers, snow-plows and a snow loader and all other mechanical equipment and auto trucks, as well as construction materials of all kinds, are stored here. The Supply House also contains a blacksmith shop, an auto and tire repair shop, and a paint shop and traffic sign department.

The offices of the Superintendent of Streets, Sewers, Bridges, and Trees, the Chief Inspector of Garbage Collections, the Employment Bureau and the Pay Roll Department, are all located in the three-story office building.

ANNEXATIONS OF BOSTON.

East Boston in 1637; South Boston in 1804, being set off from Dorchester; Roxbury in 1868, a city of Norfolk County since March, 1846; Dorchester in 1870, a town since September, 1630; Charlestown in 1874, a city of Middlesex County since February, 1847; Brighton in 1874, set off from Cambridge and incorporated as a town of Middlesex County in February, 1807; West Roxbury in 1874, set off from Roxbury and incorporated as a town of Norfolk County in May, 1851; Hyde Park in 1912, a town of Norfolk County since April, 1868.

These annexations, which added 24,312 acres of land to the original land of Boston, were by area as follows: East Boston, 1,435 acres; South Boston, 795; Roxbury, 2,450; Dorchester, 5,600; West Roxbury, 8,075; Brighton, 2,664; Charlestown, 424; Hyde Park, 2,869. Filled land increased the area later by 1,396 acres. In 1875 the annexed territory had a population of 201,250, or 58.86 per cent of city's total; in 1910 its population had increased to 477,311, or 71.18 per cent, Hyde Park not included. By 1915 the total was 549,139, or 73.67 per cent of city. By 1925 the total was 607,519, or 77.92 per cent.

SAND, CINDERS AND SALT IN DULUTH.

About 385 miles of sidewalk are sanded every year and about 250 miles of streets are snow-plowed and sanded. Ordinarily, flat grades are not sanded, this work being confined to steep grades where dangerous ice conditions exist. During the past season the maintenance department used about 500 cubic yards of cinders, 500 cubic yards of sand, and 5 tons of calcium chloride on the streets.

The use of salt, or sodium chloride, has been discontinued entirely, because of its injurious effect on concrete walks and pavements. The action of salt is not clearly understood, but it is much more active during cold weather than in summer, and is apparently due to the formation of crystals after penetrating the surface, the force of which disintegrates the concrete. Calcium chloride does not seem to be entirely free from this difficulty, but is much less active than sodium chloride.

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 205.

Sergt. Francis H. McGeever and Patrolman Hugh Koton of Division 15 are commended in General Orders for efficient police duty performed in apprehending a person who had held up and robbed a taxi driver in Somerville, Mass., on February 17, 1933, and attempted to make his escape through Charlestown. The matter was reported to Sergeant McGeever and Patrolman Koton who observed a man running through City square, gave chase, and apprehended him. He was turned over to the Somerville police for prosecution, and was sentenced to State Prison.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize the initiative and prompt response shown by these officers in performing this effective police duty.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 206.

A trial board consisting of Captains McKinnon, Lewis and Fallon, having heard by reference a complaint made by Perley S. Skillings, captain commanding Division 16, against William S. Foster, patrolman, Division 16, for alleged violations of the Rules and Regulations of the Police Department, to wit:

Charge: Conduct unbecoming an officer and neglecting to pay a just debt.

Specification: In that on or about September 12, 1932, the said Patrolman William S. Foster did borrow the sum of thirty (30) dollars from Linwood S. Leavitt, patrolman of Division 4, for the purpose of saving his $10,000 insurance policy, and failed to repay said sum, and that on April 6, 1933, Patrolman Foster was brought to the poor debtor's session of the Municipal Court on a capias. The case was continued to April 13, 1933,— has submitted the following finding and recommendation:

The Board having heard and carefully considered all the evidence accepts the plea of guilty by Patrolman William S. Foster.

While the amount involved in the complaint is comparatively trivial, the failure of Patrolman Foster to live up to an agreement made with a brother officer who came to his assistance when he was in distress until he was forced to do so by the court, aside from his legal obligations, manifests a lack of the honor and integrity which should characterize any police officer.

The Board feels that the disrepute and criticism brought upon the department by the neglect of an officer to pay his just debts, necessitating his arrest on civil process, should be sufficient cause for the immediate dismissal of the offending officer from the department.

As Patrolman Foster has produced evidence showing that he has discharged this debt and others which were outstanding against him, and has given assurance that he will pay as he goes in the future, the Board respectfully recommends that he be ordered to perform seventy hours' punishment duty.

The commissioner accepts the finding and the recommendation of the Trial Board and hereby orders that the said Patrolman William S. Foster perform seventy hours of punishment duty.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Commissioner.

NO-PARKING ZONES FOR SCHOOLS
REDUCE PEDESTRIAN HAZARD.

Minneapolis has passed an ordinance which establishes all streets on sides adjacent to schools as no-parking zones from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. This is particularly significant since records have shown that a large per cent of child accidents have been due to children stepping out from behind parked cars.

These zones are painted yellow and serve to attract the attention of the motorist as well as to give him a clear vision while passing the school.

LAND-TAKING IN WEST ROXBURY.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for the taking of land for sewerage works to be constructed as follows:

The right and easement is taken to lay and maintain sewerage works in the following-described lands, exclusive of any interest in trees, buildings or other structures standing thereon, reserving to the owners thereof the right to use the lands for any purpose except such as may injure or obstruct said works, and except for placing or maintaining any structure on said lands not authorized in writing by the Mayor of said city; trees, buildings or other structures standing upon or affixed to the land in which an easement is hereby taken are to be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said taking for the purpose of constructing said sewerage works. Said lands are in that part of Boston formerly West Roxbury and are bounded as follows:

A parcel of land, owners unknown, being part of the private way known as Alleyne street, bounded:

Southeasterly by Vershire street, eight feet; westerly by another part of Alleyne street, by ten measurements, forty-five and 87-100 feet, ninety-one and 48-100 feet, sixty-six and 25-100 feet, forty-two and 63-100 feet, forty and 24-100 feet, one hundred twenty-three and 88-100 feet, fifty and 46-100 feet, one hundred seven and 60-100 feet, forty-two and 37-100 feet and one hundred twenty-nine and 3-100 feet; northeasterly by Cowing street, eight feet, and easterly by another part of Alleyne street, by ten measurements, one hundred twenty-seven and 60-100 feet, forty and 24-100 feet, one hundred seven and 83-100 feet, fifty-two and 88-100 feet, one hundred twenty-four and 25-100 feet, thirty-eight feet, thirty-nine and 7-100 feet, sixty-three feet, eighty-nine and 52-100 feet and forty-five feet.

The sewerage works to be constructed are as follows: 770 linear feet of 10-inch pipe sanitary sewer and 768 linear feet of 10-inch pipe surface drain.

This Board determines that no person sustains damages in his estate by the taking of the aforesaid easement and construction of said sewerage works and awards no damages therefor.

Betterments are to be assessed for the making of the aforesaid improvement.

Ordered, That this Board estimates that the abutting lots of land on both sides of Alleyne street, from Vershire street to Cowing street, excluding the lots at the corners of Vershire street and at the corners of Cowing street, will receive benefit or advantage, beyond the general advantage to all real estate in said city, from the improvement herein ordered; each of said lots to the amount hereinafter respectively set against it; said lots and the supposed owners thereof being shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Plan No. 1089, Sewerage Works, Alleyne Street, West Roxbury, April 17, 1933, William J. Sullivan, Chief Engineer, Street Laying-Out Department," and on file in the office of said department.

LAND-TAKING IN BRIGHTON.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for the taking of land for a public improvement, consisting of the laying out and construction of Hubbard street, Brighton district, as a highway, from Western avenue to Rena street, with the name of Humbert street or some other distinctive name, bounded and described as follows:

A highway named Travis street is hereby laid out, from Western avenue to Rena street, and ordered constructed.

Said highway and the land, exclusive of trees or structures standing upon or affixed thereto, in which an easement for street purposes is hereby taken, is bounded and described as follows:

Northerly by Western avenue, sixty feet; easterly by the easterly line of said Travis street as hereby laid out, by three measurements, fifteen and 71-100 feet on a curve of ten feet radius, six hundred nineteen and 35-100 feet and twenty-one and 67-100 feet on a curve of twelve and 16-100 feet radius; southerly by Rena street, sixty-five and 71-100 feet; and westerly by the westerly line of said Travis street as hereby laid out, by three measurements, sixteen and 42-100 feet on a curve of twelve and 8-100 feet radius, six hundred thirty-three and 20-100 feet and fifteen and 71-100 feet on a curve of ten feet radius.

Trees or structures standing upon or affixed to the aforescribed land shall be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said land for the purpose of constructing said improvement.

Ordered, That this Board estimates that the abutting lots of land on both sides of Travis street as laid out under this order, from Western avenue to Rena street, will receive benefit or advantage, beyond the general advantage to all real estate in said city, from the improvement herein ordered; each of said lots to the amount hereinafter respectively set against it; said lots and the supposed owners thereof being shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Bertram street, Travis street, Kingsley street, Brighton, Assessment Plan, April 5, 1933, William J. Sullivan, Chief Engineer, Street Laying-Out Department," and on file in the office of said department.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 22.

I. BUDGET SAVINGS.

At a meeting of department heads held at the office of his Honor the Mayor, on Saturday, May 6, 1933, Mayor Curley emphasized the fact that it is absolutely essential for the city to save at least $800,000 during this year from sources other than the pay roll if this item of the budget is to remain with no further cuts. His Honor the Mayor made a very clear explanation of the fact that the suggestion was made to him that this saving could very easily be made by giving city employees a vacation of two weeks without pay. The Mayor explained that this was contrary to his policy and it was not his desire to impose further on the pay rolls but that he knew economies could be effected by making savings in the supply and material items in the budget. He made it clear to all present at the conference that a general 5 per cent reduction in the maintenance costs of city departments would make any further drastic cuts in the pay roll unnecessary. Continuing the Mayor stated that he must insist that this reduction be made by the employees themselves if they desired to eliminate the possibility of having "payless weeks" at any time during the year, and that if these economies were not effected before December it would be necessary to force every city employee to take at least one week's leave of absence during the last month of the year without pay.

It is the purpose of the Fire Commissioner therefore to see that the wishes and instructions of his Honor Mayor Curley are carried out. An obligation is immediately placed on every officer, member and employee of the department to see that every possible saving is effected in the use of supplies, material and equipment, in order that the Fire Department may be able to turn back to the City Treasury, unexpended, a sum of at least 5 per cent of the amount appropriated for items other than pay rolls. There are several items in which this saving can be made, such as the use of electricity, the use of the telephone, repairs to motor vehicles, general repairs, uniforms, stationery, fuel, etc. Only a few of these items are mentioned, but the commissioner expects to see a substantial saving in each item and he expects the cooperation of all in effecting this saving. Those who have the responsibility of requisitioning supplies must eliminate surplus requisitions and the officers in charge of disbursing supplies must scrutinize every requisition with great care and are instructed to make any reductions which, in their opinion, are for the best interest of the department and essential to the carrying on of the Mayor's instructions. Officers disbursing supplies will report to the Fire Commissioner anyone and everyone who fails to cooperate in this plan to protect the interests of everyone.

There can be no alternative. A personal and conscientious obligation is now imposed on everyone to support his Honor Mayor Curley in his earnest desire and effort to protect the city employees from any further salary reductions and to eliminate the possibility of so-called "Payless weeks."

By order of Fire Commissioner EDWARD F. McLAUGHLIN.

HENRY A. FOX,
Chief of Department.

APPOINTMENT BY THE MAYOR.

Subject to confirmation by the Council, the Mayor submitted the following appointment for the term ending April 30, 1934:

Weigher of Goods, John Manion, 38 Arcadia street, Dorchester.

Laid over a week under the law.

RELIEF STATION, FOREST HILLS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 1, 1933.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I herewith transmit to you report from the Board of Trustees of the Boston City Hospital with reference to your request to establish a Relief Station at Forest Hills. This is in reply to your order of April 10, 1933.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City Hospital,
Boston, April 21, 1933.

Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—At a meeting of the Board of Trustees held today, a notice from the City Clerk was presented, transmitting order of the City Council, whereby the trustees are requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to establish a Relief Station at Forest Hills, and pending establishment of same, arrangements be made with private hospitals in that section to care for emergency cases.

It was voted that the trustees deem it inexpedient to establish a Relief Station at Forest Hills, pending completion of the program at the Main Hospital.

Yours sincerely,

CARL DREYFUS.

Acting President, Board of Trustees.

Placed on file.

POLICE LEATHER PUTTEES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, May 1, 1933.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I herewith transmit to you report from the Board of Trustees of the Boston City Hospital, with reference to the leather puttees being worn by the members of the Boston Police Department. This is in reply to your order of December 5, 1932.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City Hospital.

Boston, April 21, 1933.

Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—Under date of December 5, 1932, the City Council ordered: That the Board of Trustees of this hospital be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to procure from its medical staff and furnish the City Council an opinion as to the physical effect the constant wearing of leather puttees may have upon the members of the Boston Police Department.

After some months of observation, the Surgical Staff reported as follows:

"The committee appointed to consider the request of the City Council for an opinion as to the effect the constant wearing of leather puttees may have upon the members of the Boston Police Department reported at a recent meeting of the Surgical Staff that so far as they have been able to determine the wearing of puttees causes no ill effects."

Yours sincerely,

CARL DREYFUS.

Acting President, Board of Trustees.

Placed on file.

BUDGET FOR COUNTY OF SUFFOLK.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, May 1, 1933.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I submit herewith my budget recommendations for the County of Suffolk for the fiscal year 1933 in full segregated form, in substitution for the lump sum recommendations submitted on January 26, 1933.

The allowances as recommended total $3,500,590.96. This total represents a reduction of $489,104.51 in the estimates as originally submitted and is $448,454.04 less than the total county appropriations for 1932. The following table indicates in comparative form the main points of difference between the appropriations of 1932 and my budget recommendations for the current year.

TWO-YEAR BUDGET COMPARISON.

GROUP.	1932.	1933.	Decrease.
Personal Service.....	$2,283,569 51	$2,017,876 10	$265,693 41
Contractual Service.....	952,983 05	841,402 30	111,580 75
Equipment.....	81,424 00	68,599 25	12,824 75
Supplies.....	331,707 00	287,077 00	44,630 00
Materials.....	38,645 00	36,195 00	2,450 00
Special Items.....	88,366 18	82,040 81	6,225 37
Miscellaneous.....	8,980 00	8,435 00	545 00
Social Law Library.....	1,000 00	1,000 00
Debt Requirements.....	162,470 26	157,965 50	4,504 76
	$3,949,045 00	$3,500,590 96	$448,454 04

The decrease shown in the Personal Service group may be attributed to three factors: salary reductions made in conformity with the provisions of chapter 121 of the Acts of 1933; vacancies which, wherever possible, will remain unfilled; and vacancies, in key positions, which will be filled at lower rates than those paid former incumbents. It is estimated that savings of approximately $205,000 will be effected as a result of the executive order issued on May 21, and that savings slightly in excess of $37,000 will be secured through the policy of handling vacancies as previously described. Reductions of $20,600 and $2,900 have been made in the allowances for temporary employees and for overtime, respectively.

In the Contractual Service group the decrease reflected has been secured largely by reductions in two items, namely: Jurors and Plant Repairs. There is every indication that the Legislature will enact, at its current session, a law reducing the compensation of jurors from $7 to $6 in capital cases and from $6 to $5 in all other cases. The total appropriations for jurors, as recommended in the current budget, is, therefore, $50,000 less than in 1932. Reductions of approximately $29,000 have been made in the allowances for repairs to plant and equipment, because of the practice of providing only for those repairs considered absolutely necessary. Savings have also been reflected in the items for the printing and binding of county documents; traveling expenses of county employees; and stenographic and expert service. A slight increase is shown in the appropriation for masters' and auditors' fees as a result of the policy now in vogue in the Superior Court, of assigning a larger number of cases for adjudication by masters and auditors, in an attempt to relieve congestion in the trial lists.

The decrease shown in the Equipment group has been effected by reducing equipment allowances so as to provide only for the barest necessities. In the Supply and Material groups the decrease has been secured largely because of the low market prices now prevailing, and the savings resulting from bulk purchasing of foodstuffs and fuel. In the Special Items group a reduction in pension allowances has been made possible because of the deaths, in the early part of the current year, of two retired officials, who, prior to their deaths were receiving pensions from the county. Since no county loans were issued during 1932 and since a portion of the outstanding serial debt was retired it has been possible in the current year's budget to reduce the amount provided for County Debt Requirements.

Because of the complications surrounding the salary reductions which were put into effect on April 21, it has been necessary to omit the detail concerning the various offices and positions in the county. Ordinarily this summary would be incorporated in the budget and would appear under Schedule A. In order that there may be no sacrifice of control in regard to the personnel, however, adequate supervision over rates and numbers will be exercised, on the basis of the 1932 Schedule A, by both the Budget Commissioner and the County Auditor.

This year, your study of the county budget will be facilitated by the two exhibits which are appended thereto and which compare the differences between the 1932 and 1933 departmental and item allowances. This budget is submitted in advance of the city budget in order that you may have an opportunity of starting an immediate review of the county allowances and thus expedite the passage of both budgets. I therefore respectfully recommend adoption of the accompanying orders by your honorable body.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

COUNTY OF SUFFOLK APPROPRIATIONS AND TAX ORDERS FOR THE FINAN- CIAL YEAR 1933.

Ordered, That to meet the current expenses payable during the financial year beginning with the first day of January, 1933, for performing the duties and exercising the powers devolved by statute or ordinance, or by vote of the City Council during the year, upon the County of Suffolk, or the departments or officers thereof, and to meet the obligations of the county for interest on debt, sinking fund requirements and maturing debt not provided for by sinking fund, the respective sums of money specified in the tables and schedules hereinafter set out be and the same are hereby appropriated for the several departments and for the objects and purposes hereinafter stated.

Ordered, That the appropriations hereinafter specified be met out of the money remaining in the treasury at the close of business on December 31, 1932, exclusive of the money raised by loan or needed to carry out the requirements of any statute, gift, trust or special appropriation, and by the income of the financial year beginning January 1, 1933, and taxes to the amount of $3,500,590.96 and that said amount be raised by taxation on the polls and estates in the City of Boston.

Ordered, That all sums of money which form no part of the income of the city but shall be paid for services rendered or work done by any department or division for any other department or division, or for any person or corporation other than the City of Boston, be paid into the general treasury, and that all contributions made to any appropriation be expended for the objects and purposes directed by the several contributors thereof.

Ordered, That all taxes raised to meet the appropriations of the city and county and all taxes assessed for meeting the city's proportion of the state tax for the year 1933 be due and payable on the fifteenth day of September, 1933; that interest shall be charged on all taxes remaining unpaid after the second day of October, 1933, in accordance with the provisions of chapter 59, section 57, of the General Laws, until paid, except the taxes assessed upon shares of national banks, which shall bear interest at the rate of 12 per cent per annum from the fifteenth day of September, 1933, until paid; and that all interest which shall have become due on taxes shall be added to and be part of such taxes.

Ordered, That except as the appropriation for any purpose or item shall be increased by additional appropriations or transfers lawfully made, no money shall be expended by any department for any of the purposes or items designated in the tables and schedules hereinafter set out in excess of the amount set down as appropriated for such specific purpose or item.

COMMUNICATION FROM HARRISON H. ATWOOD.

The following was received:

Harrison H. Atwood, Architect,
Dorchester, Mass., April 28, 1933.

Hon. Joseph McGrath, President,
City Council, City Hall, Boston.

Dear Mr. President,—At the meeting of the City Council held Monday, April 24, the records show Councilor Burke making the statement that "Mrs. Harrison H. Atwood, wife of the former city architect, is holding down a city position, although her husband is a successful and prominent architect."

Permit me to correct that record.

During her life Mrs. Atwood was never "on the pay roll" of any city department and never held any public position; further, she passed away January 2, 1930, more than three years ago.

I deeply regret the occasion for writing this letter but shall appreciate greatly your having it read at the next meeting of the Council.

Very respectfully yours,

HARRISON H. ATWOOD.

LOAN FOR PATHOLOGICAL BUILDING.

Coun. DOWD, for the Committee on Finance, submitted the following:

1. Report on message from Mayor and order (referred March 20) for appropriation of $80,000 to be expended under direction of Trustees of Boston City Hospital for Pathological Building, Furnishing and Equipping—that same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said order passed, yeas 17, nays 0.

MEETINGS ON COUNTY BUDGET.

Coun. ROBERTS—Mr. President, on behalf of the Committee on Appropriations I might say that we will not wait for the city budget. I propose to call a meeting of the Committee on Appropriations for Wednesday next to conduct our hearings on the county budget. I would say that we propose to invite representatives of every organization that shows any interest in the items in the budget, and if they have any suggestions to present, they will be privileged to do so at that time.

RENTAL CARDS.

Coun. DOWD offered the following:
Ordered, That the Overseers of the Public Welfare be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to discontinue the present form of rental card.
Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, this order is introduced because of the latest new-fangled idea of the Overseers of Public Welfare, who evidently have nothing else to do but sit down and conjure up in their brains some way whereby they may be able to impose a little further on the poor of Boston. So, lo and behold! while we have a state statute that specifically says that no individual shall know who is receiving public welfare assistance—by reason of which neither you, Mr. President, nor any other member of the Council can go down to that department and find out who in your districts is receiving aid—they have handed out cards to the recipients, rent cards, providing that every recipient of aid before going to get his weekly dole must present the card to his landlord and have the landlord sign it, then presenting it himself to the Public Welfare Department. In the first place, I say that is a direct violation of the state statute concerning the Overseers of Public Welfare, and in the second place it requires a very improper thing. I wonder if any individual here would, if forced to go to Public Welfare for aid, like to be compelled to go to his landlord and ask the landlord to sign such a card before he could get any aid whatsoever? I say that 65 per cent of the people being aided today would never a year ago have gone down there for aid, and they are not desirous of letting their landlords know that they are compelled to apply to Public Welfare. When the landlord receives notice that a tenant of his is obtaining public aid, he would generally be desirous of getting rid of that tenant. I am in full sympathy and accord with having something done for the landlords of Boston, but, at the same time, I don't see why the state statute should be violated, why the poor of Boston should be compelled to have themselves paraded as paupers in the eyes of the real estate men of the City of Boston. Neither is the sort of thing that is being done here necessary in the interest of the landlords. I can remember awhile ago when the present Mayor of Boston decided to stop city wagons going round delivering grocery orders to the poor of Boston, because he did not feel that the poor should be thus held up to ridicule as being recipients of public welfare. I believe that anybody getting public welfare should pay their rent, but that can be accomplished through the tenants receiving a receipt from the landlord and showing that receipt to the Public Welfare Department. That answers the whole purpose of these cards and does not hold up to ridicule those receiving aid. And that does not violate the public statutes. So I feel that, from every point of view, the Public Welfare Department should be required to dispense with these damnable cards, that they should not say to the poor of Boston who look for public welfare, "We are going to parade you up and down the streets and in your neighborhoods as paupers." Mr. President, all of us are here today in a position where we do not have to apply for public welfare, but we may be in that position tomorrow. This is a world of changes, of ups and downs. Certainly, if we should be placed in the position of these people we would like to be treated as human beings; and I say to you, Mr. President and members of the Council, that it is unfair to ask the recipients of public welfare to go to their landlords and have the landlords sign these cards. The people receiving aid can themselves go to their landlords and pay the rent and get a receipt, and they can show that receipt to the Public Welfare officials. Also, when the Public Welfare Department requires this of public welfare recipients, what happens? If you are paying $5 a week for rent, they will allow $3.50 a week, and is it fair to the landlords of Boston, where a man has been paying $5 a week or $20 a month, to offer $3.50 a week and say that is all the City of Boston will allow? Why should they not mind their own business and let the recipients spend their budget as they see fit, as long as they are not exceeding the budget allowance? I say it is about time that we had somebody down there with just one brain in his head, some practical person, who could sense the heart and pulse of the people of Boston. We should not only try to protect the landlord, but should also protect the 33,000 people who are receiving aid, and should protect them from undue publicity in so doing. Also, the whole object aimed at would be gained by the recipients simply obtaining a receipt from their landlord and showing that receipt to the department.

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, I cannot agree with the order in this form or with the first remarks of the councilor from Ward 8 (Coun. Dowd). I agree with him heartily that we have not yet arrived at the time when the Overseers of Public Welfare should attempt to establish the amount of rent to be paid the owner of property in this city. In other words, I believe the owner of property has a right to let a flat for any rent he desires within reason, and if a tenant in good faith hires that place he should pay the rent that the landlord and he have agreed upon. For that reason I called on Mr. Murphy last Tuesday, when these rent cards first came out, and suggested that it was unfair for the Public Welfare Department to tell the tenant who pays rent on the basis of $20 a month that he is to pay the landlord $3 or $3.50 a week, because then the Public Welfare Department would be establishing the amount of rental that the taxpayers of Boston are obliged to pay; and, following that out to its logical conclusion, the Overseers of Public Welfare would be taking action pending to reduce the valuation of residence properties in Boston. I cannot, however, follow the line of reasoning of the councilor from Ward 8 (Coun. Dowd) with reference to the rent card. I have in mind the three weeks' bank holiday when not a landlord in Boston renting quarters to these 30,000-odd families was getting one penny for rent, and I know that the landlords had occasion to go to the Welfare Department and make inquiries in regard to that matter. It is rather unfortunate that not all the recipients of public welfare are acting on the level with their landlords. That, however, is human nature, and long after we are gone and after new recipients of welfare aid have come in, that situation will continue. There is, however, no reason why the overburdened landlord in Boston today should be taken advantage of by the recipients of public welfare. I have in mind one piece of property in the North End of Boston with eight apartments. They are the ordinary cheap apartments paying $18 and $20 a month. Seven of the eight apartments in that piece of property are occupied by recipients of public welfare, and during the three weeks of the month of March when the bank holiday was declared, that landlord did not receive one dollar from seven of those tenants. Now, Mr. President, it is unfortunate, of course, that a person must become a recipient of public welfare. But it is not a disgrace. Today, if a person is on the level and cannot get a job, it is no longer considered a disgrace, pauperism, or shameful, for him to resort to public welfare in order to protect his family. The day when that might have been considered a disgrace has gone. But the landlord should be protected. He also has a right to some protection, and prior to the issuance of these cards, if a recipient of public welfare saw fit not to pay even the amount allotted for rent, he got away with it. At the instigation of the landlords of Boston, however, who have a right to be protected, this plan has been adopted. After all, it is between the two individuals, the tenant and the landlord, and in 999 cases out of 1,000 the landlords know from the recipient's own mouth that he or she is getting aid. There is no reason why we should continue to penalize the landlord. I think this is a protection and a legitimate protection of the landlord. For that reason I shall vote against the order.

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, I think the time has come when other means than those which have been adopted in the dispensing of public welfare in this city should be adopted. We are facing a crisis. We have had this public welfare business considered and discussed here meeting after meeting, with all the things connected with it, until it has become almost a public scandal. In the ward that I have the honor to represent 4,275 people are receiving public welfare. Members here are talking about the landlords. But it is not even the landlord alone, or many of the people who are now receiving aid, who should be considered. I wonder what happens to the man who has been able through hard work to raise a family, perhaps got married and have their own homes, and who then finds himself in a position where he is unable to pay his taxes? There is no pity for that man. His name is public property. For three consecutive weeks it is published in the City Record and it is posted on the outside of the building, and everybody knows it. There is a man who has labored, who has perhaps deprived himself in order to bring up his family, and in order to accumulate a little money, who was not a spendthrift, who was not a gambler, who saved what little he could, and now, because of present circumstances, his home is advertised for sale because he cannot pay the taxes, and everybody knows it. Is there any sympathy for him? I say, Mr. President, having in mind some of the 4,275 recipients of public welfare in my ward, that there is something wrong—particularly when we have on public welfare relatives of men elected to public office,—as I am informed, although I have not got the proof,—blood relations of those men on public welfare. The time was when men elected to public office would die with shame if anybody was able to say to them that they were sending down some of their relatives to Public Welfare. But it has now become a political racket, Mr. President, and a machine is being built up here from those getting public welfare. I say that we have gone down there women dressed in the height of fashion. I have been told of one such woman who has three in her family who are well employed, drawing money from Public Welfare. If there were an investigation we could have a showdown in this city and find out about some of these people who at the present time are on public welfare, and about some of their families. I received an anonymous letter recently, saying "Why don't you show this thing up on the floor of the Council? The wife of so-and-so, drawing a good salary, is getting public welfare." Men are being taken on there without investigation of any kind, through influence, and things are being done that ought not to be done. We have now got to a point in this city where the man who is employed finds himself paying the penalty of this sort of thing, and when young boys, young men of eighteen to twenty-one, men who ought to be furnished, if they need it, at least some temporary employment in the city, are simply going down there and getting money from the city in this way. Is that a good sort of thing for our citizens? Have we come to that, Mr. President? People are going there who should not go there at all; people who have other income are going there; and many who are really needy are not getting the help they should have. I say it is about time that this sort of thing stopped. Of course, everybody knows what has been going on. We can all see it in our different districts. I claim that Precincts 1 and 2 of my ward are two of the richest precincts in Boston outside of the Back Bay wards. Still I find in those two precincts nearly seventeen hundred people getting public welfare, and there are men who are engaged in business, people who do not really need it at all, who are getting this aid. There is no question about it. I know the district as well as anybody. Take what is known as the silk-stocking precinct of my ward, near the State House, almost four hundred people are getting public welfare; and if you go to Precinct 8, where most of the people are in business, there are four hundred and twenty-seven. I received a letter the other day about one person who had $4,000 in the bank, the family owning automobiles, and that family is receiving aid. I say, Mr. President and gentlemen, that this is a dangerous situation. The entire structure of our government is about to fall, due to this sort of thing, and yet we stand for it. Of course, there are men who are obliged to go to Public Welfare, and many of those people, able-bodied men, should be put to work, should be given a certain amount of work, at any rate. They could be given, for example, three days' work in the week, and be encouraged to maintain their self-respect. But it is becoming a racket, is getting to a point where a good many people don't want to work, but simply rely on public welfare. The bottom must fall out some day. We are already spending $12,000,000 a year, it will soon be $15,000,000, and within a year, unless the racket is stopped, it will cost $20,000,000 annually. I spoke to a member of the Council about this situation some time ago, but he wasn't interested. All right! There is a machine being built up here, as I say, of people who do not represent worthy cases, and many worthy cases are not being taken care of. Many of these men are simply using the money they get to drink. Three weeks ago the police were forced to clean out the Leverett street headquarters because the drinking that was going on there was scandalous. Men are receiving on the Public Welfare pay roll $20 a week in some cases, more than they ever received in regular employment, while, as a matter of fact, those who should receive aid are in many cases being denied it. I was given to understand that four men assigned to the Public Welfare Department in City Hall were able to go to Washington and take part in the inauguration parade, and no doubt an investigation would show that that sort of thing is being done through somebody in authority, somebody with great influence. I, for one, don't tolerate this thing. I say that it has got to stop. I talked with a young man the other day, a man who was getting a good deal from the Public Welfare, and asked where he lived. He told me, and it was a few doors from where I live. He said he had left another place about a month or so before, because he was advised to look for better quarters. Well, the rent there is about $50 a month. Many of these people don't want to live in poorer sections, but wish to live where the rent is high, wish to be up-to-date. The trouble is that nobody wants to live within his means. They don't wish to live as they used to live, but they want to have everything that is going and have somebody else pay for it. The fact is, Mr. President, that we have started something in this city that it will take years to clean up. Real estate is bled to death in this city, and people owning property are up against it. We ought to use common sense and judgment here. Take a look at East Boston, where there are 2,893 on the welfare lists, and Ward 9, Roxbury, where there are 2,801, and you will discover where the millions are going. It is the same in all sections of the city. How long are we going to stand it? You talk with fellows and ask them what they are doing or what they are planning to do, and you will find that they don't even think of getting a job. They simply go down there to Public Welfare. They don't want to do work, are not looking for it. It is a racket. Now, I am opposed to this sort of thing, and the councilor from Ward 14 (Coun. Ruby) has joined in. This whole problem should be treated in a common-sense way. We should stop encouraging people who simply look on this as a racket. If men really need work and are anxious to work, let us try to find some employment for them, even if it is only for three days a week, so that they will not get to depending on public welfare. There are, of course, many who properly should be taken care of through public welfare, who are not now getting the assistance they should have. But, on the other hand, we have men and women who have means, who are employed in one way or another, and who still go down there seeking aid and having their cards stamped. And we have many men who get assistance and simply use the money for drink. It is, of course, impossible, with the limited number of visitors, to cover the ground. And there are poor old people of 70, 75 or 80, some nearly at death's door who are not receiving the aid they should. The number of visitors should be increased. I had one party tell me this morning that they had not been visited for a year. Of course, it is impossible for a few visitors to make the rounds. But it is about time, with all the agitation we have had about public welfare, the way it has been paraded in the newspapers, the situation we see in our own districts, to take the thing in hand and do some constructive work. Let us find means to have those who should be employed properly employed. There is plenty of work to be done if it is properly apportioned. Give them three days a week, the same as is done in the state. Take them off of public welfare and give them three days a week, five hours a day or eight hours a day, which will give them something to keep going until these times change. I am satisfied that at the present time, however, there is something radically wrong not only in my own section but in other sections of Boston.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, I was very much interested in the remarks of the previous speaker, from Ward 3 (Coun. Fitzgerald), because a short time ago in the State House, when we asked for an investigation of every department within the City of Boston, he was conspicuous by his absence—this man who now cries out that we should have an investigation of the Welfare Department of the City of Boston. We all know that the real cause for public welfare recipients being cut and for city employees being cut is graft and corruption in city affairs; and when I say graft and corruption I don't put it on the public welfare recipients. There may be a few of them to whom that term would apply, but I put it right in the laps of the thieving contractors, the thieving land sharks, the gentlemen who control these notorious closed banks. They are the ones to blame for the conditions that Boston now finds itself in—not the public welfare recipients, not the home owners. They are the ones who have to suffer. It would be nice to have an investigation of the affairs of the City of Boston, and I had hoped to assist in bringing about such an investigation, not only of Public Welfare, but of all the departments in the city, an investigation of the city affairs generally, in the interest of our home owners and our people. But, lo and behold, they did not want any of my investigation, because it would show up such people as the notorious thieving Edward T. McKnight, the original partner of James M. Curley. They didn't want anything of that sort to come to pass in the City of Boston. That would not be in the interest of the thieving contractors or John J. Curley, the notorious bank-robbing brother of the Mayor, with his land deals, and the notorious banking trust. The public should know what is going on in this city with regard to those gentlemen. If I am in life this coming November they will hear it from the stump and over the radio and their eyes will be opened, and they will then put the blame where it belongs,—on the thieving executive of this city and his thieving partners in crime.

Coun. BARKER—Mr. President, I listened attentively to the gentleman who put this order in today, and I am in accord with the idea that there should be an investigation of this matter. Last Thursday I had a delegation come to my home, a mob of welfare recipients, and they gave an exhibition in my home that I have never seen equalled in the district. I could not get them out of my house. I took the names and addresses of the five whom I called in and found that they were noncitizens. I checked up with the certified voting list and found that none of them were voters in the district. I also checked up with the police captain of the district and found that one of them, a man named Cosimo Carvotta, of 77 London street, East Boston, was under an investigation some time ago by the police as a radical, and seven sticks of dynamite were found in his home. Finally they left my house, making threats that they were going to call at the home of everyone of the councilors. I don't know who will come next. I was first. I see that they had a demonstration on Boston Common Friday. I now have a police guard at my home. My wife, naturally, was pretty badly scared. I presume they will next call on my good friend Tom Green, and will then go the rounds. I hope Tom will be prepared, as I am. I am thoroughly in favor of a proper investigation to rid the department of those who are not worthy of welfare aid.

Coun. HEIN—Mr. President, I would like to ask the City Clerk, through you, whether under the law the Welfare Department is allowed to pay for rent or not?

President McGRATH—The City Clerk informs the Chair that the Welfare Department makes the allowance, and the recipient pays the rent.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, I believe that we have got far away from the question. For seven long years I have stood on the floor of this Council, receiving the hatred of both former Mayor Nichols and the present Mayor because of the fact that I stood for protection of the home owners and the taxpayers and at the same time have tried to give justice to those who were compelled to receive aid. So I am rather surprised at this time that any councilor should feel that, because of this order I have introduced, it was necessary for him to defend the taxpayers. Nobody has tried at all times to defend the home owners and the taxpayers more than I have, and this order is not at all what some have conceived it to be. It is simply a question of method, and my point is that all that is claimed for this present card system relating to the rent can be achieved by having the tenant get a receipt from his landlord, and then show that receipt to the department. That is all that this order means. It is not a question of increasing taxes. I am not asking for anything radical. I myself asked for an investigation a year and a half ago, but it was voted down. I know that there are wrong conditions in the Public Welfare Department, just the same as in any other department or the same as you may find anywhere. Even under the best of conditions anywhere, where conditions may be 98 per cent right, you will find them perhaps 2 per cent wrong. I agree with what Councilor Fitzgerald has said to a great extent, and also with Councilor Ruby. But here is my intent and motive. It is nothing radical, and it will accomplish what the department is trying to accomplish through this card and, I feel, in a much better way. Is there anything in the world to prevent a man who is getting public welfare, and who is a tenant, from having the landlord sign his rent receipt, which he can then show to the department? And in that connection, as I say, we have a state statute covering welfare which says specifically that no individual shall know about another individual who receives public welfare. Neither you nor I, nor the rest of the members of the Council, can find out who is receiving aid, but the minute the tenant is obliged to have this card signed by his landlord, the landlord knows that the tenant is a recipient of aid, and not only should the landlord not know that, but it does not do the tenant any good. It is apt to do him a distinct harm. Not only that, but, as Councilor Ruby has well stated, what right has the Welfare Department to say practically to the landlord, through the tenant, "You are receiving $20 a month for this place, or $5 a week, and you must come down, because we will pay only $3.50 a week."? I say that the system is all wrong. All I ask is to dispense with this card, which I say is unlawful, and then have the tenant go to his landlord, get his receipt, and the tenant can then show that receipt to the Public Welfare, and they can pay him the money. If the tenant does not present the receipt, very well, they don't need to pay him the money. But I do contend that this card violates the state statute covering our Public Welfare Department, and I, for one, if I am the only individual here who does so, will vote for the order.

Coun. BRACKMAN—Mr. President, I am inclined to think that this card system may be a great convenience to the Welfare Department. The cards can be placed on file in the department and I, for one, do not see any objection to the method. I think the idea of presenting the receipt to the department affords a good protection to the landlords who have been suffering through welfare recipients not paying their rent. I think, too, there is a practical side to it, also. I see no real hardship to the recipients in this system in times like these. Also, I understand that there have been many cases where recipients of aid have not paid rent for three or four months, and when the thing has piled up they have been compelled to move, and the Welfare Department has then been obliged to move them to another place, thereby incurring greater expense. I believe the system they have inaugurated now is a fair one.

Coun. MURRAY—Mr. President, I think there is something wrong with a system under which a man and wife receive only $6 a week, and a man, wife and one child $7 a week. I certainly don't see how they can buy food, pay their rent, pay for their light and their various needs, medicine and otherwise, out of any such allowance. I think the last slash they made was too great. How can a man, wife and child get along for $7 a week when they are paying $15 a month for rent? I think that is really where the trouble comes.

The rule was declared suspended. Coun. Ruby doubted the vote and asked for a rising vote.

The Council refused to suspend the rules by a rising vote, and the order was referred to the Executive Committee.

OPPOSITION TO PROPOSED STATE TAXATION BILL.

Coun. DOWD offered the following:

Resolved, That in the opinion of the Boston City Council the proposed plan to raise twenty-five million dollars by taxation, as outlined in newspaper reports by the Committee on Taxation of the Massachusetts Legislature, is not calculated to distribute the burden equally among the people and would be very disastrous to the wage earner.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, I was rather surprised to read the outline of the plan of the Committee on Taxation of the Massachusetts Legislature. As usual, it appears that the burden is again being placed on the shoulders of the poor people of Boston. You find in the outline a proposed sales tax of 2 per cent. The sales tax was defeated in the Congress of the United States last year. With 125,000 persons on our Public Welfare at the present time, it would mean that less food can be bought than is now bought. Going down farther, we find that there is to be a tax of one-twentieth of one per cent per kilowatt hour on the current furnished by the Edison Electric Illuminating Company. We are already paying to the Federal government a tax on our electricity, and I say to the Legislature, instead of increasing the tax on electricity, they would be doing better if they slashed the rates of the Edison company, thereby saving to the people a considerable amount of money, as we are now paying the largest rate of any city in America for our electricity. Going along still farther, we find a head tax of $2 on women. Well, we have accorded our women equal rights so far as political and public life are concerned, but I am of the opinion that some distinction should be made in this matter so far as the women are concerned, because, after all, if a tax of $2 is placed on the women, it means that 80 per cent of the men of Boston and Massachusetts will be compelled to pay the tax. For these reasons, I am asking the Council to go on record as expressing our opinion against the proposed tax bill.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

DISCONTINUANCE OF NORTH FERRY.

Coun. BARKER offered the following:

Resolved, That the Boston City Council views with disfavor the discontinuance of the North Ferry, and protests against the action depriving the citizens of Boston of this transportation facility.

Coun. BARKER—Mr. President, if this resolution should be passed, I would say that I have here also 5,000 names on a petition which I will present later on to the clerk.

The resolve was passed under suspension of the rule.

TELEPHONE SERVICE GIVING TIME.

Coun. BARKER offered the following:

Resolved, That the Boston City Council favors the restoration of the service formerly accorded its subscribers by the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company in giving them the correct time without charge.

Coun. BARKER—Mr. President, some time ago we had the privilege and courtesy extended to us through the telephone company of being allowed to call from our local telephone stations and get the correct time. Yesterday morning, after the clocks were turned around, my home was called quite frequently to see if I would do what I could to have that courtesy again extended customers by the telephone company, instead of the customer being compelled to pay 5 cents to call up some other office in order to be recognized.

The resolve was referred to the Committee on Rules.

RESURFACING WARD 3 STREETS.

Coun. FITZGERALD offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface Irving street, Ward 3, with a smooth surface.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface Lynde street, Ward 3, with a smooth surface.

Severally passed under suspension of the rule.

SAND FOR DEWEY BEACH.

Coun. GREEN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to include in their budget for this year a sum sufficient to furnish sand for Dewey Beach.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

HARWICH STREET, WARD 4.

Coun. ROBERTS offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repave Harwich street, Ward 4, with smooth paving.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along Harwich street, full length, both sides, Ward 4, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Severally passed under suspension of the rule.

REPAVING OF WARD 6 STREETS.

Coun. DONOVAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repave with smooth paving East Second street, from N street to Farragut road, Ward 6.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repave with smooth pavement Farragut road, Ward 6.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

SIDEWALKS, WARD 14.

Coun. RUBY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along Eldon street, full length, both sides, Ward 14, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along 200 Washington street, Ward 14, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Severally passed under suspension of the rule.

SPEAKERS ON BOSTON COMMON.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to consider the advisability of asking the Police Commissioner to be as lenient as possible with those desiring to speak on the Boston Common.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, it strikes me that about this time every year we have considerable trouble regarding the right of individual speech. This year we are in the midst of labor troubles and other activities, and there is also considerable agitation regarding the right of individuals who assemble to discuss the problems of the day. It would seem to me that on Boston Common we should have a condition similar to that which prevails in Hyde Park, London, where anybody who wishes to speak can do so. Each year, especially at this time, we read stories of police intervention and trouble, and the breaking up of meetings. I wonder what harm is done by allowing individuals to talk freely on Boston Common, provided they stay within the rules of common decency.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, I dislike very much to disagree with the colleague, but if I had the authority and power I would hire ten ships and send these individuals preaching socialism and communism on Boston Common, creating such trouble also as we have been told about by Councilor Barker, back to where they came from.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

DECENTRALIZING WELFARE DEPARTMENT.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to consider the advisability of decentralizing the Welfare Department office so that all clerical procedure and payments will be done in the various sections of Boston so that recipients of welfare shall not have to spend money for car fare reporting so many times a week, but can report to the headquarters in their home sections.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I have introduced this order perhaps for the twentieth time. We are told that if you keep repeating, through constant repetition you may eventually get somewhere. We have heard a lot of talk today about the Public Welfare Department. I wish those individuals who have talked so eloquently today would bear the facts in mind when they come to handling the budget. Talk means nothing, just fools people, but we can remedy the situation there by just providing the Mayor with a one month's budget and, unless he agrees to remedy conditions, giving him no more money. We have less than sixty investigators in the Welfare Department handling over 100,000 cases. What else can we expect under the circumstances and present conditions? Three-fourths of the bootleggers in my ward are on welfare. What else can we expect? Two inspectors trying to handle a situation involving one thousand families! How do you expect the situation to be handled under the circumstances? Here (holding up paper) is a list made up mainly of residents of Ward 18, and I have counted about five hundred names on it. I don't know who circulated this, and I realize that oftentimes petitions are futile. Nevertheless, these are legitimate names, and they are individuals who are on the welfare list of the City of Boston. Scanning the list I recognize the names of men who have been honorable men and who have had high standing through the years. Some of them get $4 a week per family, and they spend a dollar a week in carfare. But nothing is done about it. The Bureau of Economics of the Department of Agriculture of our government two months ago issued a report to the effect that it cost a family of five, just for the necessities of life, at the present time in this country, between $7.50 and $10 per week. That is the minimum for subsistence, and yet here in Boston we are asking families of five to live on $5 a week. Mr. President, just imagine this Council, under these conditions, with thousands of people actually hungry, with thousands of children in this city without proper food or clothing, voting for contracts, for playgrounds and streets and sidewalks! We have the power here to stop this terrible condition. The power lies in our voting of money. There are five thousand children in my ward without proper shoes or clothes; there are hundreds of families today not getting enough to eat. If any of you men are interested, I will be glad to show you at least one hundred families who never knew what want was formerly now asking for help—and we say to a family of five, "You can have $5 a week." Here are five hundred names, and two thousand or five thousand could be easily procured. I ask the Mayor of Boston to consider the situation, and I ask the Council not to vote a dollar for anything except hospitals, salaries and welfare, until that condition is done away with.

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, I cannot agree with the previous speaker that we should stop all public works and improvements. I certainly cannot agree with that policy, because there are certain things that have to go on, that must go on. It is true that something should be done in regard to Public Welfare. It has already got to a point where the city is spending $12,000,000 a year, and it will soon be $15,000,000 and probably $20,000,000. I am not here to defend the Mayor, and I am not his spokesman. There are those whose duty it is to do that, who owe more to the Mayor than I do. But the Mayor introduced a bill into the Legislature last year, which was defeated through log-rolling, which I feel would have put the Public Welfare Department and the giving out of welfare aid on a better basis, through paid commissioners. The thing is mounting by leaps and bounds. Where once we spent perhaps $100,000 a year, we are now spending $12,000,000, with the amount continually growing, and we have cut down honest families to $6 a week, because of amounts that are paid to others who are undeserving. The city has been forced into that condition because of the large inroads made by those who are not entitled to aid. Cuts are now being made in salaries and in other directions because of these large amounts that are being paid for public welfare. Much of the trouble and unnecessary expenditures could be saved by improving the organization of the department. Under the Mayor's bill there would have been a paid commissioner and deputies, always on the job, men who could take care of the thing properly. But to say that we shall not continue with any public improvement is all wrong. Of course, money has been squandered in the building of schoolhouses, in connection with the courthouse, and in other ways, large amounts have been paid out for extras, amounts that the Council has no control over. That is where the trouble has come. And the city has gone into things that were not needed. I admit that the Council has made mistakes—for instance, taking the money spent on Stations 4 and 5, Berkeley street, on the same street as police headquarters, an absolute waste of money. But, no matter how much money may be saved, unless great care is exercised in the administration of public welfare, much of the money spent there will be wasted. 30 to 40 per cent of the people receiving aid should not receive it, but the other 60 per cent are entitled to more than the starvation amounts such as they are now getting. A man, wife and child certainly cannot live on $7 a week. I agree with the councilor who brought that out; and I believe in saving in different directions. But when you talk about cutting out all public work and public improvements, that is quite another thing. Much of that work must go on.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I believe we should stop all building, all contracts, all non-essentials, for the present. I believe the first and foremost essential at the present time is to feed men, women and children in Boston. I believe it is wrong to tell a family of five that they can have only a dollar each a week, while we are spending hundreds of thousands on work that need not be done or that could well be postponed. You speak of putting men at work on street work in this city. Mr. President, fifteen foreigners built Hyde Park avenue in three weeks. It is about the same story on schoolhouses. Then, so far as the Federal government is concerned, take the post office in Boston. Four men put in all the lights, and one hundred and four wanted the job. Machinery today is eliminating the individual worker to a terrific extent. While we have 100,000 people in Boston who need food and clothes, let us stop spending money for playgrounds, streets, sewers. Spend money for nothing except welfare, hospitals and pay rolls.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, supplementing what Councilor Norton has said, it may be interesting to note that last year $667,465 was spent on reconstruction of streets and it is very amusing to see who got the money.—M. F. Gaddis, John Iozzo Company, Tufo & Yebba, C. Struzziery, Baker, Matz Company, A. Singarella, S. J. Tonasello, C. Repucci & Company, B. Falegra, P. Silverii. And when the gentleman from Hyde Park says that fifteen foreigners built Hyde Park avenue he is absolutely correct.

The order was passed under a suspension of the rule.

RECESS.

The Council voted at 3.40 p. m., to take a recess subject to the call of the Chair. The members reassembled in the Council Chamber and were called to order by President McGRATH at 4.26 p. m.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. GALLAGHER, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:

1. Report on petitions (referred today) for children under fifteen years of age to appear at places of public amusement, viz.:

Stertz-Ruby Dancing School, Hollis Theatre, May 23; Mildred C. Sacco, Jordan Hall, May 12,—recommending that leave be granted, on usual conditions.

Report accepted; leave granted on usual conditions.

2. Report on order (referred today) that meetings of citizens be held on Tuesday, June 13, 1933, for purpose of electing delegates to a convention to act upon proposed amendment to Constitution of United States relative to repeal of Eighteenth Amendment, and that City Clerk be directed to give notice of said meetings according to law—that same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said order passed.

3. Report on order (referred today) that in opinion of Council the proposed plan to raise $25,000,000 by taxation by state is not calculated to distribute the burden equally among the people and would be disastrous to wageearner—that same ought to pass.

Report accepted; resolve passed.

4. Report on order (referred today) that overseers of Public Welfare be requested to discontinue the present form of rent card—that same ought to pass.

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, I regret that I was not in executive session when this order was before the committee, but I shall now oppose the order, as I did in the early part of the afternoon. I feel that this is of a more serious nature than some of the members imagine. Sometimes we allow orders to go through without expressing our feelings, but I don't think that should be done in this case. This particular order in and of itself would do away with a certain protection of the landlords in Boston. While on the face of it it may seem to some that this order should pass, that there is sufficient protection to the landlord without the card that at present is being used, to my mind the obtaining of the landlord's signature by the tenant, who then shows the receipt to the Public Welfare officials, would not do the work of the card, which would be filed in the department. They would not necessarily be sure of a signature presented in that way, whereas with the cards filed away in their folders they could compare the signature at one time and another with the signature on their files. I certainly think the present card does fulfill a necessary and important purpose. For that reason I shall oppose the order as presented.

The report was accepted and the order passed.

5. Report on petition of Bridget A. Mooney (referred December 19, 1932) to be paid an annuity on account of the death of her husband, Robert C. Mooney, late member of the Police Department, recommending passage of the accompanying order, viz.:

Ordered, That under the provisions of chapter 182 of the Acts of 1930, as amended by chapter 241 of the Acts of 1930, an annuity of $1,000 be allowed and paid to Bridget A. Mooney, widow of Robert C. Mooney, a member of the Police Department, who died on July 27, 1932, from injuries received in the performance of his duty; said annuity to date from July 28, 1932, to continue so long as said widow remains unmarried and to be charged to the appropriation for Police Department, Pensions and Annuities.

Report accepted; order passed.

CONFIRMATION OF CONSTABLES.

Coun. HEIN, for the Committee on Constables, reported recommending the confirmation of the following-named constables:

Authorized to serve civil process upon filing bonds: William A. Amsie, William J. Baker, David A. Basitsky, John J. Boyle, Jr., John J. Boyle, Jr., John H. Burke, Sherman H. Calderwood, Charles M. Daley, David A. Donahoe, Charles W. Duran, Samuel L. Epstein, Thomas Freedman, Arthur Glass, Jacob Goldberg, Marks Goldstein, Solomon Gorfinkle, Edmund C. Grady, Sears H. Grant, George W. Green, Harry Greenbaum, St. Clair E. Hale, Abraham M. Hecht, Jacob Isgur, Walter Isidor, William H. Kenney, David Klayman, Mark H. Krafus, Abraham Krinsky, Abraham Landfield, Louis Levendorf, Maurice Levine, Frank J. Macchia, Paul M. Mahoney, Leslie P. Mann, Ira Margolis, John A. May, Harold C. Mitchell, Bernard M. Mullen, James G. Peters, Leonard M. Pike, William T. Rosengarten, Timothy S. Rush, Samuel Shain, Leon Small, Israel Spector, Frank J. Staula, Henry D. Stetson, William Tepper, Anthony J. Testa, David Tobey, Francis J. Tobin, Joseph Todisco, John E. Trainor, James H. Waugh, John F. Welch, Richard W. Whipple, Maurice Zeeman, Max Zimmerman.

Coun. MURRAY—Mr. President, what about the name of John J. Herlihy?

Coun. HEIN—It had to go to the Law Department first before we get it.

Coun. BRACKMAN—Mr. President, I would like to ask the Chairman in regard to the name of Samuel Goldkranz?

Coun. HEIN—Mr. President, I have been waiting for that name to be brought up. The reason why the committee did not report in favor of that name today is that there have been so many complaints against him, and it is still pending to be considered at the hearing on Thursday.

Coun. BARKER—Mr. President, I would like to have the committee reconsider the name of Salvatore Grassa.

Coun. HEIN—Mr. President, there are more complaints against Salvatore Grassa than all the other constables of Boston put together, barring none.

The question came on confirmation of the names reported by the committee. Committee, Coun. Barker and Gallagher. Whole number of ballots 17, years 17, and the appointments were confirmed.

SANDING BEACHES.

Coun. FISH offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to restore the item of $5,000 for sanding beaches in their budget for this year.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

FIRST AID EQUIPMENT FOR BATHING BEACHES.

Coun. FISH offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to furnish first-aid equipment and facilities at the bathing beaches under the control of the City of Boston.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

FLOAT FOR TENEAN BEACH.

Coun. FISH offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commission, through his Honor the Mayor, furnish Tenean Beach with a float for the coming bathing season.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

DISCUSSION OF PROPOSED ADJOURNMENT.

Coun. HEIN—Mr. President, I move that when the Council adjourn it be for two weeks.

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, I hope the Council will not adjourn for two weeks. There is a matter in which I am vitally interested that has been hanging fire for four months, and I would ask the chairman of the Committee on Public Lands what the idea is in delaying action on this land on Nashua street. The land has been turned over by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and, because of our delay in acting, the filling in is being held up at this time.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, as chairman of the Committee on Public Lands, I would simply say that we gave the proponents of this measure considerable of our valuable time last Friday, going from two to quarter past three, taking a little time away from the scheduled meeting of the Finance Committee. The members of the committee are deeply interested in this project, so deeply that they decided some day to give close to a day of their time, going down to this section and inspecting the big project. So in the very near future, after we have considered the matter in executive session, I think within two weeks, we can positively have some action on the proposition.

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, it is very interesting to hear the statement of this gentleman, who for the past two, three or four years has filled the Council chamber with charges and counter-charges against men whom he has accused of being dishonest. I charge now that he is not honest and sincere in this matter. The fellow who always hollers "Stop thief!" bears watching. I hesitated today to speak on this most important question but, representing, as I do, a district that has suffered so long at the hands of some individuals who have been actuated either by personal spite and animosity or private gain, I feel that now I must speak. Is this personal animosity against me or is it private gain? Is this position taken because certain people here cannot always get their hands on certain things? I want to say that the gentleman is dishonest in this matter. He told me that the reason why he would not vote for this or bring it in was because he wanted to know who the contractor was. He, sir, is one of those people who is always crying "Graft," always denouncing the Mayor. I am not here to defend the Mayor. There are others in the Chamber who can do that, men for whom the Mayor has done a great deal, for whom he has perhaps done much for which he will never get a return. But this order does not mean one dollar. The money has been already appropriated. The state has given certain land to the city in connection with this park proposition, and it is now simply up to the city to act. Anybody who will go down to the Charlesbank park, along the waterfront, can see the disgraceful conditions existing there today, conditions which should be at once remedied. And there is no reason, Mr. Chairman and gentlemen, why they should not be immediately remedied, why this committee should not report so that the work may proceed. We have had this matter before us since the first part of January, and no attempt has been made to do anything except to stifle it. If the gentleman was honest, he would put in the report of the committee. But he knows he is not honest in this matter. He says that he may take a day off and look up the situation. What situation? There is no reason on earth why there should be the slightest delay. The State of Massachusetts has done its part and it is now up to the City of Boston. Give an opportunity to have something done. Here the State of Massachusetts is giving this land under a long-time lease, and it is up to us to get busy, so that it may be filled and used. We all know what is going on over there, how much money Mrs. Storow has been spending to put things in shape so as to have an attractive park. The season is coming along, and we hope soon to have the playground running, and with that a proper place to park cars coming there. Many will come there from all parts of the city and from all parts of the country, and an opportunity should be afforded to park cars, so that the place may be properly enjoyed. The land has not been filled, and the whole thing is being held up. It should have been done long ago, but the Council has held it up because the Committee on Public Lands has not reported. There is no money involved in this, Mr. President and gentlemen; it is an honest proposition, and I plead with the members of the body to show their independence and to give to the people of that section some consideration. This is something that is needed, something they should have, and there is no reason on earth why it should not have been acted upon before this. It not only affects the people of the West End but the people of the entire Commonwealth. People come there from all over the state, and from other parts of the country, and they use our great boulevards in going there. The state has been willing to go ahead, and so are the city authorities, but the thing has not been completed. Certainly some of the conditions we see there today should be remedied. Take sewer conditions, at the lower part of Beacon street; see the filth coming in there, and see the children going in bathing in that filth. Two lost their lives last summer, and while present conditions continue they will always be a menace. And I say again that the councilor is not honest in holding this up, because he told me that he wanted to know who the contractor was who was going to do the filling. That was the only thing that concerned him, and that is his reason for holding the proposition up. Members of the committee tell me that they don't want to wait, but he is the one who is holding the proposition up. Is he running the Council? Is he dictating terms here? Is there to be no consideration paid to the desires of the people of the West End? When Dorchester was a struggling section, when West Roxbury, Brighton and Jamaica Plain were being built up, the money was taken out of the taxable property of the downtown section and very largely from our ward. We helped pay for those improvements, and we helped to pay for improvements in South Boston and other sections. Mrs. Storow has given a million dollars towards this improvement, and still everything is lying there as you see it, just mud flats. Are you going to stop us from having this thing go through? Now, sir, I challenge the gentleman to deny that he made that statement to me. He knows what he said, and that can be his only motive. I hesitate to say what I have said here today. Ordinarily I would be the last man to say it. But it is something that needed to be said, and I cannot sit here quietly or simply go over to my constituents and say that the thing is going to go over, that nothing will be done this summer, that we have to lose all this valuable time. Is it fair, Mr. President and gentlemen? It isn't as though it were a land deal. The land is coming to us from the state for ninety-nine years, and it is now up to us simply to complete our part of it. Will anyone deny that it is a good thing? Can there be any excuse for retarding it? People will flock in here in a couple of weeks, Mr. President, we all know that this is nothing but a reasonable proposition, and I am going to ask that it be taken from the committee and passed. There is not a dollar involved; this simply means giving the right to go ahead and fill in. I would not object if there was money involved here. Neither would I object to any member investigating the thing. They have a right to do that. But time has gone by, and nothing has been done, and it is now time that something should be done immediately. There is not a dollar concerned. Please be fair. These are not pleasant things for me to say. But this is a delay without any legitimate reason whatever. I have played politics, and I have no objection to men playing politics if they do so fairly and if there is a reason for it. But there is no honest reason for it here, and there is every reason in the world why immediate action should be taken, and why it should have been taken long before this. But there are a lot of people in politics who will watch for fear that somebody will get some little petty advantage, while there are $25,000,000 or $30,000,000 going out the window.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, I knew that this barge was coming. It was forecasted to me by one of the Mayor's personal friends that I was to be annihilated on the floor of the Council today by none other than the notorious councilor from the West End known as "Slippery," the man who calls the chairman of the Committee on Public Lands dishonest!

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, I rise to a point of order. Certain statements have been made here in the past on the floor of the body that were stricken from the record, and still we hear the remarks that are being made here today. So I insist on this particular question, Mr. President, that members confine themselves to the question itself and indulge in no personalities whatsoever.

President McGRATH—The Chair would suggest that the councilor stay within the rules of the Council.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, I will try to do so, but I did not notice any objections when the councilor from Ward 3 (Coun. Fitzgerald) attacked me, and I did not myself object, although I could have done so under a point of order. There was no objection made to the accusations of a scandalous nature made against the present speaker. But I am always glad to answer charges. I have always given members of the Council a chance to answer charges made by me, and I think that opportunity should be extended to me when they are made against me. But the councilor from Ward 3 has been pretty well disturbed this year. He has not what is known as an important committee. But this is the first time in three and one half years that it has been intimated on this floor that I was dishonest.

Coun. COX—Mr. President, I rise to a point of information. I would like the order read, or would like a little information as to what the members are talking about.

President McGRATH—The Chair will simply state that Councilor Hein made a motion that when we adjourn it be for two weeks. Councilor Fitzgerald then talked, with unanimous consent, and Councilor Kelly is now talking. There is no order before the Council at this time, simply a motion to adjourn.

Coun. KELLY—I don't know why the councilor from Ward 3 is so much interested in this land down on Nashua street, back of the Manger Hotel, up against the North Station. There is another place on this side of the street, handier to the residential section, and a far preferable place for a playground. But the councilor from Ward 3 would have the members of the Public Lands Committee vote for this particular playground, necessitating the little tots crossing the street against tremendous traffic going to and from the North Station. Little he cares about the lives of the children in the West End. No. He is interested in some contractor who is going to fill in that waste land. The members of the Committee on Public Lands want to go into this matter thoroughly before casting their vote on such an important proposition. At two o'clock last Friday we had a meeting of the Committee on Public Lands, and at three o'clock there was a meeting of the Committee on Finance. The committee believed in every opportunity being given to the councilor to bring everybody he wants, concerned with that particular project, explaining it in detail to the members of the Committee on Public Lands; and we were so much interested in the matter that before we got through we were ten minutes past three. Certain members of that Committee on Public Lands are also on certain other important committees, like the Finance Committee, and the Finance Committee had a meeting on that day. We had serious matters to consider relative to the poor people at the City Hospital, and he would want us to cancel the meeting of the Committee on Finance in order to take care of him and his petty land project down at the West End. The Committee on Public Lands did not have time that day. So on Friday at 3.10 we took up finance matters and we were here until close to 5.30 o'clock, the Finance Committee of the Council. The gentleman may think it is all right for him to stand up here and make statements, as spokesman of the Mayor of Boston, that even the Mayor does not care to make against the speaker, so that he may get into the head lines of the papers endeavoring to hurt my honest reputation in the community. Now, Mr. President, we are going to look into this matter very thoroughly. We are not going to vote for a proposition including perhaps $75,000 worth of fill to be put into this land in order to make a playground out of it without proper consideration. That is money that must come from the taxpayers of Boston. We are entitled to a little time. As for the accusation that Kelly is running the City Council, how absurd, when you examine the records of this body, and realize the obstacles that have been placed in the way of things I was interested in. As for the West End, I have always voted in the interest of the people of the West End, but I am not going to allow myself to be dictated to by officials who simply come here because they get the votes of the mattress voters of the ward. I am not going to allow the mattress councilor to criticize a duly and properly elected official, such as the one now speaking, who can go out into his ward despite the Mayor's opposition and get 75 per cent of the votes of the honest and respectable people of the ward. Why, who ever heard of such absurd and laughable clownishness, if not effrontery, as that exhibited by the gentleman from the West End in this matter. He will be the laughing stock of the entire city tomorrow. But, as long as this discussion is being printed, I want to ask the councilor, when the mothers and fathers of Dorchester were fighting for a proper location for a school out there in Dorchester recently, how did he vote? He voted for the Boston Elevated, for the Grove Hall site, so that the people in my ward would have to pay ten-cent fares for their children to go to the site thus selected, and in the interest of the thieving contractor Matthew Cummings. Was he looking after the interest of the people of Dorchester in that matter, necessitating their paying railroad fares so that the children could go to that school and compelling them to cross Columbia road? Was he interested in the children of Dorchester in the action he took at that time? No, and he is not interested in the welfare of the children of his section now. He is simply interested in the hundreds of thousands of dollars of real estate that he owns in the West End. That is what the councilor from the West End is interested in, because in these days the rents are not coming in as they should be and because there are not so many land grabs as there used to be. And then he has the audacity, gall, whatever you call it, to get up here as a spokesman for the Mayor of Boston who is afraid to say it himself and endeavor by direct or indirect verbiage to calumniate a man like the speaker, saying that he is dishonest. I say that the Committee on Public Lands—and I say it with the full approval of the committee—have asked for more time. They did not see fit to report this out today; they asked for more time to look into it thoroughly and I, as chairman, must abide by the desires and wishes of my fellow members of the important Committee on Public Lands. The Committee on Public Lands will in the very near future, just as quickly as it possibly can, make a personal visit to this particular land, the location of which as a playground may jeopardize the lives of the little children in the West End, just to enrich some contractor. There is no money involved in the transfer of the land—I will agree with the councilor in that; but before that park is finished up they will take, in addition to the some $140,000 already appropriated, at least, conservatively, $75,000 more, and that money is to be spent for contractors; and when it comes to those contractors leveling up land and building walls, there is no limit. Nobody has ever challenged Kelly with being interested in any contractor, because if he was he would have been exposed by the Mayor of Boston a long time ago. I am not interested in any contractors, never was and never will be. I am interested in the people of Boston, and I maintain that interest year in and year out. And I am interested in those people who are not in agreement with the councilors from their district. I am in agreement with those people, not with the mattress element, the cause of the election of the man who has challenged my reputation for truthfulness and honesty, at the direction of the Mayor of Boston. I am not interested in mattress voters, some of whom reside in my ward. As far as the mattress voters, such as they have in Ward 3, are concerned, I always want them against me, everyone of them, in my campaigns for the Council or for any other office. I say in conclusion that the Committee on Public Lands will not be rushed, will not be bullied by any man who has commercial interests in mind, not the interests of the little children. Did he ever tell you about some land deals he was in down in that section, in connection with the East Boston Tunnel, that he was interested in enormous sums paid for street widenings? He never can accuse Kelly of any interest in a land deal, a street widening or a contract.

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, so far as the statement the member has made on the floor in regard to mattress voters is concerned, if he has any complaint to make about them let him go to the proper authorities. I don't know anything about them and have had no connection with them. At any time when I have been elected to any office in my ward I was elected by the honest voters, the honest people of the ward. And I now reiterate what I said before. If there is any slippery man in this Council, it is the gentleman from Ward 15. He may cry out loud about his not being interested in contractors, but I know that he is. We know how his voice was raised here awhile ago in regard to a contracting firm in this city for some years, when it was claimed that they were being deprived of an opportunity to at least compete. But there will be a time and a place, Mr. President, and I want to warn the gentleman now. He may abuse the Mayor of this city and others, as he has abused many, but before he ends his term in this body he will surely regret it. My hands are clean. I have had nothing to do with the East Boston Tunnel. It is true that I own property—yes, and I am proud of it. Thank God, I do. I have earned my living, and have earned it honestly, and I will earn a dollar where I can do so legitimately, but nobody can put a finger on me. As for the Grove Hall site, I voted for it because the majority of the members voted for it. I voted for it because the School Committee recommended it. And I hold no brief for Matthew Cummings. But why doesn't he go to the District Attorney with the charges he has? But there are lots of things that might be said about the gentleman himself. I have heard it stated that he gets his gasoline from the Hancock street yard. I have no proof of that, but there have been statements to that effect.

Coun. KELLY—Name the contractor that I am interested in if you can. You can't do it, you thief!

Coun. FITZGERALD—The gentleman is very free in his statements about others, but there are statements that have been made about him —

Coun. KELLY—You are a thief!

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, I move that the Council do now adjourn.

President McGRATH—Councilor Hein's motion is before the body.

Coun. HEIN—Mr. President, I withdraw my motion.

President McGRATH—The question now comes on Councilor Ruby's motion to adjourn. All in favor say aye, opposed no, and it is a vote, and the Council stands adjourned.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, I doubt the vote on adjournment and ask for a rising vote.

The Council stood divided, and the motion to adjourn was lost.

Coun. BARKER—Mr. President.

President McGRATH—Councilor Barker.

Coun. BARKER—Mr. President, I would just like to make a statement, being the member from East Boston.

President McGRATH—Councilor Barker asks unanimous consent to make a statement. Is there any objection? (Pausing.) The Chair hears none. Councilor Barker.

Coun. BARKER—Mr. President, being the member from East Boston, and the East Boston Tunnel having happened to have been mentioned in this fiery debate, I simply wish to state that I was not a member of the body at the time when this East Boston land business was going on, and I would like to simply have it appear in the records that Councilor Barker was not a member of the body at the time and had nothing to do with land operations or anything else in connection with the tunnel.

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, I move that the Council adjourn to meet next Monday at two o'clock.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President.

President McGRATH—The question is on the motion to adjourn, and no debate is in order.

Coun. Ruby's motion prevailed.

Coun. RUBY'S motion was carried, and the Council adjourned at 5.03 p. m., to meet on Monday, May 8, 1933, at 2 p. m.

GOVERNMENT IN BUSINESS.

For many years we have heard innumerable bankers, business men and professional men talk about too much government in business. But these same people are constantly before legislatures asking government to do something to protect their selfish interests. The doctor, the lawyer, the dentist, and each profession is always asking the government to make the entrance to their unions more difficult not with the idea of protecting the people but with the hope of stopping or reducing competition. The local merchant is always asking the council, the state and the nation to prohibit competition by peddlers and transient merchants. When the winds of depleted deposits began to whirl about the banks the government was asked to bear the burden, and if official authority is to be believed the government and the politicians saved the banks and not the high-browed presidents and directors of the banks. The real truth is that we do not want government to interfere with us in our desires, but do ask government to enter business in any and every conceivable way that we think will help us make a little more money of the realm.

BOSTON INCORPORATED AS A CITY, 1822.

The act of incorporation was passed by the Legislature on February 23, 1822. On March 4 following, the voters of Boston accepted said act, chapter 110, 1821-22, as its first city charter by a majority of 916 in a total vote of 4,678. The vote was 2,797 yeas, 1,881 nays. Previous attempts to incorporate as a city had been made in 1650, 1659, 1667, 1708, 1744, 1762, 1784, 1791, 1804 and 1815. The charter was revised in 1834, 1885 and 1909. Amendments to the 1909 charter were enacted in 1910, 1912, 1914, 1918, 1919, 1921, 1922 and lastly in 1924 (see "Municipal Register" for 1928, pages 19-43).

STATE-WIDE CAMPAIGN AGAINST DIPHTHERIA BRINGS NOTABLE RESULTS.

A decrease in cases and deaths has been very marked during the five-year campaign in New York State for the extirpation of diphtheria. The campaign was the joint effort of the State Departments of Health and Education, the State Medical Society, the Welfare Division of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, and the State Committee on Tuberculosis and Public Health of the State Charities Aid Association, all banded together. They were aided by the parent-teacher associations, women's clubs, civic clubs and other social and welfare organizations.

Although the goal was not completely reached, the results are very encouraging and prove beyond a doubt that diphtheria can be controlled.

It has been estimated that at least 35 per cent of the children under five years old must be protected against diphtheria before a community is safe from an epidemic of the disease. No city over 100,000 has yet reached that percentage, although Utica with 30 per cent approaches that figure. While it is more difficult for a big city to attain a large percentage of immunizations, with a proper organization and sufficient determination this can be done.

Cities that have attained the 35 per cent standard are:

50,000 to 100,000 population: Binghampton and Niagara Falls, 38; New Rochelle, 35.

25,000 to 50,000: White Plains, 49; Kingston, 36; Poughkeepsie and Auburn, 35.

10,000 to 25,000: Middletown, 73; Ogdensburg, 65; Hornell and Port Jervis, 56; Endicott, 54; Johnson City, 53; Geneva, 49; Rockville Center, 45; Massena, 44; Ossining, 41; Mamaroneck, 40; Gloversville, 39; Glen Cove, 38; Peekskill, 37.

WATER SUPPLY FROM WELLS.

The entire water supply of Memphis is taken from wells. The wells penetrate two strata of sand, the upper stratum being 300 to 500 feet below the surface, and the lower stratum roughly 1,000 feet deeper. The upper stratum, known as the LaGrange formation, is the more important and furnishes most of the supply. It is the one commonly used in this vicinity.

The lower stratum has been developed by the city to a limited extent, because wells in it do not interfere with those in the upper stratum, and therefore wells in the respective strata can be placed in close proximity to each other, and a greater capacity obtained from a given area. The LaGrange formation underlies western Tennessee, eastern Arkansas and northern Mississippi. It outcrops in a belt roughly parallel with the Mississippi river and some 40 miles eastward therefrom. Throughout this entire region it furnishes an ample supply to many municipalities and industries. The outcrop area is such that an abundant supply is in sight, for everyone caring to use it, for many years to come. The sands and clays, which are interspersed, are supposed to be deposits formed in prehistoric times, when the entire Mississippi Valley as far north as Cairo was practically an arm of the Gulf of Mexico.

KANSAS CITY WINS POLICE HOME RULE.

The Supreme Court of Missouri has given Kansas City control of its police department.

For years those who wanted the city to operate and control its own police department had been going to the Legislature regularly with bills which would end state control. But conditions were never just right. The city raised the question of the constitutionality of the law under which the department has operated, and the Court held the law unconstitutional in a five-to-two opinion.

The police department of Kansas City had been under the control of the state since 1874. Under the law as it has existed in recent years, the department was administered by a commission of three members, two appointed by the governor and the mayor, ex officio.

The city attacked the law on the ground that it delegated legislative powers to an administrative board. In this contention the city was upheld, the court holding that the limitations in the law were not sufficiently definite to prevent the commissioners from making almost unlimited demands on the city treasury.

CHICAGO POLICE REORGANIZED.

Many improvements have recently taken place in the organization and administration of the Police Department of Chicago, Ill.

Although the numerical strength of the force has been reduced in the last two years approximately from 6,700 to 6,000, the number of men on foot patrol has been increased 150 per cent, being now about 1,900. The efficiency of the department has been further increased by adding to the number of patrol cars and by placing in operation an extensive police radio system. There are now some 100 small patrol cars and fifty large high-powered ones equipped with radio. Furthermore, 20 per cent of the present force constitutes new blood in the department. The average age has been lowered, and a greater proportion of young men will be encouraged by the reduction of the admission age to a range of twenty-one to twenty-nine years, from the former limits of twenty-three to thirty-five, approximately. Civil service methods in disciplining new policemen are better, and a more thorough check-up on the character of those examined is made.

UNITED STATES TO HAVE TENTH MUNICIPAL UNIVERSITY.

The tenth municipal university in the United States is being planned by Omaha, Neb., whose citizens have approved plans for the establishment of a four-year university, to be supported by a mill tax. The following are the nine municipal universities or colleges known to exist at the present time in the United States, in order of their establishment on the municipal basis: College of Charleston (South Carolina), 1837; University of Louisville (Kentucky), 1837; College of the City of New York, 1847; Hunter College of the City of New York, 1870; University of the City of Cincinnati (Ohio), 1871; University of Toledo (Ohio), 1884; University of Akron (Ohio), 1913; University of the City of Detroit (Michigan), 1923; Municipal University of Wichita (Kansas), 1926.

MASSACHUSETTS BAY COLONY.

The first chartered colony in New England, charter granted by Charles I on March 4, 1629. About a year before, a patent had been granted to six prominent men of Dorchester, west of England, among whom was Capt. John Endicott. He sailed in June, 1628, with a party of fifty or sixty persons, arriving in September and settling at Naumkeag, afterward named Salem. In the spring of 1629, the Bay Company fitted out three ships conveying about four hundred persons and arriving at Salem in June. Endicott sent a small party to effect a settlement on the Bay in Mishawum, afterward named by the settlers Charlestown, the first town in New England to assume the town polity, Plymouth and Salem being governed by a governor and council. Endicott was appointed in London as the first resident governor on April 30, 1629. The Massachusetts Bay Company was reorganized in London on October 20, 1629, when John Winthrop was chosen as governor. He arrived at Salem on June 12, 1630, soon proceeded to Charlestown with a large following and finding that place unsuitable, finally settled in Boston. Winthrop served thirteen years as governor in four different periods ending in 1649 and Endicott fifteen years at various times ending in 1665. Other governors were Thomas Dudley, Richard Bellingham, John Haynes, Henry Vane, John Leverett and Simon Bradstreet, the latter serving twelve years until 1692 when the Bay Colony and the Plymouth Colony were merged, becoming the Royal Province of Massachusetts Bay, which existed eighty-two years to 1774, the governors being appointed by the King.

The name, Massachusetts, is Indian and signifies "near the big hills."

FAILURE TO MAINTAIN CITY STREETS IS FALSE ECONOMY.

Money now saved by failure to maintain city streets, in response to the clamor of citizens for tax reduction, represents a trivial economy in comparison with the enormous outlay that will be required to rebuild such thoroughfares later. Taxpayers in some municipalities, determined to reduce public expenditures, have gone so far as to insist upon elimination of funds sorely needed for the maintenance of existing streets. In other places, even though money for street maintenance is available, powerful minority groups are demanding that it be not spent under present conditions.—The American City.

METHODS OF ELIMINATING GRADE-CROSSING ACCIDENTS.

Five suggestions aimed at the elimination of grade-crossing accidents are offered in the monthly report of the Street Traffic Committee of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce.

It is estimated that curing the grade-crossing evil would reduce traffic accidents by 10 per cent in a very short time, and the Committee presents the following five points for discussion:

1. Do away with those grade crossings which have the heaviest traffic.
2. Place warning signs not less than 500 feet back from the railroad tracks.
3. Take down all signs from obsolete trackage.
4. Use traffic-light signals (operated by trains) instead of signs, if there are fewer than five trains per day.
5. Consider scrapping all railroad signs in favor of signals for use only when train is approaching.

"The last two points merit consideration first, because, though they are new doctrines, they seem the least expensive and most practical of application."

THE POLICE OFFICER AND THE CITIZEN.

The importance of the police as conspicuous representatives of the municipal government, and the qualities desirable in such a relationship, were pointed out by City Manager Willard F. Day of Staunton, Va., in addressing the recent convention of the Virginia Police Executives' Association. He said in part:

"It is unquestionably true that the man on the street, the public, the visitor and the home citizen alike, form first and in many cases lasting impressions of the local government by contacts with the police."

FALSE ECONOMIC PROPOSALS.

Danger to both the immediate and the long-run efficiency of fire departments and to the security of the community itself lies in many if not most of the proposals of taxpayers' representatives attacking the budgetary provisions for municipal fire protection. The gravity of this menace was emphasized by Jay W. Stevens, California State Fire Marshal and Executive Secretary of the International Association of Fire Chiefs, in an address on "Maintaining Fire Department Efficiency," given before the recent convention of that organization.

FINANCING SEWAGE WORKS BY SPECIAL ASSESSMENT IN IOWA.

The cost of constructing sewage disposal plants in a number of states, and in Iowa in particular, may be levied against the various lots, parts of lots or parcels of ground draining to, or susceptible to drainage to, the site of the disposal plant. Such assessments must be in proportion to the benefits to each property and must not, in any case, exceed one-fourth of the fair value of the property in question. These special assessments are payable in the same manner as other municipal improvement costs; that is, in ten annual equal installments, paid at the same time and place as the March 1 installment of ordinary taxes in Iowa. Any property owner may pay off the unpaid portion of such tax at any time. Interest on the deferred payments must not exceed 6 per cent.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

PROPOSALS FOR HAY, GRAIN AND STRAW.

Sealed proposals will be received at the office of the Superintendent of Supplies, Room 801, City Hall Annex, until 12 m., on Tuesday, May 23, 1933, at which time and place they will be publicly opened and read, for furnishing hay, grain and straw to the various departments. There will be a charge of thirty-eight cents ($0.38) per set for each set of proposals taken out. The bidder must include the cost of delivery. The bidders are requested to bid on United States No. 2 timothy hay. Hay must be no less than 40 per cent green. The grade of hay must comply with the federal hay grades, and No. 2 white oats, no less than thirty-six pounds to hushel, graded under the federal standards. The hay and oats must be weighed by sworn weighers and on the scales designated by the Superintendent of Supplies. All articles covered by this contract shall be the growth production of the United States. The bidder must use the form of proposals to be obtained at Room 801, City Hall Annex. Proposals must be accompanied by a certified check for $200. A duplicate bid, without check, must be left at the office of the City Auditor prior to the time named for opening bids. The successful bidder must furnish a bond for one quarter the total amount of the bid with a surety company authorized to do business in Massachusetts as surety for the faithful performance of the contract, in case the amount of the contract awarded aggregates $2,000 or more. The Superintendent reserves the right to accept or reject any or all bids, or any part of a bid, and to award the contract as he deems for the best interests of the city. All contracts made subject to appropriations to meet payments thereunder. No reservations or stipulations submitted by the various bidders will be considered by the Superintendent.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE OF THE CITY OF BOSTON.

ADMINISTRATION BUILDING, 15 BEACON STREET,
OFFICE OF THE BUSINESS MANAGER, TENTH FLOOR.

PROPOSALS FOR FURNISHING FUEL OIL FOR BOSTON PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

The School Committee of the City of Boston invites bids for furnishing fuel oil required for the school buildings from June 16, 1933, to December 31, 1933, deliveries to be continued until June 15, 1934, provided appropriation is made therefor and the School Committee so orders. Proposal forms are obtainable at the office of the Business Manager of the School Committee, tenth floor, 15 Beacon street. Envelopes containing proposals must be sealed and plainly marked "Proposal for Furnishing Fuel Oil for Boston Public Schools." The bid must be in duplicate. One copy signed by the bidder and accompanied by a certified check for three hundred dollars ($300), payable to the City of Boston, must be left at the office of the Business Manager on or before 12 o'clock m. on Friday, May 26, 1933. Copies filed with the Business Manager will be publicly opened and read at 12 o'clock m. of the day stated. The other copy, also signed by the bidder, must be filed with the City Auditor, City Hall, Boston, Mass., previous to the time named for the opening of the bids. Fuel oil is to be delivered in the tanks of the several buildings and the price per gallon named in the proposal must include the delivery in said tanks in a manner satisfactory to the School Committee. The total estimated quantity of fuel oil required during the period June 16, 1933, to June 15, 1934, both dates included, is as follows:

1,500,000 gallons of heavy fuel oil.
325,000 gallons of medium fuel oil.

The School Committee reserves the right to reject any or all bids and to accept such bid, or part of bid, as may be deemed best for the interests of the city. The successful bidder will be required to furnish a bond for not less than fifty (50) per cent of the amount of the contract.

MAYOR CURLEY THRILLS NATION IN ADDRESS AT NEW YORK WHERE 3,000 NOTED MEMBERS OF DEMOCRATIC PARTY GATHERED TO PAY TRIBUTE TO POSTMASTER-GENERAL JAMES A. FARLEY AT THE HOTEL COMMODORE—COMMENTS ON FACT THAT CHAIRMAN OF NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE HAS WON ADMIRATION, AFFECTION AND LOVE OF ENTIRE PEOPLE OF UNITED STATES.

Upon Saturday, May 13, at the testimonial dinner to Postmaster-General James A. Farley at the Hotel Commodore, New York, Mayor Curley delivered the following address:

Above the last resting place of Democracy's saint, Thomas Jefferson, is to be found a small headstone with an even more simple inscription proclaiming to the world the ideals for which he lived and labored. The inscription reads,

HERE LIES BURIED
THOMAS JEFFERSON
AUTHOR OF THE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE AND THE STATUTES OF VIRGINIA FOR RELIGIOUS FREEDOM AND FATHER OF THE UNIVERSITY OF VIRGINIA

Any one of these accomplishments would be sufficient to justify a place among the immortals; all three have earned for him the title, "Democracy's saint."

At a time when the divine right theory was still rampant in the world, he had the courage to write into the Declaration of Independence the word "equality," and to that word more than to all other events combined may be traced the growth and progress not alone of the movement for the establishment of free government, but in addition the prosperity and solidarity of the American nation.

From time to time in the history of our country we have departed from the teachings of Jefferson and every departure has been injurious, not alone to the fabric of government, but to the people of the United States.

From time to time students of government and good women and men in every walk of life have protested against the unnatural and un-American isms which have inflamed the public mind and caused us to depart from the program and policy that made for national unity and a finer and cleaner, more idealistic Americanism.

Appointment is Timely.

The appointment of James Farley as Postmaster-General, in tribute to his work and worth, was both courageous and timely since, notwithstanding the contribution of the race and faith which he represents, but five members of that race and faith have ever been permitted to sit as members of the cabinet of the President of the United States.

The appointment of him whom everyone affectionately terms "Jim" Farley is not only a rebuke to those who would draw fine lines of distinction because of the accident of birth which invariably controls the race, creed and color of the individual, but, in addition, tends to strengthen the very fabric of the structure of our government, and is strictly in conformity with the doctrine of equality as enunciated by Thomas Jefferson.

In another day and another hour, a splendid representative of his race, gifted with the power to write both prose and poetry, in protest of discrimination said in speaking of those of his own race in America—

"No treason we bring from Erin
Nor bring we shame nor guilt,
The sword we hold may be broken
But we have not dropped the hilt;
The wreaths we bear to Columbia
Are twisted of thorns, not bays,
The songs we sing are saddened
By thoughts of desolate days.
But the hearts we bring to Freedom
Are bathed in a surge of tears,
Now we claim our right by a free men's fight
Outliving a thousand years."

The right which the poet O'Reilly claimed was the right to equality with character, ability and patriotism, as a basis rather than family tree, creed, or powerful financial backing.

I regard the appointment of my friend Jim Farley as a stepping-stone in the long, tiresome, up-hill march of a courageous race that has fought against insuperable odds and has never known the meaning of the word "surrender."

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"
From Boston Centennial Poem by
NATHAN HASKELL DOLE.

PLEADS FOR GREATER REVERENCE FOR MOTHERS AND RETURN TO SPIRITUAL THINGS—MAYOR CURLEY BROADCASTS TRIBUTE TO THOSE WHO SAFEGUARD THE HOMES OF THE WORLD, GUIDING THE FOOTSTEPS OF THE CHILDREN AND PRESERVERS OF CIVILIZATION UPON MOTHERS' DAY—ADDRESS DELIVERED FROM CITY HALL STATION.

Mayor Curley, over Station WNAC at 2 p. m. on May 15, said in part as follows:

Friends of the Radio Audience.

In conformity with long established custom it was the purpose of the City of Boston to officially observe Mothers' Day on yesterday. However, the day is so important in the life of the nation and in the life of every individual that perhaps it would not be altogether improper if just a word was said about this most important day, and yet one which perhaps receives less consideration than any other day. Mothers' Day is not an official holiday. It represents a spontaneous tribute to the mothers of the nation, to those, who, in safeguarding the homes of the world, guiding the footsteps of children, have fostered the things that make life worth living and preserve civilization.

Motherhood is the first and highest duty of womanhood and we should take counsel with ourselves to learn if we are living in accordance with the duties and responsibilities, the conduct and character, the sacred name of mother connotes.

In the four years which we have passed in America, the last four years, have in all human probability been the most trying that mothers have known in the last one hundred and fifty years in the life of our country. In the simple years that are the foundation of this Republic, the home was held to be the ark of the covenant of civilization and the government set up here was regarded as an expansion of the family unit of America, in which morality, fidelity and authority were the sustaining principles, the lessening or weakening of which constituted a threat to the integrity and endurance of national life.

THE PASSING OF THE OLD.

We have gone a long way afield since the early days in the life of the nation, a long way afield since that period when individuals in employment were not regarded purely as cogs, or washers, or nuts, or bolts, or part of a great machine. They represented a human entity, where heart and mind and kindness and charity and ideals and love and consideration were not infrequently motivating forces in the conduct of a business enterprise. With the passing of the old individual ownership in America there came to the life of the nation the partnership, and with the passing of the partnership there came the corporations, and eventually, the consolidations and combinations. Then came the trusts, and with the coming of the trusts, and the larger or machine corporations, the individual gradually lost his identity. The only considerations that actuated those in control of enterprise was the question of dividends, and of the speeding up processes; the question of the mass production era, if you will, when the individual lost his identity, ceased to be a human entity, and became just a part of the huge machine. As we drifted just a little bit farther apart from the human relationship in industry, so have we gradually, during the process of time, evolved in a similar manner with regard to our relationship in the home. More recently, perhaps, or since the close of the World War, if you will, the home has been regarded as the place where an individual might go when every other place was closed. Thus we have had what is known as the restless age in the life of America during the last twelve years, when it has been extremely difficult to induce the children to remain at home and partake of these joys so intimately a part of the home.

Parents in late years have been rather regarded as simply the providers for the family, and that sweet duty, tender and loving affection that should ever make itself manifest has been gradually passing out of the life of the nation.

It has been evident in our literature and in our customs in every field of activity, and if Mothers' Day has a tendency to bring us back to that which was so sweet and beautiful and yet so essential in the life of the nation, then Mothers' Day will have accomplished a wonderful purpose in making us just a little more human and considerate, not alone with those in our own home, but with those with whom we come in daily contact and with whom a kind word is oft-times of greater value than a large amount of money.

TRIBUTE TO A MOTHER.

One of our local writers summed it up pretty well and in a rather very lovely way. He is a very lovely and a very fine type of the home young man. Although connected with one of our leading newspapers in Boston, he is still the same sweet loving lad to his mother as when he went to grammar school. He had the very great pleasure to give his mother a trip back to the place of her birth, and to spend two months rambling around that country with her. He is a writer of very lovely poetry, which is so lacking in the writings of most of these who contribute to the press and magazine field at the present time, and speaking of Mothers' Day, he said:

During the day she does not mind,
There are a host of things to do,
Caring for ones he left behind
Dishes and dusting, mending, too,
Flowers to tend by the garden walk,
Ribbons to tie in golden hair,
Voices uplifted in playtime talk,
Patter of feet upon the stair.

And oh, it means so much. It might perhaps suggest to our minds the words written by the most beloved of most recent poets, who passed to his great reward, a hero in the World War, Joyce Kilmer, who speaking upon this particular subject, said:

Gentlest of critics, does your memory hold
(I know it does) a record of the days
When I, a schoolboy, earned your generous praise
For halting verse and stories crudely told.
Over those boyish scrawls the years have rolled,
They might not bear the world's unfriendly gaze,
But still your smile shines down familiar ways,
Touches my words and turns their dross to gold.

Or as has been so beautifully epitomized in a single sentence by our own beloved

William Cardinal O'Connell, "It is generally true that every man has attributed to his mother his finest gifts—the finest powers of his mind, heart and soul."

It was Washington who once said, "All that I am and all that I hope to be I owe to my mother." And he was the most beloved character in American history.

The sainted Emancipator, Abraham Lincoln, who touched every depth of sorrow, poverty, misery and adversity, said that the inspiration of his life that made it possible for him to make any character sacrifice cheerfully in behalf of some other individual was the inspiration that he received from his mother.

I sometimes feel that the real tragedy of Mothers' Day, not only in our own land but in every land in the world, lies in the fact that the human family have always made provision to honor the destructive forces in the world. We build monuments and erect memorials to the men who died on the field of battle, unmindful of the danger and death that are daily faced by countless millions of women in the world, who go down into the valley of death that the human race might be perpetuated without complaining. So there is no tribute too great and no honor too glorious to pay to the mothers of men.

SPIRITUAL THINGS NEGLECTED.

America has expanded amazingly in things material; but she has not held fast to the spiritual things that are the safeguards of national health and strength. There has been a distinct lowering of our ideals of character and conduct. Liberty has degenerated into license, and in many directions the standards of family life have grown lax; divorce is assuming the character of a national menace, making a mockery of motherhood, a jest of marital fidelity, and the home and its sanctities mere tradition.

And so, in the spirit of motherhood, I ask that everyone be just a little kinder and just a little more considerate of the mothers that are still with us, but whose stay is altogether too short, and not only on Mothers' Day, but on Memorial Day bring some sweet token of affection to the places where the mothers rest whom we shall never again know in life.

ADDRESS OF MAYOR CURLEY.

DEMOCRACY FORTUNATE.

With an appreciation of the duties, responsibilities, and cares that confront him in his dual capacity of Postmaster-General and Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, fortunate indeed is the Democracy that he is big of mind, big of heart, and with shoulders that are broad enough to bear the burden imposed upon him.

I realize that it will be impossible for him to grant even a small portion of the requests that will be made of him, and sincerely trust that those who answered his call will be both generous and charitable, even though their demands are not complied with.

I am reminded in this connection of the words of the poet who said,

It is easy to sit in the sunshine and talk to the man in the shade,
It is easy to float in a well-trimmed boat and point out places to wade;
It is easy to tell to the toiler
how best he may carry his pack,
But no man can rate a burden's weight
Until it has been on his back.

You ask the secret of this man's success, both as a leader and as an organizer of the Roosevelt forces, and there is but one answer,—character, sincerity, the ability to keep his word and the willingness to work twice as hard as any other individual, and to keep smiling through it all.

There were many trying hours during the pre-convention campaign when decisions fraught with tremendous possibilities must be speedily made and made right, and let it be said to the credit of the honored guest of the evening that political honesty rather than political expediency was ever the motivating force for action.

TRIBUTE TO MRS. FARLEY.

It has been truly said that the success of any individual is in large measure determined by his life companion. So that a large portion of the honor that is accorded the guest of the evening is due the true source of his success, his charming wife, Mrs. Farley.

There is a glamour and a joy to political campaigning, but there is little glamour and there is none of joy for the woman in the home, alone with her household cares and finding it impossible to prevent the halls of memory from opening, and with the query ever present as to the health and the dangers confronting her life partner in his long journeys throughout the land. To be cheerful and to give the encouragement so necessary under these circumstances to the peace of mind of the worker in the field is an attribute with which Almighty God from the beginning of time has gifted the fair sex, and to no one has this attribute been accorded in a higher or holier measure than Mrs. James F. Farley.

With an appreciation of the difficulties confronting him, I believe I voice the wish uppermost in the heart of everyone present that "God may grant him strength, courage, wisdom and continued cheerfulness."

The fruits of his victory are shared by all Americans who recognize in Franklin D. Roosevelt the "Moses" who will lead the people of America out of the land of darkness, through which they have been wandering aimlessly and hopelessly for a period of four years, into a brighter and happier day, let us hope, than America has ever recorded in its history.

In ten short weeks courage has been revived, hope has been kindled, and faith restored by the champion of the rights of the common man and the living exponent of a square deal for all,—Franklin D. Roosevelt.

To have been a party to the consummation of this supreme achievement is a great honor for any man. To have led the movement and by so doing won the admiration, affection and love of an entire people is the highest honor conceivable, and to the guest of the evening, more than to any other individual in America, is this honor honestly due—Postmaster-General James A. Farley.

LAND-TAKING IN BRIGHTON.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for the taking of land for a public improvement, consisting of the laying out and construction of Bertram street, Brighton district, as a highway, from North Harvard street to Hubbard street, bounded and described as follows:

A highway named Bertram street is hereby laid out, from North Harvard street to Hubbard street, and ordered constructed.

Said highway and the land, exclusive of trees or structures standing upon or affixed thereto, in which an easement for street purposes is hereby taken, is bounded and described as follows:

Westerly by North Harvard street, forty and 62-100 feet; northerly by the northerly line of said Bertram street as hereby laid out, by four measurements, one hundred and thirty-two feet, one hundred seven and 85-100 feet on a curve of two hundred thirty-seven and 21-100 feet radius; one hundred feet and fifteen and 71-100 feet on a curve of ten feet radius; easterly by Hubbard street, sixty feet, and southerly by the southerly line of said Bertram street as hereby laid out, by four measurements, fifteen and 71-100 feet on a curve of ten feet radius, one hundred feet, one hundred twenty-six and 4-100 feet on a curve of two hundred seventy-seven and 21-100 feet radius and one hundred thirty-nine and 9-100 feet.

Trees or structures standing upon or affixed to the aforescribed land shall be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said land for the purpose of constructing said improvement.

Betterments are to be assessed for the making of the aforesaid improvement.

Ordered, That this Board estimates that the abutting lots of land on both sides of Bertram street, from North Harvard street to Hubbard street, will receive benefit or advantage, beyond the general advantage to all real estate in said city, from the improvement herein ordered, each of said lots to the amount hereinafter respectively set against it, said lots and the supposed owners thereof being shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Bertram Street, Travis Street, Kingsley Street, Brighton, Assessment Plan, April 5, 1933, William J. Sullivan, Chief Engineer, Street Laying-Out Department," and on file in the office of said department.

Voted, That this Board determines that no person sustains damages in his estate by the making of the public improvement consisting of the laying out and construction of Kingsley street, Brighton district, as a highway, from North Harvard street to Hubbard street, under the order of the Board and awards no damages therefor.

MARY E. CURLEY PAVILION, BOSTON CITY HOSPITAL, ERECTED IN MEMORY OF BOSTON'S BEST-LOVED FIRST LADY, WIFE OF MAYOR CURLEY, DEDICATED ON SATURDAY—CEREMONIES BEFORE GROUP OF CITY'S MOST DISTINGUISHED CITIZENS.

The Mary E. Curley Pavilion, Boston City Hospital, erected to the memory of Mary Emelda Curley, the wife of Mayor Curley, and which is now completed and ready to receive children patients, was dedicated with appropriate ceremonies on Saturday morning, May 20, at 10.30 o'clock, with many distinguished persons sharing in the ceremonies as guests.

This building is unique in construction in many ways, one of which is the manner of building the structural steel framing. This framing was entirely electric welded, both in the shop and in the field, and thus the noise incidental to the use of pneumatic hammers driving rivets in the location of this building centered in the hospital group and so disturbing to patients in the other buildings was eliminated. It was the first building in Boston to be so constructed and probably the first in the country of its size.

The building is entirely of first-class construction throughout, with fireproof concrete and masonry floors, walls, partitions, roof, etc., selected waterstruck face brick and stone trimmings, granite and limestone. James H. Ritchie and Associates were the architects and engineers of the work. Every arrangement has been made for the proper treatment, care and comfort of the small patients for whom the pavilion is constructed. Airing balconies with glass floors lead off the wards on each of the nine floors on the southern elevations, and on the roof is the large inclosed solarium for sun and sun-lamp treatment with the remainder of the flat roof surfaced with tile and arranged for additional out-door sun treatment of patients. The window glazing is of glass passing the health-giving ultra-violet rays of the sun's spectrum, and special air conditioning manufactured weather apparatus for maintaining exact control of temperature and humidity is included on the top floors for the nurseries for the premature infants. Noise on these floors is reduced to the minimum also for the treatment and comfort of the children by the installation of acoustical material on the walls and ceilings.

On each floor above the basement are wards, sun room, surgical dressing room, nurses' station, linen rooms, utility room, laboratory, service kitchen and service hall. On the first floor are offices and rooms also. On the seventh and eighth floors are the premature infants' isolation rooms, wash rooms and nurseries, in addition, with solarium on the ninth floor. The basement contains the milk laboratory, examination rooms, patients' clothes storage, offices, soiled clothes room, dishwashing room, engineers' service room, switchboard room, compressor room, and dumb-waiter machine room. The milk laboratory mentioned is especially equipped in every way for research work incidental to the proper care of this class of patients and for the careful and scientific preparation of milk diets.

The interior walls of service portions are faced with glazed tile. Terrazzo is used for the finish floors and wainscots in surgical dressing rooms, serving kitchens, utility rooms, linen rooms, toilets, baths, cleaners' closets, and tread, risers and landings of stairs.

In the solarium, milk laboratory and dishwashing rooms, quarry tile is used for finish floors, with walls of glazed tile. The flooring of the offices is compressed asphalt tile; linoleum is used in the wards, etc., and hardened and colored granolithic in the basement, storeroom, laboratories, etc.

The interior trim is metal, and windows and frames of steel, with special double sash in the nurseries. Included in the construction are metal cubicle partitions of steel flush type construction; metal fireproof doors and frames; metal basins, frames and partitions in isolation and premature infants nurseries on seventh and eighth floors; electric passenger and service elevators serving all floors; all windows and balconies screened with metal framed screens.

AMENDED DAMAGES.

The Mayor has approved the following vote of the Board of Street Commissioners:

Voted, That the order of the Street Commissioners and Mayor of August 13, 1931, determining damages caused by the making of the public improvement consisting of the laying out and construction of Durnell, formerly Dudley avenue, be, and the same hereby is, amended, by striking from said order the amount $25 awarded to Fred E. H. Anderson in said order and inserting in place thereof the amount $30; that the amount $30 be, and the same hereby is, awarded to Fred E. R. Anderson for the damages so sustained.

CONSTRUCTION WORK.

The Mayor has approved the request of the Public Works Department for the following construction work:

A sanitary sewer of 15-inch and 20-inch pipe, a surface drain of 5-foot 4-inch by 6-foot to 5-foot 4-inch by 5-foot 8-inch and 3-foot 3-inch circular concrete and 24-inch pipe and five catch-basins in Auckland street, between Freeport street brook and Savin Hill avenue, and in Savin Hill avenue, between Auckland street and Treadway road, in the Dorchester district, at an estimated cost of $52,729.

$825.58 RECEIVED FOR UNEMPLOYMENT RELIEF FUND.

His Honor the Mayor, on May 15, received the following communication from Chairman Edward F. O'Dowd relative to the boxing carnival held on March 13:

DEAR SIR,—With the final report of municipal and county employees' support of the boxing carnival held March 13, there is being handed you the sum of $805.58, in cash and checks, representing Boston's share of the net receipts plus three direct donations. Your office has received directly donations of ten dollars each from Messrs. William R. McMenimen and A. Frank Montgomery, who officiated as judges. The City of Boston, therefore, realized $825.58.

Below, in brief form, the salient features of the endeavor are recorded:

Through the special office in City Hall, municipal and county employees secured and paid for 1,165 tickets at $1.10, 340 tickets at $2.20, and 88 tickets at $3.30, representing an expenditure of $2,319.90.

In lieu of tickets, the Registry of Deeds donated $72, Mr. Francis H. Bowman as judge donated $10, and Mr. John J. Mahoney of the Health Department donated $1.10; each has received a letter of acknowledgment with thanks.

The White Fund returned ten tickets at $1.10, and the Public Works Department one ticket at $1.10, after the carnival. This represented a loss of $12.10 to the City of Boston.

The Library Department, Mr. Theodore D. Money, agent, has failed to pay for six tickets at $1.10 which were given on memorandum receipt and which have not been returned. This represented a loss of $6.60.

Very sincerely,

EDWARD F. O'DOWD.

BY AGREEMENT GAS COMPANY AGREES WITH CITY AS TO TAX ADJUSTMENTS.

Upon the recommendation and with the approval of his Honor the Mayor, Corporation Counsel Samuel Silverman settled the case pending before the State Board of Tax Appeals of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company, who appealed from the decision of the Board of Assessors upon the assessment of the personal property of 1931. The settlement was made upon the following basis. The assessment for the year 1931 which was placed at $26,000,000 by the Board of Assessors was reduced to $24,500,000. The assessment for the year 1932 which was placed at the same figure of $26,000,000 was reduced to $24,500,000, and the Board of Assessors further agreed to fix the assessment of the personal property of the company for the year 1933 at the same figure of $24,500,000. The Board of Tax Appeals in its wisdom fixed the valuation of the company's personal property for the year 1930 at $21,000,000, and while the company had made additions at their Charlestown plant in the interim, which the assessors valued at somewhat over $1,000,000. The settlement on the basis of $24,500,000 is an addition of approximately $2,000,000 over that determined by the Board of Tax Appeals for a period of three years. The Gas Company has agreed to place in the hands of the City Treasurer, in anticipation of 1933 tax assessments, the sum of $1,000,000, and has further agreed not to demand the refunds until the adjustment is made as to the actual amount of taxes due for the year 1933.

CITY PAYS EXPLOSION DAMAGES.

The following is a copy of letter to Auditor Carven from Corporation Counsel Silverman regarding West Roxbury explosion:

MR. RUPERT S. CARVEN.

DEAR SIR,—On October 19, 1931, the City of Boston entered into a contract with A. Cefalo to perform certain sewer work in Edgemere road, West Roxbury. During the progress of this work an explosion occurred on June 30, 1932, which damaged property on Edgemere road, Hinsdale road, Centre street, Carlton road, Jeshurum road and Washington street. As a consequence of this explosion claims for damage were filed against the city and liability denied on the grounds that there was no legal liability on the part of the city.

Thereupon the claimants sought legislation to authorize the city to make payment on their claims as a moral obligation due from the city to them. Such a bill was enacted into law, with the approval of his Excellency the Governor, on April 20, 1933, and as provided therein acceptance was made by the City Council on May 8, 1933, and approval given by his Honor the Mayor on May 9, 1933. This bill provided that the Law Department of the city, with the approval of his Honor the Mayor, should ascertain the damages suffered and the payments to be made, and in accordance with this legislation I am herewith submitting for payment, with the approval of his Honor the Mayor, the following claims in the following amounts and direct that you make payment on the same. The claims herewith submitted are made with the consent and approval of the claimants as to the amount and a release of all damages is to be given the city upon payment of the amount set forth herein.

MAYOR CURLEY APPROVES THE ANNUAL BUDDY POPPY DRIVE.

Mayor Curley, on May 11, indorsed the annual Buddy Poppy Drive to be held on May 27 by the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, in a letter to Henry V. O'Day, chairman of the Poppy Drive Committee, as follows:

DEAR FRIEND,—I am most pleased to indorse the annual Buddy Poppy Drive to be held on May 27 under the auspices of your splendid patriotic organization.

With each succeeding year both the responsibilities and the burden borne by the defenders of our nation in the period of strife increases, and it is but natural with the passing of the years that the public becomes just a little more callous and a little more indifferent to the needs of the patriotic men of the Army, Navy and Marine Corps whose infirmities are a result of service in behalf of their country. The number requiring hospitalization increases with each passing year, and unless the public can be made to realize their duty the burden must be carried almost entirely by those who have already made their contribution of service and sacrifice for country—their fellow members of patriotic military organizations.

I sincerely trust that, in the light of the new faith which animates America, each and every individual, in recognition of the weight of the burden borne by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, will contribute generously, and that Buddy Poppy Day Drive for the year 1933 will equal the success of any previous year.

With all good wishes, I remain,

Sincerely,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

Upon varying dates as indicated the Mayor approved contracts with the several contractors for work, etc. Communications from the heads of the various departments were as follows:

ASSESSING DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, May 1, 1933.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—We desire your permission to make a contract with the Dewell Company, without advertising, in the preparation of the assessed poll list for the year 1933, which includes the typing of the Assessors' Poll Tax Book and Collector's Poll Tax Manuscript, and the writing of the poll tax bills and coupons.

This work will necessitate preparing two copies of the Police List, showing the name, residence, ward and serial number of each male person over twenty years of age. In order to give a consecutively numbered list it will be necessary for them to eliminate all females, businesses, vacant dwellings, stores, etc., upward of 275,000 items, and then number the remaining male residents consecutively, beginning with number one for each ward, approximately 245,000 items.

From the list thus created, it is desired that they write poll tax bills and coupons, giving name, street and number, ward number, precinct number and serial number, on both the tax bill and the coupon.

Time is an essential element in this contract, and it is therefore necessary to have the poll tax bills written as early as possible, so that deliveries may be made and payments insured without delay.

The Dewell Company have an organization trained and experienced in this type of work, by reason of having done this particular and other similar work for the department at various times in the past. They have become familiar with the books and are a reliable concern. They will complete the delivery of tax bills not later than June 10, and will make such inserts and corrections as may be found necessary from time to time after the completion of the original list, at no additional cost.

The Dewell Company is fully equipped to speedily complete this work and have fireproof facilities, thus affording the necessary protection of the records during the progress of the work.

It is therefore believed that the best interests of the city will be served by the Dewell Company, as their offices are in close proximity to City Hall, easily accessible, and their equipment, organization and experience are such as to enable them to complete the work in the most efficient and expeditious manner.

Under the circumstances we request your permission to make this contract with the Dewell Company, without advertising, at a total cost of $7,375, which is $650 less than the cost in 1932, and delivery of poll bills twenty days earlier than in 1932.

Respectfully,

EDWARD T. KELLY,
Chairman.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Paving Service).

BOSTON, May 15, 1933.

To the Mayor of Boston.

Your permission is respectfully requested to the award of a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to the Aberthaw Company, 80 Federal street, Boston, on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; secondly, the expense of construction is to be divided by the city and abutters; and also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve $1,000.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

BOSTON, May 15, 1933.

To the Mayor of Boston.

BOSTON, May 8, 1933.

To the Mayor of Boston.

Your permission is respectfully requested to the award of a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to S. Asgrizzi, 303 Saratoga street, East Boston, on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; secondly, the expense of construction is to be divided by the city and abutters; and also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve $1,000.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 207.

Patrolman Daniel J. Feeney of Division 9 is commended in General Orders and given one week's additional vacation for meritorious police duty performed on the night of April 24, 1933.

While patrolling his route Patrolman Feeney observed the proprietor of a store with two men standing in front of him, which aroused the suspicion of Patrolman Feeney. The officer entered the store and found one of the men holding a revolver against the proprietor and the other relieving him of his money and valuables. Patrolman Feeney drew his revolver, forced the holdup man to drop his revolver and placed both men under arrest. By the arrest of these two men several armed robberies have been solved and a quantity of stolen jewelry recovered. The revolver which was used by these bandits had been reported stolen from the home of a member of this department.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize and commend Patrolman Feeney for the vigor and courage shown by him in the arrest of these bandits.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 208.

Patrolmen William J. McDonough and Thomas F. Farrell, both of Division 11, are commended in General Orders for efficient police duty performed on April 28, 1933.

While these officers were cruising in a police car they observed an automobile bearing the registration number of a car which had been reported stolen. The officers gave chase to the stolen car and the operator was forced to stop at revolver point. The three occupants of the stolen car were arrested and a loaded revolver was found in the machine. Upon questioning, the prisoners admitted having committed two holdups and the larceny of an automobile.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize the keen observation and the creditable police duty performed by these officers on this occasion.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Commissioner.

ANNEXATIONS OF BOSTON.

East Boston in 1637; South Boston in 1804, being set off from Dorchester; Roxbury in 1868, a city of Norfolk County since March, 1846; Dorchester in 1870, a town since September, 1630; Charlestown in 1874, a city of Middlesex County since February, 1847; Brighton in 1874, set off from Cambridge and incorporated as a town of Middlesex County in February, 1807; West Roxbury in 1874, set off from Roxbury and incorporated as a town of Norfolk County in May, 1851; Hyde Park in 1912, a town of Norfolk County since April, 1868.

FIRST-AID EQUIPMENT AT BATHING BEACHES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, May 8, 1933.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I herewith transmit to you report from William P. Long, chairman of the Park Commission, relative to your request to furnish first-aid equipment at the bathing beaches under the control of the City of Boston. This is in reply to your order of May 1, 1933.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Park Department, May 3, 1933.

Hon. James M. Curley,

Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—I am in receipt of an order from the City Council that the Park Commission be requested to furnish first-aid equipment and facilities at the bathing beaches under the control of the City of Boston.

It is a pleasure to comply with this request. All beaches are equipped each year.

Very respectfully yours,

WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman.

GRADING OF LAND NEAR CASTLE ISLAND ROAD.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, May 8, 1933.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I herewith transmit to you report from William P. Long, chairman of the Park Commission, regarding your request to grade the land owned by the City of Boston, which adjoins the new road leading to Castle Island. This is in reply to your order of April 24, 1933.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Park Department, April 28, 1933.

Hon. James M. Curley,

Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—I am in receipt of an order from the City Council that the Park Commission be requested to grade the land owned by the City of Boston which adjoins the new road leading to Castle Island.

Arrangements will be made to comply with the request of the City Council. This work will be started as soon as it is possible to get to same.

Very respectfully yours,

WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman.

Placed on file.

EXTENSION OF BEACH, CITY POINT.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, May 8, 1933.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I herewith transmit to you report from William P. Long, chairman of the Park Commission, relative to your request to extend the beach at City Point along the new roadway to Castle Island. This is in reply to your order of April 24, 1933.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Park Department, April 28, 1933.

Hon. James M. Curley,

Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—I am in receipt of an order from the City Council that the Park Commission be requested to extend the beach at City Point, South Boston, so that it will continue along with the new roadway leading to Castle Island.

The Park Department at the present time is trying to make arrangements with the port authorities to do certain dredging in what is known as Pleasure Bay. In the event this dredging can be arranged with the War Department and the State Board of Public Works, the beach slope will be continued to Castle Island.

Very respectfully yours,

WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman.

INSURANCE OF AUTOMOBILES AND TRUCKS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, May 8, 1933.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I herewith transmit to you report from Samuel Silverman, Corporation Counsel, relative to your request to insure all automobiles and trucks owned by the city. This is in reply to your order of April 3, 1933.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Law Department, April 29, 1933.

Hon. James M. Curley,

Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—This is in reply to the request of the City Council contained in an order dated April 3, 1933, which order read as follows:

"That the Corporation Counsel be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to investigate the advisability of insuring all automobiles and trucks owned by the city and report to the City Council."

On October 23, 1931, I submitted a very exhaustive opinion relative to this question. I inclose a copy of that opinion. My opinion is unchanged and I do not think it would be advisable for the City of Boston to insure automobiles and trucks owned by the city.

Yours truly,

SAMUEL SILVERMAN,
Corporation Counsel.

October 23, 1931.

Hon. James M. Curley,

Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—You have asked me to make an investigation and report as to the advisability of your giving your approval to the following order of the City Council:

Ordered, That section 100A of chapter 41 of the General Laws, inserted therein by section 4 of chapter 458 of the Acts of 1931, entitled "An Act Relative to the Indemnification or Protection of Officers and Employees of the Commonwealth, the Several Counties and the Cities and Towns for Damages Sustained on Account of the Operation of Publicly Owned Motor Vehicles" be, and hereby is, accepted.

Chapter 458 contains two related sections on the subject matter of indemnifying and protecting officers and employees of cities and towns for damages sustained on account of the operation of publicly owned motor vehicles. By these two sections, 3 and 4, the Legislature enacted legislation to this end, by authorizing cities and towns to appropriate money to insure its officers and employees against liability for damages caused by motor vehicle accidents which occurred in the performance of a public duty while publicly owned vehicles were being used, or, in the alternative, by authorizing the city to indemnify an officer or employee under similar circumstances for expenses or damages incurred by him in the defense or settlement of a claim against him provided the Mayor of the city is satisfied that the officer or employee was at the time the claim arose acting within the scope of his official duties or employment, and provided, further, that the defense or settlement of the claim is made by the Corporation Counsel. In substance these two sections were enacted to protect officers and employees against personal liability due to accidents on the highways by reason of motor vehicles owned by the city and used by these officers and employees in the performance of their duties.

Section 3, which gives the city the right to appropriate money for insuring such officers and employees, does not require acceptance by the City Council or Mayor. Section 4, which authorizes a city in its discretion to appropriate money to indemnify officers and employees against damages, requires the acceptance and approval of the City Council and Mayor.

I believe that it is in the best interests of the city not to provide insurance for the indemnification of officers and employees in these cases for it will be more economical for the city to make payment out of its own treasury to indemnify these officers and employees. While the acceptance of this act will place an additional burden upon the city government and taxpayers, I believe that your Honor would be warranted in accepting this burden because of the fact that it has generally been accepted by the public that a person injured in the highway by a municipal vehicle ought to be protected against loss and suffering in such cases and that these cases should be placed in the same category as cases arising from other motor vehicles in the highway which are now required to carry compulsory insurance. Indeed this legislation was enacted because of the claim that if we are to have compulsory insurance in this Commonwealth it ought to be made to apply to the Commonwealth and municipalities as well as to privately owned motor vehicles.

Section 4 has placed proper safeguards around municipalities by, first, making it discretionary for cities to indemnify; second, by requiring that the Mayor be satisfied that the officer or employee was acting within the scope of his official duties or employment; third, that the defense or settlement of the case shall be made by the Law Department.

At the hearing before the Legislature, which I attended, the question was raised as to the advisability of municipalities accepting this additional burden at this time, but the Legislature felt that the question of protecting the public was of such sufficient importance that the additional burden to municipalities could very well be imposed and accepted.

It should be noted that this section does not change the common law theory that municipalities are not liable for damages caused by officers or employees engaged in the performance of governmental duties from which no profit is gained by the city, such as the Park Department, the Health Department and similar departments, but merely authorizes the city in its discretion to pay such damages if it so desires, despite the fact that there is no common law liability upon the city because of the nature of the work performed by the officer or employee. Of course, in each case before payment is made this department will have to be satisfied that the officer or employee was negligent and that the injured person did not contribute to the accident by being negligent himself.

Very truly yours,

SAMUEL SILVERMAN
Corporation Counsel.

FLOAT AT TENEAN BEACH.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, May 8, 1933.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I beg to submit herewith communication received from the Park Commissioner relative to the placing of a float at Tenean Beach, the same constituting a reply to order adopted by your honorable body under date of May 1, 1933.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Park Department, May 3, 1933.

Hon. James M. Curley,

Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—I am in receipt of an order from the City Council that the Park Commission be requested to furnish Tenean Beach with a float for the coming bathing season.

I regret exceedingly to inform you that the Park Commission deems it very inadvisable to place a float at this beach. We are removing all floats from the beaches, for the reason that a number of serious accidents have taken place, where persons have died off at low tide and received permanent injuries.

Very respectfully yours,

WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman.

FENCE, FANEUIL STREET PLAYGROUND.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, May 8, 1933.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I herewith transmit to you report from William P. Long, chairman of the Park Commission, relative to your request to place a fence on the Faneuil Street Playground, so as to prevent damage by ball players to property in that vicinity. This is in reply to your order of April 24, 1933.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Park Department, April 29, 1933.

Hon. James M. Curley,

Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—I am in receipt of an order from the City Council that the Park Commission be requested to erect a fence on the Faneuil Playground that will prevent damage by ball players to property on Faneuil street, Sanderson street, and Goodenough street.

I regret exceedingly to inform you we have no funds available for this purpose.

Very respectfully yours,

WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman.

VETO OF ANNUITY TO WIDOW OF ROBERT C. MOONEY.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 8, 1933.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I return herewith without my approval order adopted by your honorable body under date of May 1, 1933, providing for an annuity for the widow of the late Robert C. Mooney, a member of the Police Department.

The Corporation Counsel has advised me that I have no legal right to give my approval because of the fact that the officer did not die as a result of injury received in course of his duty, but that his death was the result of an organic disorder.

A copy of the opinion of the Corporation Counsel is inclosed herewith.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Law Department, May 6, 1933.
Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—You have asked me to advise you with reference to the following order adopted by the City Council on May 1, 1933:

Ordered, That under the provisions of chapter 182 of the Acts of 1930, as amended by chapter 241 of the Acts of 1930, an annuity of $1,000 be allowed and paid to Bridget A. Mooney, widow of Robert C. Mooney, a member of the Police Department, who died on July 27, 1932, from injuries received in the performance of his duty; said annuity to date from July 28, 1932, to continue so long as said widow remains unmarried and to be charged to the appropriation for Police Department, Pensions and Annuities.

An examination of the death certificate filed with the Registry Department of the City of Boston indicates that Robert C. Mooney, a late police officer of the City of Boston, died on July 27, 1932, from angina pectoris and coronary sclerosis. His death therefore is the result of an organic disorder, and not the result of an injury received from an accident in the course of his duty. This case clearly is beyond the scope of the statute authorizing the payment of an annuity to his widow and I must advise you that, as a matter of law, you cannot give your approval to this order.

Very truly yours,
SAMUEL SILVERMAN, Corporation Counsel.

APPROPRIATION FOR MUNICIPAL EMPLOYMENT BUREAU.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 8, 1933.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—In the opinion of the director of the Municipal Employment Bureau an appropriation of $14,000 is required at this time to continue the activities of the Bureau. I submit herewith an appropriation order in the desired amount and respectfully recommend its consideration by your honorable body.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That the sum of $14,000 be, and hereby is, appropriated, to be expended by the Municipal Employment Bureau, under the direction of the Mayor, in the prosecution of its duties, said sum to be charged to the Reserve Fund, when made.

Referred to Executive Committee.

John P. Englert, 664 West Roxbury Parkway, to be Superintendent of Public Buildings, for the term ending April 30, 1937.

Charles J. Mahoney, 1152 Commonwealth avenue, member of Board of Overseers of Public Welfare, for the term ending April 30, 1936.

Samuel Kalesky, 43 Tremont street, as member of Board of Commissioners of Sinking Funds, for term ending April 30, 1935.

Placed on file.

APPOINTMENT OF DR. GEORGE G. SEARS.

Dr. George G. Sears, 426 Beacon street, member of trustees of Boston City Hospital, for term ending April 30, 1938.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, I think it only proper—with no objection from the Council—that, as I have risen on this floor many times to criticize certain acts of the Mayor, he should at this time be commended for reappointing Dr. George G. Sears as a trustee of the Boston City Hospital. Doctor Sears is a man who, in the closing years of his life, has given practically all of his time to the people of Boston free of charge. He interned at the City Hospital and stayed there for a good many years afterwards, although, with the finances with which he was endowed, he would have been very acceptable at other hospitals. He is the gentleman, as you may recall, who was instrumental in getting Mr. Tyler to leave a million dollars to our City Hospital. Doctor Sears was responsible for that bequest in the will of Mr. Tyler, of which the city has already collected $460,000. He has been the cause of the City of Boston receiving many bequests from Harvard College and from men interested in such work as the hospital is doing. I certainly think the people of Boston owe a vote of thanks to Dr. George G. Sears.

The notice of the appointment was placed on file.

REDUCTION OF SALARIES UNDER COUNCIL CONTROL.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 2, 1933.

EXECUTIVE ORDER.

Whereas the City Council has not reduced the salary of each office and position under its control or jurisdiction, except scrubwomen, effective as of Friday, April twenty-one, nineteen hundred and thirty-three, upon the same uniform basis and for the same period of time as the reduction put into effect by me by virtue of my executive order dated said April twenty-one, I, as Mayor of the City of Boston, by virtue of the authority granted to me by the provisions of chapter one hundred and twenty-one of the Acts of nineteen hundred and thirty-three, do hereby order and direct that the salary of every office and position under the control or jurisdiction of said City Council, except scrubwomen, the salary of which is paid from the treasury of the City of Boston in whole or in part and whether such salary is fixed by statute, city ordinance or otherwise, and whether or not such office or position is subject to civil service or classified under the civil service rules or under the county classification plan, be, and hereby is, reduced for the period beginning on Friday, April twenty-one, nineteen hundred and thirty-three, and ending December thirty-one, nineteen hundred and thirty-three, in accordance with the following schedule:

1. For every office and position the salary of which on an annual basis is less than $1,000, a reduction of 5 per cent shall be made.

2. For every office and position the salary of which on an annual basis falls within the range of $1,000 to $1,600, both inclusive, a reduction of 10 per cent shall be made, but no salary in this group shall be reduced below $950.

3. For every office and position the salary of which on an annual basis is in excess of $1,600, a reduction of 15 per cent shall be made, but no salary in this group shall be reduced below $1,440.

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Placed on file.

APPROVAL OF CONSTABLES' BONDS.

The bonds of the following-named constables, having been duly approved by the City Treasurer, were received and approved, viz.:

William A. Amsie, David A. Basitsky, Thomas F. Brett, Louis Budd, Sherman H. Calderwood, Thomas C. Carr, Charles M. Daley, Hyman Fryhon, Albert G. Gilbert, Solomon Gorfinkle, Edmund C. Grady, Sears H. Grant, George W. Green, Harry Greenbaum, St. Clair E. Hale, Jacob Isgur, Charles H. Jackson, Harry Kahn, Mark H. Krafus, Maurice Levine, Joseph F. Long, Robert C. Mains, Harold C. Mitchell, Patrick H. Murphy, Nathaniel J. Neitlich, John B. Nowak, James G. Peters, Abraham Rosenberg, Samuel Shain, Sidney J. Sheinfeld, Joseph Simansky, Leon Small, David Tobey, John J. Walsh, Harry A. Webber, Abraham I. Weiss, Maurice Zeeman.

Severally approved by the Council.

AWARD FOR DUNBAR AVENUE TAKING.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Finance Commission, May 8, 1933.
To the Honorable the City Council.

Gentlemen,—In reply to the order adopted by your honorable body on April 24, requesting the Finance Commission to submit information regarding the taking of a parcel of land for playground purposes at Dunbar avenue, the Finance Commission finds that it appears in the records of the Street Commissioners that on September 4, 1930, the Street Commissioners made a taking of 108,104 square feet from the Buchanan Construction Company for a site for this playground and awarded the sum of $24,863.92. The assessed value of the parcel at the time was approximately $19,400.

It also appears in the records of the Street Commissioners and Park Department and Law Department that the Buchanan Construction Company refused to accept the award and entered suit against the city for a larger sum. This suit is still pending. If your honorable body desires further information in regard to this matter, the Finance Commission would suggest that you question the officials of the Law Department who have the matter in charge.

Respectfully submitted,
THE FINANCE COMMISSION,
FRANK A. GOODWIN, Chairman,
JOSEPH A. SHEEHAN,
JOSEPH JOYCE DONAHUE,
CHARLES M. STOREY.

MORE POLICE FOR DORCHESTER.

Coun. FISH offered the following:

Ordered, That the Police Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor to furnish the Dorchester district with more police.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, last week in my ward there was an incursion of one of the greatest gangs from outside the ward in the history of Dorchester, resulting in a collision between the gang from Meeting House Hill and the gang from my own ward. I understand that the Meeting House Hill gang got the worst of it, and that five landed in the City Hospital. That is one thing showing the necessity of having proper police protection for the district. There should certainly be no criticism of the captain of Station 11; he is to be congratulated on the wonderful service that he and his men are continually performing, and they really did a fine job at that time, as they have always done. But there are not enough men in that station to properly handle situations that may arise there at times, and I therefore call on the Police Commissioner to furnish us more protection.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, I have heard the section that I have the honor to represent referred to here today. In the first place, I cannot believe that the boys from Meeting House Hill got the worst of it, because they usually come out on top; secondly, I think the whole thing was overrated. I think if the boys go to a field and have a little amusement and exercise it is a fine thing for them, as long as they do not destroy property or seriously injure people. I think they might well go to such lots as are owned by the city at Tenean Beach and Coulter's Beach and have a little fun with no annoyance to the public. It sometimes leads to a little exercise, of course, like a baseball or football game.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, I happen to be a councilor from one of the Dorchester wards, and I will have to disagree with the gentleman from Ward 15 (Coun. Kelly). It is all right to have friendly meetings, but when the boys are out for a fight in a field or a lot anywhere in the City of Boston, I think it should not be allowed. I know that we do not have in my district notorious gangs. The boys in my district obey the law and the police have little trouble with them. I do know very well the police captain of Station 11, and he is a fine officer and has a wonderful and efficient corps of police officers under him. He conducts the business of his station in a very efficient manner, and I think it might be well, instead of introducing this order at this time, to first ask the Police Commissioner whether or not in his opinion more police officers are needed in that district. Some time ago I introduced an order similar to this, and in a personal letter I received from the Police Commissioner was informed that an additional force was not needed in Station 11. I would again like to have it made plain before I sit down that the section of Dorchester I have the honor to represent is a law-abiding section; that we have there a very high class of young American manhood who do not indulge in such activities as were in evidence in the recent affair that has been referred to. I believe the councilor from Ward 15 (Coun. Kelly) was jesting when he said it was a fine idea and for the welfare of these young men to have them go into an open field and start a riot to the detriment of property owners and people living in that district. I do not care to have such things said even in jest, and I feel certain that the councilor will agree with me that such tactics should not be allowed, resulting in some of these young fellows being sent to the City Hospital, because our City Hospital is a place that is needed for people who are sick or who have met with some serious accident, and its facilities should not be taken up by people who are there simply because of their own misconduct.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, just to clear the record I want it understood that I favor more police for the Dorchester district, but not because of any alarm over the affair referred to between a few boys of sixteen, seventeen and eighteen years of age. I have been informed by reputable men, some residing in the district of the councilor who has just spoken, a neighboring ward, that they have witnessed some of these occurrences in Dorchester, and they tell me that they are more worth watching than many events for which they pay $3.30 for ringside seats. They get more action for nothing, watching these boys getting exercise on a vacant field than they can get from expensive ringside seats.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

ACCEPTANCE OF CHAPTER 138

Coun. COX offered the following:

Ordered, That chapter 138 of the Acts of 1933, entitled "An Act Authorizing the City of Boston to Compensate Certain Persons for Damage to their Property by the Explosion of Dynamite used in Connection with Sewer Construction" be, and hereby is, accepted.

Coun. COX—Mr. President, this is a case where a contractor putting in a sewer in Edgemere road in my district had an accident which occurred from dynamite he had stored there and which blew up, causing some abutters serious damage. There was no recourse that they had under the law. The contractor was simply bonded for $1,000 and the damages ran up to some $15,000 or $20,000, or more. There was no way under the law by which the city could reimburse these abutters except through an act of the Legislature, for which I am now asking, and I trust that the order will be passed by the Council.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

APPROPRIATION FOR GRANOLITHIC SIDEWALKS

Coun. BRACKMAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor be requested not to strike out of the budget for 1933 the item of $25,000 for granolithic sidewalks.

Coun. BRACKMAN—Mr. President, it has come to my attention that his Honor the Mayor a few days ago stated that he intended to strike out of the budget an item of $25,000 for granolithic sidewalks. In my opinion, that would be a very unwise move. Some time ago I made a statement on the floor of the Council to the effect that approximately $100,000 a year was paid out by the City of Boston for damages in law suits because of defects in some of our old-fashioned red brick sidewalks, which got into such shape that many people were injured and thereupon brought suit against the city. I think it would be very unwise from a business standpoint not to replace these ancient sidewalks, which are constantly getting out of repair and which cost us so much, with sidewalks that are more up to date. I think that in the long run the city would save considerable money by replacing these archaic sidewalks with better ones; and I hope that the order will pass.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

SAFETY ISLAND, KILBY AND MILK STREETS

Coun. FITZGERALD offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to place a safety island in Kilby street, at its junction with Milk street.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

DISCONTINUANCE OF CERTAIN STREET LIGHTS

Coun. ROBERTS offered the following:

Resolved, That the Boston City Council is opposed to the discontinuance or shutting off of any street lights in the city, believing that in the interest of public safety such a practice would tend to increase crime and render travel upon our highways extremely hazardous and that the saving effected by such discontinuance is essentially false economy.

Coun. ROBERTS—Mr. President, I agree that the Council should stand for economy, particularly in times like these, but I think the one thing we should stand for more than anything else is sensible economy. Last year the Committee on Appropriations considered at length the appropriation for electric lights for the city, and it was then felt that the city should negotiate a contract which would result in a considerable saving. At no time has the shutting off of street lights been advocated in this body, and I think it is the general feeling of the members that, particularly on main traffic streets, it is imperative that we get as much light as possible. People going through Beacon street, in the vicinity of Audubon road, outside of my ward, have been considerably agitated this year because there was not more light; and Columbus avenue, with no traffic signals and very little patrolling by the police, is absolutely unprotected. To take out one light of every two on Columbus avenue would certainly result in making it a breeding place of crime, which would not only result in injury and trouble to our citizens, but additional expense. I think for the safety of the people we should keep our street lights on, even if we have to economize in everything else.

The resolution was passed under suspension of the rule.

INFORMATION FROM BOSTON TRAFFIC COMMISSION.

Coun. HEIN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Boston Traffic Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to furnish the Boston City Council with the following information:

(1) How many traffic signal lights have been installed in the City of Boston from January 1, 1932, to date, the location, and the cost of installation.

(2) How many "stop" signs have been installed in the City of Boston from January 1, 1932, to date, the location, and the cost of installation.

(3) How many "slow" signs have been installed in the City of Boston from January 1, 1932, to date, the location, and the cost of installation.

(4) How many white traffic lines have been painted in the City of Boston from January 1, 1932, to date, the location, and the cost of such painting.

Coun. HEIN—Mr. President, some time earlier in the year I sent a letter to Mr. Conry, requesting a traffic light at Audubon road and Beacon street. The Mayor took the matter up with Mr. Conry, and a very nice note was sent back to the Mayor stating that he did not see any reason why he should put a traffic light at this particular spot, because the accidents there were so few. That is Mr. Conry's version. Only three weeks ago, Mr. President, we had another fatal accident there to a lady crossing from one side of Beacon street to the other. She was to become a mother within two weeks. This sort of thing is going on. Mr. President, and yet Mr. Conry does not see fit to install traffic lights. If it were your mother, Mr. President, or my mother, would he install traffic lights there? He surely would. But in a letter to me under date of April 26, he goes on to enumerate the various places in Boston where accidents have occurred, giving the number of such accidents. He says that on Centre street, from Church street to Spring street, from January 1, 1928, there were 149 accidents; on Chelsea street, from City square to Chelsea line, 251; on Tremont street, from Broadway to Roxbury Crossing, 533; on Shawmut avenue, from Broadway to Roxbury street, 465; on Beacon street, from Arlington street to Kenmore square, 121. Why didn't he continue farther along Beacon street to Audubon road? The number of accidents would have been so great as to contradict his own statement. But, while he sent this list giving the number of various accidents throughout the city, his report, nevertheless, does not agree with that of the Police Department, when it comes to demonstrating the danger there is to the public in the neighborhood of Beacon street and Audubon road. The Police Department have reported numerous accidents there at various times and have convicted many people of speeding. It is one of the great arteries of the City of Boston today upon which speeding is particularly indulged in. But the Traffic Commissioner does not even see fit to put white lines there. If you go down to the market district you will find the white lines looking as if there had just been a snowstorm. But no attention is paid to our district. If you think there is no congestion and no trouble with traffic out there, you should have seen conditions all along there this morning, when everything was tied up, and the situation is the same on Massachusetts avenue. But apparently he is not interested in investigating the need for lights in places like that. All he is interested in is the traffic engineer, and in having the Finance Commission immediately discharged. That is his sole hobby. Only the second of May I asked him to place two "Slow" signs out there, but all he writes—very nicely—is that he has no money. I asked why these white lines should not be painted in Boston as well as in Brookline.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, the councilor from Ward 21 asks where Mr. Conry is. I will tell him. You can find Mr. Conry at almost any time with his gilded cane parading around Peacock alley, in Copley square. I have requested him to put up lights in my ward, but I cannot get them.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, I have frequently thought it would be a good investment for the City of Boston to put in more money in traffic lights and signal lights—including these reflecting button signs as they are sometimes called—at the intersection of different streets in this city. Now, I don't want to get into any argument as to where Mr. Conry's rendezvous happens to be. I don't care whether it is Peacock alley or the Public Garden. But I do want to speak upon this matter from another angle—that is, that the traffic light situation in the City of Boston is one of the greatest modern rackets ever brought into the city. The expense of these button signs or lights is so great, as well as the expense of the other lights, that the Traffic Department, of course, has little money to install them, and apparently it has no money left to buy paint to put white lines at important squares and corners in the city. I have endeavored to obtain some information upon this matter and am awaiting a reply from the Traffic Department regarding the amount of money spent for these traffic lights in the city and for these signs. They told us when these traffic lights were put up that the Police Department would be relieved from duty as traffic officers, that police would no longer be required at intersections and that consequently the amount of money spent by the Police Department would be greatly reduced. As a matter of fact, the traffic light system has caused greater expense so far as the Police Department is concerned, because the lights cannot be run correctly without having two police officers where they used to have only one. It might be a good idea in connection with the order to call the attention of the Council to the fact that all this business is controlled by one of the greatest corporations of the kind in the entire world, in connection with the button lights and so on, so that it is almost impossible for any others to get the business. As a result, Boston is called upon to pay more for that type of signal than if it was bought from somebody else. I am awaiting a report showing the amount that these particular devices cost the City of Boston.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, I have been interested in this traffic commission business for a number of years, in fact since its inception, and the criticism I have to make of it is that they have awarded on numerous occasions large contracts the expense of which has been paid by the taxpayers of Boston. I want, however, to be fair with the Traffic Commissioner. I realize that that gentleman is appointed by the Mayor of Boston. He gets his job through the Mayor and therefore has to do what the Mayor wants him to do. There is no need of blaming a poor individual like the Traffic Commissioner when the man who is really to blame is the present Mayor of Boston. I don't know where the Traffic Commissioner spends his time, or how. That is none of my business. But I called to the mind of the members of this Council a short time ago what the pet contractor named Matthew Cummings was allowed to do in the matter of closing Albany street. His contract with the city required him at all times to keep at least half of Albany street open for traffic. He asked the permission of the trustees of the City Hospital to close it, and the trustees unanimously refused to support him in that request. I interrogated them the other day when I was on a tour of inspection of the City Hospital, and obtained that information. The architect, Mr. Ritchie, also refused Mr. Cummings the right to close Albany street. I understand that the Public Works Commissioner also refused that permission to close Albany street. Still, the Traffic Commissioner of the City of Boston ordered Albany street closed. So detour signs were placed at Albany street and Massachusetts avenue, East Newton and Albany streets, East Newton street and Harrison avenue, and the streets adjoining, closing those streets to traffic. I don't think it was a fair thing for the Traffic Commissioner to do that. Certainly it was against the interests of the people of my district whose business might carry them through Albany street, and who were obliged to go around by way of East Newton street and Harrison avenue. Also, it jeopardized the lives and the safety of 3,000 people who visited the hospital every day and of the many cripples who go to and from the Out-Patient Department every morning. I certainly do not think it was fair to take all the traffic away from Albany street and compel people to detour in any such way, as well as subjecting to such great risk those wishing to see their friends at the City Hospital and those who were required to go to and from the Out-Patient Department. But, in spite of the fact that the contract required half of Albany street to be kept open all the time, we have had the street completely closed for a month, and I understand that it will continue to be closed for another month, interfering with the ambulance service, greatly retarding it in case of accidents, by compelling them to go in this roundabout way, particularly delaying them when they come from the direction of Dorchester. It certainly is not fair, Mr. President, and the Traffic Commissioner certainly erred when he allowed the pet contractor Matthew Cummings to close Albany street at the expense of Dorchester citizens and property owners and those from other sections, obliging them to take this roundabout route, as well as jeopardizing, as I say, the thousands of people who enter and leave the City Hospital daily, besides retarding the ambulance service, which means so much to the poor and sick of the city.

Coun. HEIN—Mr. President, I do not agree with Councilor Kelly when he says that the Traffic Commissioner got his orders from his Honor the Mayor. The Traffic Commissioner in this matter in which I was interested would make it appear that I wanted to put in eight or ten lights, when all I was asking for was one, which certainly would not have cost $2,000. Still, Mr. Conry was not willing to put it there, at such a small expense.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

PAYMENT OF AID TO SOLDIERS AND SAILORS.

Coun. NORTON, for the Committee on Soldiers' Relief, submitted report recommending passage of order for payment of aid to soldiers and sailors and their families in the City of Boston for the month of May, 1933.

Report approved; order passed under suspension of the rule.

ACTION IN RE BOSTON ELEVATED.

Coun. DOWD offered the following:
Ordered, That the Legislative Committee of the Boston City Council be requested to consider the advisability and necessity of petitioning the Legislature at this session either for a repeal of the Public Control Act, or exercise of the option of purchasing the stock of the Boston Elevated Railway.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, some few years ago the Legislature in its wisdom passed a Public Control Act to last for 36 long years, guaranteeing the stockholders of the Elevated road a certain percentage of dividend regardless of whether the road made or lost money. Now, Mr. President, there is not a corporation in the entire country that during the last few years has not felt the depression. There is not a corporation in the country that has not been forced to cut its dividends in the last few years. But here we have in Boston a peculiar situation. This year the deficit of the Boston Elevated will run close to $3,000,000, of which the City of Boston will be compelled to pay about $2,000,000, and still these dividends are guaranteed to the stockholders of a defunct organization. I say to you, Mr. President and members of this Council, that if we, as members of the City Council, had voted for that notorious steal, the Public Control Act, we would never have been returned to office. But the Massachusetts State Legislature voted for it to continue for 36 long years; and we will now have to meet a $2,000,000 deficit this year. And every reform organization in Boston is crying out that the Mayor is responsible for the situation in which the city finds itself, while we must bear in mind the fact that the Mayor has full control over a very minor part of the money spent by the City of Boston. It is a notorious fact that this Elevated situation will cost the taxpayers of Boston $1.04 per thousand in increased tax rate because of the fact that we are guaranteeing the stockholders of the Elevated a certain percentage of dividend. I say to the Legislature and to the Governor of the Commonwealth that it is about time that we practiced what we preached. They are cutting down the wages of public employees, are taking money away from scrubwomen and everybody else, and still the officers of the Elevated are allowed to gather in enormous salaries for doing almost nothing. That organization is nothing but a defunct organization, Mr. President. We are paying ten cents to ride in their cars, we are guaranteeing to every individual who holds stock a certain percentage of dividend, whether the Elevated loses $2,000,000 or $5,000,000. Boston pays the bill. I say to the Governor, I say to the Senate, and I say to the House of Representatives, that it is about time they got on to their job and did something to relieve the situation in the City of Boston. Is there any individual here who can truthfully say that any corporation in the country today has not either cut down its dividends or wiped them out entirely? Then, why in the name of Heaven, should the people of Boston pay to guarantee to the stockholders of the Boston Elevated Railway certain dividends, whether they make or lose money? Therefore, I am asking the Legislative Committee of the City Council to consider the advisability and the necessity of asking the Governor and the Legislature to repeal this notorious Public Control Act or to buy the stock, so that we may control the road, so that the taxpayers of the City of Boston may be relieved from this present unjust situation.

The order was referred to the Committee on Legislative Affairs.

REPAVING OF COBDEN STREET, WARD 11.

Coun. ENGLERT offered the following:
Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repave Cobden street, Ward 11, with smooth paving.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

ALLOWANCES TO VETERANS.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:
Whereas, It has come to the attention of the City Council of Boston that unwarranted misery and suffering will be caused disabled veterans of the Spanish-American and World Wars, due to the operation of the act to curtail current expenses of benefits to war veterans recently enacted by the Federal government, including many veterans who incurred their disabilities or disease in line of duty while in the active military service; and

Whereas, The reduction in benefits from the Federal government will compel many beneficiaries to apply to our local relief agencies to enable their families to obtain sufficient sustenance, thereby shifting the burden of providing for ex-soldiers from the national government to the local government, thus departing from the established custom which has been in existence since the days of the Revolutionary War, that men who served the Federal government in time of stress should be cared for by the United States; and

Whereas, This Council believes that these unwarranted and drastic cuts in compensation now being paid to veterans does not meet with the approval of the American public in general, and believing that if the matter was brought to the personal attention of the President of the United States that immediate legislation would be enacted to bring about a more equitable and fair adjustment of veterans' benefits; therefore,

Be it resolved, That the City Council of Boston hereby goes on record in favor of a study of the entire matter of veterans' legislation in the hope that such study will bring about a favorable adjustment, to the end that no veteran suffering from a disability incurred in line of duty while in the active military and naval service of the United States shall be called upon to bear a greater sacrifice than other classes of the American public, bearing in mind the hardships and tribulations that they endured during the period of war, and

Be it further resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to the President of the United States, United States Senators from Massachusetts, and the members of the United States House of Representatives from this city.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, about five months ago I introduced an order into the Council asking the Council to go on record as not favoring the program of the National Economy League. At that time I warned the members of the Council that if that program was put into effect it would shove on to the cities and towns the burden of caring for the veterans. A short time after that the Commissioner of Soldiers' Relief was before the Executive Committee, and I asked him what, in his opinion, it would cost the City of Boston if that program was put into effect, and he estimated that it would mean an additional expense on the city of $500,000 directly, and in addition to that he was of the opinion that it would cost the city $500,000 more for the Boston City Hospital. At that time the contemplated program referred to a great extent to veterans suffering from disabilities not incurred in the service; but under the recent law which has been passed, sponsored by bankers and very wealthy individuals under the guise of organizations seeking economy, veterans who served during the World War, the Spanish-American War, the Philippine Insurrection, the Boxer Rebellion, and even the Civil War, who contracted disabilities in the service, were forced to submit to a cut in their compensation, and in many thousands of cases have been wiped off the pay roll entirely. It was not generally recognized that the act was to be so drastic and far-reaching in its nature, but it appears that poor unfortunate veterans suffering mental disability are to be taken off the rolls of the Federal government and left to local charity; and up to the present time no action has been taken by this body or any other body protesting against that action. It seems to me that, because this is a vital matter and seriously affects the City of Boston to the tune of $1,000,000, this Council should go on record as not favoring the legislation, but calling the fact to the attention of the President, pointing out to him how this is adversely affecting veterans of all our wars. Undoubtedly the President has been so busy on the program he is inaugurating that he has not had this matter properly called to his attention. But it is only by such action as is here proposed that the drastic nature of the new measure can be properly presented to the public. I have in mind a young man in Dorchester who is permanently disabled. In 1921 he contracted such a dread disease that it left him permanently disabled to carry on any pursuit. It was construed at the time that the disability resulted from the service. The man is now helpless, bedridden, needs an attendant to dress and undress. Still, he has been arbitrarily taken from the rolls, and you will find him in the Soldiers' Relief Department, and it will cost the city $50 a month. There are thousands of other cases of a similar nature. I know that this Council is interested, from the standpoint of economy, in having veterans who fought for the government and who incurred serious disabilities in so doing, supported by the Federal government; and I know the members of this body do not think that the National Economy League or these other selfish people should be allowed to shove such burdens upon the poor people of the City of Boston and of smaller cities and towns, subdivisions of the state, burdens that should be borne in such cases by the Federal government.

The resolution was referred to the Committee on Rules.

STAGNANT WATER, HYDE PARK.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:
Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner be requested to consider the advisability of draining off the waste stagnant water near the corner of Thatcher street and Huntington avenue, Hyde Park.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, we have a number of children in that particular district, and this is a health menace.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

NO TEMPORARY HELP, PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:
Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to consider the advisability of placing no temporary help in the Public Works Department of the city this year.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, at a time like this, when the City of Boston has thousands of its unemployed on its hands, people to whom it is giving a dollar a week apiece, at a time when it is cutting down on mothers' aid, and when the question of how it shall feed and clothe the people who are dependent upon it is becoming an extremely serious one, when we are asking city employees to take a pay cut and time off, it certainly is not a time to be talking of placing temporary employees at work in the Public Works Department on our sewers, streets, and so forth. It is unfair, Mr. President. We have plenty of help in the City of Boston upon which we can draw, in the Public Welfare Department, on the Public Welfare rolls. We have engineers, mechanics, architects, people in almost every walk of life. Those men can and should assist, help out. These men now going on as temporary men in the Public Works Department are men whose work there at the present time is unnecessary.

Coun. GREEN—Mr. President, I don't think this order should be passed under suspension of the rule. I don't like to take issue with my colleague from Hyde Park, but I believe, if there is a chance to appoint temporary men for the summer, they should go on. I do not believe in false economy. I do not believe in these times that there will be a chance for people to get work here unless they go on temporarily. I do not care to waste the time of the Council, but I trust that this may go to a vote today and that it will be defeated.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

CONFIRMATION OF CONSTABLES.

Coun. HEIN—Mr. President, for the Committee on Constables, I desire to report that the committee favors confirmation of the following names appearing under unfinished business in No. 1 on the calendar: Kenneth Blennerhassett, Samuel Goldkrand, Samuel Gordon, Salvatore Grassa, Salvatore Maffei, William J. Mitchell, Michael W. Ober, Bert Oppenheim, Louis H. Oppenheim.

The question came on confirmation.
President McGRATH—The Chair would also add the name that appears in No. 2 on the calendar.

No. 2 on the calendar, under unfinished business, is as follows:

2. Action on appointment submitted by the Mayor May 1, 1933, of John Manion, to be a Weigher of Goods.

The question came on confirmation of the above names reported upon favorably by the committee, with the addition of the name of John Manion to be a Weigher of Goods.

Committee, Coun. Roberts and Barker. Whole number of ballots 16; yeas 16, and the appointments were confirmed.

PROPOSED LEASE OF STRANDWAY PREMISES.

Coun. KELLY offered the following:
Ordered, That the Park Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to consider the advisability of leasing the premises on the Strandway owned by the city and now occupied by the Puritan Canoe Club, to Boston Police Post No. 251, The American Legion, and to report back to the Boston City Council.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, the reason why I am introducing this order is that I have been informed that this piece of city property has been leased for ten years to an organization which consists of three members. The Boston Police Post, No. 251, contains approximately 400 members, and they would like this particular place. Where we have a case of this kind, with three against hundreds, I believe the Park Commissioner should agree to lease the premises to the Post.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

RECESS.

The Council voted, at 3.10 p. m., on motion of Coun. GLEASON, to take a recess subject to the call of the Chair. The members reassembled in the Council Chamber and were called to order by President McGRATH at 4.19 p. m.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. GALLAGHER, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:

1. Report on order (referred today) that chapter 138 of the Acts of 1933, entitled "An Act authorizing the City of Boston to compensate certain persons for damage to their property by the Explosion of Dynamite used in connection with Sewer Construction" be accepted—recommending the passage of order.

Report accepted; said order passed.

2. Report on petitions (referred today) for children under fifteen years of age to appear at places of public amusement, viz.:

Lucille Perry Hall, Repertory Theatre, May 23; Sara Horlich, Repertory Theatre, June 7; Alice Burke, Repertory Theatre, June 13; Lillian F. Rose, Repertory Theatre, June 14; Mary Griffin Donovan, Practical Arts High School, May 23; Lillafrances Viles School of Dancing, 5 Warren avenue, Hyde Park, May 13; Julia Lubit, Repertory Theatre, June 6; Viola T. Breiding, Current Events Clubhouse, June 3—recommending that leave be granted under usual conditions.

Report accepted; leave granted under usual conditions.

3. Report on order (referred today) that Mayor be requested to consider advisability of placing no temporary help on Public Works Department this year—that same ought not to pass.

Report accepted; order rejected.

SAFETY LINES IN FRONT OF SCHOOLHOUSES.

Coun. MURRAY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Traffic Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to paint safety lines in front of all schoolhouses in Ward 19.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

CONSTRUCTION OF SEWERAGE WORKS WARD 17.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to construct sewerage works connecting the Washington street sewer with the sewer at New Morton street and Pleasant Hill avenue, Ward 17.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, I have received a petition signed by more than 100 citizens and property owners in the vicinity of the place in question asking that serious consideration be given to what is here proposed. I went to the scene myself and found that rain water and surface water naturally runs in there, settles and becomes stagnant, bringing in its train filth and very unhealthy conditions, and in the summer time it will be a great source of mosquito breeding. The City of Boston has accomplished a great deal of sewerage work in that vicinity. There is a sewer running from Dorchester avenue to Washington street and one running from Old Morton street to New Morton street, leaving a distance of approximately 1,000 feet between the two systems which has not been encompassed. Therefore, I would like to submit this petition, to be sent to the Mayor of Boston, calling his attention to the fact that the people of that district are greatly interested in having this work completed as soon as possible, because of health conditions.

President McGRATH—The Chair suggests that the petition be sent to the Commissioner of Public Works, Councilor.

Coun. BURKE—That I send it, myself?

President McGRATH—Yes.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

REPAVING OF WELLES AVENUE, WARD 17.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repave with smooth pavement Welles avenue, from Washington street to Talbot avenue, Ward 17.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

EQUIPMENT FOR JOHN J. CONNELLY PLAYGROUND.

Coun. ENGLERT offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to equip the John J. Connelly Playground with sand boxes, swings, tilts and other paraphernalia for the pastime of children.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

SIDEWALK ON WOODSIDE AVENUE.

Coun. ENGLERT offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along Woodside avenue, full length, both sides, Ward 11, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

WATER MAIN, GALLIVAN BOULEVARD.

Coun. FISH offered the following:

Ordered, That the Public Works Commission be requested through his Honor the Mayor to install a water main on both sides of Gallivan Boulevard from Hallet street to Neponset avenue, including also a sewer.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON PUBLIC LANDS.

Coun. KELLY, for the Committee on Public Lands, submitted the following:

1. Report on message of Mayor and order (referred January 19) in re exchange of rights with Commonwealth as to land on Charles and Nashua streets to be used for park purposes—that same ought to pass.

The question came on the passage of the order. Coun. GLEASON—Mr. President, I would like a little explanation of that order. We heard the head of the committee last week get up here and call the councilor from the West End a liar and a thief, talk about larceny, and then this week his committee votes in favor of this order. I certainly would like to have him explain why he has pushed the thing over so quickly this week.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, for the benefit of the councilor from Ward 9 I wish to say that the Committee on Public Lands met this week on Thursday, at 2 p. m. The members have all viewed the piece of property which was the subject of so much discussion here last week, and after viewing it decided—at least, four out of five members of the committee decided—that the order should be reported out "Ought to pass" today. I, as chairman, could do nothing more than report out this order representing the particular view of the other members. I have been informed since last week, when careless and unwarranted charges were made against the chairman of the Public Lands Committee, that this particular piece of land is to be used for playground purposes for boys of ages ranging from sixteen to twenty-one, and perhaps over. It is not to be used as a playground for the small children, as I understand it. The money appropriated in this case is to be spent mostly in grading and filling. There was comment made last week to the effect that the chairman of the Committee on Public Lands was interested in some particular contractor. When the chairman called upon the person making the accusation to name the contractor—and naturally it would be a contractor dealing in fill in loam,—that person was very peculiarly silent. That, in itself, was of course, sufficient to prove the absurdity of the charges. The Committee on Public Lands do not wish to hold up any particular piece of business they have before them. They have seen fit to report "Ought to Pass" on this order, and I, as their chairman, have brought it forward for the committee. I hope I have given sufficient information to the councilor from Ward 9 (Coun. Gleason).

Coun. GLEASON—Mr. President, the chairman of that committee states that he does not want to hold up this matter. If I understand correctly, it has been before the committee for some time, and I wonder why, after one week, with the debate we had on it at the last meeting, they come in this week and want to push it over. I am going to ask the President of the Council to lay this matter on the table for one more week, until we can all investigate it.

The motion to lay on the table was lost.

The order was given its first reading and passage, nays, 20, yeas 0.

2. Report on message of Mayor and order (referred March 20) that Mayor be authorized to sell at public auction at upset price of $400 land on southwesterly side of Parker place, Roxbury—that same ought to pass.

Coun. COX—Mr. President, I would like a little further information from the chairman of the committee.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, as I understand it, this particular piece of property is of absolutely no use to the City of Boston the way it is situated. A hospital in that vicinity has asked for the right to bid at the public auction. The members of the committee could see no injustice to the taxpayers—in fact, justice would be done to them—in selling the property at a fair price, this vacant land where there are no taxes coming in to the city at the present time. So we voted unanimously to have the land sold. But it must be advertised for sale at public auction, with an upset price of $400. We have given to this particular hospital, the same as to anybody else who may be interested, an opportunity to bid.

President McGRATH—The clerk will read the communication from the Law Department in regard to this matter.

The clerk read the following:

City of Boston,

Law Department, March 20, 1933.

Hon. James M. Curley, Mayor.

Dear Sir,—I am enclosing herewith an order for the City Council authorizing the sale of the parcel of land therein described. These premises are among the many of which the City of Boston was the owner of a tax title. Foreclosure proceedings have been brought and completed under the said tax title, and the City of Boston is now the owner of the premises.

It is desirable that the said parcel of land be sold as the city has no need of it. It is assessed in the amount of five hundred (500) dollars. The taxes which have remained unpaid from 1910 to 1932, inclusive, amount to $354.94, which, with interest and costs, make a total of $621.21.

The said parcel of land is situated at the end of Parker place, adjacent to the property of the New England Baptist Hospital. The lot can be used in connection with the property of the hospital, but is of no value to any other party. Said hospital is desirous of purchasing this parcel of land for the sum of four hundred (400) dollars, and it is my opinion that it is for the best interest of the City of Boston that it be permitted so to do.

If this order meets with your Honor's approval, please have it introduced in the City Council.

Very truly yours,

SAMUEL SILVERMAN,
Corporation Counsel.

Coun. COX—Mr. President, in view of that communication it would seem to me, when the upset price, $400, is $100 less than the assessed valuation of the property, there might be some question. As far as the hospital being interested is concerned, I approve of an addition to any hospital. Under the conditions I see no reason for selling the land at public auction if they want it to go to the hospital. If it is advertised for public auction, anybody can come in and bid, and afterwards shake the hospital down for the purchase of the land. I would gladly vote for an order to sell the land at private sale to that hospital, but I hesitate to vote for an order to sell for $400 a piece of land that the City of Boston assesses at $500.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, I want it distinctly understood that the Committee on Public Lands did not abide by the ruling of the Law Department. The Law Department wanted it sold for the figure of $400 to the hospital. We thought there was a possibility, if a public action sale was advertised, that the piece of land might bring as much as $1,000 or perhaps $600 or $700. We did not think, however, that there should be a sale to any particular individual or institution simply for $400. We felt that there should be a public auction, that in order to protect the public of Boston an opportunity to bid should be given to everybody and that the land should be sold to the highest bidder.

Coun. COX—Mr. President, in view of that statement, I don't see why the argument is advanced here that the hospital is the cause of selling the land. If we want to sell the land to the hospital, very well; but here it is proposed to sell at public auction, with an upset price of $400, a piece of land that is assessed for $500, and the hospital is out of it according to the committee's own argument.

The report was accepted and the order was given its first reading and passage, yeas 21, nays 0.

LOANS TO CITIES AND TOWNS.

Coun. BRACKMAN offered the following:

Resolved, That the Boston City Council favors the enactment of legislation by the Congress of the United States relative to loans to cities and towns on anticipated tax notes.

Coun. BRACKMAN—Mr. President, it has been called to my attention that the City of Boston in the last year or so had considerable difficulty in borrowing money on anticipated tax notes. This has resulted in the bankers of Boston getting together and holding up the city for exorbitant interest rates, as high as 6 per cent. It is a matter of common knowledge that every city and town must borrow in anticipation of taxes to be collected in the future. Because of the extreme difficulty of borrowing from the bankers of Boston who, as I have said before, have virtually banded together, forming an alliance, so as not to allow the City of Boston to borrow money unless they receive a certain high rate of interest, the present situation has resulted in the school teachers of Boston—who receive their pay every week—being held up recently as much as two weeks at a time. I can see that employees of the city will be held up in receiving their pay possibly three or four weeks unless some steps are taken to enable the City of Boston to procure necessary funds. The only hope we see on the horizon is for the United States Government to come to the assistance of the cities and towns by making these loans in anticipation of taxes. That will serve a double purpose,—first, it will enable the cities and towns to borrow money at a reasonable rate of interest, and even such a rate on an amount going as high as $30,000,000 will run into considerable money; and, secondly, it will enable us to pay our employees at the proper time, so that they can support their families and themselves. I hope that this resolve, putting the City of Boston on record in favor of such legislation, will pass unanimously.

The resolve was referred to the Committee on Rules.

REPAIRS AT MISSION HILL PLAYGROUND.

Coun. POWER offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor request the Park Commissioner to make the necessary repairs to the fences and roll the baseball diamond at the Mission Hill Playground.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

STATEMENT ON SINKING FUNDS.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I would ask unanimous consent to make a statement.

President McGRATH—If there is no objection, the gentleman may proceed.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I recently put in an order asking the City Treasurer to report to the Council in reference to the Sinking Fund purchase of securities for the year 1932. A statement had come to me, or rather a rumor, that the bonds and other securities bought with the Sinking Funds had been in some instances purchased from favored security houses. I would like to say that after a thorough check-up I find that such is not the case. The expert who looked into the matter of the purchases sums up the case in these words: "Most of the purchase prices were clearly within the range of market quotations or estimates."

REQUEST FOR BUDGET SHEETS.

Coun. COX—Mr. President, some time within the last three or four months, the councilor from Hyde Park (Coun. Norton) introduced a request that the members of the Council be furnished with the budget sheets at least two weeks before they were called upon to act.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, I rise to a point of order. I don't think the gentleman has a right to speak.

President McGRATH—I understand that the gentleman wishes unanimous consent to make a statement. Is there any objection? (No objection.)

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, I did not hear him ask for unanimous consent.

Coun. COX—As I have stated, Councilor Norton requested that the members of the Council be furnished with the budget sheets. I don't know that there has ever been any reply showing whether the Budget Commissioner intends to comply with that request, but I would like to ask the Budget Commissioner to supply each and every member of the Council with the same budget sheets that are going to be furnished the Committee on Appropriations, so that later I and other members will not be asked to vote on a budget when we don't know just what it contains. I feel that, in justice to the people whom we represent, we should at least know upon what we are voting. Therefore, I request that those sheets be furnished the other members of the Council at the same time that they are furnished to the members of the Committee on Appropriations.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, with unanimous consent, if the councilor from West Roxbury will agree, I believe this order that I have prepared embodies his request.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That budget sheets for 1933 be furnished each member of the Council at the time they are furnished to the Appropriations Committee, allowing reasonable time for examination before budget is passed.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, in previous years we have been rushed in the matter of dealing with the budget because under the statute law only one third of the allowance for the year could be expended before the passage of the budget. This year, however, the departments can use up one half of their budgets before the passage of the appropriation orders. In other words, the Council will have just so much more time to pass on the budget, and will not be subjected to the rush and hurry of past years. As I understand the law at present, the Public Works Department, for example, can spend up to one half the amount allotted under the present budget before the passage of the same.

The order offered by Coun. Norton was passed under suspension of the rule.

CONFIRMATION OF CONSTABLES.

Coun. HEIN—Mr. President, for the Committee on Constables, I desire to say that the committee reports, in favor of the confirmation of the name of William P. Maginnis, in No. 1 on the calendar.

President McGRATH—The question is on confimation of William P. Maginnis. The Chair will appoint as a committee Councilors Hein and Barker.

The committee collected and counted ballots and reported sixteen in favor of confirmation, none opposed, and William P. Maginnis was confirmed.

Later in the session Coun. HEIN called up, for the Committee on Constables, the remaining names of men appointed by the Mayor on April 3, 1933, as constables,—these being the names of those still unconfirmed in No. 1 on the calendar—recommending that same be rejected, viz.:

Philip Bernstein, William E. Broderick, Fred C. Burracker, William U. Cahill, Stephen J. Dunleavy, William H. Flynn, Paul A. Freed, Abner Goulston, Charles F. Hale, Spiros Kaliris, Alexander Levy, Allen Libby, Russell T. Mann, James Pietrafitta, John J. Sullivan and Max Wortsman.

The question came on confirmation.

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, may I suggest to the chairman of the Committee on Constables that he omit from the list the name of Charles F. Hale? It was suggested at a meeting of the committee, if the councilor remembers, that he was seriously ill. I think, therefore, as a matter of courtesy, his name should not be included in this list.

Coun. HEIN—Mr. President, I have no objection to that whatsoever. I am glad that the councilor drew it to my attention.

The name of Charles F. Hale was omitted from the list upon which the committee recommended rejection.

The above names, with the exception of Charles F. Hale, were rejected by voice vote.

Adjourned at 4.50 p. m., on motion of Coun. FITZGERALD, to meet on Monday, May 15, 1933, at 2 p. m.

LAND-TAKING IN DORCHESTER.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for the taking of land for sewerage works to be constructed as follows:

The right and easement is taken to lay and maintain sewerage works in the following described lands, exclusive of any interest in trees, buildings or other structures standing thereon, reserving to the owners thereof the right to use the lands for any purpose except such as may injure or obstruct said works, and except for placing or maintaining any structure on said lands not authorized in writing by the Mayor of said city; trees, buildings or other structures standing upon or affixed to the land in which an easement is hereby taken are to be removed therefrom forthwith following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said taking for the purpose of constructing said sewerage works. Said lands are in that part of Boston formerly Dorchester and are bounded as follows:

A parcel of land, supposed to belong to Thomas W. Wyman and Margaret S. Wyman, bounded:

Northerly by land supposed to belong to George H. Jacobs, six and 2-100 feet; easterly by land hereinafter described as taken from Murphy and by land supposed to belong to Murphy, sixty-nine and 56-100 feet; southerly by land hereinafter described as taken from Salierno et al., six and 2-100 feet, and westerly by other land supposed to belong to said Wyman et al., sixty-nine and 52-100 feet, containing four hundred and seventeen square feet, more or less.

A parcel of land, supposed to belong to James Salierno and Salvatore Pesiri, bounded:

Northerly by land hereinafter described as taken from Wyman et al., six and 2-100 feet; easterly by land supposed to belong to Murphy, forty-four and 48-100 feet; southerly by land hereinafter described as taken from Kenealy, six and 1-100 feet, and westerly by other land supposed to belong to Salierno, forty-four and 72-100 feet, containing two hundred and sixty-seven square feet, more or less.

A parcel of land, supposed to belong to William E. Kenealy, bounded:

Northerly by land hereinafter described as taken from Salierno et al., six and 1-100 feet; easterly by land supposed to belong to Murphy, forty-two and 85-100 feet; southerly by land hereinafter described as taken from Bertazzoni et al., six and 1-100 feet, and westerly by other land supposed to belong to Kenealy, forty-two and 79-100 feet, containing two hundred and fifty-seven square feet, more or less.

A parcel of land, supposed to belong to John Bertazzoni and Atea Bertazzoni, bounded:

Northerly by land hereinafter described as taken from Kenealy, six and 1-100 feet; easterly by land supposed to belong to Murphy, forty-one and 62-100 feet; southerly by land hereinafter described as taken from Wolfman et al., trustees, six and 1-100 feet, and westerly by other land supposed to belong to Bertazzoni et al., forty-one and 67-100 feet, containing two hundred and fifty square feet, more or less.

A parcel of land, supposed to belong to Anna F. Wolfman and Martha Frank et al., trustees, bounded:

Northerly by land hereinafter described as taken from Bertazzoni et al., six and 1-100 feet; easterly by land supposed to belong to Murphy, twenty and 4-100 feet; southerly by other land supposed to belong to said trustees, six feet, and westerly by the same, twenty and 30-100 feet, containing one hundred and twenty-one square feet, more or less.

A parcel of land, supposed to belong to Dorothea Dyer Murphy, bounded:

Westerly by land hereinafter described as taken from Wyman et al., fifteen and 2-100 feet; northerly by land supposed to belong to Jacobs, one hundred six and 42-100 feet; easterly by land hereinafter described as taken from owners unknown (Ainsley street), six and 1-100 feet; southerly by other land supposed to belong to Murphy, ninety-seven and 28-100 feet, and southeasterly by the same, twelve and 24-100 feet, containing six hundred and seventy-nine square feet, more or less.

A parcel of land, owners unknown, being part of the private way known as Ainsley street, bounded:

Westerly by land hereinafter described as taken from Murphy, six and 1-100 feet; northerly by land hereinafter described as taken from Jacobs, sixteen and 2-100 feet; easterly by easement taken by the City of Boston, June 22, 1931, six and 1-100 feet, and southerly by another part of Ainsley street, sixteen and 2-100 feet, containing ninety-six square feet, more or less.

A parcel of land, supposed to belong to George H. Jacobs, bounded:

Southerly by land hereinafter described as taken from owners unknown, sixteen and 2-100 feet; northwesterly by other land supposed to belong to said Jacobs, twenty-three and 45-100 feet, and easterly by easement taken by the City of Boston June 22, 1931, seventeen and 99-100 feet, containing one hundred and forty-four square feet, more or less.

The sewerage works to be constructed are as follows: 336 linear feet of 10-inch pipe sanitary sewer and 330 linear feet of 10-inch pipe surface drain.

Betterments are to be assessed for the making of the aforesaid improvement.

Ordered, That this Board estimates that the abutting lots of land on the easterly side of Adams street, northerly from Orne street for a distance of approximately two hundred and fifty feet, will receive benefit or advantage, beyond the general advantage to all real estate in said city, from the improvement herein ordered, each of said lots to the amount hereinafter respectively set against it, said lots and the supposed owners thereof being shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Plan No. 1090, Sewerage Works, Adams Street, Ainsley Street, Dorchester, April 25, 1933, William J. Sullivan, Chief Engineer, Street Laying-Out Department," and on file in the office of said department.

PROPOSALS FOR SEWERAGE WORKS IN HUNTOON STREET, BETWEEN MEDWAY AND BUTLER STREETS, DORCHESTER.

The Commissioner of Public Works of the City of Boston, office 508 City Hall Annex, invites proposals from citizens of the United States and corporations or other legal associations wherein the controlling interest to the extent of at least over one half thereof is owned by a citizen or citizens of the United States, for sewerage works in Huntoon street, between Medway and Butler streets, Dorchester. A bond will be required for doing the work of a surety company approved by the Commissioner in the sum of 100 per cent of the amount of the contract, to secure the due performance of the contract and the full protection of the city. Plans and proposals may be obtained at Room 508, City Hall Annex. Each proposal should be inclosed in an envelope, sealed, marked "Proposal for Sewerage Works in Huntoon Street," and left at Room 508, fifth floor, City Hall Annex, before 12 m. of Monday, June 5, 1933, with a certified check for three hundred (300) dollars, payable to and to become the property of the city if the proposal after acceptance is not carried out. The proposals will then and there be publicly opened and read. Proposals must be made in duplicate, the sealed duplicate, without check, to be deposited by the bidder with the City Auditor previous to the time named for opening the proposals. If the price of any item appears to the Commissioner to be abnormally high or low, or the bidder neglects to bid on each and every item, it may lead to the rejection of the proposal containing such price. The undersigned reserves the right to reject any or all proposals or to award the contract as he deems best.

Approved.

The Superintendent offered the following six orders:

ORDERED, That the term 1933 of the summer review high schools shall begin on Monday, June 26, 1933, and close on Friday, August 11, 1933, and that sessions be held on each day of said term, except Saturdays, Sundays, and Tuesday, July 4, 1933, from 8 A. M. to 12 M.

ORDERED, That the term 1933 of the summer review intermediate and elementary schools shall begin on Monday, June 26, 1933, and close on Friday, August 11, 1933, and that sessions be held on each day of said term, except Saturdays, Sundays, and Tuesday, July 4, 1933, from 8:30 A. M. to 12 M.

ORDERED, That summer review schools are hereby established for the term 1933 as follows:

High Schools

Central Summer Review High School, in the English High Schoolhouse, Montgomery Street.

Dorchester Summer Review High School, in the Dorchester High for Girls Schoolhouse, Talbot Avenue and Washington Street, Dorchester.

Intermediate School

Oliver Wendell Holmes Summer Review Intermediate School, in the Oliver Wendell Holmes Schoolhouse, School and Athelwold Streets, Dorchester.

Elementary Schools

Abraham Lincoln Summer Review School, in the Abraham Lincoln Schoolhouse, Arlington and Fayette Streets.

Andrew Jackson Summer Review School, in the Andrew Jackson Schoolhouse, Arlington Street and Webster Place, and the Frederick A. Whitney Schoolhouse, Armington Street, near Islington Street, Allston.

Bigelow Summer Review School, in the Bigelow Schoolhouse, Fourth and E Streets, South Boston.

Hugh O'Brien Summer Review School, in the Hugh O'Brien Schoolhouse, Dudley and Langdon Streets, and the Ralph Waldo Emerson Schoolhouse, Shirley Street, Roxbury.

Sarah Greenwood Summer Review School, in the Sarah Greenwood Schoolhouse, Glenway and Harvard Streets, Dorchester.

Shurtleff Summer Review School, in the Shurtleff Schoolhouse, Dorchester Street near Seventh Street, South Boston.

Theodore Roosevelt Summer Review School, in the Theodore Roosevelt Schoolhouse, School Street, near Dixwell Street, and the George Putnam Schoolhouse, Columbus Avenue, near Dixwell Street, Roxbury.

Ulysses S. Grant Summer Review School, in the Ulysses S. Grant Schoolhouse, Paris Street, near Marion Street, and the Walter E. Fernald Schoolhouse, Paris Street, near Marion Street, East Boston.

Warren Summer Review School, in the Warren Schoolhouse, Pearl and Summer Streets, and the Copley Schoolhouse, Bartlett Street, Charlestown.

Wells Summer Review School, in the Wells Schoolhouse, Blossom and McLean Streets, and the William Blackstone Schoolhouse, Blossom Street.

William Barton Rogers Summer Review School, in the William Barton Rogers Schoolhouse, Everett Street and Harvard Avenue, Hyde Park.

ORDERED, That pupils may be admitted to summer review schools only upon the approval of the Superintendent or of the Assistant Superintendent in charge.

ORDERED, That the Superintendent is hereby authorized to make such emergency appointments and transfers as may be necessary for service in summer review schools for the term 1933.

ORDERED, That Grade IX pupils from intermediate classes be admitted to the Abraham Lincoln and the Theodore Roosevelt Summer Review Elementary Schools during the term 1933.

Chairman: With reference to the establishment of the summer review schools this year, I would point out that two schools have been eliminated; that there will be no Saturday sessions; that the classes will be somewhat larger than previously, all of which will effect a saving of approximately $8,300 without curtailing the opportunities offered in the summer review schools.

COURSE OF STUDY IN FRENCH

On motion of the Superintendent, it was ORDERED, That the accompanying Courses of Study in French, First, Second, Third, and Fourth Units, are hereby adopted, and that one thousand (1,000) copies be printed as a school document.

APPROPRIATIONS AND EXPENDITURES TO MAR. 31, 1933

A communication was received from the Business Manager, under date of Mar. 31, 1933, submitting, pending the adoption of the maintenance budget, a statement showing the expenditures for maintenance of the public schools for the first three drafts of the current financial year, the expenditures for the first three drafts of the financial year 1932, and the increases and decreases in the several items.

Placed on file.

Chairman: With reference to this statement of the Business Manager, I would call attention to the fact that the expenditures for the first three drafts of 1933 total $96,375 less than the expenditures for the same period last year, and the expenditures for land, plans, and construction of school buildings show a decrease of $567,137, which indicates the curtailment which is being done by the Committee and which is beginning to make itself felt.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE TO CUSTODIANS

A communication was received from the Schoolhouse Custodian, under date of Apr. 17, 1933, recommending that John J. Kelley, custodian, Michael J. Perkins Schoolhouse, be granted leave of absence on one-half net compensation for the period Apr. 4 to June 3, 1933, inclusive, because of personal illness.

Placed on file and leave of absence on one-half net compensation granted for the period specified.

A communication was received from the Schoolhouse Custodian, under date of Apr. 17, 1933, recommending that the following-named custodians be granted leave of absence on one-half net compensation for the periods specified because of personal illness:

John Lynch, custodian, Elizabeth Peabody Schoolhouse, Mar. 6 to Apr. 15, 1933, inclusive.

Elizabeth A. Rooney, assistant custodian, Administration Building, Apr. 5, 1933.

Placed on file and leave of absence on one-half net compensation granted for the periods specified.

TRANSFER OF CUSTODIANS

A communication was received from the Schoolhouse Custodian, under date of Apr. 17, 1933, recommending that the appointment of James J. Clark, custodian, Norcross Schoolhouse, to the John A. Andrew Schoolhouse, to take effect

Apr. 9, 1933, as approved at the meeting of Apr. 3, 1933, be withdrawn.

Placed on file and the appointment withdrawn.

A communication was received from the Schoolhouse Custodian, under date of Apr. 17, 1933, recommending that Daniel C. Danick, custodian, Cottage Place Schoolhouse, who stands at the head of the list, be appointed to the John A. Andrew Schoolhouse, to take effect Apr. 23, 1933.

Placed on file and the appointment approved, to take effect on the date stated.

ELECTION OF ASSISTANT SUPERINTENDENT

The Chairman stated that the term of office of Assistant Superintendent William B. Snow expires Aug. 31, 1933, and the election of an Assistant Superintendent is therefore in order.

The Committee proceeded to the election of an Assistant Superintendent of Schools for the term of six years, beginning Sept. 1, 1933.

The members as their names were called respectively voted as follows:

For WILLIAM B. SNOW—Messrs. Hurley, Mackey, Mrs. Pigeon, Messrs. Tobin and Reilly—5.

The Chair declared William B. Snow duly elected Assistant Superintendent for the term specified.

Chairman: Mr. Snow has been in the Boston school service for forty-seven years and has been an Assistant Superintendent since 1921. Due to the retirement age limit in force in the city, Mr. Snow will not complete this six-year term inasmuch as he will be seventy years of age on February 10, 1935. I think that his long and highly efficient service as Assistant Superintendent, Head Master, and teacher in the Boston schools, should be recognized in the records of this meeting by a tribute from this Committee, which tribute we have endeavored to express tonight by his re-election which was without discussion and without hesitancy on the part of any member.

CITIZENSHIP REQUIREMENT—AMENDMENT TO REGULATIONS

Mr. Tobin: I would like to bring to the attention of the Committee the regulations that permit admittance of non-citizens to certificate examinations and eventually to appointment to either temporary or permanent positions. I feel that the teachers in our Boston school system should be one hundred per cent. Americans and have sworn allegiance to the United States of America, and for that reason I am going tonight to present an order that will prevent any but a citizen of the United States receiving appointment in the Boston school system.

I therefore offer the following:

ORDERED. That the rules and regulations are hereby amended as follows:

Section 95, paragraph 3. Strike out the paragraph and substitute in place thereof the following:

3. The board of examiners shall admit to the examinations only citizens of the United States; provided that graduates of The Teachers College who are not citizens may be admitted to said examinations upon presentation of evidence of filing of first papers. (For citizenship requirements for appointment, see Section 265, paragraph 2.) No persons not actually engaged in taking, conducting, or assisting at any examination, except members of the School Committee and of the board of superintendents, shall be present thereat.

Section 265. Insert the following new paragraph as paragraph 2:

2. No person may be appointed to either permanent or temporary service who is not a citizen of the United States, provided that graduates of The Teachers College and pupils in regular attendance at The Teachers College who are not citizens of the United States shall be eligible for appointment upon presentation to the Superintendent of evidence of filing of first papers at the earliest date permissible under the law; and provided, further, that graduates of The Teachers College affected by this regulation who are appointed to permanent service shall not be placed on tenure until they shall have submitted to the Superintendent, within the minimum legal time, necessary evidence of full citizenship.

I propose to make the exception in the case of Teachers College girls because many are denied the privilege of citizenship until they reach their maturity, for I think that otherwise we would be working an injustice to them because of the failure of their parents to become citizens of the United States. For that reason I am recommending the exception, realizing that under the careful watch of the Superintendent, these young people will become citizens immediately upon reaching majority.

Chairman: How does that affect teachers of modern foreign languages?

Mr. Tobin: Under this rule there will be no exception for teachers of modern foreign languages, because in my opinion fluency in English is far more essential than fluency in the foreign tongue. I feel that the fluency of a foreign-born teacher in her native tongue would be counterbalanced by lack of fluency in English. For that reason a teacher who is a native American, who is qualified in a foreign language, I believe would be better qualified as teacher of languages because of her fluency in the native tongue of the pupil.

Chairman: Of course the foreign-born teacher passes an examination and qualifies in English to the standard satisfactory to the School Committee and the Board of Examiners before admittance to the service. We have in neighboring institutions exchange professors who feel that bringing into this country foreign tongues may better exemplify to those they teach the true color and picture of the language they are teaching.

Mr. Tobin: Of course that is a question which is probably raising a doubt in your minds, but to my mind the most essential thing is that the pupil should thoroughly understand what the teacher is attempting to impart, and a person coming from a foreign country naturally is slow in the use of the new tongue. For that reason the native-born American qualified in the foreign language, would be in a much better position to impart knowledge.

Chairman: Mr. Superintendent, can you say how many foreign-born teachers we have in foreign languages?

Superintendent: Not many. Very few, in fact. Our history of the foreign-born teacher in our high school has not been altogether happy; that is to say, the foreign-born teacher doesn't learn readily to handle the American boys and girls, usually—there are exceptions of course, but we haven't had very many foreign-born language teachers. We have had some of the second generation—born in this country of foreign parents, and they do of course remarkably well.

Dr. Mackey: As a matter of fact, the residence rule will eliminate any foreign teacher coming in anyway, will it not?

Chairman: Not necessarily.

Mr. Tobin: No, because foreigners have come to the United States as short a time ago as six months, and the residence rule would not debar them because it reads that they must be residents of Boston as of March 27, 1933.

Dr. Mackey: They must be bona fide residents of Boston.

Chairman: If they are listed on police records, I think that qualifies them.

Dr. Mackey: Bona fide residence means voting in Boston.

Chairman: I think that Mr. Tobin's motion is praiseworthy because it emphasizes the fact that we want first of all from our teachers exemplary examples of citizenship. Mr. Tobin's motion probably emphasizes Dr. Mackey's order which effected the residence requirement. If ever we needed emphasis on citizenship and patriotism it is in these days when there is so much national consciousness on the part of other nations as well as the United States. I am heartily in sympathy with the motion and only felt doubtful about its application to foreign-born instructors in modern languages because I wasn't clear on the point as to whether they would be more valuable. The Superintendent's and Mr. Tobin's remarks, however, answered the question in my mind as I am going to be recorded in favor of the motion.

Mrs. Pigeon: I would like to ask whether we today are educating girls, students in our Teachers College, free of charge, whose parents are not citizens of the United States?

Superintendent: I don't know. That question has never been raised. We don't ask any girl what her father or mother was. There is no condition precedent. I hope you would not shut a child out of opportunity because her mother or father was born in some other country.

Mrs. Pigeon: If they hadn't made any effort to become citizens?

Superintendent: It isn't the fault of the child.

Chairman: It is safe to say that it is possible that there may be some?

Superintendent: I think we may have a few. That is the point of Mr. Tobin's exception, that if there are any young women in The Teachers College whose parents have neglected to take out citizenship papers, the students should not be penalized forever. If they do their best to correct that neglect at the first opportunity, they are justified.

Mr. Tobin: I might also point out that some foreign countries will not even permit Americans who are legally in those foreign countries to engage in private gainful occupations. France has barred all American orchestras, while we, on the other hand, will permit citizens of France to come in here and take examinations for service in our government and appoint them to those positions. I think we should here, tonight, take action that will prevent any foreigner in the future securing appointment in the Boston school system.

Chairman: I don't think the Committee would be criticized for the passage of such an order. The residence requirement aroused some controversy because it seemed to be provincial, but the trend of all countries and communities seems to be toward localization of employment. We see "Buy British," "Buy German," and "Buy American" movements to an extent that would seem to restrict the opportunities presented to our products abroad. At the same time, the passage of the order will place emphasis on citizenship as we would like to have it placed, and will effect no sacrifice in our standards of teaching. If I may interpret Mr. Tobin's statement to mean that he moves that this order be passed tonight under a suspension of the rules, I am willing to second the motion.

Superintendent: I trust that no one will infer from any remarks I made that I was criticising adversely any foreign-born teacher now in our service. I can recall offhand two ladies of foreign birth in the service who are doing outstanding work in modern foreign languages. I don't know of anyone at the present I would criticize as inefficient.

Mrs. Pigeon: Apropos of what Mr. Tobin has stated about France, I know it is also true that there is no country on the face of the earth which will permit or even tolerate opera presented in any language which is foreign to that particular country except here in the United States.

The rules were suspended and the order amending the rules and regulations was passed by the following vote:

YEAS—Messrs. Hurley, Mackey, Mrs. Pigeon, Messrs. Reilly and Tobin—5.

NAYS—0.

The Committee adjourned.

NO-PARKING ZONES FOR SCHOOLS REDUCE PEDESTRIAN HAZARD.

Minneapolis has passed an ordinance which establishes all streets on sides adjacent to schools as no-parking zones from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. This is particularly significant since records have shown that a large per cent of child accidents have been due to children stepping out from behind parked cars.

These zones are painted yellow and serve to attract the attention of the motorist as well as to give him a clear vision while passing the school.

GOVERNMENT IN BUSINESS.

For many years we have heard innumerable bankers, business men and professional men talk about too much government in business. But these same people are constantly before legislatures asking government to do something to protect their selfish interests. The doctor, the lawyer, the dentist, and each profession is always asking the government to make the entrance to their unions more difficult not with the idea of protecting the people but with the hope of stopping or reducing competition. The local merchant is always asking the council, the state and the nation to prohibit competition by peddlers and transient merchants. When the winds of depleted deposits began to whirl about the banks the government was asked to bear the burden, and if official authority is to be believed the government and the politicians saved the banks and not the high-browed presidents and directors of the banks. The real truth is that we do not want government to interfere with us in our desires, but do ask government to enter business in any and every conceivable way that we think will help us make a little more money of the realm.

BOSTON INCORPORATED AS A CITY, 1822.

The act of incorporation was passed by the Legislature on February 23, 1822. On March 4 following, the voters of Boston accepted said act, chapter 110, 1821-22, as its first city charter by a majority of 916 in a total vote of 4,678. The vote was 2,797 yeses, 1,881 nays. Previous attempts to incorporate as a city had been made in 1650, 1659, 1667, 1708, 1744, 1762, 1784, 1791, 1804 and 1815. The charter was revised in 1854, 1885 and 1909. Amendments to the 1909 charter were enacted in 1910, 1912, 1914, 1918, 1919, 1921, 1922 and lastly in 1924 (see "Municipal Register" for 1928, pages 19-43).

FINANCING SEWAGE WORKS BY SPECIAL ASSESSMENT IN IOWA.

The cost of constructing sewage disposal plants in a number of states, and in Iowa in particular, may be levied against the various lots, parts of lots or parcels of ground draining to, or susceptible to drainage to, the site of the disposal plant. Such assessments must be in proportion to the benefits to each property and must not, in any case, exceed one-fourth of the fair value of the property in question. These special assessments are payable in the same manner as other municipal improvement costs; that is, in ten annual equal installments, paid at the same time and place as the March 1 installment of ordinary taxes in Iowa. Any property owner may pay off the unpaid portion of such tax at any time. Interest on the deferred payments must not exceed 6 per cent.

DELINQUENT TAX SALES.

CITY OF BOSTON.

CITY COLLECTOR'S NOTICE.

The owners and occupants of the following described parcels of real estate situated in the City of Boston, in the County of Suffolk and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and the public, are hereby notified that the taxes and assessments thereon severally assessed for the years hereinafter specified, according to the lists committed by the assessors of taxes of said City to me as collector of taxes for said City, including assessments for the suppression of gypsy and brown-tail moths, remain unpaid, and that the smallest undivided part of said land sufficient to satisfy taxes and assessments, with interests and all legal costs and charges, or the whole of said land if no person offers to take an undivided part thereof, will be offered for sale by public auction at the City Collector's office, on the second floor of the City Hall Annex on Court street, in said City of Boston, on Tuesday, June 6, 1933, at 9.30 o'clock a. m. for the payment of said taxes and assessments, with interests, costs and charges thereon, unless the same shall be previously discharged.

The sums set against the following descriptions of the several parcels of land show the amounts due thereon respectively for the taxes and assessments for the nonpayment of which each of said parcels of land is to be sold, but do not include the cost and interests thereon and costs and charges incident to this sale.

All persons desiring to be examined, either for a master or journeyman certificate, shall have application on file at least ten days previous to the date of such examination.

Applicants for examination will be required to obtain at least 70 per cent in order to obtain a certificate.

Applicants who fail to obtain the required 70 per cent will not be entitled to re-examination until a period of three months has elapsed, and those who receive less than 50 per cent, or who fail on the practical demonstration, will not be re-examined for a period of six months.

Any person found referring to notes or books, or misbehaving during an examination, will be debarred from that examination.

Notice will be sent to applicants for certificates when and where examination will be held, and only those so notified will be examined on that day.

CHICAGO TRAFFIC POLICE IN YEAR-LONG DRIVE.

Chicago traffic experts have promised a 50 per cent decrease in deaths from motor-car accidents, as a result of a week-by-week drive now in operation by Commissioner Russell of the Police Department to enforce the city traffic code. The drive, an outgrowth of the National Safety Congress and Chicago Safety Week recently held in Chicago, is expected to prove a valuable educational feature for drivers, pedestrians and policemen.

RURAL TEACHERS' SUPERVISION.

Improving instruction in rural schools through promoting the efficiency and professional growth of teachers is the most important function of supervision in connection with the rural school movement. In the accomplishment of this purpose supervisors use different means and procedures usually designated as supervisory measures, according to the United States Office of Education. Among those found particularly successful in rural communities are: County-wide teachers' meetings, circular letters, group conferences, visitations, individual conferences, and help rendered by teachers to colleagues.

LIFE-GIVING PATRIOTISM IS LOCAL.

By civic patriotism is meant the feeling and the taking of a deep, unselfish, earnest, ever-wakeful, active interest in the affairs of one's own city or local community, regarding it as having an autonomy, a distinct personality, a name and interests of its own, and, if one pleases, endowed with a sense of personal honor and with all laudable ambitions for the promotion of the welfare of its people.

Where such civic virtues exist the local community will neither suffer from the dry-rot of public indifference and neglect nor become tainted with graft or corruption. Its life will be healthful, and, like the ocean, will be kept pure by its own ceaseless flow and movement. All life-giving patriotism is local.

Show a good municipal citizen and one will see a citizen who loves his state, and who loves his nation, and who will discharge all the duties of this triple relation. Good government in local affairs is the best assurance of good government in state and national affairs.

RECREATION, ADEQUATE AS TO KIND AND AVAILABILITY.

Although the ratio of park acreage to population has been used as the simplest measure of the extent to which cities provide areas for the recreation of their people, it is by no means an accurate basis for determining this. If most of the total acreage is in one large park, if the parks are poorly distributed, or if they do not provide various types of recreation facilities, the park system may be inefficient even though the acreage is large. The efficiently planned park and recreation system will involve balanced relationship and well-distributed location of several types of properties, namely, children's playgrounds, neighborhood playfield parks, neighborhood parks, reservations, boulevards, and parkways.

(Bureau of Labor Statistics, Publication No. 462.)

CHANGING STREET NAMES.

Alteration in the names of streets seems to be on the increase in the United States. In most cases the reasons for it are inadequate, while changes that would actually make for clearness remain unmade. The reason for change would usually seem to be general patriotism, national or local, as where the name of some prominent person is given to a street. During the war German names were largely discarded, as where Berlin avenue in St. Louis became Pershing avenue. In the height of President Wilson's popularity abroad, Wilson avenues sprang up all over the allied countries. Later, disappointment or dissatisfaction caused many of these to be changed.

A SQUARE DEAL IN ASSESSMENTS FOR TAXATION.

Many cities are finding it greatly to their advantage to have their tax valuations periodically overhauled. The first criterion of any assessment is equity. For every citizen who wants through "pull" or however else to get off easy, there are twenty, nay a hundred, who want a fair and square deal for all.

The appraisal of city real estate is a highly technical affair.

Few things are more important than the equalization of assessments. Particularly in cities that are cramped by an inflexible debt or tax limit, an honest, full value assessment may be a great boon. Without the slightest raise in the tax rate a substantially greater tax yield may be had.

PHILADELPHIA'S GROWTH.

The principal American cities are sharing Philadelphia's experience of growing faster outside than inside the official city limits. That portion of the 1930 tentative Philadelphia metropolitan area which lies outside the city limits increased 42.1 per cent in population in the last ten years. Meanwhile, Philadelphia itself grew in population 7 per cent. The increase for the entire metropolitan area, which is considerably smaller than the Philadelphia Tri-State District, was 16 per cent. The Philadelphia metropolitan area submitted for approval of the Census Bureau is regarded as of 1,141 square miles, of which the city itself comprises 128 square miles.

Typical of the growth that has been taking place just outside the city limits, Upper Darby Township, at the western gateway to Philadelphia, grew at the phenomenal rate of 421 per cent in the last decade.

In 1910, Delaware County, west of Philadelphia, and Camden County, southeast of Philadelphia, had average population densities per square mile of between 450 and 650. In 1930 the comparable average densities in these counties were between 1,100 and 1,700.

LEGAL HOLIDAYS.

As provided by the Revised Laws of Massachusetts, also by chapter 473, Acts of 1910, and chapter 104, General Acts of 1916 (ratified by the electorate on November 7, 1916), legal holidays on which the public offices shall be closed, include January 1, February 22, April 19, May 30, July 4, September (first Monday), October 12, Armistice Day (November 11), Thanksgiving Day (the last Thursday in November) and Christmas Day (December 25).

HEIGHT OF BUILDINGS NEAR AIRPORT.

After fifteen months of effort by the Aviation Department of the San Diego Chamber of Commerce, an ordinance has been adopted by the City Council of San Diego limiting the height of buildings in the area adjacent to the municipal airport, Lindbergh Field, which is 1½ miles from the center of the business district. According to Thomas F. Bomar, manager of the Chamber's Aviation Department, it was necessary to survey the vicinity of the field, make contour maps of that area, convince the property owners and the City Planning Commission of the necessity and desirability of the ordinance, and then overcome the efforts of the few objectors before the City Council.

STATE-WIDE CAMPAIGN AGAINST DIPHTHERIA BRINGS NOTABLE RESULTS.

A decrease in cases and deaths has been very marked during the five-year campaign in New York State for the extirpation of diphtheria. The campaign was the joint effort of the State Departments of Health and Education, the State Medical Society, the Welfare Division of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, and the State Committee on Tuberculosis and Public Health of the State Charities Aid Association, all banded together. They were aided by the parent-teacher associations, women's clubs, civic clubs and other social and welfare organizations.

Although the goal was not completely reached, the results are very encouraging and prove beyond a doubt that diphtheria can be controlled.

It has been estimated that at least 35 per cent of the children under five years old must be protected against diphtheria before a community is safe from an epidemic of the disease. No city over 100,000 has yet reached that percentage, although Utica with 30 per cent approaches that figure. While it is more difficult for a big city to attain a large percentage of immunizations, with a proper organization and sufficient determination this can be done.

Cities that have attained the 35 per cent standard are:

50,000 to 100,000 population: Binghamton and Niagara Falls, 38; New Rochelle, 35.

25,000 to 50,000: White Plains, 49; Kingston, 36; Poughkeepsie and Auburn, 35.

10,000 to 25,000: Middletown, 73; Ogdensburg, 65; Hornell and Port Jervis, 56; Endicott, 54; Johnson City, 53; Geneva, 49; Rockville Center, 45; Massena, 44; Ossining, 41; Mamaroneck, 40; Gloversville, 39; Glen Cove, 38; Peekskill, 37.

WATER SUPPLY FROM WELLS.

The entire water supply of Memphis is taken from wells. The wells penetrate two strata of sand, the upper stratum being 300 to 500 feet below the surface, and the lower stratum roughly 1,000 feet deeper. The upper stratum, known as the LaGrange formation, is the more important and furnishes most of the supply. It is the one commonly used in this vicinity.

The lower stratum has been developed by the city to a limited extent, because wells in it do not interfere with those in the upper stratum, and therefore wells in the respective strata can be placed in close proximity to each other, and a greater capacity obtained from a given area. The LaGrange formation underlies western Tennessee, eastern Arkansas and northern Mississippi. It outcrops in a belt roughly parallel with the Mississippi river and some 40 miles eastward therefrom. Throughout this entire region it furnishes an ample supply to many municipalities and industries. The outcrop area is such that an abundant supply is in sight, for everyone caring to use it, for many years to come. The sands and clays, which are interspersed, are supposed to be deposits formed in prehistoric times, when the entire Mississippi Valley as far north as Cairo was practically an arm of the Gulf of Mexico.

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE OF BOSTON MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

VOL. 25.

SATURDAY, MAY 27, 1933.

No. 21

MAYOR CURLEY AND DISTINGUISHED GROUP OF CITIZENS TAKE PART IN EXERCISES DEDICATING MARY E. CURLEY PAVILION FOR CARE OF CHILDREN AT CITY HOSPITAL—PORTRAIT OF BOSTON'S BEST-LOVED FIRST LADY UNVEILED BY HER SON, FRANCIS—MAYOR CURLEY AND OTHERS SPEAK.

In the presence of many distinguished members of the medical profession, the commercial and the business life of the city, on Saturday, May 20, the new ten-story pediatrics building of the Boston City Hospital was dedicated and formally opened for use. The pavilion, named in the memory and honor of Mrs. Mary Emelda Curley, late wife of Mayor James M. Curley, was dedicated with exercises held in the spacious lecture hall, at which time Francis Curley unveiled a portrait of his mother.

Dr. George G. Sears, of the trustees, presided and following an orchestral selection the following invocation was pronounced by Rev. Francis A. Hugal, S. J.

O Father of mercies and God of all consolations, O God on Whom we all depend for strength, both in youth and maturity, graciously extend Thy right hand in benediction upon this beautiful edifice, fashioned by the hands of Thy zealous servants for all Thy children, who in a tender age are ill, and maimed and broken in body.

O God of Infinite Goodness and Love, Who once humbly trod the byways of men, healing the sick and infirm, both in body and soul, and hast so touchingly manifested Thy sweet love for children, watch over this sacred abode, and generously bless those who are responsible for its coming into being. Bless also and guide the eager hands of our doctors, and inspire our nurses to unselfish devotion in the care of Thy little ones, so that they may come to the fullness of life, and with their lives prolonged, may ever thank Thee, and daily advance in grace and wisdom before Thee and men, and serve Thee forever in justice and holiness. Amen.

Following the invocation, Mr. Carl Dreyfus, one of the trustees, was introduced with the following words:

"We are assembled here to dedicate a new unit of the Boston City Hospital, erected for the sole purpose of caring for suffering children and named in honor of a gracious lady, a lover of children, a perfect mother and a devoted wife. It is not my function to speak of the purposes or aims of this new building. I must leave that to tongues more eloquent than mine. I would therefore call on Mr. Carl Dreyfus, who you know is a distinguished citizen of Boston, a potent molder of public opinion and a member of the Board of Trustees for many years, where he has given unstintingly of his time and brains; to whom the hospital and the citizens of Boston owe a debt of gratitude in its development."

Mr. Dreyfus spoke as follows:

In 1864 the Boston City Hospital first opened its doors "for the reception of persons who by misfortune or poverty might require relief during temporary sickness." Since that time, when the hospital was little better than a boarding house for suffering people, the record is one of which the city may well be proud! For many years the hospital went along without any great expansion and with little increase in the number of patients treated.

Twenty years ago it was a relatively small place with only 12,000 admissions in the course of a year. Ten years ago the number grew to 20,000 per year, in 1932, 36,000 were admitted to the main hospital and nearly 500,000 were treated in the Out-Patient Department. Today it has more bed patients than the Massachusetts General, the Carney, the Beth Israel, the Peter Bent Brigham and St. Elizabeth's Hospitals combined.

This tremendous growth was directly the result of Mayor Curley's forethought and liberality and understanding of the city's needs. I remember well that he called us to his office during his first administration and bade us prepare plans for the expansion of the hospital—not for one, or two or five years, but for at least twenty-five years. The growth in the hospital, the fine buildings, are indeed the result of his vision. The city can never be too grateful for his insistence that this hospital be made the outstanding municipal hospital not only in this country but in the world.

The Out-Patient Building was built first, and it has become a model of correct out-patient procedure. Just think of it! Nearly one thousand eight hundred patients are treated in this Out-Patient Building every day in the year.

Next came the Thorndike Building where we are now gathered. In this laboratory medical history has been made; and, as a result, the City Hospital is known throughout the world wherever progressive medicine is taught and practised.

Following the Thorndike the Maternity Building was erected. Twenty years ago seventy cases were delivered in a year. Ten years ago there were 600 deliveries. In 1932 there were 3,500 babies born here in our hospital. Almost ten new babies every day!

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"
From Boston Centennial Poem by
NATHAN HASKELL DOLE.

FUTURE OF PORT OF BOSTON BRIGHTENS AS BARRIERS RESTRICTING TRADE TRAFFIC APPEAR TO BE LIFTING AND TRANSPORTATION OF AMERICAN GOODS IN AMERICAN SHIPS BECOME MORE AND MORE POSSIBLE—MAYOR CURLEY PREDICTS GREAT PROGRESS FOR BOSTON, IN DISCUSSING NATIONAL MARITIME DAY IN CITY HALL BROADCAST.

In his broadcast on National Maritime Day, May 22, Mayor Curley spoke as follows:

Congress has decreed and the President of the United States has issued a proclamation that May twenty-second be designated as National Maritime Day.

Upon this day — one hundred and fourteen years ago — the steamship "Savannah" left Savannah, Georgia, upon an historic voyage which marked the evolution from sailing ships to those propelled by steam power.

Boston, which has ever been a pioneer in every progressive movement, shortly thereafter established a line of steamers between the United States and Europe and which continued in operation until 1846, while the Cunard Line established a regular passenger and freight service between Boston and Liverpool in 1840 and will in seven years observe the one hundredth anniversary of steam transportation between Europe and the United States.

The past year has been a most notable one, notwithstanding depression in the matter of maritime progress for the Port of Boston. During the past twelve months regular sailings have been established by the leading lines as follows:

ADDITIONS.

The Cunard Line. Mediterranean cruise of the "Franconia."

Holland-American Line. Special Mediterranean and Norway cruise of steamer "Volendam."

Eastern Steamship Company. Regular service to St. John, N. B.

Southern Pacific. The Mediterranean, Gulf ports, running three a month.

Atlantic and Great Lakes Steamship Corporation. To Chicago and Milwaukee.

The Maersk Line. To the Far East.

Clyde Mallory Line. Gulf ports in addition to regular ports.

IMPROVEMENTS.

American Export Line. To Mediterranean ports. Two sailings a month instead of one.

Black Diamond Line. Direct sailing every two weeks instead of three.

East Coast Line. To Portland. Three sailings a week instead of two.

Isthmian Line. To Pacific Coast. Every two weeks instead of monthly.

DIRECT SERVICE FROM BOSTON. LAST UNITED STATES PORT EASTBOUND.

Italian Line. To Azores and Mediterranean.

National Steam Navigation Company of Greece. To Azores and Mediterranean.

Anchor Line. To Belfast and Glasgow.

Canada Line. To Bermuda and West Indies.

North German Lloyd. To Bremen.

Cunard and White Star Line. To Cobh and Liverpool.

Newfoundland-Canada Line. To Halifax, St. Pierre and St. John's, Newfoundland.

Hamburg-America Line. To Hamburg.

Leyland Line. To Liverpool.

Oriole Line. To Liverpool, Manchester and Channel ports.

American-Hampton Roads Line. To London.

Brocklebank Line. To London.

DIRECT SERVICE TO BOSTON. FIRST PORT WESTBOUND.

American-West African Line. From African ports.

American-South African Line. From African ports.

Elder-Dempster Line. From African ports.

American-Pioneer Line. From Australian ports.

Scandinavian-American Line, Swedish-American Line, Wilhelmsen Line. From Baltic and Scandinavian ports.

North German Lloyd Line. From Bremen.

Canadian-National, Incorporated. From British West Indies and Bermuda.

Bank Line, Blue Funnel Line, Java Line, Prince Line, Silver Line. From Far East ports.

Anchor Line. From Glasgow and Belfast.

Hamburg-American Line. From Hamburg.

American-Hampton Roads Line. From Hampton.

Ellerman-Wilson Line. From Newcastle, England.

Leyland Line. From Liverpool.

Cunard and White Star Lines. From Liverpool and Cobh.

American Merchant Line. From London.

I am this day in receipt of a most interesting communication from the vice chairman of the Boston Port Authority directing my attention to the fact that the Holland-American Line have assigned one of their first-class passenger liners, the steamship "Volendam," for regular sailings between Boston and European ports, starting on the fifth of July of the present year.

The success of the movement for the promotion of the commerce of Boston seems fairly well assured with the report of the examiner for the Interstate Commerce Commission, recently submitted to the full commission, recommending the abolition of the custom of the absorbing of charges by the railroads and steamship lines at the port of New York. This recommendation is as a consequence of the movement inaugurated by myself in 1916 for what is known as the removal of discriminatory system of differentials which have operated to the detriment of the port and which, unless ended, would ultimately destroy the commercial life of the Port of Boston.

The City of Boston has expended upwards of two hundred thousand dollars in the conduct of this case and with the acquiescence of the full board of the Interstate Commerce Commission, which now seems assured, there is every likelihood that the next year will witness a commercial revival at the Port of Boston such as has never previously taken place.

ADD $100,000,000 TO TRADE.

In the opinion of competent maritime authorities who have been in charge of the Boston case it is not unreasonable to assume that the removal of the discriminatory charges and the ending of the absorption of charges of every character at the port of New York will add one hundred million dollars annually to the commerce of our city.

During the past ten years more than 60 per cent of all goods manufactured for shipment from New England have been routed by way of New York, and notwithstanding advantages that the Port of Boston possesses of direct connection between rail and steamship, and with the Army Base and the Commonwealth Pier, representing an investment of more than thirty millions of dollars, merchants and shippers have found it more advantageous to route their goods by way of New York.

The assignment by the leading maritime companies of the world of their best ships to the Port of Boston should result in regular sailings from the port, and with a system of regular sailings a tremendous saving can be effected for industrial New England, and no possible reason could be presented for the failure upon the part of New England industries to utilize the facilities of the Port of Boston for the shipment of goods to foreign ports.

Some nine years ago a movement was inaugurated under the direction of the Boston Commercial and Industrial Bureau with the slogan "Sail and Ship from Boston." The results were not altogether gratifying, due to the advantages resulting from the unfair competition created by the New York railroad and steamship lines, whereby all charges were absorbed by the railroad and steamship companies, the result being that two-thirds of the entire foreign commerce originating in New England was shipped via the port of New York.

The removal of the discriminatory charges places the Port of Boston on a competitive basis where in the future it will be more advantageous to ship by way of the Port of Boston than any other port, and if the merchants whose places of business are in New England will take advantage of the opportunity that is presented, and will adopt the above slogan and live up to it, it is a certainty that Boston will shortly once more occupy the place of pre-eminence so long held in the maritime world.

PEACE PACT BENEFICIAL.

In connection with the observance of National Maritime Day the pleasing news is published in the press that the four leading countries of Europe are to sign a peace pact covering a period of ten years. The credit for the adoption of a ten-year peace pact upon the part of the leading countries of Europe is due to the brilliant and able leader of Italy—Premier Benito Mussolini. Its value to our own country, with the immediate prospect of commercial revival, is best realized when we consider that 80 per cent of all wars in the world's history have been due to the desire of certain nations for commercial supremacy, so that the announcement that we are to have ten years of peace is of vital importance to the United States, embarking once more upon a commercial program.

Twenty-five years ago the annual shipment from the Port of Boston of what is known as "grain cargoes," which are regarded as the best character of cargo, was some forty million bushels of grain in a single year. With the adoption of the discriminatory differentials these shipments have decreased each year until in 1932 they had reached the figure of three million one hundred and sixteen thousand bushels.

With the removal of the barriers, and with the restoration of the canal system of grain storage facilities at Oswego and and at Buffalo, and with the possibility of a more elastic system of railroad line connections, the future commerce of the port, provided public and civic organizations are alert and vigilant, is reasonably assured.

The advantage to American merchants in the shipment of American made goods in ships flying the American flag is self-evident. Apparently a new era has dawned upon the Port of Boston from the standpoint of maritime progress, activity and prosperity and as a part of the new era there is a reasonable certainty of the restoration once more upon the waterways of the world of the flag of our beloved country—Old Glory.

WELFARE DEPARTMENT GETS FINAL QUOTA FROM UNEMPLOYMENT DRIVE.

His Honor the Mayor received the following communication from William H. Taylor, chairman, Boston Emergency Committee on Unemployment, together with check:

May 18, 1933.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston.

MY DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Inclosed you will find check for $4,500 drawn by the United Boston Unemployment Relief Campaign and payable to the Overseers of the Public Welfare. This check represents additional money collected as a part of the 1932 United Boston Unemployment Relief Campaign, which was organized as a part of the program of the Boston Emergency Committee on Unemployment, appointed by your Honor, and of which I had the honor of being chairman.

This check, together with the $1,816,235.05 already received, brings the total amount collected for the use of the Overseers of the Public Welfare, as a result of last year's campaign, to the sum of $1,820,735.05.

Yours very truly,

WILLIAM H. TAYLOR,
Chairman, Boston Emergency Committee on Unemployment.

MOVES FOR UNIFORM BUILDING CODES.

Mayor Curley received the following letter from the New England Building Officials Conference:

I have read in the newspapers that after the recent disaster the authorities in Maine recognized the advantages of better building laws, and I am writing to your Honor with the thought that you may assist his Excellency Louis J. Brann of Maine, by conveying to him the following information:

The New England Building Officials Conference, an organization made up of building officials of New England, is at present engaged in writing a Proposed Recommended Uniform Building Code for Cities and Towns of New England.

In this work they are assisted by a great many competent and public-spirited architects, engineers and building contractors, and others interested in the building industry.

The Great Boston Fire of 1872 showed the necessity of a proper building law and building department, and was one of the reasons for the forming of such a department.

The first recommendation of the coroner's jury investigating the recent earthquake in the Los Angeles basin was that the recommended uniform building code of the Pacific Coast Building Officials Conference be adopted.

It has occurred to me that the towns of Ellsworth and Auburn in Maine may be in need of expert advice in the writing of a proposed building code for their respective towns.

One of the slogans of the New England Building Officials Conference is "Better Buildings" and "Better Building Laws," and this conference stands ready to give any necessary advice or assistance to these stricken towns.

Respectfully yours,
EDW. W. ROEMER, President.

MAYOR FIXES MINIMUM WAGE FOR CONTRACT LABORERS.

Upon May 22 the Mayor issued the following statement:

It has been the custom in the awarding of contracts to make a proviso that the prevailing rate of wages for teamsters and mechanics be paid, in conformity with the statutes. In the case of laborers it has been the custom in recent years to insist that the contractors doing the work for the City of Boston pay not less than 62½ cents per hour. The recent revision in wage scales makes necessary a change at this time, since it is extremely difficult to properly construe the meaning of "prevailing rate," since apparently, due to the slashing of wage scales, there is no established basis that can be arrived at as an equitable prevailing rate. Consequently, I have instructed the various heads of departments to insert in all contracts hereafter awarded a proviso that the wages paid to laborers upon contract work shall be not less than 50 cents per hour.

In any case where a contractor is found to be paying less than 50 cents an hour for laborers his contract will be cancelled, his firm will be blacklisted, and no contract will be awarded him in future, regardless of the bid which he may submit.

The attention of the Commissioner of Public Works has been directed to the payment of less than a fair rate of wages to laborers, and I have instructed the commissioner to send for the contractor and notify him that unless he pays the rates determined upon this day, his contract will be revoked and he will receive no further awards, regardless of bids.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 24.

I. FIRE DEPARTMENT BAND.

The next meeting and rehearsal of the Fire Department Band will be held on Monday afternoon, May 22, 1933, at the quarters of Engine Company 26, Broadway. A meeting of the band will be held at 3 o'clock and the rehearsal will start at 4. Members will bring their music, music stands and instruments and report promptly at the time mentioned.

Members of the band who are on the twenty-four hour tour of duty and the night tour of duty will be excused from 6 to 8.30 p. m. Members of the band who are on the day tour of duty will be excused from 2 p. m. to 6 p. m.

II. POLL TAXES.

It has been brought to the attention of the Fire Commissioner that some city employees have been delinquent in the payment of poll taxes for 1932. A check up is being made of all those who have not paid their taxes and the commissioner will hold all members of the Fire Department to a strict accounting for failure to comply with their legal obligation to pay their poll taxes. Any member of the department who has not paid his poll tax for 1932 or who has any doubt in the matter should give it his immediate attention.

III. BILLS FOR ELECTRICITY.

A comparison of the electric light bills for the months of March and April, 1933, show a substantial reduction in the use of this commodity and the Fire Commissioner wishes to commend the officers and members of the department for the interest they are taking to reduce maintenance costs. The bill for March, 1933, was $567.68 less than in March of 1932, and the bill for April, 1933, was $244.21 less than in April of 1932.

The commissioner expects to see even greater savings during the ensuing months now that the city is on daylight saving time. The days are longer and the use of electricity should be considerably decreased.

IV. BUNDLE DAYS.

Bundle Days, in aid of the Near East Relief, will be observed on May 22, 23 and 24. In accordance with the annual custom the fire stations of the department will be open during those days as receiving stations for bundles of clothing.

Posters, designating fire stations as bundle stations, are being issued to the department today. Company commanders will place the posters in prominent positions on stations.

Members of the department are requested to receive courteously any bundles that are brought in any time prior to May 25 and no bundles for the Near East Relief are to be received after that date.

By order of Fire Commissioner EDWARD F. McLAUGHLIN.

HENRY A. FOX,
Chief of Department.

MARY E. CURLEY PAVILION.

Surgical and medical buildings followed in rapid succession—to be filled to overflowing only too quickly.

And once again Mayor Curley came to the fore. He saw, with that rare acumen he shows so often, that better facilities were needed for the medical and surgical care of children. He encouraged the trustees to make new plans, and we are gathered here today to dedicate the fruition of those plans, our new Children's Ward.

About this building we hope there will always linger the spirit of one of the finest women our city has known—a woman who captivated our hearts, who was an inspiration and guide to her husband, a noble mother to her children, the apotheosis of womanliness. It is entirely fitting that this new building, representing Boston's motherly care for all sick children, should be named in honor of that lovely mother, Mary E. Curley.

Your Honor, you have been the best friend the City Hospital has known. The trustees are proud of the opportunity to pay you this public tribute of their regard and appreciation and they earnestly hope that you may continue your career of public service for many, many years.

In presenting Mayor Curley, Doctor Sears said:

"It has been my fortune to have served on the active roster of the hospital as long or longer than any other member. During that time I have had contact with each succeeding chief executive of the city, and it is no over-statement to declare that no Mayor has ever exceeded the present incumbent in vision and imagination regarding what a municipal hospital should stand for or more active in aiding the development of its many functions. He has taken a large share in making the Boston City Hospital pre-eminent among municipal institutions and a worthy competitor of those privately endowed. It is a pleasure to give place to the best friend of the hospital and to the man best qualified by experience and intellectual attainments to bring the city out of its present distressing condition—his Honor, our Mayor, James M. Curley."

MAYOR CURLEY'S ADDRESS.

Mr. Chairman, Reverend Sirs, Ladies and Gentlemen.

I want to express in behalf of my family and myself the sincere appreciation for the very great honor conferred upon my late wife, Mrs. Curley, in the naming of this building, dedicated to the care of the sick and injured children of Boston, to her memory.

The trustees have been exceedingly kind in their reference to contributions made by me as Mayor to the development of a program that meant so much to the people of Boston.

I want to say that I am reminded of Plutarch's reference to an old general by the name of Themistocles who was a bit of a braggart and an egotist, who when addressing the populace of Greece made continual reference to his own particular achievements, using the personal pronoun time and time again in telling of the accomplishments of the army, but in no case giving credit to the soldiery who made possible his success. He said, "I led the army and we captured fifty cities and we sacked one hundred towns and secured tremendous booty and many prisoners." Suddenly a man who had lost an arm and a leg spoke up and said, "Were there no soldiers with you?"

I want to say it would have been an utter impossibility for me to have made possible the accomplishments in the construction of facilities for the care of the sick and injured were it not for the assistance and encouragement, and the wisdom of the advice of the Trustees of the Boston City Hospital, and of the surgical and medical staffs associated with the hospital. These women and men who make the greatest contribution that it is possible for any individual to make, are the heroes not only of peace time, but the heroes of wartime, the doctors and the nurses. It is unfortunate that opportunity presents itself so seldom to pay to them the meed of tribute which their services and contributions entitle them to receive.

I recall receiving a communication from a friend connected with the Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore, asking if I would intercede with some of the men with whom I had served in Congress some twenty-one years ago, for the purpose of securing a pension of $75 a month for the widow of Dr. Joseph Goldberger, who gave his life in an endeavor to develop a serum to overcome pellagra. I wrote to every member in Congress that I knew that it was the desire of the friends of the widow of Doctor Goldberger to secure a pension for her of $75 a month so that she might not become a public charge, and Congress in its wisdom reduced the amount of the pension to $50 a month. In private practice, in all probability this man, with his great ability, would have accumulated great wealth, sufficient at least to provide ease and comfort for the members of his family, but he preferred to do as countless thousands of women and men do in America and that is to make unselfish sacrifice for the welfare of humanity, for the benefit of his fellow men and women. It is a wonderful spirit and yet it is a spirit that has made itself manifest almost from the beginning of the great call of the profession of medicine. As it was in the case of Doctor Goldberger so we may cite many thousands more.

I recall in 1916 we were seriously disturbed about children's diseases and more particularly about what we termed "cross-infection" and the necessity for separate buildings for the treatment of each of the particular diseases that we believed every child in America should have, so we took over the Parental School property, where, for a period of twenty-five years, we had mistakenly committed boys whose only offense was truancy in order to witness a circus parade. We committed them there for two years and an investigation disclosed the fact that about 42 per cent of the boys were sent there for minor offenses, ultimately became inmates of Concord Reformatory or State Prison. Repeated attempts were made to have this institution abolished, but well-intentioned though misguided women and men prevented any action in this direction, but along in 1914 we forgot to make an appropriation for that department and it ceased to function. In 1917 we declared war and then the wounded began to drift across from the other side and we turned the building over to the government. When the time came for the Federal Government to turn it back we discovered that Doctor Schick of Chicago with his wife had conducted a series of experiments for the treatment of diphtheria. Doctor Dick had done likewise and in ten years sufficient progress had been made for the care of children so that it was unnecessary to occupy any of these buildings since the children could be taken care of by the installation of a cubical system within our own building and the general application of the Schick and Dick treatments made it unnecessary to enlarge the quarters.

It seems strange that every time medical science overcomes some scourge some new one takes its place, and along came the Ford car to fill the hospitals when the beds were empty of diphtheria patients and we found it necessary to provide additional accommodations.

This building here represents a portion of the program started in 1922. It represents a total expenditure for new construction of approximately $11,000,000 with a further expenditure perhaps of $3,000,000, $1,000,000 of which is now available. It will represent the completion for a period of years of the hospital program. We will have given to Boston the finest municipal hospitalization plant to be found in any city of the entire world and that the public appreciates the character of service is attested by the figures and facts as presented here today by one of the trustees. More than a half-million applicants for treatment in the Out-Patient Department in a single year and with a certainty that it will increase as the years go on. It is a revealing commentary on hospitalization progress, when we consider that in 1922 the total number of births at the City Hospital was but eighty-two and the mortality rate terrific, and that last year 3,500 children were delivered in the new maternity building. Thirty-five hundred as against eighty-two tells a graphic story of the important and vital function which the city is required to perform. I suppose my great misfortune as a public official is that I find so few outspoken in their conviction as to what constitutes the duty of government. My definition is that a government is constituted for the generous, wise and economical expenditure of public money. Today we are finding a new school of thought in America, that maintain that government is created for the expenditure of the least possible sum that may be expended to meet the most vital demands of the community. I say the most important function of government is conservation of public health. There is nothing that quite approaches this responsibility, and nothing of equal importance to the life of government. And so while we pay tribute to the generous support that sometimes has been accorded by the members of the City Council, we must pay tribute to the character of support that has been given at all times by the trustees and the staff. I feel that some little word of praise and thanks should be given to the architects who designed the building for their conscientious labors in making the plans for the erection of this most beautiful structure. True, we have had our occasional arguments and quarrels over designs and plans, but we recognized at all times that they were but human, and striving to do their best. We are gratefully conscious of the efforts made by the Superintendent of the City Hospital, who sacrificed his health in his eager desire to complete the hospitalization program, Dr. John J. Dowling, I believe that a word of praise should be given to the surgical and medical staffs and the members of the nursing profession. We were obliged, because of a little politics within the last year, to discontinue the services of some of the nurses. Happily they have all become citizens and are now back at work, the last one having been restored last week to her employment.

I regret exceedingly that the kindly, patient plodder in his service to the City Hospital, Joseph Manning, is not here today. This exemplary citizen has given of his time, his talents and energy, and money itself to the welfare of this institution for a period of years. I likewise regret more than I can tell the absence also of Dr. Martin English, a unique and most unusual character in the field of medical service, a man who cares less for money than any individual that I have met in my life, who cares as greatly for the saving of a life of a child as does the mother of the child. I wish he were here. He is entitled to commendation and praise for the long, splendid, painstaking, untiring, unselfish and Christ-like service he has rendered the children of the City of Boston.

I want to pay just a word of respect to the architects again who designed the building and with whom we have had our quarrels over designs and plans, but we recognized at all times they were human and were doing their best.

And let me pay just a little tribute to an honest Boston contractor. Someone said, "God's greatest gift is an honest man," and I say there is one that is greater, and that is an honest contractor, and he is the contractor having charge of the construction of this building, John Bowen. I know you are all extremely anxious to inspect the building, and I wish to thank you, one and all, for your presence here today, and express my appreciation to the trustees for the consideration they have extended the members of my family in honoring Mrs. Curley's memory in designating this building. I sincerely trust that this institution will continue to serve in the same splendid manner the sick and injured children of Boston that the faithful devoted heroes of peace times the nurses, doctors, orderlies, internes, and every attache to the most humble have served in the past.

Francis Curley was presented in the following words:

"I would give a special welcome to the next speaker. To some persons in this audience the future is but a futile echo of the past. His future is before him. I will ask him to tell the beautiful reason of his presence."

In the name of the devoted mothers whose little ones may find here restored health and strength, may I present this portrait of my own beloved mother.

The presiding officer then addressed the assembly as follows:

"The trustees have requested me to accept with gratitude and appreciation this charming portrait of a lovely woman. It will hang in the building honored by her name as an inspiration to emulate her virtues as displayed in a life of loving kindness, charity, tact and wisdom. The trustees also desire me to express their good wishes to the donor. In his future, may he achieve a success of which such a mother might be proud.

"I wish to take this opportunity to publicly acknowledge the great debt which the hospital and the trustees owe to the two reverend gentlemen who appear on this program. When the doctors and physicians have failed, they have brought peace and comfort."

Following this the exercises were concluded with benediction by Rev. Charles E. Eaton, hospital chaplain, as follows:

Our Heavenly Father, we thank Thee for this institution and this service, and we ask Thy benediction upon his Honor the Mayor and his family, the Board of Trustees, the Superintendent and all those associated with him, the physicians, surgeons and nurses, and we thank Thee for this beautiful tribute in loving memory of Mrs. Curley who loved the children.

And now may grace, mercy and peace from God, the Father, Son and Holy Spirit be and abide with us all now and evermore. Amen.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 214.

The commissioner desires to commend the prompt and efficient work of Patrolman Albert H. McArdle of Division 16 in bringing promptly to the attention of his superior officers a case involving the integrity and honor of the department.

In addition to the commendation the commissioner grants Patrolman Albert H. McArdle one week additional vacation.

The commissioner also desires to commend the efficient work of all the members of the department concerned in bringing this case to a speedy and satisfactory solution.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Commissioner.

MASSACHUSETTS CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATIONS.

The Massachusetts Civil Service Commission announces examinations for desirable positions open in the Boston and Metropolitan districts as follows:

AID AND SETTLEMENT AGENT, BOSTON OVERSEERS OF PUBLIC WELFARE, JUNE 30, 1933.

Last date for filing applications, Tuesday, June 20, 1933, at 5 p. m.

There are three vacancies at $1,000 a year.

Duties: To search and examine various records to determine the legal settlement of all persons who apply for relief. Applicants should have a thorough knowledge of the settlement laws of Massachusetts, chapter 116 of the General Laws, also knowledge of the relief statutes, namely, chapters 117, 118, 118A and 122 of the General Laws. They should also have an intimate knowledge of social welfare agencies, public and private, in the relief and welfare field.

Entrance Requirements: Applicants must have education equivalent to graduation from a standard high school, and at least one year's experience in social service work.

Subjects and Weights: Training and experience, 3; practical questions, 2; total, 5.

Passing Requirements: Applicants must obtain at least 70 per cent in each subject in order to become eligible.

Physical fitness to be determined by physical examination.

PUBLIC WORKS COMMISSIONER TAKES SHARP ISSUE WITH ENGINEER OF FINANCE COMMISSION RELATIVE TO WORK OF DEPARTMENT AND ECONOMIES MADE AND ALLEGED AS POSSIBLE—POINTS WITH PRIDE TO RECORD ON STREET PAVING IN THIS AND PREVIOUS CURLEY ADMINISTRATION.

The Public Works Department has prepared and issued the following reply to the report of the Finance Commission on the survey of paving work in 1932, which was prepared and presented to the Council on March 27. A copy has been presented to the City Council's publication.

BOSTON, March 24, 1933.

To His Honor the Mayor.

In reply to attached letter from the Finance Commission, dated March 13, with report from their Consulting Engineer, dated February 10, 1933, the following is respectfully submitted:

We do not agree with the commission's statement that without detriment to any but a limited few contractors, the city can save $200,000 this year by forcing proper reduction in the prices of bituminous pavement of a better type. This paper saving of the commission is based on wrong premises by the Consulting Engineer. The suggested saving of $100,000, in addition, by the substitution of a cheaper type of pavement for our standard, assumes that we will change our policy of types of pavement in city streets, which we do not think advisable for the best interests of the city.

PRICES OF ASPHALT AND WARRENITE BITULITHIC PAVEMENTS.

The commission states that the city still pays the top price for the country and that even in the city of New York the range last year was from $1.05 to $1.35. From figures we have on hand, the average price for sheet asphalt in 1930 in Manhattan was $1.90; Baltimore $1.88, and Boston $1.92. In 1931, Manhattan $1.88; Baltimore $1.87 and Boston $1.72. We have no figures for these cities in 1932, but the average cost of our pavement was about $1.66½. In spite of the cheap prices quoted in Brooklyn and Queens by the Consulting Engineer, we find that the average price for these two boroughs in 1930 was $1.29 and in 1931 $1.01½, while in the borough of Bronx for each of these two years it was $1.50. When the figures are available for New York City for 1932, which we expect shortly, we may more properly question the commission's statement that the regular range last year was from $1.05 to $1.35.

The city of Hartford, Connecticut, which everyone in touch with the real situation knows to be peculiar in that one particular firm owning a fleet of trucks, sand and gravel pits, and with a certain pride for continuing to do about all the work for the city, evidently may be taking a real loss on the price quoted by the Consulting Engineer, but this firm shows very little knowledge of finance or business methods when the price of $1.21 per yard is identical for 1930, 1931 and 1932.

A comparison with any city must keep in mind labor conditions, fixed investments in the immediate vicinity, carrying organizations through the year, and methods of doing the work. Although we have only a five-year guaranty, we have streets in first-class condition today over twelve years old and on which very little maintenance work has been done up to date. We insisted, last year, that the maximum area rolled by one roller in eight hours should be 1,000 yards, and we know that regardless of any stipulation of minimum pay to workmen, our bituminous contractors have paid the union rates to mechanics and the top rate to laborers and that they continue in business, and respond quickly, through the various prime contractors, to our requests for proper maintenance during the guaranty period. We want no fly-by-night or in-and-out asphalt plants to do cheap work at cheap prices.

A PAPER SAVINGS.

The paper saving of $200,000 based on equal yardage to what was laid last year requires for this year a reduction in the average price per yard for this pavement of 45½ cents less than for last year, or $1.21 a yard, and which we know to be beyond any reasonable estimate or fair payment for good work with a profit to any contractor doing business in this city. Why not establish a much greater paper saving by comparison with Brooklyn's 85 cents per yard.

Many of our contracts are for comparatively small areas on two or three streets not contiguous, which naturally increase the price over what would be expected on a large area on one street.

We place little credence in unit costs obtained by the engineer for our work unless they have a much broader base than those submitted by him during our previous term. The engineer states that he has experienced some difficulty in obtaining prices for the cost of such pavements in other cities to compare with Boston. What's the matter with Baltimore, of same size and lay-out as Boston, which sticks to its program of asphalt on the main thoroughfares and cement concrete in alleys and secondary streets, the total asphalt in 1930 and 1931 being 368,748 square yards?

CHEAPER TYPE OF PAVEMENT.

In recommending the substitution of penetration macadam for sheet asphalt and Warrenite-Bitulithic,—there is no lasting economy in this for the ordinary city street even if appearance and cleanliness be left out of consideration. It is not the type of pavement for heavy traffic, and where openings are frequent and have to be neatly, quickly and properly patched.

For the past three years our expenditures have been mainly from loans and it is only fair to expect that these pavements would have from ten to twenty years of life with comparatively little maintenance, which would not be the case with penetration surfaces.

Some state roads built within the city limits are on heavy fill and it would be foolish to provide an expensive surface until such time as settlement is complete. Again, these are turned over to the city to maintain and, in a long period of years, the total unit cost of these surfaces will be many times the initial cost to keep in proper condition even for restricted non-commercial vehicles.

The state policy on roadways carrying heavy traffic is to provide a cement concrete surface where they anticipate little or no settlement, a conspicuous example of which is the new Worcester turnpike. On the extension of this roadway from Boylston street to Brookline Village, the state contemplates a cement concrete surface, while Brookline officials are holding out for a bituminous top,—the latter having in mind its greater permanence and the continued maintenance which will devolve upon the town.

On new residential streets constructed for the Street Commissioners, precedent has prescribed the asphalt or Warrenite-Bitulithic pavements, and a change to the cheaper penetration macadam on flat surfaces would meet with justifiable opposition from the residents. The cost of the roadway averages approximately 65 per cent of the whole street to which the abutters contribute one half, so that the effective savings to the city and the abutter are comparatively small for the unsatisfactory substitution. On a few of these streets with steep grades we have used penetration macadam.

We have installed penetration macadam on secondary roadways and residential streets and, last year, with the department force we did 131,508 square yards, which equals 34.5 per cent of the smooth top areas, and in 1930 we laid a slightly greater yardage,—this yardage being cut in halves in 1931 on account of the policy of laying sheet asphalt on surfaces previously prepared by the department forces, which policy has been abandoned.

CENTRE STREET.

Centre street has been cited as a street where bituminous macadam might properly be substituted for the smooth pavement now installed, based on the fact that it will provide higher speeds with more safety. We are emphatically opposed to the encouragement of speed on any city highway beyond the legal limit. Centre street happens to be perhaps the street where the tendency is greater for high speed on account of its length and comparative freedom from intersecting streets. Nevertheless, people who live on Centre street have to cross the street to embark and disembark on the buses. People entering and leaving the hospitals also have to cross the streets, and we have received more complaints in regard to high speed on Centre street than we have regarding its surface. We are not building highways of a type to encourage high speed, as the greater the speed the greater the chance of an accident. It is entirely a police function to keep the speed limit within the legal requirements.

The engineer is wrong in regard to our resurfacing any part of Centre street since the original surface was installed. We have on the grades, and to help commercial traffic, installed a coarser top than on the balance of the street; but we agree with the engineer that it will take some time to demonstrate the durability of this surface layer.

The Governor's Committee on Street and Highway Safety recently commented on this street without criticizing the pavement.

SPLITTING CONTRACTS.

The recommendation in regard to splitting contracts, which is recurrent, was that sheet asphalt and bitulithic top be advertised and awarded separately for one or more streets. We do not think this advisable as we do not care to divide responsibility in any particular street with two contractors and two bonding companies. At present the prime contractor and one bonding company are responsible for both the base and the top, and regardless of what arrangement the prime contractor might have with the bituminous top contractor, the former and his bonding company are the responsible parties under the five-year guaranty. We might have failure of the top, for which the bituminous contractor would deny responsibility on account of poor base, and there are other features in regard to splitting these contracts which do not appeal to the writer as being as practical as the present method.

COMMENTS ON THE ENGINEER'S REPORT.

As soon as he acquired sufficient experience to have confidence in his own judgment, the writer has done unusual things and adopted unusual procedures, and when I am criticized on account of small extra work contracts for streets not contiguous to and included in the original contract, it is going far afield. The extra granite block streets awarded were not brought to the writer's attention previously and were given to the particular contractor because he was doing first-class work at a low price. The same was true of Shawmut avenue, which could not be included in the Broadway contract on account of 25 per cent excess limit.

For his information: With the Chestnut Hill avenue asphalt plant operated by the city we did a total of 18,000 yards last year on Chestnut Hill avenue and other streets in the Brighton district, as against the 6,910 yards cited by the engineer.

The comparative increase in percentage of sheet asphalt and bitulithic pavements last year was due to a reduction in granite block. In the preceding year we recut and relaid the granite blocks on two big arteries, Summer street and Northern avenue, South Boston.

As regards the four specialists now furnishing bituminous top: The writer would be better satisfied if there were only three.

We would like to correct his statement in regard to a saving of $1.88 a yard on page 10 of his report on two streets. The larger of the two, were we to construct it of sheet asphalt and 4-inch concrete base in accordance with prices bid for the construction of other streets about this period, would cost, including excavating, $2.34½ a yard as against $3 instanced by the engineer, so that the estimated paper saving is not $1.88 but $1.22 a yard.

SPECIFICATIONS.

A consultation with the experts of this department resulted in it not being advisable to change the specifications for bituminous content back and forth when different contracts are awarded. The writer some time ago had actual material taken from roadways and analyzed, and where two heavy-traffic streets showed identical analyses, the material on one street, even before the guaranty period was up, showed signs of weakness, while the other roadway, in for a much longer period, was standing up well.

We think that proper raking and intelligent uniform compression with longer periods of rolling for a given area, which we require, results in better pavement than the small, finicky change in bituminous content for different classifications of streets as to traffic. When he cites departures from specifications,—these are unavoidable in any asphalt plant. The point is to have these departures corrected as soon as possible, which we do.

SIDEWALKS.

We have also taken up with our experts the laying of single layer sidewalks and it was discouraged. The price for the two-layer sidewalks seems to be lower than we could expect to get for any good sidewalk, and we regret more than the engineer the fact that the rate of pay on such work must have been low, and we are glad to see that the engineer is finally converted to our establishment of a minimum in the rate of pay for laborers, for we remember distinctly being summoned before the old Finance Commission when the engineer and the chairman, Judge Sullivan, hauled me over the coals the first time that I inserted this item in the contract in order that the standard of pay for common labor, which was not protected by any statutory enactment, might be raised.

This item was incorporated in practically all the contracts of the previous Curley administration and continued for a short time in the Nichols administration, after which "prevailing rate" was accepted for insertion in this item. We immediately reestablished the item in 1930 and continued it until the City Council appointed a committee on contracts which started an investigation of contractors, particularly the large ones, in order to demonstrate that the contract rate of 62½ cents an hour was not being paid.

At the hearings conducted by the Council committee, such a wholesale attendance of our supervisory officials, including inspectors and foremen and others, was required that it was seriously inconveniencing the department, and in order that we be saved this embarrassment, we have been accepting "prevailing rate" in this item.

When we established this rate per hour, we did not expect that every contractor would pay to every laborer the price he inserted in this item, but we did feel that we raised the standard of pay and could check up at any time on the substitution of a citizen for a noncitizen on the job and insist that he be given this particular rate.

We have brought as much pressure to bear as practicable to have union cement finishers exclusively engaged by the contractors and have been fairly successful.

We now have hopes that the engineer will in the near future come around to conceding that asphalt pavement prices should be based not so much upon destructive competition but upon good wages, the best work and a reasonable profit.

The engineer seems also to be coming around to the rejection of low bids being justified, because he says that the laborers are being paid such low prices as to make it advisable to reject the bids of contractors who tender the "prevailing rate."

We question the statement of the engineer that in many cases less than 4-inch sidewalks have been installed. We have insisted for some time past that 4-inch boards be placed on edge across the sidewalk at short intervals with their tops at finished grade so as to assist the inspectors in getting the proper depth.

BITUMINOUS PATCHING CONTRACTS.

The engineer is pretty much at sea as to facts and figures regarding these contracts. His reiterated statement for the past two years, that the areas to be patched would be so small as to justify doing the work by the day labor forces, as was done in 1927 and 1928, is very misleading. The actual facts may be enlightening to the present commission.

The patching contract in 1926 was awarded to the second low bidder for an amount of $12,250, above the low bidder who had a large experience in this particular kind of work but would have to provide a plant.

Proposals were again advertised in 1927, resulting in a $21,050 difference between the same low bidder and the firm which was successful in 1926. It was only then decided that the city forces could do the work, not because it was advisable, but to relieve the embarrassment of passing up again the low bidder. It can't be that the engineer has forgotten the commission's report dated April 9, 1927, advocating the award to the low bidder.

Proposals were not advertised in 1928 and the city again attempted to do the work.

Bids were received in 1929 and the contract awarded to the low bidder. Under this contract the total patching area was 49,211 yards.

When we took office in 1930 there were three years of omitted or neglected hole patching in the city, and we awarded two contracts for the work, resulting—for the first time in many years—in covering every district in the city with a total patching yardage of 150,899, which is 50 per cent in excess of the total for the two years 1926 and 1929.

The percentage of the total area out of guaranty patched in 1930 was 8.20, while in 1929 it was 2.92. During 1931 and 1932 it averaged about 3 per cent.

The engineer is in error in his comparison of 1931 and 1932 patching areas, for he has included in the 1931 figures the areas of many whole streets which were prepared, with macadam foundation, by the day labor forces and the 3-inch asphalt top furnished by the patching contractors under their unit price, which was less than for advertised straight work.

Our figures show that the patched area in 1932 was 97 per cent of the area in 1931 and which was a reduction of 3 per cent as against, respectively, 49 per cent and 51 per cent quoted by the engineer.

The total area of these pavements out of guaranty has increased from 1,386,605 yards in 1926 to 2,550,000 yards in 1933 and the number of streets entered for patching has increased from 221 in 1926 to 376 in 1932, showing the increasing need of this permanent maintenance.

We believe the engineer exaggerates when he states that we patched unnecessary areas during the past year. Our supervisors have followed this work for many years, know their business, and are better able to judge the advisability of apparently excessive patching areas than the engineer or his inspectors.

The recommendations that we omit these contracts this year and go back to the fiascos of 1927 and 1928 of day labor patching is a severe reflection upon the judgment of the engineer for the proper administration of this department. This, unquestionably, is the most important maintenance work we do in the Paving Service, as it keeps in good condition, at comparatively little expense, the great area of bituminous surfaces. Our policy of utilizing two good, experienced contractors shortens the time when all streets are in good permanent condition.

As an instance of the efficacy of this permanent patching to keep roadways in good condition for traffic, some blocks of Beacon street roadway, city proper, have not been reconstructed since 1901, and the entire roadway from Charles street to Massachusetts avenue has been maintained in good condition for travel by our annual permanent patching without materially interfering with traffic.

Department force patching is temporary, unsatisfactory and unsightly, and through a period of time more expensive than the permanent patching. We necessarily do a great deal of it on the old water-bound and the later penetration macadam. We have only one asphalt plant, located in Brighton, at one end of the city, and no expert labor either for operating the plant as it should be for permanent patching or for properly placing the material in the streets.

Much greater technical skill and experience are required for good bituminous patching than for large area work and the city is fortunate that its two contractors for this work are experts with a long history of satisfactory and durable work on our streets.

GENERAL.

The engineer's criticism of the prices for bituminous tops dates back to our last administration when he and the then chairman, Michael H. Sullivan collaborated in effecting large paper savings based on wrong premises. During our present term the engineer has forwarded similar reports for each of three years.

It seems strange that for the four years of the previous administration these recurrent paper savings' claims were omitted. An explanation may be due from the engineer as to the reasons for such omissions, as we are inclined to believe that he could have easily found in such cities as he might select to establish his contentions lower prices for bituminous tops than prevailed in Boston during those four years.

It may be that Judge Carr, the then chairman, did not have such confidence in the engineer's figures and conclusions as the other chairmen.

I have been Commissioner of Public Works for over seven years in the two later Curley administrations. During this period, in spite of the many and varied activities of the department and the expenditure of over $15,000,000 on construction contracts during the past three years, nothing so serious has happened as to require a public hearing before the Finance Commission, which cannot be said of the Peters and Nichols administrations.

That our good record of administration should be subject to public criticism on account of the conclusions and opinions of the engineer, backed by the commission's reports, is not a reflection upon us but upon the commission's misplaced confidence in him.

On the Park Department Coleman contract, severe accusations by the engineer as to quantities and methods were publicly made, but before the Master his testimony did not prevent the Master from ruling that the quantities paid for were delivered and properly placed on the job.

The Hyde Park High School was another job freely criticized, but the engineer's testimony did not convince the Court that full payments for the work done should be withheld from the contractor.

Yours respectfully,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

HOME-OWNER A VALUABLE ASSET TO AMERICAN REPUBLIC, MAYOR CURLEY TELLS MEMBERS OF MASSACHUSETTS CREDIT UNION LEAGUE AT DINNER AT HOTEL WESTMINSTER—PRAISES INSTITUTION THAT HAS AIDED MANY INDIVIDUAL CITIZENS AND HAS PROVEN VALUE TO STATE.

Mayor Curley, at the dinner of the Credit Union League, at the Hotel Westminster, on May 20, spoke as follows:

The members of the Massachusetts Credit Union League are entitled to the thanks of the community for their hard work in the formation of these unions.

See what similar institutions have accomplished in the countries of Europe. In Germany, Raiffeisen in 1846, his heart saddened by the poverty of his countrymen, due to the extortions of the usurers, started the first cooperative bank, in a little country town in Germany. The scheme was frowned on. It was believed it would not work. But four or five years wrought a great change in the community. The usurers had left and the neighboring towns began to form similar institutions. Today the prosperity of the rural communities of Germany is said by all authorities to be due to these Raiffeisen Cooperative Banks, which have spread all over the land, so that there are now more than fifty-five thousand of them. They have been uniformly successful and today Raiffeisen is known in Germany as the patron saint of agriculture and annual pilgrimages are made to his native town.

In Italy, Luigi Luzzatti, a prominent Italian nobleman of wealthy family, after an exhaustive examination of the Raiffeisen banks of Germany, believing that the Italian people needed such institutions to relieve them from the grasp of usurers, started, in 1866, the "People's Bank of Milan." It was a very humble beginning. He sat down behind a table on the sidewalk of one of the principal streets and amidst the jeers of his friends commenced to do a banking business with the capital of $140. In 1910, the People's Bank of Milan had 25,000 members; its capital was $2,000,000; its deposits $35,000,000 and its turn-over $535,000,000. It was housed in a palatial building with a large office force of more than a hundred people. This is the wonder that Luzzatti worked in less than fifty years. The prosperity of the Italian farmer is well known today. The authorities on rural banking give Luzzatti the entire credit for the success of this movement.

Cooperative societies in Ireland have banished the "Gombeen Man," and so, through all the countries of Europe, these cooperative societies have flourished and been of enormous benefit to the community.

On this side of the continent, Alphonse Desjardins, one of the leading citizens of Canada, in the year 1900, formed the First People's Bank in the town of Levis, Quebec, a farming community of about seven thousand people. The start was discouraging. His first collection amounted to less than $30. Yet, in the fifteen years that have passed this little society has loaned to its members over three quarters of a million dollars without the loss of a cent.

FIRST CREDIT UNION LAW.

Massachusetts has ever been a pioneer in every movement for the benefit of mankind, and nearly one quarter of a century ago, there was enacted in this Commonwealth the first credit union law. The success of the movement originated here, rapidly spread to all portions of the United States, with the result that today credit unions are functioning and flourishing in thirty-six states of the Union, and in the District of Columbia.

During the past thirteen years in the United States more than 10,000 banking institutions have closed their doors, with resulting loss to hundreds of thousands of depositors, many of whom suffered the loss of the savings of a lifetime. Yet, during the entire period of industrial depression, bank failures and unrest, not one single credit union passed out of existence. In our own City of Boston I found upon assuming the office of Mayor in 1914, that one in every four of the employees of the city were denied the privilege of drawing their own wages at the end of a week of toil, because of money borrowed from the so-called "loan shark agencies." If these loans had applied only in the case of the persons enjoying large salaries, it would not have disturbed me. I found upon investigation, however, that not only were the laborers and mechanics involved, but also the school teachers. I found women, employed at cleaning in the buildings of the city, were victims of the usurious system, practised by the loan sharks.

I found one case of an individual, a Negro, employed in the Sewer Division, who had not been permitted to draw his own pay for a period of four years and that his original loan was but $100 and his weekly salary $15. Naturally, I made inquiry, and discovered that an increase in his family was responsible for the original loan; his wife's illness necessitating the employment of a nurse, physician and surgeon. After he had paid for a period of ten weeks, $6 each week out of his $15 salary, he was notified that he must pay the balance at once, and upon protesting that it was impossible for him to comply with the order, it was suggested that he borrow $200 from another agency, and with the money thus obtained pay the balance due upon the original loan.

This process was continued during the four-year period, and at the end of the period, when I contacted him, he owed $750 on the original $100 which he had borrowed. Between the charges for making up papers for a new loan and discharging the old loan, plus the interest requirements, the actual interest paid by this unfortunate individual was about 180 per cent each year for four years. I instructed the Corporation Counsel and the City Treasurer to make inquiry, with a view to ascertaining how many other individuals were in a like predicament, and discovered there were 3,200 employees of the city in the hands of loan sharks.

The law in Massachusetts at that time provided that any loan that was made to a married man necessitated the consent and approval in writing of his wife, and an investigation disclosed, however, but sixteen of the thirty-two hundred loans had been made in conformity with the law.

I immediately instructed the Corporation Counsel and the City Treasurer not to honor attachments filed against wages, and to pay direct to the employee, and over-night the loan sharks forfeited claims in excess of $30,000.

MUNICIPAL CREDIT UNION.

With a view to providing the same opportunity for an individual to capitalize upon his character and ability to work, that is, enjoy what other individuals possess, so-called real property, when engaging a loan at a banking institution, I organized in Boston the first Municipal Employees' Credit Union.

This union has been functioning since 1916, and during that period of time has loaned more than $3,000,000 to employees of the City of Boston. The total losses incurred by the Credit Union have been less than one-third of one per cent, and these were largely as a consequence of a police strike, resulting in the removal of 600 members of the Police Department, many of whom had borrowed money from the Credit Union.

Since the adoption of the institution in Boston the employees of the city, free from the anxiety and worry occasioned by the constant demands for payments by the "loan-sharks," have rendered a larger return in service to the city than was possible at any previous time. In the event of a death in a family, or an increase in a family, the necessity for securing immediately a sum of money sufficient to meet the emergency is ever present and there is no other method of determining the value to the employees of the city than is furnished by the Municipal Credit Union.

How the public at large regard the work of credit unions is best attested by the fact that within the past five weeks seventy-eight new credit unions have been organized in the United States. The resources of the credit unions are upwards of $50,000,000 and the membership more than 300,000.

In our own Commonwealth of Massachusetts there are 297 credit unions with a membership upwards of 100,000 and with loans upon personal and real estate in excess of $10,000,000. I referred at the outset to the pioneering activities for the good of mankind that have had their origin so largely in this Commonwealth, and I would be remiss in duty and pleasure if I failed to pay tribute to that splendid Massachusetts citizen, who has made a personal contribution in establishing throughout the nation this most splendid and most necessary institution to the extent of three-quarters of a million dollars, Edward A. Filene.

It may be truly said to be the "Poor Man's Bank," in which he serves not only as a depositor but as director and beneficiary. The relations between employer and employee differ materially today from fifty or more years ago. Today our present industrial units are so large that personal contact and personal friendship between employer and employee is almost unknown.

Hence, the need of an institution of this character, where a deserving employee, unexpectedly confronted with some unusual financial expense, may find it possible to meet the emergency without loss of self-respect and without resorting to charity. The benefits and blessings of the credit unions must be apparent to every individual. The most necessary essential to the worker and to the nation is an agency for the promotion of thrift and an instrumentality of credit that in an emergency can be utilized for the benefit of the worker and no institution has performed this service with greater benefit to the individual and the nation than the credit union. It has been truly said that the credit unions have not only established the best banking record in the United States but they have been one of the greatest contributing factors to the promotion of home-owning by the workers of the United States.

FOR HOME OWNER.

How important the home-owner is to the American Republic is best realized when we consider that the individual with a stake in the nation has a personal interest in the honest and the orderly conduct of that nation and can be relied upon when the emergency arises to fight for the preservation of not only his country and its institutions but of the home of which he is owner. The past four years have been most trying ones in the life of the American nation, and at the present trying hour there presides over the destiny of the nation a man gifted with unusual qualities both as a leader and a humanitarian. Upon his induction into the office of the Presidency, his appeal to Almighty God for direction in the discharge of the duties of his office and his appeal to Almighty God for the welfare and the support of the American people furnished a spiritual as well as a material comfort to the people of the nation. Under his inspiring leadership we are rapidly emerging from the valley of despair and starting on the long, toilsome uphill march to industrial prosperity and national stability.

Thankful, indeed, should we be to Almighty God for the supremely great leadership he has permitted us in this trying hour in the person of President Franklin Delano Roosevelt.

PROPOSALS ADVERTISED.

Bids have been asked by advertisement in the City Record for the following departments. The attention of contractors and others is especially called to the closing time of receipt of such proposals. This will be published weekly.

DEPARTMENT OF SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

Advertises for proposals for erecting and completing an alteration and addition to the William Barton Rogers Intermediate School. Surety bond will be required in a sum equivalent to the full amount of the contract price. Blank forms for proposals may be obtained at the office of the Department of School Buildings, 11 Beacon street, Boston. Bids, accompanied by certified check in the sum of $15,000, to be filed at the same office. Duplicate bid, without check, to be filed with the City Auditor.

Bids close Wednesday, June 7, at 2 p. m.

Advertises for proposals for roofing work at the South Boston High School, Thomas Park, South Boston. Surety bond will be required in a sum equivalent to the full amount of the contract price. Blank forms for proposals may be obtained at the office of the Department of School Buildings, 11 Beacon street, Boston. Bids, accompanied by certified check in the sum of $500, to be filed at the same office. Duplicate bid, without check, to be filed with the City Auditor.

Bids close Thursday, June 8, at 2 p. m.

Advertises for proposals for plumbing work at the Richard C. Humphreys School. Surety bond will be required in a sum equivalent to the full amount of the contract price. Blank forms for proposals may be obtained at the office of the Department of School Buildings, 11 Beacon street, Boston. Bids, accompanied by certified check in the sum of $1,000, to be filed at the same office. Duplicate bid, without check, to be filed with the City Auditor.

FINANCING SEWAGE WORKS BY SPECIAL ASSESSMENT IN IOWA.

The cost of constructing sewage disposal plants in a number of states, and in Iowa in particular, may be levied against the various lots, parts of lots or parcels of ground draining to, or susceptible to drainage to, the site of the disposal plant. Such assessments must be in proportion to the benefits to each property and must not, in any case, exceed one-fourth of the fair value of the property in question. These special assessments are payable in the same manner as other municipal improvement costs; that is, in ten annual equal installments, paid at the same time and place as the March 1 installment of ordinary taxes in Iowa. Any property owner may pay off the unpaid portion of such tax at any time. Interest on the deferred payments must not exceed 6 per cent.

BOSTON INCORPORATED AS A CITY, 1822.

The act of incorporation was passed by the Legislature on February 23, 1822. On March 4 following, the voters of Boston accepted said act, chapter 110, 1821-22, as its first city charter by a majority of 916 in a total vote of 4,678. The vote was 2,797 yeas, 1,881 nays. Previous attempts to incorporate as a city had been made in 1650, 1659, 1667, 1708, 1744, 1762, 1784, 1791, 1804 and 1815. The charter was revised in 1854, 1885 and 1909. Amendments to the 1909 charter were enacted in 1910, 1912, 1914, 1918, 1919, 1921, 1922 and lastly in 1924 (see "Municipal Register" for 1928, pages 19-43).

GOVERNMENT IN BUSINESS.

For many years we have heard innumerable bankers, business men and professional men talk about too much government in business. But these same people are constantly before legislatures asking government to do something to protect their selfish interests. The doctor, the lawyer, the dentist, and each profession is always asking the government to make the entrance to their unions more difficult not with the idea of protecting the people but with the hope of stopping or reducing competition. The local merchant is always asking the council, the state and the nation to prohibit competition by peddlers and transient merchants. When the winds of depleted deposits began to whirl about the banks the government was asked to bear the burden, and if official authority is to be believed the government and the politicians saved the banks and not the high-browed presidents and directors of the banks. The real truth is that we do not want government to interfere with us in our desires, but do ask government to enter business in any and every conceivable way that we think will help us make a little more money of the realm.

ANNEXATIONS OF BOSTON.

East Boston in 1637; South Boston in 1804, being set off from Dorchester; Roxbury in 1868, a city of Norfolk County since March, 1846; Dorchester in 1870, a town since September, 1630; Charlestown in 1874, a city of Middlesex County since February, 1847; Brighton in 1874, set off from Cambridge and incorporated as a town of Middlesex County in February, 1807; West Roxbury in 1874, set off from Roxbury and incorporated as a town of Norfolk County in May, 1851; Hyde Park in 1912, a town of Norfolk County since April, 1868.

These annexations, which added 24,312 acres of land to the original land of Boston, were by area as follows: East Boston, 1,435 acres; South Boston, 795; Roxbury, 2,450; Dorchester, 5,600; West Roxbury, 8,075; Brighton, 2,664; Charlestown, 424; Hyde Park, 2,869. Filled land increased the area later by 1,396 acres. In 1875 the annexed territory had a population of 201,250, or 58.86 per cent of city's total; in 1910 its population had increased to 477,311, or 71.18 per cent. Hyde Park not included. By 1915 the total was 549,139, or 73.67 per cent of city. By 1925 the total was 607,519, or 77.92 per cent.

RECREATION, ADEQUATE AS TO KIND AND AVAILABILITY.

Although the ratio of park acreage to population has been used as the simplest measure of the extent to which cities provide areas for the recreation of their people, it is by no means an accurate basis for determining this. If most of the total acreage is in one large park, if the parks are poorly distributed, or if they do not provide various types of recreation facilities, the park system may be inefficient even though the acreage is large. The efficiently planned park and recreation system will involve balanced relationship and well-distributed location of several types of properties, namely, children's playgrounds, neighborhood playfield parks, neighborhood parks, reservations, boulevards, and parkways.

SAND, CINDERS AND SALT IN DULUTH.

About 385 miles of sidewalk are sanded every year and about 250 miles of streets are snow-plowed and sanded. Ordinarily, flat grades are not sanded, this work being confined to steep grades where dangerous ice conditions exist. During the past season the maintenance department used about 500 cubic yards of cinders, 500 cubic yards of sand, and 5 tons of calcium chloride on the streets.

The use of salt, or sodium chloride, has been discontinued entirely, because of its injurious effect on concrete walks and pavements. The action of salt is not clearly understood, but it is much more active during cold weather than in summer, and is apparently due to the formation of crystals after penetrating the surface, the force of which disintegrates the concrete. Calcium chloride does not seem to be entirely free from this difficulty, but is much less active than sodium chloride.

The dictation is given at the following rates of speed: 80, 100 and 120, the dictation at each rate of speed consisting of a letter of about 300 words in length. Each applicant may select any two of the three speed tests for transcription. The transcription is marked for both speed and accuracy. Applicants are required to obtain at least 70 per cent in accuracy of transcription of one speed test.

Applicants will also be required to obtain at least 65 per cent in spelling, at least 50 per cent in each of the other subjects, and at least 70 per cent in general average in order to become eligible.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 209.

A trial board consisting of Captains McKinnon, Lewis and Kavanagh, having heard by reference a complaint made by Edward W. Fallon, captain commanding Division 13, against Joseph E. McPhee, patrolman, Division 13, for alleged violation of the Rules and Regulations of the Police Department, to wit:

Charge: Conduct unbecoming an officer.

Specification 1: In that on the 25th day of April, 1933, the said Patrolman Joseph E. McPhee, while on a day off, was under the influence of intoxicating liquor to such an extent that he was unable to properly perform police duty if called upon so to do.

Specification 2: In that on the 25th day of April, 1933, the said Patrolman Joseph E. McPhee did operate his automobile on Commonwealth avenue, Brighton, while under the influence of intoxicating liquor and thereby caused an accident with another automobile, — has submitted the following finding and recommendation:

"The Board having heard and carefully considered all the evidence presented accepts the plea of guilty by Patrolman McPhee on the charge and Specification 1 thereunder, and finds him not guilty of Specification 2.

"The Board has taken into consideration the recommendation of Patrolman McPhee's commanding officer that he is an exceptionally good officer and the fact that he, Patrolman McPhee, had been commended in General Orders for alertness and for efficient police duty performed by him.

"The Board therefore respectfully recommends that he be suspended for a period of thirty days without pay, effective as of April 25, 1933."

The commissioner accepts the finding and recommendation of the Trial Board and hereby orders that the said Patrolman Joseph E. McPhee be suspended from duty with loss of pay for a period of thirty days, effective as of April 25, 1933, at 5.45 o'clock p. m.

Civil Service Rule 23, Section 3, requires approval of the Civil Service Commission before reinstatement.

Rule 23.

Section 3. With the consent of the Commissioner upon good cause shown, an appointing officer may reinstate in the same position or in a position in the same class and grade any person who has been separated from the service; provided, however, that the Commissioner shall not allow reinstatement of a person discharged for cause.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 210.

Sergt. Francis W. Russell and Patrolman Frederiek L. Regan of the Bureau of Criminal Investigation, and Patrolman Joseph H. Curran and Arthur O'Shea of Division 9, are commended in General Orders, and each granted one week additional vacation, for meritorious police duty performed on March 27, 1933, in connection with the capture of members of the so-called "Turtle Neck Gang."

The commissioner is pleased to recognize the bravery shown by these officers in holding at bay, arresting and disarming two of these desperate criminals, both of whom had attempted to shoot Sergt. Francis W. Russell.

Patrolmen Leo V. Devlin, Harry M. Durkin and John T. Sexton, all of Division 9, are commended in General Orders, and each granted one week additional vacation for exceptionally good police work performed by them in tracing and observing the movements of three desperate criminals, whom they knew to be armed, and who had committed a number of holdups in the City of Boston.

Sergt. Maurice W. Sullivan, Patrolmen William J. Collins, John J. Maguire and William McGuire, all of Division 16, are commended in General Orders for their promptness in responding to the call of a citizen to arrest a man who was supposed to be armed, at the time of their entrance unto a house in the Back Bay on March 27, 1933.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize the zeal shown and effective police duty performed in the apprehension and conviction of these dangerous characters.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 211.

Patrolmen Patrick J. Fallon, James J. McGovern and Lindsay J. Lafford, all of Division 15, are commended in General Orders for efficient police duty performed by them in accomplishing the arrest of several persons who had been jointly involved in the larceny of a large quantity of merchandise over a long period of time.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize the keen detective ability and intelligent manner in which these officers performed their duty in solving this important case.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 212.

Patrolmen Paul J. Murnane and Martin Burke, both of Division 15, are commended in General Orders, and granted one week additional vacation, for courage and initiative shown on March 4, 1933, in the pursuit of two armed holdup men, one of whom had shot a storekeeper, and who were attempting to escape. These officers gave chase and covered the house which the bandits were seen to enter until the arrival of additional officers.

Patrolmen Charles W. Hewitt and Joseph W. McCleary, both of Division 15, are commended in General Orders, and given two days' additional vacation, for courage shown on March 4, 1933, in entering a building where two gunmen, known to be armed, had fled to prevent capture, and placed them under arrest.

Sergt. John V. Miller, Patrolmen Patrick J. Fallon, James J. McGovern, Lindsay J. Lafford and Michael J. Regan, all of Division 15, are commended in General Orders for prompt and efficient duty performed on March 4, 1933, in apprehending the third member of this bandit outfit which had held up a storekeeper in Charlestown, as well as for the able presentation of the case in court.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize the prompt and effective police duty performed by these officers in accomplishing the arrest and conviction of these dangerous bandits.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 213.

A trial board consisting of Captains Lewis, Fallon and Kavanagh, having heard by reference a complaint made by Perley S. Skillings, captain Division 16, against John J. Dowd, patrolman, Division 1, for violation of Rule 41, of the Rules and Regulations of the Police Department, to wit:

Charge 1: Conduct unbecoming an officer.

Specification: In that on the seventh day of May, 1933, the said Patrolman John J. Dowd while in uniform and on duty was under the influence of intoxicating liquor to such an extent that he was unable to perform police duty if called upon so to do.

Charge 2: Neglect of duty.

Specification: In that on the seventh day of May, 1933, the said Patrolman John J. Dowd did fail to pull his "on duty" calls from 2.40 a. m. to 8 a. m., a period of five hours and twenty minutes, has submitted the following finding and recommendation:

"The Board having heard and carefully considered all the evidence presented accepts the plea of guilty of Patrolman John J. Dowd to each charge and specification thereunder; and having considered his promise to refrain from the use of intoxicating liquor in the future and the fact that his appearance and demeanor lead the Board to believe that he has the qualities of a good police officer and is capable of being a good police officer if he refrains from the use of intoxicating liquor, respectfully recommends that the said Patrolman John J. Dowd be suspended from duty with loss of pay for a period of ninety days, and that at the expiration of the said period of suspension the said Patrolman John J. Dowd be ordered to perform 210 hours of punishment duty."

The commissioner accepts the finding, and the recommendation of the Trial Board and hereby orders that the said Patrolman John J. Dowd be suspended from duty with loss of pay for a period of ninety days, effective as of May 17, 1933, at 5.45 o'clock p. m., and hereby further orders that at the expiration of the said period of suspension the said Patrolman John J. Dowd perform 210 hours of punishment duty.

Civil Service Rule 23, Section 3, requires approval of the Civil Service Commission before reinstatement.

Rule 23.

Section 3. With the consent of the commissioner upon good cause shown, an appointing officer may reinstate in the same position or in a position in the same class and grade any person who has been separated from the service; provided, however, that the commissioner shall not allow reinstatement of a person discharged for cause.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

POWERS OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 15, 1933.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I beg to submit herewith communication received from the Corporation Counsel, the same constituting a reply to order adopted by your honorable body, which reads as follows:

That the Corporation Counsel be requested to submit an opinion to the City Council in answer to the following questions:

1. Is it necessary under the General Laws, Title VI., chapters 34 and 35, for the City Council, acting as county commissioners, to assume the powers and perform the duties of county commissioners?

2. If the answer is in the affirmative, what are the powers and duties conferred upon the City Council under Title VI., chapters 34 and 35 of the General Laws?

3. If the answer is in the negative what is your opinion as to the liability of councilors for failure to so exercise its powers and duties as county commissioners under section 22, chapter 34 of the General Laws?

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Law Department, May 5, 1933.
Hon. James M. Curley,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—I am replying to the following order of the City Council:

That the Corporation Counsel be requested to submit an opinion to the City Council in answer to the following questions:

1. Is it necessary under the General Laws, Title VI., chapters 34 and 35, for the City Council, acting as county commissioners, to assume the powers and perform the duties of county commissioners?

2. If the answer is in the affirmative, what are the powers and duties conferred upon the City Council under Title VI., chapters 34 and 35 of the General Laws?

3. If the answer is in the negative what is your opinion as to the liability of councilors for failure to so exercise its powers and duties as county commissioners under section 22, chapter 34 of the General Laws?

The first question propounded has been very carefully answered in a previous opinion dated May 10, 1922, addressed to John E. Baldwin, Esquire, Clerk of Committees, by E. Mark Sullivan, the then Corporation Counsel. For your convenience I am attaching a copy of that opinion and refer you specifically to the third, fourth and fifth pages of the opinion.

I am fully in accord with the opinion of my predecessor and observe no further duties imposed by chapter 35, which relates wholly to the county treasurers and county finance.

Section 22, chapter 34 of the General Laws, referred to in question No. 3, provides a penalty for the willful breach or neglect of duty imposed by law upon county commissioners. If the Council continues to perform those duties which devolve upon it as county commissioners, as set forth in the opinion referred to, I can conceive of no situation wherein any of its members could become liable under this section.

Yours truly,

SAMUEL SILVERMAN,
Corporation Counsel.

May 10, 1922.

John E. Baldwin, Esq., Clerk of Committees,
City Hall, Boston, Mass.

Dear Sir,—This is in reply to your letter of May 4, 1922, in which you ask my opinion on three questions propounded at the meeting of the Committee on Appropriations.

The first question is that of Chairman Moriarty, and is as follows:

"We are wondering by what right the Printing Department was put under civil service without vote of the city government."

My answer to this question is that the city government is not required to vote on the matter of putting the Printing Department under civil service. Section 3 of chapter 31 of the General Laws provides that:

"Section 3. The board (civil service) shall, subject to the approval of the governor and council, from time to time make rules and regulations which shall regulate the selection of persons to fill appointive positions in the government of the commonwealth, the several cities thereof, and any such towns as have been placed under its jurisdiction by any act of the general court or by accepting provisions of this chapter or corresponding provisions of earlier laws, and, except as otherwise provided in section forty-seven, the selection of persons to be employed as laborers or otherwise in the service of the Commonwealth and said cities and towns. Such rules shall be of general or limited application, shall be consistent with law and shall include provisions for the following:

(a) The classification of the positions and employments to be filled.

(b) Open competitive and other examinations to test the practical fitness of applicants.

(c) The selection of persons for public positions and employments in accordance with the results of such examinations, or in the order of application, or otherwise.

(d) Promotions, if practicable, on the basis of ascertained merit in the examination and seniority of service.

(e) A period of probation before an appointment or employment is made permanent.

(f) Preference to veterans in appointment and promotion, not inconsistent with this chapter.

The present rules of the Board so far as they are consistent with law shall continue in force until changed."

By the authority vested in them by this section the Civil Service Commissioners voted on March 4, 1921, that the positions and employments in the Printing Department be classified under the civil service. This ruling of the commission automatically placed the Printing Department employees within the rules and regulations of the Civil Service Commission.

The second question is that of Councilor Donoghue, and is as follows:

"And will you also look up the question whether the City Council, as county commissioners, have the right to instruct county officers to allow the Printing Department to bid on any work that they let out."

I answer this question in the negative. By section 4 of chapter 34 of the General Laws the Mayor and City Council of Boston and the Municipal Council of Chelsea, in their respective cities, except as otherwise provided, have the powers and perform the duties of county commissioners. By section 14 of said chapter 34 the duties and powers of county commissioners are provided, and among other things they have "authority to represent their county, and to have the care of its property and the management of its business and affairs in cases where not otherwise expressly provided . . ."

Section 17 of said chapter 34 makes provision concerning contracts for repair of public works, purchase of supplies and in general how all other contracts should be made.

None of the provisions of these sections apply to the City Council of Boston for it is provided by section 8 of chapter 486 of the Acts of 1909 (amended City Charter) that:

"Neither the city council, nor any member or committee, officer, or employee thereof shall, except as otherwise provided in this act, directly or indirectly on behalf of the city or of the county of Suffolk take part in the employment of labor, the making of contracts, the purchase of materials, supplies or real estate; nor in the construction, alteration, or repair of any public works, buildings, or other property; nor in the care, custody and management of the same; nor in the conduct of the executive or administrative business of the city or county; nor in the appointment or removal of any municipal or county employee; nor in the expenditure of public money except such as may be necessary for the contingent and incidental expenses of the city council."

The city councilors both as city officials and when acting as county commissioners are precluded from taking any part in the executive or administrative business of the county, and from taking any part in the making of contracts, purchase of materials, supplies or real estate, and generally are forbidden to transact any of the business of the county. I am, therefore, of the opinion that the City Council, acting as county commissioners, has no right to instruct the county officers to allow the Printing Department to bid on any work, for such instruction would be an interference with the conduct of the executive and administrative business of the county and would in addition thereto, be directly or indirectly taking part in the making of contracts.

The third question is that of Councilor Hagan, and is as follows:

"Another suggestion. We would like to find out whether the City Council, as officials, have any authority whatsoever, and, if so, to find out what authority we do have."

Section 4 of chapter 34 of the General Laws provides that the Mayor and City Council of Boston and the Municipal Council of Chelsea shall, in their respective cities, except as otherwise provided, have the powers and perform the duties of county commissioners. Since by section 8 of chapter 486 of the acts of 1909 the City Council is forbidden directly or indirectly on behalf of the county to take part in the employment of labor, the making of contracts, the purchase of materials, supplies or real estate, and in the construction, alteration or repair of any public works, buildings or other property; and is further forbidden to take part in the care, custody, and management of the same; and in the conduct of the executive and administrative business of the county; and since it can take no part in the appointment or removal of any county employees; nor in the expenditure of public money, I am of the opinion that the City Council as the county commissioners of Suffolk County, are precluded from exercising any of the powers or performing any of the duties of county commissioners as provided in chapter 34 of the General Laws.

The City Council, as county commissioners, therefore, have only such powers and duties as may otherwise be conferred or imposed upon them by law not inconsistent with chapter 486 of the acts of 1909 (amended City Charter).

The City Council, acting with the Mayor, as county commissioners, by section 1 of chapter 126 of the General Laws are the inspectors of the prisons in Suffolk County, and have the powers and duties contained in sections 1 to 3, inclusive, of said chapter 126 of the General Laws, which are as follows:

"Section 1. The county commissioners shall be inspectors of the prisons in their counties. They shall twice in each year, at intervals of not exceeding eight months, themselves or by a committee of two of their members, visit all the prisons in their county, and fully examine into everything relative to the government, discipline and police thereof; and as soon as may be after each inspection, the committee shall make and subscribe a detailed report to the commissioners of the condition of each prison as to health, cleanliness and discipline at the time of inspection, the number of prisoners confined there within the preceding six months or since the last inspection, the causes of confinement, the number of prisoners usually confined in one room, the distinction, if any, usually observed in the treatment of the different classes of prisoners, the punishments inflicted, any evils of defects in the construction, discipline or management of such prisons, the names of prisoners who have been discharged or pardoned or who have died or escaped, and any violation or neglect of law relative to such prisons, with the causes, if known, of the violation or neglect.

Sect. 2. When the commissioners or any of them visit any of said prisons, the sheriff, master, keeper or other officer in charge thereof shall admit them, when required, into every apartment of such prison, exhibit all books, precepts, documents, accounts and papers relative to the affairs of the prison or to the detention or confinement of any person therein, which may be required, and give such aid as they request in the performance of their duties. The commissioners or their committee may examine on oath, administered by one of them, either by written interrogatories, to be answered in writing and subscribed, or otherwise as they may direct, any officer, keeper or other person relative to the affairs or management of any prison, and they may also converse with any prisoner apart, and without the presence of any officer or keeper.

Sec. 3. If it appears to the commissioners, from the report of their committee or otherwise, that any law relative to prisons has been violated or neglected in their county, they shall forthwith give notice thereof to the district attorney."

The powers and duties provided in that statute are not precluded by the provisions of section 8 of chapter 486 of the Acts of 1909 as these sections of chapter 126 are not in conflict with any of the provisions of the City Charter.

By section 8 of chapter 233 of the General Laws the City Council may summons witnesses to appear before it, and this includes the officials of the prisons in the county whom the Council may desire to have appear before it.

It is thus seen that the City Council, acting as county commissioners, have very few powers and duties to perform, for the Legislature in its discretion has invested the city government as provided by the amended charter of 1909 with power to conduct the business of the County of Suffolk, except as it otherwise specifically provided in the case of the various county officials, with the authority to conduct their respective branches of the county government.

Yours very truly,

E. MARK SULLIVAN,
Corporation Counsel.

SAFETY LINES IN FRONT OF SCHOOLS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, May 15, 1933.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I beg to submit herewith communication received from the Traffic Commissioner, the same constituting a reply to order adopted by your honorable body under date of May 8, 1933, and copy of which is attached.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Traffic Commission, May 11, 1933.

Hon. James M. Curley,

Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of Council order dated May 8, 1933, which reads as follows:

Ordered, That the Traffic Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to paint safety lines in front of all the schoolhouses in Ward 19.

There appears to be fifteen public schools and two private parochial schools in Ward 19.

At the meeting of the department heads in the office of the Mayor, on Saturday, May 6, 1933, your Honor gave instructions that no more street white lines be painted.

Very truly yours,

JOSEPH A. CONRY,
Commissioner.

Coun. MURRAY—Mr. Chairman, I would like to answer this reply which has come to us from the Traffic Department. The Traffic Commissioner says: "At the meeting of the department heads in the office of the Mayor on Saturday, May 6, 1933, your Honor gave instructions that no more street white lines be painted." Mr. President, I think that represents very poor judgment on the part of the executive. Certainly I believe our school children have a right to the protection afforded by the white lines. If the Mayor has given instructions that no more street white lines be painted, I think he has gone too far. There should at least be sufficient money appropriated to paint white lines for the protection of school children.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, it may be, as the Traffic Commissioner says, that it is impossible to spend much money for traffic improvements, because of the fact that the money is not available. But I don't see why they cannot put white lines in congested districts so that people will be afforded some safety in crossing streets. In Codman square there have been three or four deaths at least within the last two or three years, and there is the same situation at Pierce square, Dorchester Lower Mills. I agree with my colleague that certainly the school children are entitled to have safety zones furnished so that they can travel from one side of the street to the other without danger. Therefore, I think his Honor should be asked to reconsider his position, so that white lines may be painted in certain places at least in the outlying sections. There are many places, intersections of busy streets, for example, where such action would go far for the protection not only of the school children but of men and women.

Coun. MURRAY—Mr. President, I would also state that two years ago, I believe, $100,000 was appropriated for traffic lines and signs in our highways. I don't think that money was spent, and I think this would be a good use for the money.

The communication was placed on file.

REPAIRS AT MISSION HILL PLAYGROUND.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, May 15, 1933.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I beg to submit communication received from the chairman of the Park Department, the same constituting a reply to order adopted by your honorable body, relative to repairs to the fences and the rolling of the baseball diamond at Mission Hill Playground.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Park Department, May 12, 1933.

Hon. James M. Curley,

Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—I am in receipt of an order from the City Council that the Park Commission make the necessary repairs to the fences and roll the baseball diamond at the Mission Hill Playground.

I beg leave to inform you that the fences are being rebuilt at the present time by the P. J. Dinn Company. The baseball area will be rolled at the earliest opportunity.

Where there are over one hundred areas that have to be rolled, and three rollers to do this work, there will be a delay on some of the playgrounds.

Very respectfully yours,

WILLIAM P. LONG,
Chairman.

LEASE TO PURITAN CANOE CLUB.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 15, 1933.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I beg to submit herewith communication received from the chairman of the Park Department, the same constituting a reply to order adopted by your honorable body under date of May 8, 1933, relative to the leasing to Boston Police Post No. 251, of the American Legion, of certain city property on the Strandway, South Boston, and copy of which is attached.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Park Department, May 11, 1933.

Hon. James M. Curley,

Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—I am in receipt of an order from the City Council that the Park Commission be requested to consider the advisability of leasing the premises on the Strandway, owned by the city and now occupied by the Puritan Canoe Club, to Boston Police Post No. 251, the American Legion.

The Puritan Canoe Club's lease does not expire for six years. They pay $120 for the use of the land and own the building.

I will be pleased to take this matter up with the commander of the Puritan Canoe Club and see if any such arrangements can be made.

Very respectfully yours,

WILLIAM P. LONG,
Chairman.

Office of the Mayor, May 15, 1933.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I beg to transmit herewith communication received from the chairman of the Park Department, the same constituting a reply to order adopted by your honorable body under date of May 8, 1933, and copy of which is attached.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Park Department, May 11, 1933.

Hon. James M. Curley,

Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—I am in receipt of an order from the City Council that the Park Commission be requested to equip the John J. Connelly Playground with sand boxes, swings, tilts and other paraphernalia, etc.

The children's corners in all playgrounds come under the jurisdiction of the School Department and all material is supplied by the School Department. Sandboxes are prohibited on the playgrounds, on account of the danger to children's eyes.

I will take this matter up immediately with the Director of School Activities and see if the request of the councilor cannot be complied with.

Very respectfully yours,

WILLIAM P. LONG,
Chairman.

UNDERPASS AT CHARLES AND CAMBRIDGE STREETS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 15, 1933.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I beg to submit herewith communication received from the Commissioner of Public Works, the same constituting a reply to order adopted by your honorable body under date of April 24, 1933, and copy of which is attached.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Public Works Department, May 10, 1933.

To His Honor the Mayor.

In reply to attached order in Council, by Councilor Fitzgerald, "That his Honor the Mayor request the Commissioner of Public Works to keep the underpass at Charles and Cambridge streets open evenings until midnight and on Sundays and holidays from 7 a. m. to midnight," while we appreciate the advantage of having this underpass open for longer hours, yet our experience with underpasses is that they are only safe while protected by police or other attendants, or during periods when there is likely to be considerable use. At other times people have been held up insulted or exposed to other annoyances, so we do not think that it is advisable to increase the hours of opening.

Incidentally, about 25 per cent of the people going to and from this island from each side use the underpass. All others use the street even during heavy traffic,—so we see no hardship for people awaiting their chances to cross the street safely at hours when the underpass is closed.

Yours respectfully,

J. A. ROTRKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

APPROVAL OF INCREASED ALLOTMENT.

Coun. DOWD offered the following:

Resolved, That the Boston City Council approves the action of the Overseers of the Public Welfare in raising the amount of the allotment of money given the recipients of aid.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, I suppose there is hardly any member of the Council who has so severely criticized the Welfare Board, when I have felt justified in doing so during the last few years, as myself; but, due to the passage of the Costigan-LaFollette bill, and due to the remarks and the orders in this body informing the Mayor and the Overseers that the recipients of aid have not been getting enough to keep body and soul together, the Board of Overseers in their wisdom last week decided to increase the allotment of those receiving public welfare. I say, therefore, that they are to be commended for that action, and I hasten to express at this time my commendation. I think it should be the duty of the Council to economize in handling the budget now so that this good work may be kept up. I understand that payments to a family of two, which have been $6 a week, have been increased to $7; that the allowance to a family of three has gone from $7 to $9; for a family of four, from $9 to $10; for a family of five, from $10 to $12; for a family of six, from $12 to $13; for a family of seven, from $13 to $15; and for a family of eight and over, $17. I repeat, therefore, that the Board of Overseers of Public Welfare should be commended by this Council for their action in raising the allotment.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

RECESS.

The Council voted, on motion of Coun. BRACKMAN, at 2.28 p. m., to take a recess subject to the call of the Chair. The members reassembled in the Council Chamber and were called to order by President McGRATH at 3.43 p. m.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. GALLAGHER, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:

1. Report on petition (referred today) for children under fifteen years of age to appear at places of public amusement, viz.: Mary E. Ring, Brighthelmstone Clubhouse, June 9.—recommending that leave be granted, under usual conditions.

Report accepted; leave granted under usual conditions.

2. Report on message of Mayor and order (referred today) that sum of $2,675,000 be appropriated for Public Welfare Department and sum of $270,000 for Soldiers' Relief Department to cover estimated expenditures until end of July—that same ought to pass.

Report accepted; order passed, yeas 21, nays 0.

REPORT OF RULES COMMITTEE.

Coun. LYNCH, for the Committee on Rules, submitted report as follows, viz.:

1. Report on resolve (referred May 8) that City Council favors study of entire matter of veterans' legislation in hope that such study will bring about favorable adjustment of veterans' benefits—that same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said resolve passed.

WARD 11 IMPROVEMENTS.

Coun. ENGLERT offered the following: Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repave McBride street, Ward 11, with smooth paving.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repave Child street, Ward 11, with smooth paving.

Severally passed under suspension of the rule.

OPPOSITION TO PERMIT TO WHITE FUEL CORPORATION.

Coun. DONOVAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the City Council of Boston hereby opposes the granting of a permit to the White Fuel Corporation for the keeping, storage and sale of 3,200,000 gallons of fuel oil on East First street, South Boston.

Coun. DONOVAN—Mr. President, several weeks ago the Board of Street Commissioners saw fit to grant a permit to the White Fuel Corporation to store 3,200,000 gallons of fuel oil in South Boston. Fortunately, his Honor the Mayor overruled the action of the Street Commissioners and later on revoked the permit. The White Fuel Corporation have again, however, petitioned the Board of Street Commissioners, and a public hearing is to be held next Friday. I am, therefore asking this honorable body to stand with the people of South Boston in opposing the granting of this permit for that district. It may be of interest to note by whom that section is proposed to be invaded in this way. None of these people live in Boston. The president of the corporation, Elijah M. Sands, lives in Marblehead; the vice president, James L. Brown, lives in Cambridge; the treasurer, Joseph F. White, lives in Cambridge; one of the assistant treasurers, George F. Fitzgerald, lives in Belmont, another, John P. Birmingham, lives in Waltham; and Joseph J. Courtney, one of the directors, lives in Watertown. I would suggest that these people erect their oil farm in Marblehead, in Cambridge, or along the Charles river in Belmont or Watertown. There are several reasons why the people of South Boston are objecting to this oil plant. One is that a very large amount of money has been expended in the City Point section, millions of dollars, within the last few years, and if this sort of thing is to be allowed all that money will be wasted. Secondly, the district comprises a great many dwelling houses, and these dwelling houses, by such action as is proposed, will be placed in great danger of fire, there not only being the threat to property but to life. I have here a quotation from remarks made by the Reverend Patrick J. Waters, the pastor of St. Eulalia Catholic Church in South Boston, in a protest against the erection of these oil tanks in the immediate vicinity of the church. He said: "Our church is on the eve of celebrating its silver jubilee, but I have the authority of the Cardinal to say that there will be no church here in which to celebrate our golden jubilee if this oil nuisance in our midst is granted." I am counting upon the Board of Street Commissioners, composed of Mr. Theodore A. Glynn, Mr. John J. O'Callaghan and Mr. Charles F. Bogan, to stand by the people of South Boston in this matter. I ask them whether they would rather see the people of that section suffer from the introduction of oil tanks containing 3,200,000 gallons of fuel oil, or would prefer to see a house of God remain there.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, in connection with this order I might say that they have tried to inflict this sort of thing upon my ward in the past five years, but so far we have been able to keep that sort of thing out of the district. So I heartily favor Councilor Donovan's order.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

WARD 6 IMPROVEMENTS.

Coun. DONOVAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make the necessary repairs to the ornamental fence at Gardner way, South Boston.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install are lights at the following locations in Ward 6: Corner of C and Silver streets; corner of F and Athens streets.

Severally passed under suspension of the rule.

NAMES ON DELINQUENT POLL TAX LIST.

Coun. ROBERTS offered the following:

Ordered, That the collector's office be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to check the names of people on the delinquent poll tax list with the Overseers of the Public Welfare with a view of eliminating any expense connected with any attempt to collect poll taxes which may be billed to them.

Coun. ROBERTS—Mr. President, we read in the papers the other day that the collector's office was about to proceed to the collection of poll taxes from 175,000 delinquents. I thought perhaps in this estimate there might be a number of thousands of welfare recipients included, and that it might be well to eliminate such before sending out summonses and incurring constables' fees. My suggestion is that the collector's office check up on this matter with the Welfare Board, to see how many of these delinquents are on the welfare list and are therefore ineligible to pay.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

EQUIPPING PATHOLOGICAL BUILDING.

President McGRATH called up, under unfinished business, No. 4 on the calendar, viz.:

4. Ordered, That the sum of $80,000 be, and hereby is, appropriated, to be expended under the direction of the trustees of the Boston City Hospital, for Pathological Building, Furnishing and Equipping, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, upon request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

On May 1, 1933, the foregoing order was read once and passed, yeas 17, nays 0.

The order was given its second and final reading and passage, yeas 21, nays 0.

FOOT PASSAGE, HARRISON SQUARE.

Coun. KELLY and FISH offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to recommend to the proper authorities the matter of opening the foot passageway under the Harrison square, Dorchester, station of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad, which was closed some time ago.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

FOOTBRIDGE AT GLOVER'S CORNER, DORCHESTER.

Coun. KELLY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to build a footbridge over the tracks of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad in the Glover's Corner section of Dorchester, for the convenience of those using Savin Hill Beach.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

HEALTH MENACE, GRANITE AVENUE.

Coun. FISH offered the following:

Ordered, That the Health Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to take immediate steps to prevent the Roxbury Iron and Metal Company, located at 160 Granite avenue, from burning materials in their yard on Granite avenue, Dorchester, the smoke from which constitutes a health menace to residents of the district.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, the Roxbury Iron and Metal Company, located on Granite avenue—controlled by one Marks Angel—has a junk yard, and from 2 to 4 o'clock afternoons there are fires there sending big clouds of smoke over the district. These clouds of smoke are a menace to the health of the people, and for that reason I trust that the Health Commissioner will put a stop to this sort of thing.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

TRAFFIC SIGNALS, WARD 19.

Coun. MURRAY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Boston Traffic Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install automatic traffic control signals at Chestnut avenue and Boylston street, Ward 19.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

SIDEWALK CONSTRUCTION.

Coun. COX offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along Beech street, northeast side, from Washington street to Havana street, Ward 20, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 2 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

SAND PIT ON GARDNER STREET.

Coun. COX offered the following:

Ordered, That the Health Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to abate the nuisance and the menace to life now existing in the abandoned sand pit on Gardner street, Ward 20.

Coun. COX—Mr. President, last Friday or Saturday two children about ten years old were drowned in the abandoned sand pit on Gardner street, Ward 20. There are a number of abandoned sand pits in that locality, and also nearby there is an abandoned quarry hole filled up with water. I don't know what the Commissioner of Public Health can do about this, but it seems a terrible thing that children from eight to ten years of age should lose their lives in any such way. I hope, therefore, that something will be done to correct the present conditions.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

LEASE OF STOUGHTON SCHOOL TO POST.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:

Ordered, That the School Committee be requested to take up the matter of leasing the Stoughton School on River street, Dorchester, at a nominal rental, to the Dorchester Post No. 498, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, for purposes of the record I would like to state that that Post now has quarters in an old, dilapidated school building, about to be condemned, and it is necessary for them to secure another place. I understand that the Stoughton School on River street is available; and I sincerely trust, therefore, that the School Committee will take immediate action so that they will have quarters after the building where they now are is condemned.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

SWEAT SHOPS IN BOSTON.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:

Ordered, That the Committee on Ordinances of the City Council be requested to draft an ordinance prohibiting sweat shops of any kind in the City of Boston, and also an ordinance providing for a penalty to all persons or firms found guilty of violating the Minimum Wage Law.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, in the press during the last few weeks there has been a campaign waged to do away with the so-called sweat shops of the City of Boston. By "sweat shop" I understand is meant a place conducted by the kind of despicable business men who earn their livelihood at the expense of the sweat, blood and health of persons whom they employ at small wages. It is true that the Minimum Wage Law is one of the laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, but I think if we had an ordinance of the City of Boston along this line it would be an inspiration to the Police Department to close up these places and compel persons running them to at least live up to health and minimum wage regulations.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

SIDEWALK CONSTRUCTION, WARD 17.

Coun. BURKE offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along Monson street, entire length, both sides, Ward 17, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along Sturbridge street, entire length, both sides, Ward 17, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along Old Morton street, entire length, both sides, Ward 17, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Severally passed under suspension of the rule.

PAINTING OF TRAFFIC LINES.

Coun. HEIN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Traffic Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to direct that traffic lines shall be painted in uniform width.

Coun. HEIN—Mr. President, it is very interesting to sit here and hear our Traffic Commissioner, Mr. Conry, say that he has not the money for traffic signs or for traffic lights. But it does seem as if there might be some uniformity in the way these traffic lines are painted. Down here in the market and in other parts of the city we see painted bands 15 inches wide; in various other parts of Boston they range from 4 1/2 to 13 inches in width, and Mr. Conry has them painted out by Brookline 10 1/2 inches wide. It does seem that it would be a simple matter to have something in the way of uniformity; but the only answer we get when we make any request from Mr. Conry is that he hasn't any money. That is just another smoke screen, Mr. President. Only last week the councilor at my left was able to obtain twenty-three parking signs in his district. I would like to know where Mr. Conry obtained the money for those?

Coun. MURRAY—Mr. President, I would simply state to the councilor that those signs have already been in existence for some time, and that it was only a question of putting them into use. I suppose the gentleman refers to the 13-point signs. Those have been in existence for some time, and it is simply a question of getting them and using them. He can go to Mr. Conry, just the same as any other member, and get some of those signs. The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

TRANSFER OF MEN TO BOSTON NAVY YARD.

Coun. BARKER, GREEN and FITZGERALD offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council of Boston hereby goes on record as opposed to the transfer of tradesmen from the Philadelphia Navy Yard to the Boston Navy Yard to work on the new destroyer which is now in the process of construction.

Resolved, That a copy of this order be sent to Massachusetts senators and congressmen.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

LOW FLYING OF AIRPLANES IN EAST BOSTON.

Coun. BARKER offered the following:

Ordered, That the State Department of Public Safety be requested to investigate and take immediate steps to prevent the low flying of airplanes in the East Boston district.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

SLOWING OF SURFACE CARS AT INTERSECTING STREETS.

Coun. BARKER offered the following:

Ordered, That the trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway Company be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to instruct operators of their surface cars to slow down at intersecting streets.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

TRANSFER FOR JOHN H. L. NOYES PLAYGROUND.

Coun. BARKER offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to transfer the sum of $5,000 from the William Amerena Playground, East Boston, to the John H. L. Noyes Playground, for grading, resurfacing, and tennis courts on an undeveloped area adjacent to the park.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

RESURFACING PARIS STREET PLAYGROUND.

Coun. BARKER offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface the Paris Street Playground, Ward 1, and make it suitable for a children's play yard.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

SCENIC HIGHWAY, NORTH END.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to consider the advisability of advising the trustees of the George Robert White Fund that at this time it would be unwise to build a so-called scenic highway in the North End section of Boston.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, the newspapers have within a few days carried a story to the effect that the expenditure of approximately $400,000 is contemplated for the building of a scenic highway in the North End, along the lines of Havana's Prado, the expense to be met out of the George Robert White Fund. I think at a time like this we might very well consider the advisability of using any money that may be available from that fund for more humanitarian purposes. All over the United States charitable bequests have been very liberally construed under the cy pres doctrine. I can give you here the citations of a number of cases that have been decided within the last five years, set forth in a law digest, showing wherein the courts have allowed charitable bequests to be construed in a very liberal way, when it came to a question of applying them for charitable purposes. Last year the question arose whether we could use certain money in the Parkman Fund to pay men to work on projects on Boston Common, and it has since been determined that that would be all right. Now, we have an expenditure of $400,000 proposed here for a scenic highway, at a time of dire need of our citizens. I do not believe there is a court in the land but would allow a liberal interpretation of the George Robert White will, so that some of the money in that fund might be used to alleviate the sufferings of our people at the present day. As a matter of fact, we know that a famous minority of our Federal Supreme Court are favorable to a liberal construction of such wills. The extent to which we have gone in this proposed scenic highway matter, and the extent to which various housing associations are interested, can be gleaned from one of the Boston papers of last Saturday, in which the executive director of one of such associations is quoted as saying that the carrying out of the proposition would help the unemployment situation in Boston. He went back into ancient times, pointing out that in the past the Romans built baths to give the people work, although he adds that the baths were too expensive to keep up and fell into ruins. When it comes to this old argument about giving employment, I might also refer, taking our own present times, to the East Boston vehicular tunnel. This same gentleman went on to say that the ancient Egyptians solved a similar situation by building the Pyramids, at almost no cost, and that they have served as a source of revenue to Egypt ever since. But Professor Petrie, recognized as an authority on the Pyramids states that they were built by slave labor, and that we have never been able to find out how the human labor was applied in placing those huge blocks of granite. But I don't see how a parallel can be drawn between the placing of men at work under serfdom and the proposed building of the so-called Boston Prado. Mr. President, as we all know, we have a very serious situation in Boston today. The situation in many wards of our city is acute. Conservatively speaking, there are 5,000 children in my ward alone with no shoes, and at least 5,000 families not getting enough to eat. With the allowance of $1 per week per person, a family of four in their little home have but $4 a week, and 80 cents of that is paid for carfare, although the Department of Home Maintenance of the Department of Agriculture at Washington states that today it is impossible for such a family to live on less than $7.50 a week, at the minimum requirements. So I think that the Mayor may well consider at this time the advisability of making some other disposition of this fund than would be involved in the construction of the proposed scenic highway.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, I would like at this point to say just a word in regard to the gentleman's reference to the cy pres doctrine, because I don't think it applies in this particular case. As I understand the cy pres doctrine, when the particular purpose of the testator in his will can no longer be carried out, the court has the right to decide whether the money may not be used for some other similar charitable purpose. The George Robert White will does not set forth any particular public works to be accomplished, in connection with the expenditure of this money. That is left to the discretion of those handling the fund. It simply prescribes that the expenditure may be for any purpose that is valuable to the City of Boston. I am in favor of continuing the George Robert White health units. I think such continuation is particularly important at the present time, having in mind the health and well-being of the people of our city, and I hold that opinion notwithstanding the fact that the Finance Commission a few weeks ago suggested the termination of the use of the George Robert White fund for health units, baby clinics and tubercular clinics in the City of Boston. Mr. President, I think their suggestions at that time were in the line of an absolutely false economy. To my mind, the money should be used to continue the George Robert White health units, and I think the next one should be placed in Codman square, a section that has been forgotten for the last eight or ten years. I now call on the Mayor of Boston to continue the erection of the George Robert White health units, placing one in Codman square, Dorchester.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, I am in hearty accord with the remarks of the last speaker in favor of placing one of these George Robert White health units in the Codman square section of Dorchester. I think this health unit work should be continued. We have already four or five health units, in every part of the City of Boston but the Dorchester district. And the aged councilor from Ward 20 has just informed me that there is not one in his district, either. I understand that his district has not benefited in the way of a health unit, but that district comprises only one ward as compared with five wards in the Dorchester district. The real reason why the Mayor wants to spend the money as proposed down in the North End is because, according to his own figures, of the $400,000 $300,000 is to be spent in land grabs. We can see the Curley brothers at work, the land specialists, using $300,000 of this amount for the purchase of land. If it was a question simply of letting out a contract to the pet contractor, Matthew Cummings, $150,000 or $200,000 would be used up in the contract work; but when $300,000 of it is spent for land, that is something else. One hundred thousand dollars for beautifying would be just a little bit of money for the Curley boys. And don't forget that $400,000 is just a conservative estimate of what will be spent there. Perhaps it will run up to $600,000 or $700,000 before it is done. We all know, when these things are once started, how, in order to protect the investment, they have to sometimes spend 100 per cent more than the original appropriation. I believe that the North End should be beautified, but I don't believe that it should be given $400,000 from this fund when the money can be much better spent in benefitting the taxpayers and citizens of Boston, keeping them in good health. We need something of the sort in the Dorchester district, and it is high time that the Mayor of Boston stopped his land steals, characteristic of all his administrations, even if he should allow his pet contractor, Matthew Cummings, to erect a health unit in the Dorchester section.

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, while I would, of course, like to see a health unit in the Codman square section of Boston, to take care of the needs of the five Dorchester wards, I also believe that this proposed improvement that has been suggested for the North End is imperative. I believe when we are considering the question of preservation of health and life, other things even than feeding have to be considered. It is exceedingly important that in every section of our city light and air should be afforded to the people. I wonder if some of the members who have spoken have been down into that part of the North End and have noticed the congested area that the poor unfortunates there have to live in? Should not we who live in parts of the city where people have a reasonable enjoyment of light and air—such as Dorchester, where we have Franklin Park and Franklin Field, such as Hyde Park and West Roxbury, where there are playgrounds and places for recreation—have some consideration for these older sections of Boston, which so greatly lack what we have? I hate to refer to such sections as the one under consideration as the slums of Boston; but, nevertheless, they are the poor and congested areas, and the children there have not the same opportunities that are afforded the children in the outlying parts of the city. I lived in the North End of Boston for over thirty years, and I think I know that section as well as any member of this body. For the benefit of the councilor on my right, who is always referring to land grabs and implicating certain individuals, might I remind him that, according to the papers, a few days ago some of the owners of property in that section were in the Mayor's office, as I understand, and had a conference in regard to property along the line of the contemplated improvement, in which the assessed value of property there was discussed. I don't think property in that area of Boston is over-assessed. I am familiar with the area. The property along the line is owned by men who have worked for years—some of them aliens, if you please, mostly of Italian extraction—and who have accumulated a few thousand dollars and have put their all into the homes in which they live. I think an investigation will show that they spent much more for the properties in question than will ever be paid by the city or than they can ever hope to realize at the present time. There is nothing new about this proposition. I remember when I lived in the North End of Boston, well over eighteen years ago, that a certain element in the city—like the Storrows, men and women of that kind, who had money and who took an interest in the advancement of certain sections of Boston—then contemplated a garden idea in the North End and proposed taking blocks of property and transforming them into little parks, so that the boys and girls in that congested part of the North End would have the same opportunity to obtain sunlight and fresh air that is enjoyed by our children in outlying districts. How can we compare the North End section with the sections represented by other members of this body? In Dorchester we have Franklin Park and Franklin Field. Can that section be compared with Webster avenue, Hanover street, Salem or Prince streets, in the North End? Can we compare the Hyde Park section, represented here by our colleague, or the West Roxbury section, with that congested district? It is true that in times like these we should adopt the strictest economy and that we should give the most careful attention to the needs of our citizens in the way of food and clothing. But there are other humanitarian considerations also to be borne in mind, and there is such a thing as a constructive economy. We have here, too, a fund that cannot be used as freely in ways in which we might like to use it, as the tax funds that come into our city treasury. It cannot be spent in feeding people, in giving work to the unemployed, but its use is restricted to the terms of the will under which it comes to us. But if it can be spent as is proposed here, on a humanitarian project, something that is for the good and the advancement of that section, is there any reason why we should object to it? I think the Mayor of Boston, the President of our City Council, and the other three directors of the White Fund are to be commended for their consideration of such a worthy enterprise. It is something which is worthy of a fund of this kind and it will be to the everlasting credit of the directors of the fund if what is proposed can be accomplished. As I have said, I know the district; I have lived in it. I know that the young people there, and the older people, too, have no proper place for rest and recreation without walking to Boston Common and the Public Garden, through congested traffic. It is true that they have had a small North End Park for years, but it is only good for a dangerous swimming beach, and aside from that they have nothing. Those who come from the North End of Boston are proud of it. We North Enders are proud of the section, proud of its history and traditions. I was particularly pleased recently to attend a reunion of the graduates of the old Eliot School, getting together with men like Judge Walter L. Collins and the late Judge David A. Lourie, men like Deputy Superintendent James McDevitt, Capt. John Driscoll, Capt. John Murphy, Chief Walter McLean of the Fire Department; and there were also present men like Hon. John F. Fitzgerald. It was a very interesting thing to find in the gathering men of that type, men who originated in that old and historic section of our city; and I believe we should now be far-sighted enough to see that the young boys and girls of Italian, Polish and other extraction may have some of the opportunities that are afforded in communities where there is more room and more chance for outdoor recreation. Those desiring to further anything of that sort should be commended for it. Certainly, this $400,000 will not be squandered, and it seems to me to represent a very proper and commendable use of some of the money in the White Fund.

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, I did not intend to say anything upon this matter. The first I knew anything about it was from the newspapers within the past few days. I would perhaps not favor taking this particular site for the purpose suggested, except that I know it is in the interest of the preservation of the historic traditions of the North End and for the benefit of the people there. This, Mr. President, as has been said, is no new proposition. Under the administration of Mayor Nichols something of the sort was suggested, something in the way of renovating, improving and preserving the historic monuments of the old North End. It was through the Protestant element, not the Catholic element of this city, that money was given to remodel the old St. Stephen's Church on Hanover street. That has one of the few Bulfinch fronts remaining in Boston. It is now desired to have this boulevard extend from St. Stephen's Church on Hanover street along Webster avenue to Unity street and the rear of the old North Church. It would be very enlightening and educational for some of the members of the body to go down to the old North End and to witness conditions existing there today that should not be tolerated in a civilized community. It would certainly be very instructive to members representing outlying districts with their beautiful wide avenues to go down there and see conditions that prevail. Much of the property built in the North End was built when immigration was at its height, and much of the property not only in the North End but in the West End was built in direct violation of the law. We don't know why such things were allowed, but it seems as though building inspectors, for one reason or another, allowed a great deal of crooked building to go on there. There are houses there where they never see the sunlight, rookeries that are a disgrace. What the true story may have been, we do not know, and I am not here to defend anybody unless I know they are right. The old Webster House, famous at one time as a hotel, is owned by an old American family that does not want to sell it. I think this is certainly one of the times when we have here a proposition with which no graft is connected. There is some other property owned by an old American family connected with the Guilds. Their grandfather lived there, one of the owners of the old gas company. They own two parcels along by Hanover street. Some of the property as you go into Webster avenue is a positive disgrace, and something should be done to remedy present conditions. But there is no suggestion or idea of graft connected with the property along the line, or of people improperly receiving a dollar. Some of the property cannot even be sold. They will have to go to court for permission to sell it under a will. Much of it, however, is free, without any encumbrances whatever. As I have said, if I had my way I would not follow this particular route. But there are some awful holes there that might well be wiped out. I would be the first one to make an outcry today if I did not know that the whole thing was on the up and up. I know that it is an absolutely honest deal. And, as has been said, it is no new proposition. They have tried to do it before. I am not going to take issue with any gentleman here on the question of whether this fund can be diverted to this or that use. I do know, however, that these health units, which we have heard commended here so much, have gone astray. They have never been used for the purpose that the founder of the fund intended. They are purely and simply chain hospitals operated contrary to the terms and the spirit of the will. Why, in one of these places they have an X-ray machine that cost $52,000. They were supposed to be established for one purpose—to teach people the laws of health. That was the idea in the case of the first one operated in the West End, to furnish health education to the people. But they are now turned into chain hospitals. In the West End they added another story, entirely used by private organizations which formerly paid rent outside. We heard here from the councilor from Hyde Park the story about how Mrs. Bradbury felt in regard to the use of the money left by her brother, that she was not at all in agreement with things that were being done. While there was disagreement here with what the councilor from Hyde Park said, I have reason to believe that she was not in accord with what was being done in the matter of these health units. She went around to the West End health unit in her automobile, and did not even desire to get out. She came down there simply to pay tribute to the memory of her brother. But she saw what was going on, what was being done, and she did not leave her money to the City of Boston. As far as these proposed land takings are concerned, there is no question of going to court in the matter. The owners have to agree, each owner, that they will take so much money for their property, and I assure the councilors here that no one can find one single taint of fraud, one iota, in the whole thing. I am not taking issue here with the position that may be taken, as a question of law, by any attorney. I do not claim to have any authoritative knowledge in that respect, and I don't know whether the money can be used for the proposed purpose or not.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, the questions submitted here are plain.—first, whether it is proper and logical, under the terms of the will, to provide this proposed beautiful spot in the North End; second, whether it is not a more economical and humane act to place one of these George Robert White Health Units in a section of Dorchester where it is greatly needed and where people will thereby be enabled to secure the medical treatment they should have. I do not agree with the councilor from the West End (Coun. Fitzgerald) when he says that these health units are chain hospitals. I might agree that it comes within the intent of the will to teach health to the people in the neighborhoods where these George Robert White Health Units are located; and at the same time to diagnose the illnesses from which people are suffering and to afford some remedy. It is certainly proper and necessary to have facilities afforded for such purposes; and it is also certain that one of the modern necessary things in such work is an X-ray machine, one of the greatest things ever invented for the location of hidden troubles through disease or accident, and without which any hospital could not give service, would be antiquated and would not meet at all the purposes for which it was created. I have in the past favored wide boulevards throughout the city, places rendered beautiful by shrubbery and flowers, beautiful buildings, and I know that the North End needs beautiful spots. But this is not the time to balance a scenic boulevard in the North End against a health unit in the Dorchester section, nor to consider a heauty spot as against a place that will serve poor unfortunate people who have no money to get good medical treatment, a place that will help save lives and prevent people from getting diseases like tuberculosis and other troubles coming through malnutrition. We have to be practical and logical in our arguments and in our point of view at a time like this, Mr. President. Such beautiful spots as have been well outlined by the councilor from Ward 14 (Coun. Ruby) are all very fine, but I believe even he will admit that in times like these such propositions should not be put through. We do need, and urgently need, additional hospital accommodations, we do need just such places as are afforded by these health units. I was talking the other day with the officer in charge at the City Hospital, and he told me that there were so many people coming in there that it was impossible to find beds for them, that it was impossible even with their large personnel to take care of those continually arriving, sometimes numbering several thousand a day. By establishing these George Robert White Health Units, we avoid the necessity of so many people being sent in to the Boston City Hospital. Medical attention is provided and hundreds and thousands of lives are saved. So far as the question of providing a Prado in the North End is concerned, that is all very well in different times than these; but I say that this is not the proper time to construct Prados in the North End or other sections, as against health units; that the lives and welfare of our people are more important and deserving of immediate attention. Providing hospitals where people can go in time of need is as important as providing shelter and food and putting clothes on their backs. But all these things are extremely important in times like these. Mr. President, much more important than any scenic highway. I will agree that any such scheme as the one proposed here would be a good scheme in good times, when people have plenty of money and when the City of Boston does not need the money to provide for its poor and unfortunate. But such projects are not for times when we need millions for public welfare and for soldiers' relief—when, in fact, the need in these directions is so great that we have been told that it will be necessary to go to the Legislature to make provisions outside of the debt limit. If we have not money enough to take care of our poor, certainly we have not money enough to provide beautiful scenic boulevards in the City of Boston.

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, will the councilor yield for a question?

Coun. BURKE—Yes, Mr. President.

Coun. RUBY—I would like to ask the gentleman whether in his opinion the money in the George Robert White fund can be transferred and used for ordinary charitable purposes? I am not asking the opinion of the gentleman from Ward 18 (Coun. Norton), but your opinion, councilor. When I want to ask the councilor from Ward 18 a question, I will direct my question to him.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, I am glad to offer my opinion on the question asked by the councilor from Ward 14. I don't think the cy près doctrine has anything to do with this proposed use of the George Robert White Fund. I suppose the trustees can divert it for construction of the Prado if they see fit, because that does relate to beautifying the City of Boston. It may be that judges on the bench of the Supreme Court might say that it could be used for the Welfare Department if the time ever came when it was necessary to divert this particular fund, because the will provides that it can be used for anything serviceable to or for the beautification of the City of Boston. But it is hard to tell what a Massachusetts Court would do if the case was placed before them. I do feel, however, that if the judges on the Massachusetts bench were confronted with the question of whether the money should be used for the Welfare Department, providing people with food to eat and a place to sleep, or whether it should be spent on a Prado, or for a health unit, they would say, "Use the money for health units, as representing more nearly the purpose for which it was intended." I certainly do not believe, if that question ever came up, that they would recommend using it for the Prado, considering the language of the will.

President McGRATH—The Chair would remind the councilor that one of the members of the George Robert White Board, handling the fund, is Robert G. Dodge, president of the Bar Association, and I am under the impression that he is a reasonably good attorney.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, I am opposed to rock gardens, roof gardens and antelope houses. What we need is a health unit in the section of Dorchester that has been referred to.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, the councilor from Dorchester stated or inferred that I was interrupting when he was asking the colleague from Dorchester who sits next to me a question, intimating that I was trying to answer the question. For the information of the councilor from Dorchester I would say that I was not attempting to answer the question. I simply said to my colleague, "Yes, answer it." But when it comes to the question of legality of transferring the White Fund money, I have nothing to say. I would simply state that I happen to have here a few citations taken from a late work on wills, by Alexander, Volume 2, page 53:—

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, if the councilor will yield for a question, will he kindly state to the Council where he got an idea that $52,000 was a fair price to pay for an X-ray machine?

Coun. NORTON—There is not a court in the land, I believe, if the proposition were put up to them, but would agree in these times, that wherever possible an interpretation of the law that will help to feed hungry people should be made. And it seems to me that such an interpretation can well be made under the language of the will. In states that the money is to be for the use and enjoyment of the inhabitants of the City of Boston. What do you suppose that Justices Brandeis and Cardozo would say if this matter came up before them at such a time as the present—the proposed use of $400,000 of this fund for a scenic highway in the North End, with statues and monuments? The idea, Mr. President and gentlemen, of spending $400,000 for scenic highways and monuments, when so many of our people are in need of something to eat! Now, if members of the body insist, I would be pleased to read notations I have here of twenty-five cases dealing with the cy près doctrine, showing that the courts are construing liberally bequests like the George Robert White bequest. We have spent millions for street widenings and improvements of that sort from the funds of this city. Much money has been spent to improve that area. Millions are being spent, in which the North End very largely participates, on the vehicular tunnel between that section and East Boston. At a time like this, however, the great need that confronts us is to feed and clothe our people. I am sorry that in all these discussions the question of the Mayor of Boston and what is called his personal interest has to be thrown in. It is unfair. From the information I have received from a representative of the Chamber of Commerce as lately as this noon time, there is not a piece of property on the proposed route that has been handed over to a straw buyer. We must be fair in this whole thing, Mr. President. But personally I am in favor of a use of this fund which will be for the benefit of the people in this city, children and otherwise, who need it. That is the objection I raise to this scenic highway proposition. I believe it is unfair at this time to spend $400,000 on a scenic highway.

President McGRATH—The order will be referred to the Executive Committee.

Coun. COX—Mr. President, I would like to ask some of the gentlemen who have spoken on this matter, or I would like to ask the City Clerk, through the Chair, whether or not this body has anything to do with the disposition of this fund, outside of passing a general order?

President McGRATH—The Chair will answer the question by saying that no member of the Council other than the President has anything to do with the White Fund.

SWIMMING POOL AT SMITH FIELD PLAYGROUND.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor consider the advisability of requesting the Park Commission to turn a portion of the Smith Field Playground, Ward 18, into a swimming pool.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, there is now a swimming pool there, a natural lake. We have already spent a good deal of money trying to make it into a baseball diamond, but instead of that it is a lake, and we should have a life saver there! When we lately asked what our powers were over such matters after the City Council had voted money, we found that we had absolutely nothing to do with the situation. Ninety-nine out of one hundred orders here attempt to deal with matters with which we really have nothing to do legally; but the City Council is a broadcasting station. We do have a good deal of power in that way. Why, the papers of Boston give more publicity to our doings, to any one of us, than they do to three senators or half a dozen representatives from Boston. If we lose our broadcasting rights, an opportunity to appear in the press, we might as well fold up and go home.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, our President has answered a question by Councilor Cox on the point of whether the Council has anything to do directly or indirectly with the White Fund. The President answered that the Council did not. I now desire to ask our President a question. You, Mr. President, are a representative of the City Council of Boston on that particular board. We elected you president of the City Council, and as a result of holding that office you function as a member of the board. Now, such being the case, are you not bound to listen to our opinions upon this matter, we having chosen you President of the Council?

President McGRATH—The councilor is asking a question that it is very difficult to answer. If you are making a speech I suggest that you ask unanimous consent to make a speech.

Coun. BURKE—Is it not true that you, as President of the City Council, hold the office of director of the George Robert White Fund and, for that reason, we having elected you President of this body, is it not true that your position as one of the directors of that fund came to you as the result of your election to the office of President by a majority of the members of the Council?

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I rise to a point of order, that my order with regard to that point out there is still before the body. I don't see what this statement has to do with it.

President McGRATH—The point of order is well taken. The question is on suspension of the rule for the passage of the order.

Coun. Norton's order was passed under suspension of the rule.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, I now again request the information that I requested before.

President McGRATH—If Councilor Burke wishes to ask the question, the Chair will simply state that he acts ex officio as a member of the board of directors of the George Robert White Fund.

POLICE PROTECTION FOR DORCHESTER.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make a statement.

President McGRATH—The Chair bears no objection. The gentleman may proceed.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, has the Police Commissioner answered my question in regard to more police protection for Dorchester?

President McGRATH—The clerk informs the Chair that he is not in possession of any reply from the Police Commissioner.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, last Saturday night in Codman square, Dorchester, adjoining my ward, in the presence of 2,000 people who were witnessing a Democratic rally in Ward 17—I think it was a Democratic rally—at nine o'clock at night, another gang row broke out, and in place of the weapons that had been used in the previous affray, a lot of Babe Ruth bats were used, resulting in a lot of home runs!

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, I would advise the councilor to come down occasionally into Roxbury, Charlestown, or some of the other in-town wards, and he will find gang fights going on every night in the week. But we don't bring them into the City Council, and I don't think he has a right to do so.

Coun. FISH—Well, Mr. President, we have got to have protection there. I don't blame the police. They are doing a fine job; but we need to have more police protection in Dorchester.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make a statement.

President McGRATH—If there is no objection the councilor may proceed.

Coun. BURKE—Mr. President, the gentleman from Ward 16 (Coun. Fish) made a mis-statement of fact—I believe unintentionally—when he said that there was a political rally going on at that time in Codman square. I would state that it was not a political rally, but simply a ballyhoo of the Ward 17 Democratic Club in connection with a ball that they were running in the Bradford Hotel. The police of Station 19 very efficiently handled the situation and should be commended for their work. I believe that if there are any more gang fights or fracasces that crop up in that Dorchester section, the police of Station 19 will take care of them and see that the hoodlums participating are run out of our town and sent to sections where they belong.

Adjourned, on motion of Coun. HEIN, at 4.50 p. m., to meet on Monday, May 22, 1933, at 2 p. m.

KANSAS CITY WINS POLICE HOME RULE.

The Supreme Court of Missouri has given Kansas City control of its police department.

For years those who wanted the city to operate and control its own police department had been going to the Legislature regularly with bills which would end state control. But conditions were never just right. The city raised the question of the constitutionality of the law under which the department has operated, and the Court held the law unconstitutional in a five-to-two opinion.

The police department of Kansas City had been under the control of the state since 1874. Under the law as it has existed in recent years, the department was administered by a commission of three members, two appointed by the governor and the mayor, ex officio.

The city attacked the law on the ground that it delegated legislative powers to an administrative board. In this contention the city was upheld, the court holding that the limitations in the law were not sufficiently definite to prevent the commissioners from making almost unlimited demands on the city treasury.

CHICAGO POLICE REORGANIZED.

Many improvements have recently taken place in the organization and administration of the Police Department of Chicago, Ill.

Although the numerical strength of the force has been reduced in the last two years approximately from 6,700 to 6,000, the number of men on foot patrol has been increased 150 per cent, being now about 1,900. The efficiency of the department has been further increased by adding to the number of patrol cars and by placing in operation an extensive police radio system. There are now some 100 small patrol cars and fifty large high-powered ones equipped with radio. Furthermore, 20 per cent of the present force constitutes new blood in the department. The average age has been lowered, and a greater proportion of young men will be encouraged by the reduction of the admission age to a range of twenty-one to twenty-nine years, from the former limits of twenty-three to thirty-five, approximately. Civil service methods in disciplining new policemen are better, and a more thorough check-up on the character of those examined is made.

UNITED STATES TO HAVE TENTH MUNICIPAL UNIVERSITY.

The tenth municipal university in the United States is being planned by Omaha, Neb., whose citizens have approved plans for the establishment of a four-year university, to be supported by a mill tax. The following are the nine municipal universities or colleges known to exist at the present time in the United States, in order of their establishment on the municipal basis: College of Charleston (South Carolina), 1837; University of Louisville (Kentucky), 1837; College of the City of New York, 1847; Hunter College of the City of New York, 1870; University of the City of Cincinnati (Ohio), 1871; University of Toledo (Ohio), 1884; University of Akron (Ohio), 1913; University of the City of Detroit (Michigan), 1923; Municipal University of Wichita (Kansas), 1926.

MASSACHUSETTS BAY COLONY.

The first chartered colony in New England, charter granted by Charles I on March 4, 1629. About a year before, a patent had been granted to six prominent men of Dorchester, west of England, among whom was Capt. John Endicott. He sailed in June, 1628, with a party of fifty or sixty persons, arriving in September and settling at Naumkeag, afterward named Salem. In the spring of 1629, the Bay Company fitted out three ships conveying about four hundred persons and arriving at Salem in June. Endicott sent a small party to effect a settlement on the Bay in Mishawum, afterward named by the settlers Charlestown, the first town in New England to assume the town polity, Plymouth and Salem being governed by a governor and council. Endicott was appointed in London as the first resident governor on April 30, 1629. The Massachusetts Bay Company was reorganized in London on October 20, 1629, when John Winthrop was chosen as governor. He arrived at Salem on June 12, 1630, soon proceeded to Charlestown with a large following and finding that place unsuitable, finally settled in Boston. Winthrop served thirteen years as governor in four different periods ending in 1649 and Endicott fifteen years at various times ending in 1665. Other governors were Thomas Dudley, Richard Bellingham, John Haynes, Henry Vane, John Leverett and Simon Bradstreet, the latter serving twelve years until 1692 when the Bay Colony and the Plymouth Colony were merged, becoming the Royal Province of Massachusetts Bay, which existed eighty-two years to 1774, the governors being appointed by the King.

The name, Massachusetts, is Indian and signifies "near the big hills."

Merrill by an instrument dated October 14, 1923, and filed with Suffolk Probate Records numbered 257,132, and known as the "Anna Judson George Scholarship For Excellence In English" and to do all other things necessary to be done to consummate the transfer of this trust fund from said The Atlantic National Bank of Boston to the School Committee of the City of Boston.

Passed, all the members voting in the affirmative.

The following was offered:

ORDERED, That the School Committee of the City of Boston, upon receipt by it of such funds as is now in the custody of The Atlantic National Bank of Boston, as trustee of a fund known as "Anna Judson George Scholarship for Excellence in English," created by an instrument dated October 14, 1923, and signed by Adelaide L. Merrill, filed with Suffolk Probate Records, numbered 257,132, will accept custody of said fund, and the trust imposed thereunder.

Passed, all the members voting in the affirmative.

REDUCTIONS IN SALARIES

The following communication was presented:

City of Boston
Office of the Mayor
City Hall

April 21, 1933.

School Committee of the
City of Boston
15 Beacon Street, Boston, Mass.

Dear Sirs:—

In accordance with the provisions of chapter one hundred and twenty-one of the acts of the year nineteen hundred and thirty-three, I hereby notify you that, effective as of Friday, April twenty-first, nineteen hundred and thirty-three, and continuing for the period ending December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and thirty-three, I have by executive order reduced the salary of every office and position, the salary of which is paid from the treasury of the City of Boston in whole or in part, and whether such salary is fixed by statute, city ordinance or otherwise, and whether or not such office or position is subject to civil service or classified under the civil service rules or under the county classification plan, except the members of the city council, and its employees, the officers and employees of the police department, the school department, the department of school buildings, the licensing board, the finance commission, the Boston Port Authority, and scrubwomen, in accordance with the following schedule,—

1. For every office and position the salary of which on an annual basis is less than $1000, a reduction of 5% shall be made.

2. For every office and position the salary of which on an annual basis falls within the range of $1000 to $1600, both inclusive, a reduction of 10% shall be made, but no salary in this group shall be reduced below $950.

3. For every office and position the salary of which on an annual basis is in excess of $1600, a reduction of 15% shall be made, but no salary in this group shall be reduced below $1440.

In accordance with said chapter one hundred and twenty-one, if you do not within ten days of the delivery of this notice reduce the salary of each office and position under your control or jurisdiction, except scrubwomen, effective as of Friday, April twenty-first, nineteen hundred and thirty-three, upon the same uniform basis and for the same period of time as the reduction put into effect by me, I shall by executive order and in the same manner and upon the same basis effect reductions in the salary of each office and position under your control and jurisdiction, except scrubwomen, and said reductions will be in force as of the effective date specified in my executive order.

JAMES M. CURLEY,

Mayor.

Placed on file.

A communication was received from the Business Manager, under date of April 27, 1933, reporting that chapter one hundred and twenty-one of the acts of nineteen hundred and thirty-three provides for the following:

a. Section two of said act amended section five of chapter two hundred and forty-one of the acts of eighteen hundred and seventy-five thereby giving the School Committee authority to reduce the salaries of teachers and other officials and employees of the School Department during the school year which commenced on September first, nineteen hundred and thirty-two and which ends on August thirty-first, nineteen hundred and thirty-three, provided that such reduction in salaries applies uniformly to all persons of the same grade or classification and receiving the same salary.

b. Section three of said act authorized the Mayor of Boston to reduce certain salaries by executive order for the period beginning with the date of the passage of the act (chapter one hundred and twenty-one of the acts of nineteen hundred and thirty-three) and ending December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and thirty-three, provided that such reduction applies uniformly and equally to all persons. Section three further provided that the Mayor shall give written notice of any such general reduction in salaries to, among others, the School Committee. The School Committee is also authorized under said section, within ten days of the delivery of the written notice from His Honor the Mayor, to reduce the salary of each office and position under the control or jurisdiction of the School Committee upon the same uniform basis and for the same period of time as the reduction put into effect by the Mayor.

c. Section four of said act defines "salary" or "salaries" to include all wages and compensation, however payable, and whether or not for full time.

The notice of the executive order issued by the Mayor was sent to the School Committee on April 21, 1933. This executive order of the Mayor calls for the following reductions in salaries, effective from April 21, 1933:

1. For every office and position the salary of which on an annual basis is less than $1000, a reduction of 5% shall be made.

2. For every office and position the salary of which on an annual basis falls within the range of $1000 to $1600, both inclusive, a reduction of 10% shall be made, but no salary in this group shall be reduced below $950.

3. For every office and position the salary of which on an annual basis is in excess of $1600, a reduction of 15% shall be made, but no salary in this group shall be reduced below $1440.

To carry the intentions of the School Committee into effect, the Business Manager recommended the passage of the accompanying orders reducing all salaries paid to employees serving in permanent or temporary capacities (day and evening service) in conformance with the provisions of chapter one hundred and twenty-one of the acts of nineteen hundred and thirty-three and also with the executive order issued by the Mayor under date of April 21, 1933.

Placed on file.

The following two orders were offered:

1. ORDERED, That under the provisions of chapter one hundred and twenty-one of the acts of nineteen hundred and thirty-three and the executive order of the Mayor dated April twenty-first, nineteen hundred and thirty-three, the schedule of salaries for teachers, members of the supervising staff and others, both permanent and temporary for day and evening service, for the school year September first, nineteen hundred and thirty-two to August thirty-first, nineteen hundred and thirty-three, inclusive, passed at the meeting of July twenty-second, nineteen hundred and thirty-two, is hereby reduced beginning April twenty-first, nineteen hundred and thirty-three on the following basis:

1. For every office and position the salary of which on an annual basis is less than $1000, a reduction of 5% shall be made.

2. For every office and position the salary of which on an annual basis falls within the range of $1000 to $1600, both inclusive, a reduction of 10% shall be made, but no salary in this group shall be reduced below $950.

3. For every office and position the salary of which on an annual basis is in excess of $1600, a reduction of 15% shall be made, but no salary in this group shall be reduced below $1440.

2. ORDERED, That under the provisions of chapter one hundred and twenty-one of the acts of nineteen hundred and thirty-three and the executive order of the Mayor dated April twenty-first, nineteen hundred and thirty-three, the salaries of custodians, clerks, stenographers and other employees, both permanent and temporary, for day and evening service, whose salaries have been established in schedules and orders other than the schedule of salaries of teachers, members of the supervising staff and others, passed at the meeting of July twenty-second, nineteen hundred and thirty-two, are hereby reduced beginning April twenty-first, nineteen hundred and thirty-three and ending December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and thirty-three on the following bases:

1. For every office and position the salary of which on an annual basis is less than $1000, a reduction of 5% shall be made.

2. For every office and position the salary of which on an annual basis falls within the range of $1000 to $1600, both inclusive, a reduction of 10% shall be made, but no salary in this group shall be reduced below $950.

3. For every office and position the salary of which on an annual basis is in excess of $1600, a reduction of 15% shall be made, but no salary in this group shall be reduced below $1440.

Chairman: Thus do the forces of banking which caused our troubles return from Elba and force our hands in this situation. The Chairman of the School Committee recognizes clearly an invasion of the rights of the Committee by the Legislature of the Commonwealth in placing in the hands of the Mayor, over and above the authority of the Committee which is directly responsible to the people, the power to cut salaries in the School Department. Rather than create an embarrassment in the city government, since every other department has co-operated with the Mayor and followed his instructions, the School Committee now is to take action on the proposed salary cuts. If the Committee did not vote tonight, the cuts would go into effect by order of the Mayor. I cannot conceive of the Mayor going to the Legislature for authority over the School Department and getting it for anything but a salary cut. It is with extreme regret that the Chair finds himself called upon to request a roll call on the orders to carry into effect the salary cuts.

In response to the roll call, the members voted as follows:

Mr. Hurley: Yes.

Dr. Mackey: I am voting yes for the cuts because of the necessity, and regret that I am forced to vote a cut to temporary teachers and to scrubwomen as well who are not now receiving a living wage. In many cases these girls and women will be forced to appeal to the Welfare. It is a sad thing to see these people who are on the lowest wage level carry the burden when the bankers and capitalists are not carrying their proper share. From reports from Harvard and other recognized colleges, we find that the faculties are not reduced in salary. That was brought out by Mr. Goodwin at the conference we had in the Mayor's office when he read a report that Harvard refused to cut the salaries of professors and instructors because they realized that education is the foundation of our government.

Mrs. Pigeon: I vote yes, with deep regret, and also regret that in His Honor the Mayor's letter there was no provision made for annual increments.

Mr. Tobin: Yes.

Chairman: Yes.

The Chair announced that the orders passed by unanimous vote.

Chairman: I trust it is thoroughly understood that this basis of cutting salaries—five, ten, and fifteen per cent—is not established by our vote, or of our own volition. Had we the right and the will and the wish to cut salaries, we might have adopted an altogether different schedule of cuts. This five, ten, and fifteen per cent basis is sent to us with the executive order, that being the uniform cut for all city and county employees.

Mr. Tobin: It is my hope that the School Committee will be able to find a way to include in this year's budget the annual increments. I realize that no action can be taken on the matter as yet, but I would like to have the public of Boston realize that we have men in our system, graduates of colleges, with permanent appointments of several years standing, who are now receiving a net weekly income of twenty-two dollars and nine cents ($22.09). I refer specifically to male assistants in the intermediate schools. That will give to the people of the city an idea of the minimum salaries on which many of our young men are working at the present time, and I think that all fair-minded people will agree that such a wage is not even a living one. That is only one of the many irregularities that exist under the present arrangement and I trust that the Committee will find some way in which to grant the annual increment for the school year from September 1, 1933, to August 31, 1934.

NET COMPENSATION OF CUSTODIANS

A communication was received from the Business Manager, under date of Apr. 26, 1933, stating that owing to the reduction of salaries under the provisions of Chapter 121 of the Acts of 1933 and after consultation with the Retirement Board, it is advisable to reduce the net compensation established for custodians for purposes of the Boston Retirement Act comparable to the percentage reductions in annual salaries for custodians.

In consequence, the Business Manager recommended a temporary amendment of Section 16 of the Schedule of Compensation for Custodians of School Buildings for Regular Day School Service for the period beginning April 21, 1933, and ending December 31, 1933.

The accompanying order carries this intention into effect and the Business Manager recommended its passage by the Committee.

Placed on file.

The following was offered:

ORDERED, That Section 16 of the Schedule of Compensation for Custodians of School Buildings for Regular Day School Service—School Document No. 9, 1930, is hereby amended for the period April 21, 1933, to December 31, 1933, inclusive, to read as follows:

SECTION 16—ESTABLISHMENT OF NET COMPENSATION OF CUSTODIANS FOR PURPOSES OF BOSTON RETIREMENT ACT.

In accordance with the provisions of Section 30 of Chapter 521 of the Acts of 1922, the regular compensation of school janitors or custodians shall be determined as follows for the period beginning April 21, 1933, and ending December 31, 1933:

(1) When the gross annual compensation of the janitor or custodian is $1,053 or more, his regular compensation shall be determined as shown in the following schedule:

Gross Annual Compensation of Janitor or Custodian	Regular Net Weekly Compensation as Determined for Pension Purposes
$6,800 and upwards	$51.00
5,100 and less than $6,800	46.75
3,400 and less than 5,100	42.50
2,550 and less than 3,400	38.25
1,912.50 and less than 2,550	36.13
1,785 and less than 1,912.50	34.00
1,657.50 and less than 1,785	31.88
1,547 and less than 1,657.50	29.75
1,436.50 and less than 1,547	27.63
1,404 and less than 1,436.50	27.00
1,287 and less than 1,404	24.75
1,170 and less than 1,287	22.50
1,053 and less than 1,170	20.25

(2) When the annual gross compensation of the janitor or custodian is less than $1,053, his regular compensation shall be determined as being his gross compensation.

(3) For the purposes of this act the gross annual compensation to be used in determining the regular compensation of the janitor or custodian shall include all compensation for ordinary day school service of buildings under his charge, including portable buildings and rented quarters, but shall not include any extra compensation for extraordinary or evening use of buildings.

Passed, all the members voting in the affirmative.

DEATH OF RETIRED CUSTODIAN

A communication was received from the Schoolhouse Custodian, under date of May 1, 1933, reporting the death, on Apr. 27, 1933, of Michael Finn, custodian, Asa Gray School-house, who had been retired on pension.

Placed on file.

RETIREMENT OF CUSTODIAN

A communication was received from the Schoolhouse Custodian, under date of May 1, 1933, reporting the retirement on Apr. 30, 1933, of William O'Connell, custodian, Morrison Building, a member of the Boston Retirement System.

Placed on file.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

A communication was received from the Schoolhouse Custodian, under date of May 1, 1933, recommending that William F. Downey, custodian, Prince School-house, be granted leave of absence on one-half net compensation for the period Apr. 18 to June 18, 1933, inclusive, because of personal illness.

Placed on file and leave of absence on one-half net compensation granted for the period specified.

TRANSFER OF CUSTODIAN

A communication was received from the Schoolhouse Custodian, under date of May 1, 1933, recommending that Charles F. Sullivan, custodian, Damon School-house, who stands at the head of the list, be appointed to the Lowell Mason School-house, to take effect Apr. 28, 1933.

Placed on file and the transfer approved, to take effect on the date stated.

CAUTION TO TEACHERS AND OTHERS SEEKING LOANS

Chairman: I have this evening brought to the attention of the School Committee and the Superintendent of Schools the unusually large number of assignments of salaries of teachers which I have been called upon to sign this year. I have viewed with alarm this increasing number, but have been powerless to do other than as asked to do by the teachers. I have asked the Superintendent to bring the matter to the attention of the various organizations of the service and suggest that in the event that members of the department are counting on securing loans, made necessary by present conditions, they make very careful investigation of the companies from which they are planning to secure the loans.

The number of teachers who have during the past year been forced to draw against their salaries—to borrow not only from city credit unions but from private agencies as well, is almost unbelievable. Many of these private agencies charge a much greater interest than that permitted by law, through some provision or clause in the contract which the teacher signs without full understanding of all that is involved. As is well known, it is very difficult for the borrower to get out of the financial difficulties once he has become involved. I do not know that it is a matter into which the School Committee should enter, but it does seem advisable that teachers be strongly advised as to the necessity of securing definite assurances regarding the concerns from which they are planning to borrow, and full and complete information as to the obligations entailed, before signing any agreement with loan agencies.

I cannot imagine anything more embarrassing to a teacher than borrowing a reasonable amount of money under what appears to be fair rate of interest, and then finding himself enmeshed in serious complications that may take years to overcome. I hope that the members of the service will, if it becomes necessary to seek loans, do so from authorized concerns so that their burden may be as light as conditions will permit. The situation I know is much more serious and much more extensive now in these years of depression and reduced salary schedules than it has ever been, for I have consulted with former chairmen and they tell me that while they had occasional requests for signatures for assignments of wages, they never had the number I have been called upon to sign this year. At first I hesitated, but when a teacher came in with the request that I assign his or her wages to another party, I had no other course than to accede to the expressed wishes of the teacher, and I have done so in almost every case, but always with regret. I hope that the teachers will take my remarks to heart, especially if they are contemplating the borrowing of money in anticipation of their summer pay.

ONE-SESSION IN ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS

Mr. Hurley: I have a petition from the parents of pupils in the Agassiz District, looking to the establishment in that particular district of a one-session system in the elementary grades, and investigation of the situation has caused me to offer the following:

ORDERED, That the Board of Superintendents is hereby requested to consider and report back to the School Committee the advisability of establishing one-session in either some or all of our elementary schools.

In this connection it would seem that there are many advantages that stand out in favor of one session in the elementary schools.

There is the ever-present hazard of traffic. By means of one session that hazard would be reduced fifty per cent. Instead of two trips to school, pupils would have to make only one. This would relieve parents of a great deal of anxiety.

Any pupil who lives a great distance from school must spend almost all the noon period traveling from school to his home and back again. A one session would obviate that necessity. Even now many of our elementary schools have luncheon attendants to take care of pupils who, by reason of distance to be travelled, do not go home at noon. The parents of many of the younger pupils accompany them to school and return for them at noon. Parents would be relieved of half of that inconvenience.

In case of inclement weather, pupils once in school would not have to travel to their homes at noon. There would be no necessity for suspension of the afternoon session at any time because of weather conditions.

Of course this wouldn't eliminate the necessity which sometimes arises which calls off sessions for the entire day, because this order, potent though it might be, wouldn't affect the weather.

One session in elementary schools would make it possible to shorten the actual school day and provide for supervised play in the building or in the yard. In this way children would have more time for play in the sunlight.

With these thoughts in mind, I am presenting my order and ask that it be referred to the Board of Superintendents for complete and early report.

The Chairman announced the order passed.

PROPOSED CHANGE IN SYSTEM OF MARKING

Chairman: Tonight I have proposed that the Board of Superintendents consider and report back to the School Committee within two weeks as to the advisability or inadvisability of changing the present system of marking of pupils to a simpler system indicated by the designations "Passed with honors," "Passed," or "Failed." As the pupils are now marked we have a complication of letters—A, B, C, and D, with C minus and D plus as a bordering point indicating whether or not a pupil has passed or failed. There has been considerable agitation in the Press for a more obvious system of marking and one less embarrassing to the pupils who fail, one that would do away with a considerable amount of discussion and controversy. I am heartily in favor of the plan and wish to go on record as stating that whether the report is favorable or unfavorable, I will propose to this School Committee that we adopt the plan. I feel that these simple markings, easily distinguished by the parents at home, thoroughly understood by all concerned, are entirely superior to the present system of alphabetic marking. I hope that the report within two weeks will be favorable, but if it is not, I shall again propose the plan to the Committee for action, sponsoring it and voting for it.

The Committee adjourned.

No. 22

PATRIOT OF PEACE AND THE SOLDIER OF WAR BOTH NEEDED BY THE COUNTRY IF NATIONAL HONOR AND OUR NATIONAL HERITAGE ARE TO BE PRESERVED, MAYOR CURLEY TELLS CITIZENS IN RADIO BROADCAST ON MEMORIAL DAY'S MEANING AND ITS OBSERVANCE.

His Honor the Mayor, speaking over Station WNAC, on May 22, said in part:

It is customary upon Memorial Day to give heed to the admonition of Shakespeare, "To my virtues be most kind; to my faults a little blind." It is a day set apart to pay tribute to the honored dead, who died in defence of principle and country. It recalls to us as nothing else can recall our responsibility to those who have passed to the great beyond and the memory of whose life and service will ever live with us. It is a day when our meed of tribute is paid more particularly to the heroes dead than to the unsung heroes who are still in the land of living.

I desire to take this occasion to pay tribute to a living hero who did not hesitate to challenge both criticism and contumely in performing a most courageous act of justice in the economy program as recommended by the men associated with the National Administration certain recommendations through which savings might be effected, but the adoption of which would prove both burdensome and an injustice to the defenders of the nation in the hour of crisis and their dependents was immediately corrected by President Roosevelt.

It was my privilege within the last week to present to President Roosevelt at the request of the State Commander of the American Legion, James Rose, a list of additional facts covering cases where flagrant injustice would result and was gratified at the assurance from President Roosevelt that an immediate examination would be made and in the event that the facts were as set forth in the communication as submitted by me that correction would be made without delay. The data submitted covered some 14,000 tubercular cases in federal institutions and the mental defective cases, in addition to the pensionable status of some 16,000 soldiers and dependents of soldiers.

Justice Assured Veterans.

The assurance given by the head of the nation that justice will be accorded the service men and their dependents is in keeping with the courageous and patriotic position taken by President Roosevelt since assuming office and will do much to restore faith in our government and respect for American institutions.
